WOMEN AND MEDICINE.

In Europe, years ago, a woman named Hildegarde wrote a notable book on medicinal plants. In those days the men were too busy bothering about the dogmas of religion and medicine, and the study of herbs was thought beneath their notice.

It was the women, however, who most carefully conducted the hospitals and cared for the sick, and thus they learned much of great value. They let the men fight out the questions of theories.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, prepared almost fifty years ago by a woman, Lydia E. Pinkham, did then, and does now, relieve the ailments peculiar to women. It is a vegetable compound and of great value for this purpose. This is proven day after day, and in your own neighborhood, by grateful women who have used it.

Miss Helen Tomnies, of Walnut Hills and Mrs. Leonard Dawson, of Newport, Ky., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Paul.
