

The Hocking Sentinel

Local and Personal

Mr. Rudolph Schwarz who has been canvassing in Kentucky for the last year, is home on a visit.

Mr. Lee Cresap, of Pennsylvania, Fla. who has been visiting his mother here, has returned south.

MARRIED—Sept 8th, by Rev. J. F. Williams, Mr. Lewis Trucel and Miss Jane Johnson, both of Logan.

Col. A. F. Goodhue, wife and granddaughter, of Beaumont Texas, were the guest last week of their sister-in-law, Mrs. N. J. Haas.

Mr. R. H. Taylor, on account of his age and infirmity is no longer able to look after his farms and will sell one of them at a bargain, see advertisement.

"A Pair of Jacks" is termed as A World in Music, A World of Fun and A World of dance. In fact a musical festival, Rempel's Opera House Monday Evening Sept. 19th.

Rev. Williams and wife, leave today for Cleveland on a visit to their son-in-law, E. B. Conley formerly of over city. Mr. Williams will, before returning, attend the conference at Portsmouth.

The Cincinnati Desiccating Co's Fertilizer, merit the attention of the farmer of Hocking Co. For sale by H. C. Bothwell Logan, O. office Main st. near Rempel House. Sept. 15th, 6 w.

The farm advertised by Mr. Hoehn, elsewhere in this paper is one of the most desirable home near Lancaster, a desire of the property among heirs necessitates the sale. A bargain can be had by purchasing now.

Mr. Worley, a prominent democrat and lawyer of Hillsboro, and prosecuting attorney of Highland county, accompanied by his family is visiting in Logan this week, the guest of his brother-in-law, Jerry Heasel on the Terrace.

Rev. W. H. Lewis Presiding Elder of the Lancaster district will deliver a lecture at the Methodist church on Tuesday evening, Sept. 20th on "The Wit and Humor of Reading." This lecture has favorable comments wherever it has been delivered. Admission 10 cents.

Miss Clara B. Westenhaver, was called to McArthur on last Monday to stenograph for the state in the murder trial of Wolever for killing Lemon. The compliment implied in the selection of Miss Westenhaver by the McArthur court, is gratifying to Miss Clara's many friends, and who are still proud to know that she is deserving. The trial may last all week.

The condition of the Treasury as given by the report of the examiners published on fourth page of this issue, shows a healthy condition of our finances. A prudent economy on the part of commissioner Kreig and his associates, and other county officers gives us a surplus sufficient, not only to meet all usual expenses, but also for any calamity from flood or fire that might occur.

"A Pair of Jacks" is from the pen of H. Gratton Donnelly, the successful farce comedy author. The dialogue in "A Pair of Jacks" is said to be bright and witty, which is interspersed with delightful catches, music and artistic dances. With two good "Jacks" supported by a company of comedians, and a bevy of handsome, sprightly courtesans, who know how to sing and dance, assures us of a genuine treat of farce comedy, Rempel's Opera House Monday evening September 19th.

Pat Eight O's and that won't spell the size of these grown by Jim Martin, on two small lots belonging to John Frash on the Avenue, 48 x 120 feet, less than the one sixth of an acre, he raised 105 bushels of potatoes, an estimate over 600 bushel to the acre. The potatoes were smooth and large of size. The varieties are the Early Ohio and Magrumba. If there is a potato grower in Hocking or in Ohio who can beat this, we want to hear from him.

Tom Lowry of Tonyton sometimes called McArthur, a gallant and good looking soldier who fought and finished the war with Sheridan and Custer, was in the city last week, attending the fair, and having a pleasant reunion with his many friends in Logan. Comrade Tom reports to the Commodore that the Admiral Barleon is maintaining the prestige of the navy and is impatiently awaiting the fall rains, so as to bring out the good ship Rachel and scatter the tad-pole forces collected in the bull rush fortifications on Gander Creek. Comrade Tom will lend his force to the navy if the Admiral should need any assistance.

Mr. Reuben Butler of New Lexington, one of the oldest, and best lawyers of the Perry Bar, is attending court here this week, stopping with his brother-in-law, Ben Tritsch. Mr. Butler is not much given to wit nor to Bible literature, but he paraded the back benches in both by alluding to a court scene in which an attorney was making a brilliant speech by saying that the case was settled, but that the young lawyer had an address to make, and we lawyers, are like Joshua's comrades, holding up his hands and letting the exercises go on. Butler will be out of town before the lawyer sees this pleasant hit in print, and the moon moves serenely and peacefully in the valley of Aijalon and Hocking.

