

THE GOVERNOR OF OREGON

Makes Use of His Family

Pe-ru-na in For Colds.

CAPITOL BUILDING, SALEM, OREGON.

Peruna is known from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Letters of congratulation and commendation testifying to the merits of Peruna as a catarrh remedy are pouring in from every State in the Union. Dr. Hartman is receiving hundreds of such letters daily. All classes write these letters, from the highest to the lowest.

The outdoor laborer, the indoor artisan, the clerk, the editor, the statesman, the preacher—all agree that Peruna is the catarrh remedy of the age. The stage and rostrum, recognizing catarrh as their greatest enemy, are especially enthusiastic in their praise and testimony.

Any man who wishes perfect health must be entirely free from catarrh. Catarrh is well-nigh universal. Peruna is the best safeguard known.

A Letter From the Ex-Governor of Oregon.

The ex-Governor of Oregon is an ardent admirer of Peruna. He keeps it continually in the house. In a letter to Dr. Hartman, he says:

STATE OF OREGON,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:
Dear Sirs—I have had occasion to use your Peruna medicine in my family for colds, and it proved to be an excellent remedy. I have not had occasion to use it for other ailments. Yours very truly,
W. M. Lord.

It will be noticed that the Governor says he has not had occasion to use Peruna for any other ailments. The reason for this is, most other ailments begin with a cold.

JOKES & PUZZLES

STILL HOPE.
Don't worry if they take brutality from football; for—oh, glad reality!—They'll put it in some other rare, Rough game, and we can view it there.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

DESCRIBING IT.
Farmer Sosede—What's that book yer readin' about, Mandy?
Aunt Mandy—Bout the war, Joshua. It's one o' those here hysterical novels.—Brooklyn Life.

ILLUSTRATED.
"That barber tells too many stories to be popular."
"And, furthermore, he embellishes them with altogether too many cuts."

HIS SCHEME OF LIFE.
"I believe in giving every man a square deal."
"You do, eh?"
"Yes, every man who positively won't stand for a crooked one."

THE CHAMPION MEAN MAN.
"He's so small that when judgment day comes he'll be able to slip through the crack."
"What crack?"
"The crack of doom, of course."

THE NAME FOOLED HIM.
"Are you fond of smelts?"
"Never tasted it."
"Eh! Smelts are fishes."
"Fishes! I thought they were some kind of cheese."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

NEED 'EM NOW.
"Pa, what were those suits of armor used for?"
"People wore 'em in olden times, son."
"What sort of people, pa?"
"Oh, life insurance agents, I suppose."

THE MARCH OF EXPOSURE.
"What are you cryin' fer?" asked the first urchin.
"Me conscience badders me," replied the second urchin. "Last week I robbed me little brudder's bank."
"Don't worry. It'll be some time before Mister Lawson gets around to youse."

CONTENT.
"Is your son doing well at college?"
"Yes," answered Farmer Cortosel. "He had his picture took after the football game, and it showed he had his regular share of arms an' legs. I should say he was doin' well."—Washington Star.

DIMENSIONS.
Uncle John—My goodness, Tommy, you eat an awful lot for such a little fellow.
Tommy—I 'spect I aren't so little as I looks from the outside.—Woman's Home Companion.

MEDIAEVAL W/T
"My wife," complained the Duke de Doolittle, "says she's obliged to keep her room. Yet I see nothing the matter with the dame."
"Put her in the secret chamber," advised the Count de Funnleus. "She will then never keep that."

A NATURAL INFERENCE.
Six-year-old Fanny, just returned from Sunday school, seemed to have something on her mind. "Mother," she said, after a while, "they must have had very large beds in Bible times."
"Why?" asked her mother.
"Well, our teacher told us today that Abraham slept with his four fathers."—Harper's Weekly.

