The blouse in the cut is fashioned from white china silk. A shirred yoke ending in turned back revers and pompadour bows drawn through gold buckles are features of this pretty design.

OLD TIME CHAPEAUX.

Popular though the mushroom hat was last season it is quite as much in evidence this spring. Paris is enamored of the mushroom shape and is varying it with high crowns and low, narrow brims and wide, making it with feathers or wreathing it with flowers. It was thought at first to be a juvenile idea, but it is now considered immensely becoming to every age of womanhood.

The dainty Dolly Varden hat has been revived minus its strings that tied so coquettishly under the chin. The brim of this fascinating hat is pointed in the center of the front, which gives

OUR FASHION LETTER.

A Marked Revival of Polonaise and Tonic Effects.

NO YOKES ON THE NEW SKIRTS.

The Season's Belts Are Like the Skirts—Pompadour and Persian Designs Still Popular in Silks—Summer Colors Will Be Quiet in Tone.

In the sheer skirts considerable fullness is left even in the top part, which is put into the waistband in tiny tufts or plaits. The shirred or corded yoke is seldom seen. Such a yoke or deep plaits were practically necessary on the full skirts of last year, but the circular cut has changed this, and the waist fullness is not too great to be adjusted in less awkward ways.

This season most of the belts on cloth dresses are made of the same material as the skirt and are either trimmed with a narrow touch of color at the top or embroidered in a very simple conventional design.

The newest motoring gloves are being fashioned with detachable gauntlets, the latter usually lined with a contrasting shade and reaching to or above the elbow.

A new arrangement for the neck is a "rib" collar. A curved band of ribbon edged with ruching forms the neck. In front is a tab made of three loops of the ribbon, one over the other and each one about two inches longer than the one above. These collars are of rich plaid and dark colored ribbons two inches wide and make a smart finish to the shirt waist.

enormous prices milliners are asking for handsome examples.

The milliner has seen in the illustration of black tulle straw. The brim is faced with shirred tulle. A white ostrich egret, osprey and tulle rosette trim the top of the hat.

NATY SERGE SUIT.

The rage for the polonaise and tonic effects seems to be very much on the increase. An early Victorian polonaise does not sound a pretty thing, but when treated by skillful hands it has a style of its own. The newest effects are rucked at the waist and fitted rather high at the back like a brand, the ends falling in points over the under-skirt. Buttons, too, form an important feature in the construction of the polonaise—buttons at the back, buttons in front and in all the most unlikely places.

Long directive coats in checked materials finished with velvet collars and a number of buttons, worn over plain, sweeping skirts, are to be seen among the new tailor makes. Braids and gimps are being tremendously used, dyed to match the new cloths.

Spanish laces are already extremely fashionable, especially when enriched by darned designs in gold and colored silks.

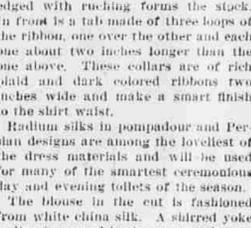

Some of the corset skirts are being made with more fullness at the feet and bands of satin and velvet are favorite trimmings. Quaint ball fringes are also reminiscences of the Victorian era. When successfully treated some of these trimmings strike a pleasing as well as a novel note, but merely chronicled they do not sound attractive.

The natty little costume pictured is of blue serge fancifully trimmed with stitched bands and small metal buttons. The short coat has a waistcoat of cream white cloth. The skirt, coat collar and cuffs are of black velvet.

AMERICAN SILKS POPULAR.

The spring and summer colors promise to be cool and quiet in tone. The grays, navies, soft yellows and shades of blue are not nearly so conspicuous as they were last season.

It will be a great silk year, and American weaves are quite to the fore.

CHINA SILK BLOUSE.

These silks have little dressing and rival the European weaves in beauty of texture. The rajahs are the most popular among the many varieties.

Lace bracelets are a fad that has reached us from the other side. They are worn alone or with dog collars to match. Around a low or Dutch neck these collars are very fetching.

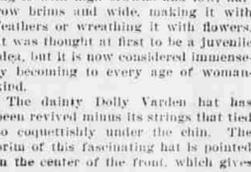

Another extreme notion is that of painting portraits on the finger nails. And the craze for all sorts of beads, buttons and chains would set a scientist to wondering whether the savage instinct was not manifesting itself in the feminine portion of the civilized world.

Gowns for afternoon are almost without exception made with long skirts, and both skirts and jackets are elaborately trimmed.

The new kidies are on the order of a swiss belt and are very often made of suede, studded with beads.

The evening bodice illustrated is of black tulle striped with lines of black velvet ribbon and insertions of white lace. Velvet bows diminishing in size toward the waist adorn the front.

The French sailor is with us again, and the latest development is anything but attractive. It has a high crown and very narrow brim and what trimming there is arranged beneath and above the brim on the left side.

On many of the latest French model hats the crowns are entirely untrimmed, the adornment being placed at the side.

Small hats will be the accepted cult for early spring wear with tailored gowns, but later on larger affairs will be the correct esper.

Ospreys have never become common and are not likely to on account of the

SHOULD GET TOGETHER.

County Commissioners Make Fair Offer.

There has been much speculation and hope that the County Commissioners and the Trustees of Green township would get together on the proposition of improving the road from Logan to the McKinney hill. This is a public benefit and not a personal matter as some might suppose. Thousands of dollars are cut off every year from our clay haulers, thence from our town and community, by their not being able to haul over the impassable roads. The matter was aired before the County Commissioners and that board made a proposition to furnish $2.00 to every $1.00 furnished by Green township to pike that road. Green township has about $1700.00 in their road fund and the Trustees will surely see their way clear to accept this proposition. The Logan Clay Product Co. agree to furnish the drain tile for the road free. Let's get together and build the road.

County Commissioners Make Fair Offer.

There has been much speculation and hope that the County Commissioners and the Trustees of Green township would get together on the proposition of improving the road from Logan to the McKinney hill. This is a public benefit and not a personal matter as some might suppose. Thousands of dollars are cut off every year from our clay haulers, thence from our town and community, by their not being able to haul over the impassable roads. The matter was aired before the County Commissioners and that board made a proposition to furnish $2.00 to every $1.00 furnished by Green township to pike that road. Green township has about $1700.00 in their road fund and the Trustees will surely see their way clear to accept this proposition. The Logan Clay Product Co. agree to furnish the drain tile for the road free. Let's get together and build the road.
