FORMALLY VOTES NO.

CUBAN CONVENTION REJECTS PLATT AMENDMENT.

Votes in Same Motion to Send a Commission to Washington—Acts of Local Government in Havana Promote Discontent and Distrust.

The constitutional convention in Havana, Cuba, on Friday voted on a combination proposition to send a commission to Washington.

The motion was carried, 10 to 10, some members voting against it who are known to be opposed to the Platt amendment proposition.

It is not a doubt the last few days have shown the development of a feeling of discontent and resentment in Havana.

This is due to various causes more or less directly connected with the movement of handling the political situation, especially the arrogation of interference with the judicial authority.

This has been illustrated in the case of the suppression of a newspaper in the matter of the gas company, in the arbitrary imprisonment of members of the staff of a labor union paper, called L'Espresso, without trial, and in the position of the military government in the matter of the choice of a Mayor of Havana.

There is also a growing feeling among all classes, due to Washington intrigues asserting their sovereignty will be assumed by America in case the Platt amendment is not accepted, of distrust of the local administration, extending to the Cuban people, and the American public because it is feared that these local acts, which seem to form part of a plan to compel the acceptance of the Platt plan, are receiving the support of the American people.

The situation is beginning to present rather serious features, even among the conservative classes, many of whom now support the convention in opposition to the Platt amendment.

Reliable private sources of information in Santiago report that secret preparations are being made for a forcible resistance to the imposition of the Platt amendment.

MISS BARBER TO

CHRISTEN THE OHIO.

It is announced that Miss Mary Barber, niece of Mrs. McKinley, will christen the new battleship Ohio.

The selection has resulted in a great deal of gossip, as Miss Nash, daughter of the Governor, was originally selected.

It seems that one of Senator Hanna's supporters, Senator Summitt, reported to the Senator announced that he declined to permit the committee to consider either of his daughters for the occasion.

Senator Foraker has withdrawn his daughter from the list, and now that young lady has no competitors.

She will travel to California in company with the President and his wife.

A BIG DRY GOODS TRUST.

It May Drive the Little Fellows Out.

The latest mammoth trust to be exploited is that of dry goods, J. Pierpont Morgan, who fused the steel kings in a mass, and John Claffin, head of the well-known New York wholesale dry goods house, are the promoters of the unification.

They propose to combine all the important dry goods stores, wholesale and retail, throughout the country, and this is intended to give out of business the lesser merchants and the commission houses, as the trust will deal directly with the manufacturers, thus ending the middleman.

It may also ruin the importer, for the trust will buy direct from the European factories without the aid of the importer.

It is thought something like 100,000 men will lose employment by the new trust, which will displace, as letters and telegrams will do the work formerly executed by the commercial traveler.

Speaking of the proposition, A. D. Julian, a prominent banker of New York, who is taking a leading part in it, said: "The man who has an enormous Broadway real estate for a store carrying a special line of retail stock cannot be expected to do so."

The small retailer, a combination of department stores can sell at cheaper rates than prevail now in the individual ones."

The New York Journal of Commerce says that the scope of the Associated Merchants' Company, which has been organized by John Claffin, and which Messrs. J. P. Morgan & Co. are financing, is much wider than reported.

The business that Mr. Claffin proposes to buy are, it is understood, among the highest character in the city. No other stores have yet been reached, and negotiations have not yet reached a definite stage.

BARS AMERICAN BEEF.

British War Office Confirms Report as to Army Contracts Order.

The British war office confirms the report that it is going to try the experiment of supplying the army with only home-grown beef.

The experiment will extend six months from June 1. The director of contracts, a major, said to a London newspaper that the war office is inclined to buy only refrigerated beef hitherto bought in the open market in London.

It will not seriously affect the American trade, as the total weekly supply for the army is only 200,000 pounds, which is barely 2 per cent of the weekly imports of refrigerated beef into England from the United States.

Officials at the Washington Agricultural Department are inclined to take a serious view of the action of the British government in excluding American beef and meat products from the British army contracts, which they regard it as the entering wedge of a far-reaching policy which may seriously cripple American exports.

The Russell House block, including the Russell Theater, in Ottawa, Ont., was destroyed by fire. Many guests were forced to leave all their belongings behind and escape in the night.

The famous Merrimack, which Lieut. Hobson sank at the entrance of Santiago harbor, was blown up by means of dynamite. The entrance to the harbor, which has been dangerous since a new great improvement. A large crowd witnessed the blasting.

N. T. Chamberlin of Chicago has signed the contract to remove the wreck of the captured States battleship Maine, agreeing to give the government 3 per cent of the proceeds of the sale of the material. The time for carrying out the contract will be extended to March 1, 1902, if sufficient reason is shown for the extension.

Details of the combination of a number of Alaska commercial and transportation companies, which have been pending for several weeks, has been completed.

The Alaska Commercial Company, the Alaska Exploration Company, the Seattle-Yukon Transportation Company and the Empire Transportation Company have been combined into two companies, the Northern Navigation Company, with a capital of $3,250,000, and the Northern Commercial Company, with a capital of $7,000,000.

It is reported of the Rev. Dr. Hawes, whose death in New York occurred a few days ago, that on one occasion on entering his study he found that he had forgotten to bring the manuscript for his discourse. He was entirely self-possessed as he announced: "I have forgotten my sermon; therefore, instead of preaching, I will play you some sacred music on the violin." The story is concluded with the statement that the congregation was pleased with the change.

As a result of the energetic protest of hundreds of Presbyterians whose ancestors worshipped in the old Covenant Church of Scotland, Pa., the queer little edifice is to be preserved.
