PROGRAM OF FIRST FIRST FIELD MEET TO BE AT MAYS LICK

Y. M. C. A. Promoting the Meet, Which Will Be Held for the County Schools.

Prof. G. W. Turnipseed, County Superintendent, and L. F. Zerfoss, District Secretary State Y. M. C. A., visited a number of the Consolidated Schools of Mason county for the purpose of promoting a "Field Meet," to be participated in by the public schools of the county.

The citizens of Mayslick and vicinity will furnish dinner on the grounds to the boys and girls from a distance who are participating in the meet.

The judges of the various events will come from outside of the county, men experienced in this kind of work. Following are some of the events of the meet:

- Fifty-yard dash. One-hundred-yard dash. Standing broad jump. Running broad jump. Hop-step-and-jump. Baseball throw. Sack race. Three-legged race. Four man relay race. Competition in setting-up exercises, five minutes duration. Tug-of-war, ten boys to team. Basket ball games, girls or boys, if contests are arranged prior to May 21. Girls to contest against girls in any of the events they may choose. Boys will be divided into classes: Class A, boys under 100 pounds; Class B, boys over 100 pounds. Girls will contest in the same class. All schools visited entered into the project with much enthusiasm, and from what we know of the promoters we feel sure that the occasion will be one of much pleasure and profit to not only the participants but also to any others who may attend as spectators. It is hoped that every school in the county will have representatives in one or more of the events.

NEW CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PRESIDENT. George H. Frank, the Second street clothier, has been chosen president of the local Chamber of Commerce to succeed Frank Hendrickson, who resigned.

CHARACTER PORTRAYAL IS VERY STRONG

Conrad LeGrange in "The Eyes of the World" Is a Very Strong Character.

There has been no more remarkable character portrayal in the history of the photodrama than that of Conrad LeGrange in the production at the Washington and Gem Theaters on Wednesday and Thursday of Clone's great photodrama "The Eyes of the World." Down to the last minute detail it is a triumph in that branch of the actor's art that in these days is mastered by so few players.

So startling is the characterization at many points that a dramatic reviewer in the west referred to this work of Monroe Salisbury as an accomplishment as worthy of study as if it had been done on canvas by an artist of the brush. This critic reviewed Salisbury on the general theme, "how to paint a portrait in grease paint," and Salisbury's reply throws an interesting light on one of the fascinating phases of the actor's art. He said:

"It is hard to say just how a certain role is planned and executed, but I do know this—while I was studying a new role the character that I am to portray is visualized in my mind. I can see the character perfectly; he becomes very real to me, and therefore I know exactly how I must appear. Each and every movement comes naturally, as for the time I am playing I am not acting, I am that character."

Knights of Columbus State Meeting Comes to An End Here Yesterday Afternoon

Knights of Columbus Convention Comes to Close With a Banquet and Dancing at Neptune Hall Last Night.

Yesterday was practically the closing day in this city for the State Grand Lodge convention of the Knights of Columbus and it was a busy one for the delegates, as practically the entire day was put in going over the affairs of the order and making plans for this year.

At the afternoon session the first important business was the election of officers, which resulted as follows: State Deputy—J. J. Donovan, Ludlow.

State Secretary—George A. Burkley, Louisville.

State Treasurer—M. E. Scott, Morristown.

State Advocate—W. H. Rives, Lebanon.

State Warden—Charles J. Richerson, Elizabethtown.

State Chaplain—Rev. James L. Gorey, Newport.

Delegates to the Supreme Convention in New York in August—T. D. Cline, Louisville; Albert Oberst, Owensboro; Frank P. O'Donnell, Maysville.

Then came the adoption of the following resolutions: Whereas, the hospitality extended by Maysville Council No. 1377 and the public officials and citizens of Maysville and Mason county has made our visit to the State Convention a most pleasant and enjoyable one, through the efficient work of committees in caring for the visiting delegates and their wives;

Therefore, be it resolved by the State Council of the Knights of Columbus in convention assembled that as an evidence of our appreciation of their efforts we extend to the officers and members of Maysville Council No. 1377 and to the citizens of Maysville and Mason county by a rising vote our most sincere thanks.

JOHN T. MURPHY, PAUL MEAGHER, L. A. MANARCH. It was resolved that each Council be asked to do all in their power to assist the Holy Father in his efforts to assist the suffering children of Central Europe.

That Supreme Council be asked to levy assessment of $1,000,000 to aid in construction of $15,000,000 Votive Shrine to be erected at Washington, D. C., in honor of Blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of God.

That Supreme Council be requested to aid in construction of tubercular sanatorium for members in the West. That this convention subscribe to industrial program set forth in pastoral letter of bishops of the United States and pledge our members to do all in their power towards their application. Especially as to the living wage scale.

The Boy Scout of America was heartily endorsed and local Council instructed to aid in organizing the boys of all parishes in Kentucky into this movement.

A great many other resolutions affecting the laws of the order were passed and 10 cents per member was levied on the membership to further the Mission Movement of the State Council, whereof Missions to non-Catholic are fostered by the Kentucky Knights.

