"JACK" COLLOPY KILLED BY AUTO IN LEXINGTON STREETS

Death Comes to Native Masonian, Member of Lexington Police Force From Injuries Sustained From Auto Lick. John T. Collopy, a native of Mason county and a member of the Lexington police force, who was struck by a car driven by Jones McCarty, 468 North Limestone street, Tuesday night at 2 o'clock on Walnut street between Fourth and Fifth street, died at St. Joseph's Hospital at 7 o'clock Wednesday night. Mr. Collopy suffered a fractured skull and hip, and was injured internally. He did not regain consciousness. According to Patrolman James F. Haney, who was walking with Patrolman Collopy at the time the accident occurred, he and Mr. Collopy were walking along Walnut street near the sidewalk. Observing an automobile going North without lights, they ordered the driver to stop the car, he declared. At the command the automobile swerved sharply and hit Mr. Collopy who was walking nearer the center of the street, according to Haney, before he could get out of the way, dragging his body about 100 feet. The automobile was running at a speed of approximately 25 miles an hour, Mr. Haney said. Mr. Collopy was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in an ambulance by Lieutenant Austin Price and Patrolman Haney. McCarty was arrested shortly after the accident by Lieutenant Price on a charge of breach of the peace by assault with an automobile. His trial was continued to May 28 on bond in police court Wednesday. The charge was changed to manslaughter last night. Mr. Collopy was 68 years old and had been on the police department force three years. He came to Lexington from Mason county several years ago. Besides his wife, who was with him at the time of his death, he is survived by three brothers, William Collopy, of Maysville, Ky.; P. J. Collopy and J. S. Collopy, of Lexington. The funeral arrangements have not been made. The body was taken to his home, 370 Rose street.

LEWIS COUNTY PREACHER DIES FROM BURNS

Rev. Al Corns, Well Known Minister of Totesboro Neighborhood Dies of Burns From Exploding Stove. The Vanceburg Sun says: Elder Al Corns, who has been in Illinois since ten days ago by the explosion of an oil or gasoline stove which he had just filled. He was so badly burned that his wife, who with the children were living on the farm near Ribolt, was sent for and Saturday he was thought to be on the road to recovery to such an extent that his wife started for home, arriving Sunday a. m. Word was received Monday that he took a sudden turn for the worse Sunday and expired the same day. The remains were brought to his home Tuesday and buried at Totesboro Thursday. He leaves wife and seven children, besides one brother, Lon, and several sisters and a host of friends. Brother Corns is well and favorably known to the greater part of the citizens of Lewis county where he had ministered to the various congregations of the Christian church most acceptably.

Strong Platform Adopted By Kentucky Republicans

ED MORROW AND FULL TICKET RECOMMENDED—HARMONY IS FEATURE OF MEET—RESOLUTION OF HON. W. D. COCHRAN ADOPTED.

