Mr. Clarence Lehman is on the sick list this week.

Mrs. Wm. Briley spent part of last week in Columbus the guest of her sister, Mrs. G. W. Wilson.

Those from this place that attended Labor Day celebration at Athens, and heard the two candidates for congress, say Mr. Wright made the best impression on the audience by keeping his speech unadorned by politics.

Haydenville

Sept. 10, 1906.—Schools at this place begin today with Mr. A. M. Brown, Miss Edle L. Wolfe and Miss Freda J. McSherry as teachers.

Mrs. W. S. McFadden had as her over Sunday guests Mrs. B. Horn and little son, Charles, of Logan.

Mr. Robt. F. Wolfe, of near here, had the misfortune to lose parts of two fingers one day last week. He undertook to untwist a hay fork and in so doing his fingers got caught and ground in such a manner that they had to be amputated. However, he is getting along very nicely.

Mrs. Elvira Thompson gave a birthday party on Friday evening in honor of her little daughter, Mayme.

Mrs. Jake Lehman and Mrs. Francis Lemon, of Stringtown, were Logan shoppers Saturday.

Miss Mary Milled, of near Hlesboro, who has been spending the past couple of weeks with Mr. and Mrs. S. McDowell, returned home Wednesday morning.

Miss Mabel McSherry, of this place was the over Sunday guest of Mrs. Mason, of Zion Ridge.

Mrs. B. J. Lemon and Mrs. J. Wolfe, of Greendale, spent Sunday with C. L. Wolfe and family.

Several from here attended the State Fair last week.

Pleasant Valley

Mr. Editor as we have not seen anything from this place we will write a few words.

Several from this place attended the ice cream social at Enterprise Saturday night.

Mr. Andrew Prior is engaged in hauling melons to Logan at present.

Charles and Albert Lenz and Frank Nihiser called on Edward Conkel last Sunday.

Mrs. Henry Iles, of Hlesboro, called on her daughter, Mrs. Isaac VanCuren, the first of the week.

Daniel Ringhiser is the champion potato raiser. He had one to weigh some over three pounds.

Charles Lenz is going to Columbus the first of the week.

Mr. Daniel Bray, wife and son called on George Conkle and family Sunday afternoon.

School will begin at this place September 17, under the care of Mr. J. W. Dupler, of Rockbridge.

JOHN JAMES.

Calico Ridge

No rain for two weeks, this is surprising.

Corn is ripening fast and cutting has commenced.

School begins Monday, September 10, with C. W. Cox as teacher.

Joe, Ray and Lula Snider spent Sunday on Black Jack, as guests of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Francisco.

Henry Clark and family visited his son, Harley, of Clear Fork, Sunday.

Pleasant Ridge

Sept. 11, 1906.—News is scarce and work plenty so we will not bother you with much of a programme this morning.

Among the young men who left this place yesterday morning to cut corn in Franklin county were the following: Messrs. Ira and Jacob Bainter, Ira Huffman, Chas. Huffines, Ward Nixon and George Young.

Several from this place attended the K. of P. Fair at Adelphi. All reported a good time.

Misses Addie and Estella Springer, of Van Wert county, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Bainter last week.

Mr. Ruben Lindsey was the guest of Miss Estella Springer last Sunday evening.

Miss Flossie Bainter, of this place, spent Sunday with her cousin, Miss Iretha Huffman.

Miss Lucy Quillen returned home from Chillicothe last Saturday where she had been the guest of old friends.

Mr. Pearl Kline is seen quite frequently on our ridge. What seems to be the attraction Pearl? Miss Mazie Lamma and Mrs. Ira Huffman were seen Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Emery Bainter were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Urn Springer, of Pine.

Mrs. Nannie Huffines, who is on the sick list, is no better at this writing.

Mr. Ward Nixon, of Illinois, is the guest of Mr. George Young.

Willow Valley

Sept. 10, 1906.—We thought perhaps you would appreciate a few sketches from this part of the globe, so will endeavor to send in a few of the most interesting items of the place for the readers of the leading paper of Hocking. True to its name of Sentinel it stands a firm fixture in the ranks of time, and a warning guard to all its patrons, whether they be political or otherwise inclined.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos White and little daughter, Helen, formerly of this place, but now of Lancaster, were visitors at the home of their parents recently.

Mr. Atwood Lutz was seen in our valley Sunday.

Mr. Leland Wilson, one of the most popular young men of our neighborhood, left this morning, in company with Mr. George Anderson and son, Henry, for Cedar Hill, where they will engage in corn cutting.

