

OUR FASHION LETTER.

Almost All Dress Fabrics of the Season Chiffoned.

WHITE LACE VEILS AGAIN WORN

Short silk Coats Worn Over Handsome Lingerie Frocks Extremely Chic—Black and White in High Favor—Embroidered Panels.

Almost every material the manufacturer has turned out this season has been chiffoned. We have had chiffon voile, chiffon velvet, and now there is on the market a chiffon linen that is finer and sheerer than the handkerchief variety.

The new collars are arranged a little to one side. For instance, the pompadour produced not by us, but by little daisies or queer produced not by us, but by little daisies or

CHILD'S LEGHORN HAT.

Becks in a brown so dark that save for the closest examination it appeared black. With this deep brown are tiny flecks of apricot and still lighter touches of soft old blue. The whole effect gives an impression of coolness and lightness. For a tailored dress costume this check is stunning trimmed with a touch of any one of the predominating colors.

White serge or panama with a black line stripe is used for some of the smartest morning frocks of the tailored type. A small black velvet collar, cuffs and buttons are added to many of these costumes.

White panama gowns are more to the fore than ever and the best models are without fussy elaboration, with just a touch here and there to give cachet.

A large tulle bow worn on each shoulder of an evening frock fastened by jeweled pins is called the Alice bow and is named for Mrs. Longworth.

The dainty ethereal whisp of tulle such as girls wore a year or so ago has again been adopted by those who find it becoming.

The child's hat seen in the cut is of leghorn. A wreath of white roses put closely together without foliage encircles the crown. The underbrim is half faced with double white chiffon. The wide satin strings are attached with roses.

NOVELTIES IN JEWELRY.

Irish lace comes by the yard in designs of large white roses that can be cut apart, making charming insets for lingerie blouses.

A feature of the finer gowns and suits are embroidered panels. These may be purchased separately, so that the managing woman may obtain a White lace veils are again fashionable. They are of a creamy shade, and have floral designs so thickly scattered over them that the features are hardly visible.

Short sleeves are certainly enjoying a wide vogue, but in spite of their popularity they should be strictly relegated to the more elaborate type of dress. This is particularly true in brocade fashions.

The bridal gown illustrated is of radium silk. The princess back is slightly trained and falls in long, graceful folds. The front width is gathered at the waist and trimmed with graduated "set on" tucks. The bolero bodice has ruffles of lace about the neck and small revers embroidered in silver caught with a bunch of orange blossoms.

THE LINEN SEASON. Short silk coats, rather loose and reaching a little below the waist, are made to wear with handsome lingerie frocks. Flowered silks are liked for these picturesque coats, but moire, robe effect at comparatively small cost. A set of panels for waist and skirt elaborately embroidered is $11.

Bracelets are very fashionable worn with the short sleeves and over long mousquetaire gloves. A handsome bracelet of gold is in vogue with rose finish. It is of the old fashioned shape that widens at the back.

For mourning is a beautiful chain of black jade beads made in an unusually artistic design. These chains are to be found in shops that carry beadwork.

There's a new clasp of gold to hold the corset cover sleeve and the under-vest sleeves together.

The daintiest neck furnishings are the sheer, little French cambric ties, the bow ends embroidered in color.

A narrow white suede belt with strips of embossed Japanese leather through the middle is new.

A very neat and novel riding boot is of brown leather, cut very high, and has caps of suede that fit over the knees and buckle firmly with small straps.

A patch pocket adorns the front of the smart tailored blouse, and to be quite up to date the monogram is worked on the flap.

The corset-princess gown illustrated is of striped green and white radium silk. The panel front is carried up to form the waist bretelles. Straps of silk cut vertically trim both bodice and skirt. JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE PLATO FAD.

A new phenomenon is about to be witnessed in English life, says the London Express. Having tried palmistry, crystal gazing, Christian Science, bridge and party politics, society is about to study Plato.

A dozen or so of the leading women of the aristocracy, including the Duchess of Sutherland and the Duchess of Marlborough, have formed a committee to organize the philosophic movement, and Dr. Emil Reich, the well known historian, who lectures in the London university, is to give a series of addresses at Claridge's hotel, to be followed by discussion, in which the peeresses will take part. It is expected that this will be merely the prelude to the formation of philosophic circles in other grades of society and that the study of Plato will before long become an established feature of London life.

A charming suit seen in a well known shop noted for its high class materials is a broken check containing certain rather vivid color notes, yet the general effect is soft and dainty. The ground is a creamy white and the marks on polished tables. For removing marks from polished trays or tables occasioned by heated dishes make a thin paste from salad oil and salt. Spread it over the marked place and leave for an hour or more, and then rub off with a soft cloth. The result will be a complete disappearance of the spot.

Rice Water.

Put two tablespoonfuls of rice into a double boiler with four cups of boiling water and cook two hours. Strain it and add salt to season. If the invalid is allowed to have sugar add just a pinch.

Tar Remover.

Kerosene will remove tar from hands or clothing. This applies to stovepipe enamel as well.

Too Thin.

There is a representative in congress from the west who is exceedingly thin. Being a very good natured man, this representative always takes in good part any joking reference to his slenderness. Indeed he is not averse to a jest himself in that connection, as is illustrated by an incident that occurred in a street car in Washington.

