ANOTHER CAMPAIGN

Chamber of Commerce To Put On Another Campaign Without Cost To The Organization.

Saturday morning about 8:30 o'clock quite a number of the members of the campaign committee of the Chamber of Commerce, along with some of the directors, met in the Chamber of Commerce office and decided to put on a two-days' campaign for members, beginning Monday, November 22, and running through Tuesday. This action was brought about by so many reports being received that there were quite a number of people who had previously refused to sign up, but who were now willing to do since the organization has been effected in such a business-like manner. It is confidently predicted that from fifty to seventy-five new members will be added to the present membership list. This campaign is to be conducted without cost to the organization and should any one be missed by the campaign committees who would like to join the organization, they are most cordially invited to call the office of the secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, who will be glad to give prompt attention to the matter.

LIBERTY WAREHOUSE

Soon To Be Ready For Business—Seventy More Men Put To Work On Building This Morning.

The new "Liberty" tobacco warehouse is rapidly nearing completion, and everything is being done to have it ready for business by the time the Maysville loose leaf tobacco market opens for business on Tuesday, December 7. Seventy additional workmen were put to work on the new building this morning by the contractors.

The new house will be under the efficient management of Mr. C. M. Jones, who is well known in tobacco circles here, being connected with the "Central" house ever since its beginning. Mr. Jones is a hustler and wants it distinctly understood that the "Liberty" is in no wise connected with the combine. He says the tobacco outlook this year is fair, and expects prices on bright leaf to be higher than last year.

SPLENDID SHOWING

Made By Farmers & Traders Bank In Report of Business At Close of November 10.

In today's issue The Ledger publishes the financial statement of the Farmers & Traders Bank, to which your attention is invited.

This popular bank is among one of Maysville's growing institutions, and under the capable management of Messrs. J. J. Perrine and C. L. Wood, president and cashier respectively, the bank is enjoying an era of unusual prosperity.

This bank, with only a capital of $36,000, has outstanding loans of $292,138.59, with individual deposits subject to check of $253,879.53, showing the deposits to be more than seven times its capital stock, and the loans more than eight times its original investment.

This is some showing for Maysville's youngest bank, and speaks well for this city's financial institution.

ST CECILIA DAY

Fittingly Observed By Members of St. Patrick Congregation Sunday.

St. Cecilia, the patroness of music, whose feast was Sunday celebrated by the Catholic church throughout the world, was fittingly honored in a two-fold manner by the adherents of that faith in this locality. Before last Sunday, but one window in the beautiful St. Patrick's church, the large window in the choir loft, was without art glass, and out of keeping with the rest of that beautiful edifice did it seem to be. The joy of the congregation was intensified on beholding on Sunday for the first time inserted in the choir window beautifully wrought in art glass, St. Cecilia, the saint of the day.

The window is a noble work of art, the treatment of the subject out of conventional, and deserves more than the brief mention it is receiving in this connection. Its planning and completion was a matter of deep concern to Father Jones, who, during long days and nights of suffering of his recent illness, bestowed on it more anxiety than on his own pain-racked condition.

In the evening the studios of the Sisters of St. Francis presented a brilliant scene when the patrons and parents of the members of the Cecilian Music Club, composed of some of the music class of the St. Patrick school, presented a delightful program in honor of their patron saint St. Cecilia. The following diversified program was faithfully rendered:

Words of Welcome—Margaret Daly, Hyman to St. Cecilia—The Cecilians Second Mazurka, Op. 54 (B. Godard)—Mary Ellen Malone.

Sweet Bye and Bye, Var. (Blake)—Bertha Eppenstein.

Edris Mazurka (Ed Hazel)—Orchestra.

Vocal Solo, "Take Me Back to Babylon" (F. J. Tannehill)—Margaret F. Tolle.

Shadows on the Water (Loumey)—Irene Willett.

Humoreske (Dvorak)—Violins, Jno Francis O'Donnell and Margaret A Tolle; piano, Elizabeth Purdon.

June Bugs' Dance (Ed. Holst)—Eithena and John Francis O'Donnell.