HON. EDWIN P. MORROW

The platform adopted by the State Republican convention last night at Lexington carries a general denunciation of the conduct of affairs by the Democratic party of the state. It recommends the removal of penal and charitable institutions of the state from politics, the appointments to positions in these places to be made with a view of selecting men qualified for the position, regardless of political affiliation. It also condemns the manner in which the tax law has been administered by the Tax Commission, and while admitting that the basic principles of the laws are good, recommends that amendments be made to it that will remedy it. It also pledges a thorough investigation of its administration by the Democratic officials and a willingness to hear all cases of grievances which are considered worthy. The State Text Book Commission was also denounced, as was appointment of special attorney by the state at what are styled exorbitant prices, to do work, it is asserted, should have been done by officials in the office of the Attorney General. It condemns extravagance of Democratic officials and the failure to keep pledges, declaring that public funds were wasted and public and charitable institutions were used to further political ambitions. It made a flat declaration in favor of the adoption of the state-wide prohibition amendment to the Constitution, and endorses the federal amendment. It also made a positive declaration in favor of woman's suffrage. The pardon record of Governor was scored, the statement being made that Governor Stanley abused the power of his office by releasing criminals indiscriminately. Dr. A. W. Fortune, of Transylvania College, offered the invocation, and E. T. Franks, of Owensboro, chairman of the State Central and Executive Committees, called the meeting to order. The State Central Committee, through Chairman Franks, recommended to the convention Judge B. J. Bethurum, of Somerset, as temporary chairman; Harry Giovannoli, of Lexington, as temporary secretary and the Kentucky Republican newspaper men as assistant secretaries. Charles F. Ogden, of Jefferson; John W. Langley, of Pike, and J. M. Robinson, of Knott, were appointed to escort the temporary chairman to the platform. Judge Bethurum was greeted with loud applause and was frequently interrupted in the course of his speech with cries of approval and encouragement. The secretary, Harry Giovannoli, called the roll of Congressional districts for the appointment of committees, and the Ninth District appointments were as follows: Credentials—T. S. Yater, Carter. Rules and Order—Judge Samuel J. Holmes, Nicholas. Resolutions—B. O. Becker, Boyd. Permanent Organization—Clarence Mathews, Mason. Vice Chairman—M. S. Crane, Breathitt. Assistant Secretary—Stanley O. Wood, Montgomery. The various committees went into immediate session to prepare reports. In the interim Augustus E. Willson, former Governor of Kentucky, addressed the convention, expressing confidence in the victory of the party in November, and saying that the Democratic party had given the Republicans license to exult in the approaching victory. Alvin T. Hert, national committeeman, was called to the platform by the audience, which refused to be denied when he was seen in the rear of the building. Mr. Hert said that he could not fully express his confidence in the election of Ed Morrow as he felt it, and that Louisville would give him 10,000 majority instead of the 6,000 as the placard announced. Congressman J. M. Robinson, of the Eleventh District, addressed the convention in response to repeated calls from his admirers in the audience. He predicted that the political atmosphere of the state would be clarified when Louisville brought in her 10,000 and the Eleventh District her 30,000 for Ed Morrow for Governor. He praised the Republican delegation in Congress for its equipment, saying that he furnished the legs, John W. Langley, of Pike county, the "hay window," and Charley Ogden, of Louisville, the brains. The committee on permanent organization presented the name of Judge Charles Kerr, of Lexington as permanent chairman and Ed L. Allen, of Prestonsburg, as permanent secretary. The report was adopted. Judge Kerr was introduced by former Governor Willson. Chesley Searcy, state campaign chairman, responded to enthusiastic calls from the delegates, led by the Louisville party. He said that the party would "clean out the state house from Stanley down—or rather from Stanley up," and that Ed Morrow would carry out all election promises and principles of the platform. Judge Charles Kerr, permanent chairman, called the evening session to order. Congressman John W. Langley, of the Tenth district, responded to repeated calls from the audience, addressed the convention while awaiting the report of the committee on resolutions. He said that the platform about to be submitted was the best in the history of Republicanism, and that the ticket would win victory in November. He predicted the largest Republican majority ever recorded in the annals of the tenth and eleventh district for Ed Morrow and others on the ticket, and scored the national Democratic administration. The Republicans in Congress propose to present a program of constructive legislation to the President and will not depend on criticism of the administration, he said. Judge McKenzie Moss, of Bowling Green, chairman of the committee on resolutions, read the report of the committee. Judge Ed C. O'Rear, of Frankfort, offered a resolution commending the services of Theodore Roosevelt to the party and to the nation. The resolution was unanimously adopted by standing vote. Maruice Galvin, of Covington, proposed a resolution in appreciation of the services of the late Hon. W. D. Cochran, of Maysville, who was active in war work until his untimely death. The resolution was adopted by a standing vote of the convention. Judge Roscoe Tartar, of Somerset, presented the name of Edwin P. Morrow for Governor in a speech in which he paid high tribute to his fellow-townsmen as a leader and a statesman. Judge Tartar's voice several times could not be heard in the vociferous calls for Morrow from the impatient audience. Chairman Kerr was frequently forced to call the meeting to order, and his calls were as frequently disregarded. (Continued on Fourth Page)

