Same Sunday last year . . . 920

The Sunday schools are preparing for Christmas, which is the best day in the year.

Rev. H. B. Wilhoite is having great success in his revival, his church here is at work and one of the liveliest in the city.

Great things are coming to Aberdeen, O., this week. The Baptist church here is holding a great meeting. Let every one attend this feast of good things.

Dr. Maurice Waller filled the pulpit at the Central Presbyterian church Sunday. Dr. Waller always has a message from God and knows how to deliver it. It is always a pleasure to listen to him.

SOME TOBACCO SALES.

(Mt. Olive Tribune-Democrat.) Miss Hattie McDowell last week sold to C. D. Asbury twelve hogsheads of old tobacco, embracing several crops raised on her lands in this county and amounting to about 15,000 pounds. The price paid was 7 cents. This was probably the largest quantity of old tobacco remaining unsold in this county.

Dr. N. B. Chapman, of Falmouth, sold 50,000 pounds of low grade old tobacco to a Louisville party at a reported price of 5 1/2 cents. He had bought the tobacco on the Falmouth loose leaf markets the last two seasons.

A. Hitt sold a barn of good tobacco, about 5,000 pounds, to C. D. Asbury, at 10 1/2 cents straight. Mr. Hitt raised his tobacco on his farm on the Mt. Olive and Hitt pike, known as the W. Bradley homestead.

NEW MILITARY MAP.

ington, December 6.—A portable military and naval topographical map for use of air scouts in the field, and which will enable them to make quick and realistic reports of observations, has been invented by Gunner Sergeant Herman G. Stroschein, of the United States Marine Corps.

Worm gearing, operated by telescopic thumb screws from the sides of the map, will create elevations and depressions thereon, showing terrain, contours of valleys, bodies of water, etc., and should make the aviator's report clear to the newest man in the service. Stroschein claims the map will be very light though it is, and it is thought by many that one of the men confronting aviators in speed and accuracy in observation will have been the use of the marine sergeant.

Sergeant Stroschein is an ensign of the United States Marine Corps in this city.

FINISHING RUSSELL YARDS ALMOST DONE.

Lengthening the tracks in the yards at Russell, Ky., is being rapidly under the supervision of W. H. Sparks. A force of men is busy laying the additional tracks. The work will be completed by December 20. The tracks in the yards, when completed, will be able to accommodate a train of from 100 to 110 cars, while at present two tracks have to be used.

INDIAN FAMILIES ON COURIER.

Sunday afternoon when the steamer Courier stopped at this city the bystanders about the wharf were met with an odd sight. Among the passengers on the boat were several families of full-blooded South American Indians bound for Southern ports. They were of a copper color with jet hair. They carried with them their outfit and drove several horses.

Carried to sea by the Annapolis, was detected 100 miles off.

Rev. Jeff Reynolds and son, Joe, were at Olive Hill, Carter county, last Sunday, where Rev. Reynolds was preaching.

The mile of new turnpike here is nearing completion under the supervision of Contractor Oney Shumate, who is filling the specifications. Deputy Game Warden F. B. Henderson, of this place, is preparing to locate in Flemingsburg the middle of this month, where he will be engaged in the restaurant business.

Charles Evans, Deputy Assessor for this end of the county, was here this week assessing the property of the citizens. Mr. Evans is an all around official and respected by all.

Squire Muse had Mrs. Bertha Wyatt and 15-year-old daughter, Miss Cecil, of Ryan, before him here last Saturday, it being his regular court day, on a charge of breach of peace. They are charged with beating up Mrs. Mattie Stacy, aged 55, recently, at that place. The case was transferred to the County Judge for trial at Flemingsburg.

Homer B., 17-year-old son of Charles H. Compton and wife, of this place, died here last Friday after suffering for seven weeks with typhoid fever and pneumonia. He was first stricken down with typhoid and after a siege of four weeks, grew better, when double pneumonia set in, after which he lingered for three weeks. He had the care of a trained nurse and the best medical care that could be procured, but after making a strong fight, in his weakened condition he was compelled to yield. He was a generous, kind-hearted young man, respected and loved by all, dying triumphant in the love of God. He leaves a grief-stricken father and mother, four brothers and two sisters, and a host of relatives and friends to mourn his loss. Peace be to his ashes.