It appears that just as the car was rounding a curve a burly citizen lurched forward and sat in the congressman's lap. He recovered himself quickly and began a profuse apology, when he was interrupted by the statesman's cheery "That's all right."

"But," added the congressman plaintively, "I wish, my friend, that you'd tell me whether you thought I was pointed on the seat."—Harper's Weekly.

Biggest Mill in the World.

On the banks of the Merrimac river at South Lawrence, Mass., the American Woolen company is building a mill which makes most other American buildings seem small in comparison. This one mill is 1,900 feet—considerably over a third of a mile—in length. It has a width of 150 feet, is six stories in height and will cost $3,500,000.

This mill will give employment to 6,000 persons, and to save the time and strength of the thousands who will be employed on the upper floors elevators will be provided which will lift 4,000 of them to the fourth, fifth and sixth stories in five minutes. Engines of 10,000 horsepower will actuate the machinery, all transmission of power being by electricity.—Hartford Times.

Seasick Seamen.

Bitter complaint is made by a French naval journal because the modern training of French naval officers and seamen does not sufficiently habituate them to the sea. On the voyage of the Jaureguiberry from Toulon to Brest that battleship had to face a storm in the bay of Biscay which prostrated no fewer than 200 seamen and a large number of officers. In the Russian fleet at the battle of the Japan sea there was a similar state of affairs. It is urged that there be more cruising at sea in all weathers and a period of some years' service in torpedo craft for officers, with the object of giving the personnel of the French navy its sea legs.

She Had to Apologize.

This from Berlin: A well known woman Socialist agitator, Frau Tietz, recently visited the adjacent town of Kopenick, a place known as "Berlin's wash kitchen," on account of its numerous laundries. At a public meeting there, mainly attended by washerwomen, Frau Tietz stigmatized laundry owners as "pashas." This remark, with all it meant, was regarded as libelous by the owners, who took action against the lady, and she was condemned to eight months' imprisonment. Frau Tietz, to escape punishment, has agreed to insert an apology in the press to the effect that the laundry owners are not pashas.

Stevenson's Engravings.

It is not very generally known that Robert Louis Stevenson had

PLUG CHEWING TOBACCO

Only the choice, ripe, fine-bodied leaf is good enough for "Star"—that's why it is so sweet, juicy and so lasting—that's why a 10c. plug of "Star" chews better and twice as long as other chews that seem bigger.

Everywhere the call is for "Star"—every time it's the chew that is chosen—and every bite is "chewed dry."

How Uncle Sam Is Overloaded

By JOSEPH S. SHERLEY, Congressman Fifth District of Kentucky

WHAT is happening in every state of the Union today? The state legislatures, the state governments, instead of being virile and efficient, are becoming anything but that. State officials do not want to use the power of their state governments BECAUSE IT MEANS STATE TAXATION to pay for its exercise, which the people have to pay directly out of their pockets, and so you find officers of state governments charged with these matters coming up to the national government to ask it to do WHAT IT IS THEIR DUTY TO DO, so that they be relieved of the burden and the states relieved of the cost. I believe it was intended that the individual states of America should be sovereign states, keeping at home among the people 90 per cent of the things that affect life, liberty and property.

I BELIEVE THE SAFETY OF THE COUNTRY LIES IN KEEPING SUCH GOVERNMENT AT HOME.

But it is a modern tendency to come to Washington because it is easier than going to the different states; and it has gone so far now that we have the doctrine proclaimed that whatever is big, BECAUSE IT IS BIG, must be solved by the national government. We will swamp our government. We will destroy a REPRESENTATIVE government in the true sense of the term if we go along this road.

"Wealth Should Be Taxed"

By Judge W. N. ASHMAN of Orphans' Court, Philadelphia

I BELIEVE that wealth, which owes the greatest part of its value to the protection it gets from the government without which wealth would dwindle away, SHOULD PAY MORE toward the support of the government than the poor. I believe that every millionaire, say in excess of $10,000,000, should be taxed so that it would be almost impossible for him to accumulate more.

The power of the corporations, the power of the trusts, is enormous for STIFLING COMPETITION and creating monopolies. I welcome the movement of the New York bootblacks who have started out to fight the big stores which offer everybody free shins when they buy a pair of shoes. That is part of the bootblack's profit gone.

I don't believe in the man with a thousand millions. Think of the power he has, the power to ruin parties and destroy a thousand homes.

WHEN WE HAVE FEWER OF THE ENORMOUSLY RICH WE SHALL HAVE FEWER POOR PEOPLE.

The time will come then when we shall have an old age pension, industrial insurance, a pension for the school teachers, good healthy free city amusements, shorter hours of labor and in short a world that will be MORE LIKE HEAVEN than it is now.

GRADUAL DECLINE

This is the fate of sufferers from Kidney trouble, as the disease is so insidious that often people have serious Kidney trouble without knowing the real cause of their illness, as diseased kidneys allow the impurities to stay in the system and attack the other organs. This accounts for the many different symptoms of Kidney Disease.

You begin to feel better at once when taking

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE as it stimulates the heart, increases the circulation and invigorates the whole system. It strengthens the urinary organs and gives you new life and vigor.

It increased my appetite and made me feel stronger, and the annoying symptoms disappeared. I am now sound and well.—J. K. Horn, 1354 Diversey Blvd., Chicago, June 11, 1902.
