THE DAILY REMINDER

In The Day's News

Mrs. Annie Besant, famous author and Theosophist, who recently has been involved in difficulties with the Anglo-Indian authorities because of her activities in behalf of home rule for India, is 70 years old today. Mrs. Besant has had a remarkable career. She was born in London, the daughter of Doctor Wood, a famous English agnostic. Married at 20 to Frank Besant, an English vicar, and finding herself unhappy as a result, the future leader of the Theosophists began to lose faith in orthodox religion. Eventually she became an agnostic. Comrade and co-worker with Charles Bradlaugh, famous socialistic agitator, she became prominent as a leader of the girls in the matchmakers' strike of 1888, and was afterward closely associated with W. T. Stead and George Bernard Shaw. In 1889 she was given the secret doctrine of Theosophy by Mme. Blavatsky, leader of the cult, and in 1907 she was named world president of the Theosophical Society.

CALLING THE TURN—HEADS OR TAILS

Winning the toss to name grounds for the opening game of the world's series has proven a jinx in the past, although the Red Sox got away with it last year. The White Sox having won the toss this year, they believe they can have the same luck as the Bostonians.

A slant at the following tabulation will show how the toss-winning outfits have fared in the past:

1905—Athletics won toss, lost to Giants.

1906—Cubs won toss, lost to White Sox.

1907—Detroit won toss, lost to Cubs.

1908—Detroit won toss, and lost again to Cubs.

1909—Pirates won toss, broke the spell and beat Detroit.

1910—Athletics won toss and also won from Cubs.

1911—Giants won toss, lost to Athletics.

1912—Giants won toss, lost to Red Sox.

1913—Giants won toss, lost to Athletics.

1914—Athletics won toss, lost to Braves.

1915—Phillies won toss, lost to Red Sox.

1916—Red Sox won toss and also won from Dodgers.

1917—White Sox won toss and—

BEGIN WORK ON FOUNDATION FOR BEAR TRAP AT DAM

Work was begun yesterday at the Government dam on driving piles for the foundation of the bear trap on the Ohio side of the river. In one place a ledge of limestone rock was struck and one piling was struck 300 times with the big steam hammer without making the least downward move. At this point it was necessary to substitute steel piling for wood.