SCARED OUT.
"Why did the Earl break the engagement?"
"Oh, he became afraid, when he found out that her father was president of a life insurance company, that the old man would appoint him a vice-president or give him some other kind of a job that would make it necessary for him to at least memorize the figures referring to the assets and liabilities."—Chicago Record-Herald.

LESS LABOR INVOLVED.
"How'd you like to have de job of keepin' de streets of Havana free from snow?" jocularly inquired Tired Timms.
"I'd rather be a dummy insurance director," promptly replied Weary Wrags.

A PERFECT SHAME.
"I see the Chicago packers claim that they have been tricked and deceived by Government detectives."
"So?"
"Yes."
"Well, any one who would trick and deceive a Chicago packer ought to be harshly dealt with."

ACTION OF GRAVITY.
"Senator, how did you get your start in life?" asked the reporter.
"I was born on a hillside farm in Vermont," said the eminent statesman, "and at an early age I rolled down."—Chicago Tribune.

IT STUCK TO HIM.
"There's nothing like printer's ink," said the enthusiastic advertising man. "No, I don't know as there is," replied the other man; "I got some on my hands once, and I never remember meeting anything just like it!"—Yonkers Statesman.

The Empire of Dollars.
Wall Street is the capital of the Empire of Dollars. Like all other capitals, it has its intrigues, its favorites, its duels, its cabals, and its camarillas; and, like all other capitals, it gives its color to those who spend their lives there. It has even a sort of patriotism—"wolf honor"—which brings its citizens together, at times, in defense of the dollar and of property rights.

The Empire of Dollars is not altogether a noble spectacle. We are not thrilled at the mere thought of those Venice bankers who "financed" the Crusades. We do not like to think of those Wall Street manipulators who tried to corner the gold supply during our Civil War, when the nation needed gold.—Success Magazine.

MERCILESS ITCHING.
Another Speedy Cure of an Itching Humour with Loss of Hair by the Cuticura Remedies.

"For two years my neck was covered with sores, the humor spreading to my hair, which fell out, leaving an unsightly bald spot, and the soreness, inflammation, and merciless itching made me wild. Friends advised Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and after a few applications the torment subsided, and to my great joy. The sores soon disappeared, and my hair grew again, as thick and healthy as ever. I shall always recommend the Cuticura Remedies. (Signed) Harry J. Spalding, 104 West 104th street, New York City."

A Roland For His Oliver.
A well-known newspaper man, who formerly edited a journal published in San Francisco, says that there once appeared in the paper in question an advertisement reading as follows:

"The man who found a pocket-book, containing a large sum of money, on California street, is requested to return it to the address of the undersigned, the loser, as he was recognized."

In a few days the reply was inserted: "The recognized man, who picked up a pocket-book, containing a large sum of money, on California street, respectfully requests that the loser call at his house."

IN CONSTANT AGONY.
A West Virginian's Awful Distress Through Kidney Troubles.

W. L. Jackson, merchant of Parkersburg, W. Va., says: "Driving about in bad weather brought kidney troubles on me, and I suffered twenty years with sharp, cramping pains in the back and urinary disorders. I often had to get up a dozen times at night to urinate. Retention of urine, and the doctors failing to help, began using Doan's Kidney Pills. The urine soon came freely again, and the pain gradually disappeared. I have been cured eight years, and though over 70, am as active as a boy."

Sold by all dealers, 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Smallest Coin Current.
The smallest coin now current in Europe, and the one having the least value intrinsically, is the Greek lepton. Some idea of its smallness may be had from the statement that it takes 100 of them to make a drachma, and the latter coin is worth a trifle less than twenty cents of American money.

$100 Reward, $100.
The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, etc. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

She Had Hopes.
Cashier (coughing)—Pardon me, I didn't catch your last name.
Ethel (blushing)—I haven't caught it yet myself.—Cleveland Leader.

An instantaneous cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Toothache, Headache, Lameback, Backache, is Dr. Bayer's Penetrating Oil. Try it. 25c a bottle.

