PORTSMOUTH MEN

Will Be Present at Meeting in the Chamber of Commerce Rooms in the First National Bank Tonight in Regard to Matters Pertaining to Holding a Successful Fair.

Tonight in the Chamber of Commerce rooms in the First National Bank, the committee in charge of the arrangements for the Maysville Tobacco Fair and Corn Show will be favored by having with them two of the men connected with the Portsmouth Business Men's Club, who will give information as to how their annual Korn Karnival is conducted.

Mr. Albert Zoelner, president of the Portsmouth Business Men's Club, a prominent jeweler of that city, and Mr. B. G. Harris, a director of the same body and a photographer, will be the visitors for the evening. These men will come on special invitation from Secretary Boone of the local Chamber of Commerce and will be ready to answer all questions pertaining to the success of such a fair or to offer suggestions. They will make no specific address. The members of the Special Events committee are especially urged to attend and others desiring to come are invited.

Plans from now on will go forward with a rush until the fair begins. Active preparation is being made for the fair and although the exact dates have not been announced it will be held either November 23, 24, 25 or November 30, December 1 and 2. The reason for the doubt as to the dates is caused by the fact that November 30 the first announced date for the opening of the fair is Thanksgiving and there is some little desire to have it the week earlier.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Third Street M. E. Church will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the church. Every member is requested to bring a visitor or new member with them. Business of importance.

MRS. W. E. STALLCUP, Secretary.
MRS. W. F. THOMAS, President.

COLD FACTS

Put Hughes Far Ahead of Wilson—Figures on Primaries and Registration Predict a Victory for G. O. P. Nominees, Asserts Willcox in Statement Quoting Reports From Many States.

New York, October 23.—The people of the United States have made up their minds in favor of Mr. Hughes against Mr. Wilson, and that is all there is to it," said William R. Willcox, chairman of the Republican National Committee, today.

"They have given positive proof of it on numerous occasions this fall, proof that cannot be denied, misunderstood or misinterpreted. In a dozen States, from Maine to California, from Michigan to Maryland, where the voters have had a chance to stand up and be counted, they have unfailingly taken advantage of the opportunity to show their determined preference for Mr. Hughes instead of Mr. Wilson. There is no exception.

"This is the thing that counts. It doesn't make any difference what claims campaign managers put forth, it is the way the people vote that does the real talking.

This Is the Way They Vote

"Here is how they have been voting: In California, 307,793 Republicans voted in the primaries and only 77,850 Democrats. In Maine, the voters were counted at an election, and Maine's answer was emphatic and conclusive. There were 79,902 Republicans and 66,547 Democrats. That was after a campaign, hotly contested on both sides, and where the Democratic managers made support of President Wilson, the cardinal issue. New Jersey and Massachusetts show exactly the same situation. In each State there was a Democratic contest with one side supported by the administration; in each State the Administration candidate was defeated, and in each State the total Democratic vote was far below that of the Republicans.

"In New Jersey, Senator Martine, seeking renomination, polled 59,961; Judge Wescott, who had the administration supported against Martine, polled 29,627; this was a hard fight, which attracted attention all over the country because of the efforts of President Wilson's friends to defeat Martine. While this bitter contest was going on there was a good natured campaign in the Republican primaries between Joseph Frelinghuysen and Franklin Murphy, each of whom polled more votes than both Martine and Wescott combined. Frelinghuysen won with 89,361, to 81,480 for Murphy. The total Republican vote was 187,414; the total Democratic vote 119,513. In this primary, the boro of Princeton, where President Wilson is exceptionally well known, cast 575 Republican votes and only 262 Democratic votes. Four years ago at the election Wilson had 863 and the combined opposition, 706. These figures show what a change has occurred in Wilson's home boro.

CAMPAIGN EXPENSES CERTIFIED TO LEWIS

Frankfort, Ky., October 23.—The Republican campaign committee certified today that it had spent $32,000 and the Democratic campaign committee certified that it has spent $27,000. All of the Presidential electors have filed with Secretary of State Lewis their expense accounts except Jackson Morris, of Pineville, the Republican elector for the Eleventh District, and Dennis Dundon, of Paris, the Democratic elector for the Seventh district. Morris is in Laurel County, speaking tonight at McWhorter, and could not be located by telephone but it is probable that he will mail his statement today before midnight. Dundon mailed his statement today, but it had not reached Secretary of State Lewis by midnight.