Following State Officers were present: John J. Donovan, State Deputy; D. M. Cooper, Past State Deputy; George A. Burkley, State Secretary; M. E. Scott, State Treasurer; John W. Heuver, State Advocate; C. P. Clark, State Warden; Rec. Jas. L. Gorey, State Chaplain; Frank L. McCarthy, District Deputy; Thos. D. Cline, District Deputy; La Vega Clements, District Deputy; Victor L. Spaulding, District Deputy; Benedict Elder, State Lecturer; R. E. McNamara, State Historian.

The following were the delegates present: Ashland—Rev. J. A. Cusack, Jas. F. Manley; Bardstown—Victor L. Kelley, Thos. J. Stocker; Bowling Green—E. Roemer; Blue Grass—J. J. Bonfield; Bishop—Frank L. McCarthy; Carroll—Dr. John J. Maloney, John Thomas; Durbin—Aruman Drury, L. I. Manning; Elizabethtown—R. E. McNamara, C. J. Richardson; Fancy Farm—Ivo Hobbs; Frankfort—Paul Meagher, John R. Sowers; Henderson—J. J. Marshall, J. P. Fleming; Kehoe—John T. Murphy, Henry Pilon; Lebanon—H. W. Rives; Louisville—Dan W. Lawler, Robert

A. Watson; Maysville—Thos. W. Breen, W. T. Cummins; P. J. McCarthy—John R. Roche, E. H. Gorey; Owensboro—A. B. Oberst, L. A. Monarch; Newport—R. E. Welakettel, Joseph Koenig; Paducah—Charles A. Gockel, C. A. Wells; Uniontown, R. W. Roberts, E. Clements; Waverly—John E. Pike, J. W. Payne; West Louisville—T. A. Coel, J. M. O'Bryan; Whitesville—J. V. Burch, W. S. Howard.

The banquet at Neptune Hall last night was one of the big features of the convention, fully five hundred being in attendance. The supper was served by the ladies of St. Patrick's church and was one of the best ever sat down to at a local function.

The committee having in charge the preparation of this part of the meet for the State Convention and visitors—Thomas M. Breen, Thomas Cummins, T. A. Higgins, Phil Cummins, W. F. Murphy, Paul Chilton and Robert Willocks—proved their ability in the choosing of the speakers for the toast after the elegant feast. The first speaker was State Deputy J. J. Donovan, of Ludlow, following his speech being a piano solo delightfully rendered by Miss Anna Collins, daughter of Attorney James M. Collins, of Owensboro; John T. Murphy, of Ludlow, a violin solo by Frank P. O'Donnell, son of Attorney Frank P. O'Donnell, Thomas Cline, of Louisville; W. T. Drury, of Morristown; and County Judge Purnell. All the speakers were orators of the first rank and their speeches were received with much applause, showing they were appreciated by all present.

After the banquet and speeches, the young folks—and some of the old ones, too—indulged in dancing a few hours. The next meeting of the State Convention will be held at Owensboro.

MASON COUNTY COURT. On this day a paper bearing date of November 23, 1913, and purporting to be the last will and testament of Thosia Bell, deceased, was produced in court and filed. The due execution of said paper was proven by the testimony of W. J. Cracraft and B. F. Hawkins attesting witnesses thereto and admitted to probate.

Thos. W. Ray, named in the last will of Thosia Bell, deceased, as executor thereof appeared in court and qualified, as such without security as requested in said will.

Judge H. P. Purnell this morning gave judgment for the defendant in the case of C. R. Storer vs. J. C. Stuart, suing for breach of contract on clearing ground.

LOOK NIFTY. Have your cleaning and pressing done by us. No better work possible. MODERN LAUNDRY AND M11-1f DRY CLEANING COMPANY.

County Court Clerk J. J. Owens today issued two marriage licenses: Wm. T. Luman, 29, of Tollesboro, and Alma E. Arcutt, of Garrison, to be married Thursday at Ashland; James E. Selby, 33, of Mayslick, and Francis Williams, 23, of Mason county, to be married by Rev. McClure of this city.

THE CHURCH MUST ADAPT HERSELF TO PRESENT DAY NEEDS

Dean Boyd, of Kentucky University, Delivers Strong Lecture on "Social Functions of Religion."

There was only a fairly good audience at the court house Tuesday evening to hear Dean P. P. Boyd, of the University of Kentucky, deliver the last of the series of lectures on sociology under the auspices of the Maysville Community Club. Dean Boyd's subject was one in which the public is becoming more interested year by year. He approached the problems confronting the Christian church in the spirit of loyalty to her great past and of sincere desire that she may so justify her present day service as to herself her great mission in the world.

He paid some attention to the conditions confronting the state and the nation and the civilized world. The serious days of the war have been followed by no less serious days of peace. We came back before it was over over there, and we find that it is not over over here "either."

He showed by statistics that the church itself is in a serious situation and raised the question as to whether the church is equal to the mighty problems that are pressing now, and whether with her present outlook and programs she can for long appeal to the young people and the state. "No divine institution," he said "can prove false to its mission without another's rising to replace it."