PRIZE WINNERS IN BANNER CONTEST ARE MADE KNOWN

One of Three Mason County Sunday School Banners Will Be Selected As State Emblem. The committee composed of Miss Anne Shackelford, Miss Mary Robert Loyd and Mrs. First which was appointed to judge the flags made for Go-to-Sunday-School-Day May 4th, has awarded the honors to Miss Mary Willson, Mrs. Harry Crawford and Mrs. C. S. Dale. One of these three will be officially adopted as the State flag for the Kentucky Sunday School Association at the State Convention in Ashland. Miss Willson's design represents the earth as a circular plane with Go-to-Sunday-School-Day written around the center with four concentric belts representing the four departments: primary, intermediate, junior, and adult. On each belt is an appropriate quotation as: "Suffer the little children to come unto me"; "In the days of thy youth"; "Young men and maidens"; "Even to your old age." Mrs. Crawford's flag has a cross with twelve gold stars circling it, and around them as many white stars as there are County Sunday Schools. Mrs. Dale's flag has a clock showing half past nine with Christ gazing at it with this quotation, "Could ye not watch with me one hour?" Where? At Sunday School. Each of these patterns are very significant and we can rest assured that our Sunday School Association will have in the future an appropriate emblem.

NEW MANAGEMENT OF HOTEL TAKES CHARGE

The pure bred Holstein cow which is being exhibited in front of Mike Brown's store as a part of the Holstein show now in progress there, is attracting much attention and many farmers in the county are now becoming interested in Holstein cows.

MASON SOLDIERS TO PLAN FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Important Meeting of Executive Council of Mason County Soldiers on Saturday to Plan For Memorial Day. Captain Robert Cochran, President of the Mason County Soldiers and Sailors Association, today issued a call for all members of the Executive Council of the Association to meet at the Chamber of Commerce building on next Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock to consider laying plans for a Memorial day program. The Association officers hope to have a very interesting program in Maysville on Memorial Day—May 30th—when the heroes of the Civil and World Wars will be honored. Full details for the program will be worked out at next Saturday's meeting and it is expected that every member of the Executive Council will be present. These plans have been discussed privately among the returned soldiers and sailors for some time but this is the first call for a meeting on the subject.

CITY TAX SUPERVISORS HAVE ORGANIZED

The Maysville City Board of Tax Supervisors met in the office of City Assessor Harney this morning and organized for the work of equalizing the city's tax assessment. Mr. A. F. Curran was chosen Secretary of the Board and work has been started, the board having practically finished the First ward by this afternoon.

HERE COMES ANOTHER

S. S. Battisto, advanced man for the Liberty Shows, is in the city today making arrangements for the appearance of his shows in Maysville next week. This is said to be a small carnival but the advance man says it will be run in a first class manner here. The company has not yet found a lot for their shows. Edward Pickett Barbour, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Barbour, of this city, has successfully passed the entrance examination to West Point Military Academy according to announcement reaching here today from Washington.

THE OHIO RIVER REACHED ITS CREST

The Ohio River reached its crest in the summer rise at this point Wednesday night at 36.9 and began falling this morning. It is expected that the fall be slow because of the great amount of water in the Mississippi and lower reaches of the Ohio. Miss Margaret R. Brown will open a night class in Bookkeeping Monday, May 19. Phone 696. 15-31

MASON COUNTY MAN REPORTED WOUNDED SAYS HE'S ALL RIGHT

William Sweet Officially Reported Severely Wounded in Russia and Again Reported Killed, Cables Parents That He Is All Right. Several weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. James Sweet, of the Bull Creek neighborhood, were advised unofficially that their son, William T. Sweet, who was with the A. E. F. in Russia had been killed in service. In several weeks after the receipt of this unofficial notice, they received a notice from the War Department announcing that the young man had been severely wounded while in service and as these notices generally precede announcement of death, it was generally believed that the young man had met his fate. Yesterday, however, Mr. and Mrs. Sweet received the first message by cable direct from their son since he had been in Europe and the first word they had received from him since he had been reported wounded severely by the government. This cablegram simply said "Well, feeling fine. Mother don't worry." This message lifted a great load from the family who had been mourning their son as lost. The family is now anxiously awaiting a letter from Russia in which the young man will do doubt explain his being wounded and his recovery to good health.

SHOOTING GALLERY WILL SOON BE CLOSED

Because of the sale of the Rorer building in lower Market street the shooting gallery which is operated there will be closed in a short time and as shooting has become a very favorite pastime in Maysville just now for the boys and especially the men who wore khaki, it is expected that there will be quite a rush at the gallery for the next few days.