HARVARD EXPERTS LEARN RETAIL GROCERY SECRETS.

Cambridge, Mass., December 6.—Experts at Harvard have discovered some new and very strange facts about retail grocery stores. Dr. Melvin T. Copeland, instructor in marketing, is investigating this field, which has never before been looked into carefully. Not only are the groceries poorly managed, but the public pays for the failures, the investigator finds. For, it is claimed, the money must be made up in some other way and the price of all goods is raised. Among other things, the college prober discovered:

That many stores are run at a loss, yet the proprietors don't know it. That partners turn profits into losses by taking home too much stock. That women running corner stores are not doomed to failure if they are careful. That stock is sometimes so large that profits do not cover interest on the money tied up. That storekeepers often entirely neglect management in order to sell goods over the counter.

MODERN DANCES

And Those of a Century Or More Ago Introduced in Tuesday Night Attraction At Opera House.

From time to time during the past theatrical season, stories have come to the newspapers regarding the successful engagement played by "When Dreams Come True," in New York, Chicago and Boston.

Our local theatergoers who have no doubt read these stories, will now have an opportunity of seeing this widely discussed musical comedy when it comes to the Washington Theater Tuesday night.

The play tells of the adventures of a wealthy New Yorker's spry young son who becomes involved with a French dancer while he is in Paris, has his allowance cut off by the irate parent, and thus is compelled to go home in the steerage. In the first cabin there is a young girl whom he sees and with whom he falls in love from afar, but of course can not meet until both are on shore, where trouble accumulates for them. In the course of the play the young fellow finds himself simultaneously and unwillingly engaged to three or four females of varying ages and charms, and it is not until the last minute that he is free to marry his dream girl of the ocean liner.

The scenic investiture of the play is elaborate to the last degree. One scene especially, the ball room, in the last act, represents the highest degree of the scene painters' art. This scene is painted on silk and the woodwork is of Cretan walnut.

There are nearly a score of dancing numbers showing the latest developments of the modern dances in addition to the dances that were popular a score of years back. The song number introduced in "When Dreams Come True" are all of the popular whistable variety and were composed by Silvio Hein, who gained fame as the composer of some of Marie Cahill's most pronounced song hits.

The chorus, composed principally of pretty young girls who can sing, dance and wear gowns fetchingly is one of the features of the performance. The gowning of the ladies of the company is exceptionally effective and shows the very latest designs in the newest New York fashions.

NATIONAL PREPAREDNESS

Much Needed—Democrats Devising Ways To Finance the Project.

Washington, December 6.—"National preparedness and national revenues are two problems that go hand in hand.

"The Democratic administration proposes the one and it has utterly failed to solve the other."

These are conclusions reached by Representative H. Gillett, of Massachusetts, ranking minority member of the appropriations committee. His statement has greater significance when it is remembered that for weeks Mr. Gillett has been in daily conference with both Democrats and Republicans of the House in an effort to improve the present system of financing government appropriations.

"The question of revenues is the most difficult problem the Democratic party must face when Congress meets," said Mr. Gillett. "Republicans have always claimed that lack of business efficiency was an inherent and inevitable defect in every Democratic administration. That theory has been abundantly illustrated since March 4, 1913.

"Dilatation, vacillation, change of plans and deficits have marked the Democratic fiscal policy. A constant excess of expenditures over receipts has been shown by Treasury statements. Furthermore, the sudden change in the form of statements adopted on the first of October, whether made for that purpose or not, had the effect of preventing easy comparisons and unfairly swelling the apparent Treasury balance.

"Now the President is going to recommend enormous appropriations for the army and navy. The serious problem will be how to pay them. In the past Republicans have been allowed no voice in these matters. Plans have been formulated by a Democratic subcommittee, endorsed by a Democratic caucus and passed by a Democratic majority kept solid by the pressure of party tyranny and administration patronage.