Dean Boyd then tried to show that the social ideal was the very essence of the old Hebrew institution from which grew the early Christian church; that Christ himself thought and worked constantly for a better life and society on earth; that the great burden of his soul was the bringing of the Kingdom of God on Earth.

The whole address was an appeal for breadth and tolerance, for a practical application of Christ's message to the problems of today for an aggressiveness and fearlessness in opposition to social-wrongs with forcefulness of self and loyalty to Jesus rather than to any organization. "He that loseth his life shall find it," and the institution that will throw its very existence into jeopardy for the sake of truth and righteousness will find its own soul and eternal life. If the church with her ideals of love and justice can not save the day, what institution can? Industry breeds slums and millionaires. Science alone made Germany.

"OVER THE TOP."

The Mayslick Christian church, at its meeting Sunday to raise its quota of $1,800 in the World Movement campaign of the Disciples of Christ, reported its total apportionment raised within a few hours and the campaign would be continued.

A telegram from Bloomington, Ill., announced the receipt of one $100,000 pledge, one for $25,000 and many smaller ones. Kansas City has obtained $150,000; the Washington, D. C., District, $100,000; Cleveland, $50,000; and many smaller churches, sums ranging from $1,000 upward.

PROF. YOUNG RE-ELECTED MANAGER BOYS' BAND.

At a meeting of the directors of the Maysville Boys' Band last night Prof. Young, instructor of the band, was voted a contract for another year. Prof. Young has proven that he knows how to train the lads, and the directors were not willing to allow him to leave here. Besides his musical talent, Prof. Young and his wife have made everybody they have met here their friends and all are united in good feeling that they are to stay here.

NIFTY BACK STAND BARBER FIXTURES.

"Made in Maysville High School" is now a standing trade-mark for some of the nicest woodwork that can be found anywhere. If you don't believe it go see the handsome backstand at the barber shop of James E. Cullen & Son on East Second street. Prof. James Melton's class of young artists at the High School turned it out in record time and it is as nifty as if it came from a real city factory.

DEATH OF MRS. MARGARET TONCRAY.

Mrs. Margaret Toncray, aged 72 years, one of the devout members of the Tollesboro Christian church, died Tuesday night at her home near Tollesboro, after a long illness. She is survived by two sons, John D. Toncray, merchant of Tollesboro, and William Toncray, farmer. The funeral will occur Sunday morning from the Tollesboro Christian church and the burial will be in Olivet cemetery.

FUNERAL OF MRS. SCHNELLE.

The funeral services for Mrs. Fred Schnelle, who died at her home in West Second street yesterday morning, will be held at the residence Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. John Barbour, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, conducting them, and the burial will be in the Maysville cemetery.

The M. C. Russell Co. received a carload of Jefferson flour today, the first in four weeks.

REDMEN IN STATE MEET AT LEXINGTON ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Representatives From 217 Tribes In This State Attend the Meeting of The Great Council of Kentucky.

Braves to the number of 300, from the 217 tribes of Red Men in the state, held council until the fires burned low in the longhouse Tuesday, the opening day of the Great Council of Kentucky at Lexington.

Due to the absence from that city of Mayor T. C. Bradley, who was to have delivered the welcoming address, the formalities of welcome and response were dispensed with and the Council entered into executive session immediately upon convening at the Knights of Columbus hall, on North Limestone street, at 10 o'clock. Lyman S. Graham, of Frankfort, great sachem, presided at the meeting.

Nominations for officers for the coming year were made before the meeting adjourned for lunch and immediately following the noon recess the election was held. The following officers were elected: Lyman S. Graham, Blackfoot Tribe U. O. 67, Frankfort, great prophet; Edward Sutton, Quindaro Tribe No. 369, Hippo, great sachem; W. T. Bare, War Eagle Tribe No. 99, Bedford, great senior sagamore; Beckham Overstreet, Cherokee Tribe No. 8, Louisville, great junior sagamore; William A. Crader, Cherokee Tribe No. 8, Louisville, great chief of records; R. L. Courtney, Scioto Tribe No. 184, Covington, great keeper of Wampum.

Mr. Overstreet is Past Grand Master I. O. O. F. of Kentucky, and is now grand representative to the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the World, which meets at Boston next September. When grand master of the Odd Fellows that order raised an endowment fund of $5,000 for the Orphans' Home at Lexington. He is now chairman of the campaign to raise $500,000. He is past sachem of Cherokee tribe, Red Men, Louisville.

An open session with the members of the degree of Pocahontas was held Tuesday afternoon. Homer J. Northcutt, of Covington, welcomed the sisters of the order with a response by Robert E. Cole, of Barbourville. In addition talks were made by Beckham Overstreet and J. B. McFerran, of Chicago, great chief of records of the United States, who is representing the great Inconhooee at the meeting.

Reports from the various committees Tuesday afternoon show that the order has nearly 7,000 members in Kentucky.