Barber F. D. Wilson, of this place, and Mr. Lewis Keister, of Button Ridge, attended the Bethel picnic last Wednesday. They report that the entertainment was rather a failure.

Rev. Evans preached, what is supposed to be, his farewell sermon at Oak Grove Church last Saturday night.

We wish to give Bro. Evans this word of praise, that under existing circumstances, he has done well, in the year that has passed, at this place.

Mr. Lewis Keister was seen thrashing buck wheat in our valley last week. I do not doubt but what Lew got to dreaming of pan cakes toward evening.

Mr. John Klinker, of Button Ridge, called on the Wilson Bros., of this place, last Sunday.

Miss Nellie Sowers is under the weather at present.

Mrs. Henry Klinker is suffering from a slight attack of indisposition at this writing.

Mr. Fred Burgoon was seen in our burg one day last week.

Well adieu for the present.

Making Oneself Unhappy.

The people who have an aim in life, something serious on hand, are not the ones who are dissatisfied, and always want to be doing something else, going somewhere, or being entertained. Their purpose gives them a center and a poise, and what is enjoyable to them is what they are doing. They are masters of their fate. They make their own world.

But, as a rule, people are not so. They are reaching out for the little frothy and simpering things, as if there was something of real life in them. Such people read nothing but novels, always want to be seeing something, to be around when gossip and fun are going on. Put them down to a steady work for half a day, on something substantial or useful, and their souls will be in a tumult lest they miss something; and for this awful self-denial they will take three days of gadding and wool-gathering.

ANIMALS' ILLUSIONS.

The Horse a Prey to the Terrors of Imagination.

Birds are perhaps more commonly the victims of illusions than other animals, their stupidity about their eggs being quite remarkable. On one occasion, for instance, a hen got into the pavilion of a ladies' golf club and began to sit on a golf ball in a corner, for which it made a nest with a couple of pocket handkerchiefs. But many quadrupeds are not only deceived for the moment by reflections, shadows and such unrealities, but often seem victims to illusions largely developed by the imagination.

The horse, for instance, is one of the bravest of animals when face to face with dangers which it can understand, such as the charge of an elephant or a wild boar at bay. Yet the courageous and devoted horse, so steadfast against the dangers he knows, is a prey to a hundred terrors of the imagination due to illusions, mainly those of sight, for shying, the minor effect of these illusions, and "bolting," in which panic gains complete possession of his soul, are caused, as a rule, by mistakes as to what the horse sees and not by misinterpretation of what he hears. It is noticed, for instance, that many horses which shy usually start away from objects on one side more frequently than from objects on the other. This is probably due to defects in the vision of one or other eye.

In nearly all cases of shying the horse takes fright at some unfamiliar object, though this is commonly quite harmless, such as a wheelbarrow upside down, a freshly felled log or a piece of paper rolling before the wind. This instantly becomes an illusion, is interpreted as something else, and it is a curious question in equine neuropathy to know what it is that the horse figures these harmless objects to be.

When Russian ponies first began to be shipped to England they usually objected to pass near a donkey. This reluctance was explained on the hypothesis that the ponies seldom saw donkeys in Russia and mistook them for bears.—London Spectator.

Forgot the Violets.

Among the characteristics of Walter Savage Landor, the famous author, were his absentmindedness and his passionate love for animals and the vegetable world. On one occasion, having suffered not long before from leaving the key of his portmanteau behind him, he took special precautions before starting on a journey to see that his keys were in his pocket. When, however, he produced them in triumph at his journey's end he found that he had left the portmanteau behind. Landor, though he often handled his fellow men somewhat roughly, hated to see an old tree felled and even shrank from plucking a rose. One morning he collared his man cook and flung him out of the window. Then, suddenly remembering on what bed in the garden the man would fall, the flower-loving Landor exclaimed: "Good heavens! I forgot the poor violets!"

Knew What His Name Was.

A conductor whose first name was Dennis was suspected of not turning in all the money paid him for transportation, and a man from the office was detailed to watch him for a trip or two. Whether from forgetfulness or rush of business, the nickel paid by the company's man was not rung up. That was all the evidence needed, so the inspector arose to get off the car. Passing through the door, he tendered the conductor a fare.

"Why," exclaimed that individual, "sure an' you paid me one!"

"I know," assented the inspector, "but this nickel is for the company. I'm an inspector." And Dennis knew what his name was.

Senator Hoar's Staircase.

Senator Hoar was sitting with his wife on the porch of his house in Worcester when two wagons drove up and the men unloaded five enormous boxes on the sidewalk.