COURT. Court convened on Monday, Judge Huffman on the Bench. The case of McManigles, in which claims and titles were subjects of contentions, occupied the greater portion of the time.

The grand jury was organized by the appointment of Henry Hansel as foreman. The jury is still in session, an unusual amount of business coming up for investigation.

Fire—Culver's Barn Burned.

On last Saturday night, at about 9 o'clock the alarm was given that Mr. L. A. Culver's fine barn on the terrace was on fire. When the fire was first discovered the flames had made such progress that all hope was abandoned of saving the building.

By desperate and daring efforts three ponies were cut loose from entangled halters and escaped, not without slight injuries from the rapidly devouring flames. The vehicles in adjoining sheds were also saved. The hay, feed and other contents were burned. The loss is estimated at not less than $2000, on which there is an insurance by Canty of $1500. The firing, it is supposed, was done by thieves attending the fair, supposing that people would be drawn from their homes by the fire, and thus afford opportunity for the burglar to accomplish his purpose. Several stores and houses, it was reported, had been entered, or entrance attempted. However, the marshal informs us that nothing of the kind occurred, the appearance of people in the alleys, and looking about their own premises, giving rise to the rumor.

The fire was first discovered by Mr. Crooks, who noticed two men at the same moment running down the hill side from the fire. They were strangers to him, as was also another man forcing his way back from the fire, through the crowd rushing to it. The fire had almost consumed the barn by the time the firemen began throwing water. The firemen did all that human strength and endurance could do, but the call after usual bed time, caused an unavoidable delay.

The council, as we have often urged, should buy a team of horses, stabled at the engine house. The team could have steady work on the streets, more than paying for keep and interest on investment, and be handy in an emergency such as all fires are, and most likely be the means of saving thousands of dollars worth of property.

Council Proceedings.

Council met in chamber last Tuesday evening. Mayor J. P. Rochester presiding. Present—Campbell, Fike, Holl, Heft, Harrington, Magoon and Tipton. Absent—Weitzell. Report of Mayor concerning monies collected, accepted. Report of street commissioner as to time worked, accepted. Resolution was introduced to allow a fee of $2.00 per fire to be paid to each fireman present at the fire. Resolutions referred to committee on Fire Department. Resolution was introduced to accept light from gas company until electric lights are in. Took the form of an ordinance, rules were suspended, read three times and passed. (See resolution in another column.) Finance committee reported favorable on bills to amount of $491.23. Number of had gutters were referred to committee on drainage. Property owners on Main street were given fifteen days longer time to get in their paving, after the expiration of which corporation will put them in, charged to property. Crossing from Court House to Market square was ordered raised to proper grade. Fike moved to lay out on north side of Hunter street. Referred to committee on guttering. Chief of Fire Department, Wagoner, was present and implored Council to purchase team of horses for Fire Department. The matter was referred to a committee of three, Campbell, Harrington and Holl, to investigate to the speediest way to procure same.

The Clay Industry.

We publish elsewhere an article from Col. Lemert, of Bucyrus, in last week's Athens Herald upon the clay industry of the Sunday Creek. Col. Lemert is a practical man of affairs. He was the animating spirit that pushed forward the railroad and cleared, in much danger to himself, the primitive condition of the greatest coal field on the continent. Having illustrated the coal resources, he has turned his attention to the clays, and his letter to Dr. Wythebe, one of the prominent land marks of learning in our neighboring Valley, will be found suggestive and interesting. What he says of the Sunday creek, applies as well to our Monday, Hocking and its tributary streams, with clay and coal and water within easy reach to the hand. Parties are considering the matter of establishing a queens-ware plant near Logan, expecting to make goods superior to East Liverpool, from the Barthelme clays. A brick plant is soon to be established at Gore. The clay business in and around Logan is in its infancy.

The Somerset Fair holds this year on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Sept. 28, 29 and 30. The Somerset Fair is one of the best in the state. It is a Farmer's Festival, ladies bazaar and a sportsman's paradise. The farm products of northern Perry come from the veritable Egypt of Ohio, and the fine art exhibits from the gifted ladies of this cultured community. In the matters of fun, here every thing goes, and the fool-killer is let loose on the smart allecks, if any such remain in that place where "high art" has given lots of lessons. Hocking and Somerset are closely related in the ancestry of their people, and a visitor to the Fair is always a happy reunion of old time friends and acceptable introduction to pleasant new acquaintances. Logan always sends a delegation and we are assured in saying that this year, as in the past, will be given hearty welcome and pleasant entertainment. Come weal, come weal, Lets gather and go.