Vocal Solo, "The Beautiful Long Ago" (B. Schlosser)—Bertha Eppenstein.

White Lily Waltz (Hazel)—Orchestra.

Hearts and Flowers—Violin Selection Op. 245 (Theo. M. Tobani)—Mary Ellen Malone.

March of the Phantoms (Ed. Holst)—Elizabeth Purdon.

The Old Cloister Clock (Kunkel)—Mary Ellen Malone.

Home, Sweet Home (H. Bishop)—Violins, Jos. Collins, Albert Dooley and Margaret Daly; piano, Irene Willett.

Every number on the program had because of its perfect rendition, an appealing interest to the appreciating audience. Considering the recent organization of the Cecilian Club Orchestra, the selections rendered by them were a revelation of the excellence of the training the members thereof are receiving. Each orchestral number was heard with enthusiastic applause. The Sisters of St. Francis are to be congratulated on the brilliant success of the first appearance of the Cecilian Music Club.

TOBACCO DONATIONS

Asked For By the Colonial Dames For the European War Soldiers.

Mr. Guy S. Jones, one of this city's leading tobacco men, has received the following letter, which is explanatory: Louisville, Ky., Nov. 18, 1915. Mr. Guy S. Jones, Maysville, Ky. Dear Sir:

The American Red Cross Society has issued a call for tobacco to be put in Christmas boxes to be sent to soldiers in the hospitals and trenches in the European War Zone. In response to this the Colonial Dames in the State of Kentucky appeal to the growers and dealers of the state to donate any kind of tobacco, in any amount, large or small, that they can conveniently spare for this purpose.

Arrangements have been made for converting leaf tobacco into proper shape for smoking. The contribution can be sent to the Louisville Public Warehouse Company, where it will be handled and packed and the Colonial Dames guarantee its safe delivery to the War Zone.

We feel that this is not only a benevolence extended to the soldiers, but is a worthy advertisement for the tobacco growing state.

Hoping for a prompt response, as the time for shipping is limited, we are,

Very truly,
MRS. ADGER STEWART,
Chairman.

MRS. S. H. HALCY,
MRS. JAMES F. HELM,
MRS. HARRY SMYSER,
JAS. C. STONE,
W. N. COX.

Tobacco Committee, Christmas Boxes, Colonial Dames. Any communications may be addressed to W. N. Cox, Louisville Public Warehouse Company, Louisville, Ky.

Mr. Jones will make a creditable contribution to this worthy cause, and no doubt, a number of other dealers and growers in this vicinity will respond, and a large shipment from this city is anticipated.

INCREASED INTEREST

Revival Meetings At Third Street M. E. Church Attract Large Crowds.

The revival at the Third Street Methodist Episcopal church is assuming large proportions as regards attendance and interest. Large crowds attended every service on the Sabbath with the exception of the men's meeting. The Sunday school and Epworth League were at high-water mark. The church was crowded at the evening service. Evangelist Brown was at his best giving great, stirring revivalistic sermons at each service.

Another great week is in store for this church and the people of Maysville. Services each evening at 7:15. Beginning Tuesday there will be an afternoon service at 2:30 o'clock. The church again urges the people of Maysville to avail themselves of this great opportunity to hear the Gospel as it is preached by this little mountain evangelist. You will be blessed by coming, and you may be the means of blessing others. Begin tonight, and take in the whole week at going to church. No better way to spend the Thanksgiving days than in the Master's services.

ABOUT FURS

Every woman loves beautiful furs. Few understand how to tell a dyed from a natural fur, a piece from a whole or blended from an entirely natural fur. Nor are they always sure what constitutes a good fur—whether the color should be light or dark, whether the hair should be long or short. Most people know in a general way, but we know in a particular way—we should after thirty years experience in buying. It is wonderfully satisfactory to choose from a fur stock like ours, where you know every piece has been individually selected by some one who really knows fur quality and only admits a piece of fur when positive it is the very best possible for the price.

All the inexpensive furs are represented in barrel or pillow muffs, in scarfs and sets. Muffs $1.50 to $25. Scarfs $2.50 to $19. Sets $10 to $35.