"What on earth is that?" asked Mrs. Hoar.

The senator went out and peered at the boxes. Then he answered proudly: "My dear, these boxes contain the staircase from an ancestral home of the Hoar family in England. I bought it when I was last in England."

"Indeed!" replied Mrs. Hoar, not a little impressed. "And what do you intend to do with it, may I ask?"

The senator was flabbergasted. At last he said with great dignity, "Mrs. Hoar, that is merely a woman's question."—Boston Herald.

Honest Boy.

A boy was standing beside a stall where a farmer was selling cherries one day when he saw a coin lying on the ground and honestly picked it up and gave it to the farmer.

"Thank you," said the farmer. "If you are always like this you will get on well. Here, take a handful of cherries."

"No, thank you," said the boy. "Why not?" said the farmer.

"I would rather you would give them me," said the boy.

The farmer gave the boy a handful himself.

"Why did you wish me to give them you?" said the man.

"Because your hand is bigger than mine," the boy replied.—London Express.

Get the Job.

The man who at a civil service examination for firemen answered a question in municipal government with "What's that got to do with squirting a hose?" was elected.

At the last examination of applicants for the fire department one candidate seemed to have difficulty in answering several of the questions. He finally gave up trying and wrote after each question:

"I don't know, but I want the job."

He got it.—New York Sun.

WOMEN SUFFER NEEDLESS MISERY.

MISS MARY MAYGER.

MRS. LIZZIE SHARPE.

MRS. JAMES GOLLIER.

There are hundreds of thousands of women in America suffering from Pelvic Diseases, endangering their lives by neglecting treatment. If they will write to me I will give them the benefit of my extensive experience in treating this class of ailments.

—S. B. Hartman, M. D.

IN view of the great multitude of women suffering from some form of female disease and yet unable to find any cure, Dr. Hartman, the renowned gynecologist, has announced his willingness to direct the treatment of as many cases as may make application to him during the summer months, without charge.

Miss Mary Mayger, 206 Delhi street, Philadelphia, Pa., writes:

"Before taking your medicine I was completely run down.

Headache and Backache.

"My back and head ached all the time and I was so nervous that it was impossible for me to attempt any work.

"After using two bottles of Peruna there was a wonderful change and I am now a well woman.

Gratitude.

"I cannot express my gratitude sufficiently and I am recommending it to all my friends."

Dr. Hartman's treatment will be conducted by correspondence.

The medicines prescribed can be obtained at all drug stores.

Complete Treatment.

The Doctor will prescribe all medicines, applications, hygienic and dietary regulations necessary to effect complete relief.

Furthermore, all correspondence will be held strictly confidential.

Entire System Affected.

Mrs. James Gollier, Norwood, Ontario, Can., writes:

"I was suffering from systemic catarrh for about two years.

"In damp weather I was unable to do my work, as my back and sides would ache, and I thought if I did not soon find a cure I could not live long.

"I saw where Peruna had cured hundreds who had suffered as I was suffering. I decided to try it.

"After taking the first bottle, I felt a big change.

Completely Cured.

"I have taken five bottles and I am completely cured.

"I thank Dr. Hartman for his kind advice to me."

Dr. Hartman's offer will hold good during the entire summer months.

Any woman can become a regular patient by sending a written statement of her age, condition of life, symptoms of her derangements, and previous treatment.

Dr. Hartman's Advice.

Mrs. Lizzie Sharpe, 233 Friendship street, Providence, R. I., writes:

"Some time ago I wrote you, asking advice in regard to my health, describing my symptoms.

"Following your advice and taking your medicine for only five weeks, I am thankful to say I am a well woman."

Bliss Business College, Columbus, Ohio, is the only school in the State that for the last four years has made and successfully carried out the following proposition:—TO ALL GRADUATES OF THE COMBINED COURSE WHO ENROLL ON OR BEFORE OCTOBER 1st, WE GUARANTEE A POSITION OR REFUND ONE-HALF OF TUITION MONEY. Many schools will tell you of the wonderful success they are having in placing their graduates, but the Bliss school is the only one that will back up these statements with a substantial financial guarantee.

We are now located in our elegant new quarters which are conceded by business college men throughout the United States to be the finest, best arranged, and most elegantly equipped for business training of any institution on the continent. A visit to our school will thoroughly convince you of the truth of this statement.

Have you read our little booklet entitled "The Start," or "The Experience of Others," or have you seen our elegant new pictorial catalogue? All of these will interest you. If you drop us a card, giving us the names of five or six students who contemplate a business course, we will send you a splendid pencil holder or pocket mirror.