The Old 17th. Reunion.

The surviving comrades of this gallant regiment in which so many of the Hocking boys went out, had a happy reunion at Rushville on last Friday. Judge Bright of Logan made the annual address. Mose Strawn, of Logan, was elected president for the ensuing year. The next reunion will be held in Logan, September 1893.

Bold Day Light Robbery.

On last Thursday the grocery store of Joel Kittsmiller was entered and his pocket book containing about $200.00 stolen. Mr. Kittsmiller has been in the habit of keeping his money in his store, instead of depositing in bank. The silver he kept in a small box behind his counter. In this box laying on the silver was his pocket book containing bills. His customers all became familiar with this fact, and as it appears, thieves also saw the situation. On Thursday a couple of strange men, supposed to be fair fakers, engaged him in conversation on the pavement in front of his store. The strangers seemed anxious to buy lemons, and quibbled about the price. The back door of the grocery stood open. After a time the men left, and when Mr. Kittsmiller, later on, went to his money deposit, the pocket book was gone. The silver remained untouched. The thief, evidently entering in the rear, an accomplice of the two in front, took the pocket book quietly, and fearing the noise of moving the silver might attract attention, or the carrying of the box create inquiry and suspicion, left it untouched. Several suspicious persons were noticed on our streets, and on the train, but no positive evidence could be produced, and no arrests have been made.

THE FAIR.

The secretary of the Agricultural Society promised for us a report of the Fair, but has not yet done so, other duties requiring his attention. Depending on this source for a proper notice, our mention at this last minute, must be necessarily incidental, hoping for full details next week. The story is told of Senator Ingalls, the noted Kansan, who he was called to make a speech at one of the many famous Peg towns for which Kansas was celebrated,—three or four shanties, hundreds of lots pegged off and an unnumbered outlying country for hundreds of miles. Presenting himself to the eager company of lot speculators, who constituted the bulk of the meeting, he said in his awfully impressive and religious way, "God has done much for this town." The meeting cheered. Repeating the sentence, he looked over and around and off, and added, "and man very d—n little!" Providence did much for our Fair. The crops were never more abundant, the stock never in better condition, the weather could not have been better for a Fair if made to order. Providence did much for the Fair, but—&c.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. MARGARET BARBARA DELP, wife of Mr. Louis Delp, departed this life Saturday evening, Sept. 10th, 1892. Her maiden name was Hartman and she was born Oct. 24th, 1847, at Niederhausen, in the Grand Dukedom of Hesse-Darmstadt, Germany. In early infancy she was consecrated to the Lord through holy baptism, and after she had received due instructions in the saving truths of christianity, she was, at the age of 15 years confirmed in the Ev. Luth. Church, of Logan, O., by the Rev. J. J. Sutter. To her confirmation vow she remained faithful all her life time, and to these being faithful unto death the crown of life is promised. In the year 1854, she departed, with her parents, brothers and sisters came to the United States and settled at once here at Logan, where she deceased has lived ever since. June 1st, 1865, she was united in holy wedlock with Lewis Delp, by Rev. Paul Mueller, then pastor of the Ev. Luth. St. Matthews Church of Logan. To them were born 12 children, 8 sons and 4 daughters, of whom however, only 5 children, 3 sons and 2 daughters survive their mother. Although the deceased was not of a very strong constitution, yet she ever managed to fulfill, with faithfulness her duties as a christian wife and mother, and labored devotedly for the well fare of her family. For a number of years she has been suffering, more or less with heart disease, which grew worse as time proceeded. Especially during the last week of her life, such attacks became very frequent and severe, though her condition was not considered alarming. She herself, felt that her end was drawing nigh, and therefore, put her house in order. She impressed it on the conscience of her husband to take care of the children, and she declared that she was going home. Thus she fell asleep suddenly at the above stated hour, at the age of 44 years, 10 months and 16 days.

Her funeral took place Monday afternoon and was largely attended by mourning friends and relatives. After appropriate services at the house of mourning, and also at the Ev. Luth. St. Matthews Church, of which she was a member, her body was laid to rest in Oak Grove Cemetery to await the resurrection morn. Her husband, her 5 children, 3 brothers and 2 sisters mourn their severe loss, which to her is endless gain. May the Lord comfort them in their bereavement. M.
