New York Letter

by Lucy Jeannie Price

New York.—If there are any lingering doubts in the minds of this generation as to the wide scope of women's activities, just let him—for we'll assume it would be a "him"—come to the exhibition to be held here in the near future of the New York League of Business and Professional Women. It is for the purpose of showing what women have done and are doing these past few years in the way of commerce, profession, and industry, and its revelations will be pretty nearly amazing to some of the conservative lookers-on at woman's world. Mining, engineering, road building, plumbing, banking—well, practically every occupation will be represented there. It will be the first exhibition of the kind to have been held in any country.

The time is past when we can speak of the bobbed hair "fad." It's like the sport suit "fad" or the "fad" for jade ornaments. That is, it is a matter of several years, maybe a generation, and now, at the time, when the skeptics expected it to be well on the wane, it is more popular than at any time in the past. No longer is it confined to motion picture actresses and young school girls. More than half the girls and women I know under the age of forty seem to have had their hair cut and waved and several years taken off their ages in consequence. Of course straight bobbed hair is pretty bad; but who wears it straight? Just as short skirts made attractive hostelry essential, so has the bob converted every one to the permanent wave. Mr. Nestle, of 12 East 49th street, the permanent wave authority of the country, told me the other day that aside from the thousands who have the wave put in by experts, it has become a regular home industry. The permanent wave outfit is parked in the bathroom along with the electric flatiron and the teabag. "We have sold over 10,000 outfits for home use in the past year," he said, "and the number is growing every day. Now that the wave can be put in without any danger of injury to the hair it is becoming an accepted necessity of life."

—NY—
Sheriff Wagner, down on Long Island, is a patient and long-suffering man, but it seems as though fate and his job had been unusually unkind to him these last few days. They have forced him to locking up in his jail 900 innocent little chickens, REAL chickens. Judge Humphrey issued an order ousting Mrs. Bridget Cone, alleged to be a squatter, from property at Richmond Hill, Long Island, the other day. Now Mrs. Cone has a flock of chickens, 900 strong, which the judge ordered Sheriff Wagner to take charge of. The sheriff hasn't any place of his own where he can keep them. He mustn't sell them. He must not kill them. There was nothing for him to do but put them in jail, so he did it.

The "Bronx Express," the new play produced by Mr. and Mrs. Coburn, at the Astor Theater, is the story of a dream—the dream of a man who wanted to work for beauty rather than for money. It has one remarkably vivid and arresting scene in the Bronx express subway train, and there are interesting episodes and reactions throughout. The Coburns are both in the cast.

After all the terrible indictments against us as a sex and as a nation for overwhelming amounts of money spent on cosmetics and the like, I feel quite relieved to read the statement made by the Manufacturing Perfumers' Association, in convention here. Hadn't you got an idea that just about half our savings—or what we ought to

MANY LIKE THIS IN MAYSVILLE

Similar Cases Being Published in Each Issue.
The following case is but one of many occurring daily in Maysville. It is an easy matter to verify it. You cannot ask for better proof.
Jno. T. Bramel, retired bookkeeper, 108 West Front street, Maysville, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been of great advantage to me and I contribute fourteen years of my life to them. It was some years ago that I found I had kidney trouble and suffered severely with it. After a long course of Doan's Kidney Pills I became well and had no trouble for many years. Just recently I noticed my kidneys were again out of order and my system was generally weak. I knew it was a return of the trouble. I did not lose any time in getting a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and they have given me the same good results and I consider them a wonderful remedy." (Statement given November 15, 1916.)
On November 22, 1920, Mr. Bramel said: "I couldn't recommend a better remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills after the benefit they were to me when I was about down and out with the worst form of kidney trouble. I gave a statement many years ago regarding the merit of this wonderful remedy. My cure has been a lasting one."
Price 50 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Bramel had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

be saving—was being tossed over the counter for rouges and beauty lotions of various kinds? Well, it isn't so. Just seventy-five cents is spent by the average person in one whole year for toilet preparations, perfumeries, etc. I should say that is about as modest as could be expected of anybody. We're more given to cleanliness than to the artificial aids to beauty, too. For against that seventy-five cents, each one of us spends a dollar a year for soap!

Dr. Samuel Reinhardt, of 230 Keap street, Brooklyn, has offered his stolen Ford sedan as a reward to the person who stole it if he will return the bag of surgical instruments and an account book left in the car. He ought to have a good chance of getting back his prized possessions under that condition, unless perchance it was a patient whose name is down in the account book who did the stealing.

STUNT SPECIALISTS

When George B. Seitz, producer and director of Patheserials, begins work on a new chapter play, his first step is to assemble together the best "stunt artists" in the business. He knows that the public wants thrills in a mode and he knows that it is up to him to supply them. But when a producer has a star with such marked versatility for toying with death as Charles Hutchison, he has his hands full.