"Whether the same system will prevail in the coming session will depend, I suppose, upon the harmony in the Democratic ranks and the necessities of the administration. At all events I think the funds necessary for the program should be raised by taxation and not by the sale of bonds. The proposed expenditures for national defense should not be shifted on to our successors, but should be paid from current revenues.

"This involves cutting off our luxuries and pruning down our necessities on one hand and increasing our income on the other.

"It involves surveying the field from a business and not from a political or sectional viewpoint and that is where I fear Democratic failure. Unless the party can meet the situation with better business foresight and efficiency than it has so far displayed, the current drift toward the Republican party will become a landslide."

SIXTY-FOURTH CONGRESS

Opens Today To Wrestle With Big National Issues—Preparedness Heads the List.

Washington, December 6.—The Congress that will build up the defenses of the nation convenes today. After the opening formalities and the organization of both houses, the day will be given over to greeting of new and old friends and the binding of the last links in the political plans of the rival parties.

Some of the big legislative problems to be wrestled with are: National defense, embargo on shipments of munitions, government ownership of merchant marine, tariff, rural credits, Philippine independence, the seaman's law and efforts to amend and repeal it, child labor, appropriations in general, cloture in the Senate, woman suffrage, prohibition and treaties.

The Democrats will press these points: The success of President Wilson's foreign policy in dealing with Germany and other European countries; the settlement of the Mexican situation; the averting of financial disaster because of the European war; the return of general prosperity throughout the country, and friendship with all peoples.

The Republican minority will begin their attack on the administration during this Congress, in preparation for the coming campaign. They will claim: The failure of the Democratic tariff to produce necessary revenues; the lack of adequate protection by the government of its citizens on the high seas and in Mexico; wasteful extravagance in appropriations for maintenance of the government; bad business conditions except in special industries; that the seaman's law has driven American ships from the seas; that the foreign policies of the administration have been vacillating and uncertain.

The real opening of Congress, with its shirt-sleeves rolled up, takes place tomorrow, when President Wilson will read his message to the Congress in joint session. That is the signal gun for the long planned campaigns to be put under way.

"THE QUALITY GROCERS"

OLEO MOONSHINE CASE AGAIN UP

Columbus, O., December 6.—Dennis Kelly, Columbus capitalist, and his associates in the management of the Capital City Dairy Company, who were convicted of defrauding the United States of over a million dollars in internal revenue taxes on artificially colored oleomargarine, are expected to appear in the Federal District Court today, for the stay of sentence has expired. The men were given two years each in the penitentiary at Moundsville, W. Va., and were fined $1,000 each by Federal Judge Sater last September. Stay of sentence was granted until today to allow the drawing up of a bill of exceptions.

Kelly's fellow-officials of the dairy company are W. H. Eberst, general manager; M. Cleo Corbett, secretary, and W. H. Kelly, the Pittsburg manager of the concern. The internal revenue department has received a large part of the claimed revenue through a civil suit against the offenders. Their plant was confiscated and sold.

HAD BRONCHIAL ASTHMA

So Badly Man Could Not Lie Down—Cured By Vinol.

For years and years we have been telling the people of Maysville that Vinol is a wonderful remedy for bronchial troubles. Here is positive proof:

Tilden, Ill. "For five years I suffered from bronchial asthma. In the winter time I was obliged to sit in a moribund chair all night, as I could not lie down, owing to that dreadful choking sensation. I tried nearly every known remedy, but nothing gave me any relief until one day I met the Station Agent at Willsville, Ill., and he said he had been a sufferer for years, but had been cured by Vinol. I at once commenced to take it, and the result is my cough is gone, my appetite is much improved, and I can lie down and sleep all night, and my experience leads me to believe that Vinol is a certain remedy for bronchial asthma."

John H. Conell, Tilden, Ill. The reason that cough syrups fail in such cases is because they are palliative only, while Vinol removes the cause, being a constitutional remedy in which are combined the healing elements of fresh cod liver, together with tonic iron and best peptone. It strengthens and revitalizes the entire system and assists nature to expel the disease.