The Carthage (Mo.) Press says that a Joplin boy asked his Sunday school teacher last Sunday if the James boys wrote the Book of James.

Piso's Cure for Consumption cured me of a tenacious and persistent cough.—Wm. H. Harrison, 217 W. 121st street, New York, March 25, 1901.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

A BRIEF SKETCH OF HER LIFE

How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused it to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

THE STORY READS LIKE A ROMANCE

Yours for Health Lydia E. Pinkham

This remarkable woman, whose maiden name was Estes, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 9, 1819, coming from a good old Quaker family. For many years she taught school, and during her career as a teacher she became known as a woman of an alert and investigating mind, an earnest seeker after knowledge, and above all, she was possessed with a wonderfully sympathetic nature.

In 1843 she married Isaac Pinkham, a builder and real estate operator, and their early married life was marked by prosperity and happiness. They had four children, three sons and a daughter.

In those good old-fashioned days few drugs were used in medicine; people relied upon nature's remedies, roots and herbs, which are to-day recognized as more potent and efficacious in controlling diseases than any combination of drugs.

Mrs. Pinkham from her youth took a deep interest in medicine, in botany—the study of roots and herbs, their characteristics, and power over disease; she believed that as nature so bountifully provides food for the body so she also provides medicine for the ill and weaknesses of the body, in the roots and herbs of the field, and as a wife, mother and sympathetic friend, she often made use of her knowledge of roots and herbs in preparing medicines for her family and friends.

Knowing of so much suffering among her sex, after much study and research, Mrs. Pinkham believed that the diseases of women have a common cause, and she set to work to find a common remedy—not at that time as a source of profit, but simply that she might aid the suffering.

How her efforts have been rewarded the women of the world know to-day.

In 1873 the financial crisis struck Lynn. Its length and severity was too much for the large real estate interests of the Pinkham family, as this class of business suffered most from this fearful depression, so when the Centennial year dawned it found their property swept away.

At this point the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound commences:

The three sons and daughter, with their mother, combined forces to restore the family fortune. They resolved to give to the world the vegetable compound that Mrs. Pinkham had so often made from roots and herbs for such of her women neighbors and friends who were sick and ailing. Its success in those cases had been wonderful—its fame had spread, and calls were coming from miles around for this efficacious vegetable compound.

They had no money, and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a gross of bottles. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away free. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these pamphlets were distributed by the Pinkham sons in Boston, New York and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the medicine were, to a great extent, self-advertising, for whoever used it recommended it to others, and the demand gradually increased.

In 1877, by combined efforts, the family had saved enough money to commence newspaper advertising on a small scale, and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise was assured, until to-day Lydia E. Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and thousands of pounds of roots and herbs are used annually in making this great remedy for woman's ills.

Although Lydia E. Pinkham passed to her reward some years ago, the perpetuation of her great work was guarded by her foresight.

During her long and eventful experience she was ever methodical in her work and was careful to preserve a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice—and there were thousands—received careful study, and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results, were recorded for future reference, and to-day these records, together with thousands made since, are available to sick women the world over, and represent a vast collaboration of information regarding the treatment of woman's ills which, for authenticity and accuracy, can hardly be equaled in any library in the world.

Another act of foresight on the part of Lydia E. Pinkham was to see that some one of her family was trained to carry on her work, and with that end in view, for years before her death, had as her chief assistant her daughter-in-law, the present Mrs. Pinkham.

Therefore, under the guidance and careful training of Lydia E. Pinkham, and a vast experience of her own, covering twenty-five years, the present Mrs. Pinkham is exceptionally well equipped to advise sick women, which she is always glad to do free of charge.

The record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made of simple herbs and roots, is a proud and peerless one. It is a record of constant conquest over the obstinate ills of women, greater than that of any other medicine of its kind in the world, and will ever stand as a monument to that noble woman whose name it bears.