Hutchison is absolutely fearless and eats thrills alive. To surround him with a company ready to face any hazard is no easy matter. But Mr. Seitz believes that he did in the casting up in fine style for "Go-Get-'Em-Hutch," the Pathe star's latest serial. Marguerite Clayton, playing the feminine lead, is used to strenuous work and is an accomplished swimmer. Pearl Shepard is a regular duck in the water, and was preparing her bathing suit for the summer months with the snow yet on the ground. Cecile Bonnel has also demonstrated her ability as a swimmer and diver.
As for the men, Richard R. Neill, who plays the villainous role, was the first man to win the Ausable Rapids in motion picture production. Frank Hagney, who hails from Australia, is an accomplished boxer, a trick bicycle rider and also swimmer of note. Joe Cuny has demonstrated his fearlessness as a stunt actor in almost every Patheserial the last few years, and that gentleman also boasts of being a horse-breaker and rider of note.

MOVIE EVIL DOOMED BY PUBLIC OPINION

Educator Says Screen Player's Private Life Not So Potent to Do Harm As the Parts He Plays.

Terre Haute, Ind.—"The movies will either be cleaned up by the people who are producing them, or they will be cleaned up by people not producing them," asserts L. N. Hines, president of the Indiana State Normal Schools, in a statement given for publication to the Society for Visual Education. "There is every indication that the vulgar movie will be compelled to go. Although the people are sometimes very slow in moving, when a great cause presents itself they ultimately do move."

It has been frequently and fervently declared in recent months that, despite the uncovering of high scandals in Hollywood and other "movie towns," the vast majority of the screen people are decent and respectable in private life. Dr. Hines does not deny the truth of the defense, but maintains that this is not exactly the point. Personal character is undeniably important, but the picture itself, according to this educator, is the public's more immediate concern. The greatest damage, he believes, is not done by motion picture actors who are reckless in their private lives, but by those who, reckless or the reverse, consent to a part in placing vulgarities on the screen.

"A man may live a perfectly normal life at home, but if he takes part in the development of stories that embody unclean ideas he is thereby guilty of an injury which is vastly greater than if he confined his vicious influence simply to his personal acts." Dr. Hines declares. "A man who, in the part of a bank robber, shows just how a bank may be broken into, is helping to pervert the minds of tens of thousands of boys over the country. This 'robber' might himself be a bank robber on the side and yet never in that way work as much harm as by portraying the robbing of banks on the screen. It is what the people see the actors do that makes for good or evil, rather than what these actors are or do in their private lives."

It has been stated, remarks Dr. Hines, that in one community the censor reports that vulgarity has been eliminated from the films, only to have stupidity take its place. Of this situation he says:

"No more vivid commentary could be made upon the scarcity of real reasons for the existence of the ordinary commercial moving picture than the above-quoted remark of a movie censor. Interpreted, this is a frank admission that movies must be either vulgar or stupid. It is assumed, of course, that stupidity will not bring as much money into the box-offices as vulgarity, and so in all too many cases the vulgar type of film is produced so that people will continue to patronize the theaters."

PIKE SLAYER IS PARDONED AS FAMILY IN DISTRESS.

Frankfort.—Governor Morrow pardoned John Keene, Pike County, serving five years for manslaughter. Keene was pardoned because his wife is permanently disabled and the Salvation Army has been taking care of her and two children, the older one four years old.

PROSPERITY AHEAD OF TIME.

"It is the duty of the Employment Committee to secure openings for employment; list the same with the manager of the Emergency Relief Board; devise means for the creation of jobs; report to the manager the increase or decrease of employment by a careful survey weekly."

This paragraph gives succinctly a very brief outline of how Poughkeepsie, N. Y., has solved its unemployment problem, as reported to the President's Conference on Unemployment, in Washington. The Mayor of the city, the President of the Chamber of Commerce, and the President of the Associated Charities constitute a steering committee. Under them are three sub-committees on employment, finance, and relief, which have handled the situation so completely as to enable this thriving New York town on the Hudson to enjoy the return of prosperity ahead of time. The employment committee is organized with four members, as follows:

"Secretary of the Manufacturers' Association, whose duty it is to secure and list all openings in industry; to devise means for the creation of new jobs; the proposed rotation of labor and other methods for making employment in industry after consultation with the Directors of the Manufacturers' Association.

"Superintendent Board of Public Works, whose duty it is to know of all openings on public works in the city; to consult, suggest and try to put through the promotion of additional public work with the Board of Public Works of the city for the creation of more employment.

"County Agent Farm Bureau, for the listing and securing of openings on farms; for the securing of reasonable occupation for part time employment.

"Employment Officer, American Legion, for the general assistance in securing of odd jobs, day work, etc., not covered by the three above mentioned members of the Employment Committee."

WELL, NOW!

Motion picture stars are constantly pursued by movie fans desiring their autographs. Charles Hutchison tells a good one in this regard that happened at the Pathe studio during the filming of his latest Patheserial, "Go-Get-'Em Hutch."

It seems that a few young lady visitors were looking around the studio, and one of them approached a young man who was playing only an extra part. "Will you give me your autograph?" asked the young lady.

"Certainly," came the delightful answer. And the young man wrote his name.

"Oh, aren't you Charles Hutchison?" she asked.

"Why, no, my name is Charles MacGregor," came the reply.

"Then lend me your eraser."
