It Pays to Be Decent

Young man, why don't you be decent? Why not grow to manhood with honor and credit instead of a stain upon your character? It is just as easy. It is always easier to be a man than to be a rowdy. Cigaretts and gambling and whiskey have had many a wrestle with boys before you came on the scene, and they have never yet been thrown. Don't get the idea into your head that you can turn the trick.

If you don't want to be decent for yourself, be decent for others. There is one heart whose sorrows should appeal to you. There is one who has faced everything for your sake; one who has to bear the cross for your foolishness. You don't want your trail through this world stained with a mother's tears. The boy who turns a brazen face to a mother's grief never gets very far on the road to happiness. When he gets a little older you find his name on the police docket of various cities, a little later the dark shadows of stone walls loom up across his pathway. Without honor, home or friends.

'Tis a sad picture, but it is painted every day in every town in this broad land. The pathway of the transgressor is one of rocks and thorns. When you bruise your feet the world will laugh at you, just as you laughed at your mother's appeals. There is only one system for a boy to follow. Be decent. It always pays dividends.

The Pension Service Bill as Passed By Congress

Washington, February 4.—The pension service bill passed by the House and now ready for the President's signature reads as follows:

"Any person who served 90 days or more in the military or naval service of the United States during the late Civil War, or 60 days in the War with Mexico, and who has been honorably discharged therefrom, and who has reached the age of 62 years or over, shall, upon making proof of such facts, according to such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Interior may provide, be placed upon the pension roll and be entitled to receive a pension as follows:

"In case such person has reached the age of 62 years, $12 per month; 70 years, $15 per month; 75 years or over, $20 per month, and such pensions shall commence from the date of the filing of the application in the Bureau of Pensions after the passage and approval of this act;

"Provided, that pensioners who are 62 years of age or over, and who are now receiving pensions under existing laws, or whose claims are pending in the Bureau of Pensions, may, by application to the Commissioner of Pensions, in such form as he may prescribe, receive the benefits of this act, and nothing herein contained shall prevent any pensioner or person entitled to a pension from prosecuting his claim and receiving a pension under any other general or special act;

"Provided, that no person shall receive a pension under any other law at the same time and for the same period that he is receiving a pension under the provisions of this act;

Provided further, that no person who is now receiving or shall hereafter receive a greater pension under any general or special law than he would be entitled to receive under the provisions herein shall be pensionable under this act; that rank in the service shall not be considered in applications filed hereunder.

"That no pension attorney, claim agent or other person shall be entitled to receive any compensation for services rendered in presenting any claim to the Bureau of Pensions or securing any pension under this act."

The Lenten Season

Lent begins this year on February 13; that day is "Ash Wednesday." The lenten season ends March 31, on Easter Sunday. This year the lenten season comes the earliest, perhaps, in years.

Bishop Hartley of the Columbus diocese has issued to the Roman Catholics of his diocese, the Lenten regulations, contained in the papal Aduilt on that subject. These regulations are to be observed generally thruout the Catholic world during the Lenten season. They are as follows:

"First—All the faithful who have completed their 21st year and are not over the age of 60, are, unless hindered by hard work, or by sickness, bound to observe the fast of Lent.

"Second—All who are obliged to fast must abstain from the use of meat and take only one full meal a day, which is usually taken about noon. The Sundays are not fast days.

"Third—The use of meat, by special dispensation, is allowed at any time on Sunday, and at one principal meal on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, with the exception of Ember Saturday, February 23, and Holy Saturday, March 30.

"Fourth—Meat and fish must not be eaten at the same meal, not even on the Sundays of Lent.

"Fifth—Eggs, butter, cheese and milk are allowed at dinner and the evening collation.

"Sixth—A small refreshment, commonly called collation, is allowed in the evening. It should not exceed the fourth part of an ordinary meal, or eight ounces.

"Seventh—In the morning, some warm liquid, such as tea, coffee, or thin chocolate, together with a small piece of bread, may be taken; no butter or other condiment is allowed.

"Eighth—Lard and suet may be used in preparing food.

"Ninth—When dinner cannot be taken at noon, it is allowed to invert the order, taking the collation earlier in the day, and dinner in the evening.

"Tenth—Persons exempted from fasting, namely, on account of tender or advanced age, hard labor or sickness are allowed to eat meat more than once a day on days when the use of meat is allowed."

"The Little Homestead"

The depths to which an unscrupulous man will sink in a base all-absorbing desire for revenge, is shown in the character of the villain in "The Little Homestead."

He seeks to wreak his revenge for an imaginary wrong upon his former college chum, through striking at the sanctity of his home and a moment of weakness the wife succumbs to the wiles and assists in wrecking her own home and happiness. The bitterness of her life thereafter with the drunkard's abuse of her soul-destroyer is punishment indeed. The retribution which sooner or later overtakes evil, befalls the villain as he is planning even more wickedness. The unfortunate woman wrecked in health and all that makes life worth the living, creeps back to her little homestead to atone as best she can to the man she has wronged. In pity the husband opens the door to her, folds her in his arms in sorrow and brings the smile of peace to the dying face with his words of forgiveness for the repentant one. This delightfully interesting story calls for some fine bits of acting which is admirably executed by the clever company, headed by William Macauley which will present "The Little Homestead" at the Logan Opera House Tuesday, February 19."

To the Laurel Ridge scribe as to where Dividing Ridge got its name was from studying geography. Anybody that ever studied geography ought to know that the ridge beginning east runs north west across the county. All the water falling north of this ridge flows into the Hocking river, and which falls south flows in Salt Creek and into the Scioto river and that is why it is called Dividing Ridge. As to where the scribe stands is slightly on the south side. If any more information is wanted call around and we will show you the country.

A CAROLINA LEGISLATOR.

Hon. Wm. G. Hunter Uses Pe-ru-na As a Family Medicine.

WHEN a man of undoubted reputation comes out squarely in public print, giving unqualified endorsement to a household remedy there must be something genuine to account for it.

Hon. W. G. Hunter, of North Carolina, well-known in Washington and throughout the Southern States, says of Peruna that he regards it as the greatest family medicine ever discovered.

He does not hesitate to say that Peruna invigorates and gives fresh strength to mind and body.

Such testimonials as this ought to make Peruna popular.

No advertising known to the arts of man, no commercial management could ever raise Peruna to such a high standard of appreciation as the frank and unqualified statements of such men.

Peruna is an ideal household remedy. It wards off colds and relieves catarrh in all its forms and phases.

By ridding the system of catarrh, it cleanses the body of those conditions which invite chronic diseases.

Cold Affected Head, Throat and Lungs.

Mr. Matthew O'Hare, 145 William St., Fall River, Mass., writes:

"About four years ago I consulted a physician to get relief from a cold which had stopped up my head and also settled on my lungs, resulting in catarrh and also throat difficulties.

"He gave me some medicine, but four months faithful use of the same did me no good. I then tried other doctors, but it was just the same.

"So I decided to try Peruna and after using two bottles my lungs began to heat, I did not cough nearly so much and slept better.

"In six months the cough, catarrh and throat difficulties were all cured.

"I was pleased with the result and wish to write you of it. Seven bottles of Peruna cured me."

A. L. Hewitt, J. P., West Berlin, Vt., writes: "I am happy to be able to write you this letter in relation to what your Peruna has done for my family.

"When I brought the first bottle home, I found my wife and daughter both sick—my wife with indigestion and my daughter with a severe cold. They were both cured.

"I am willing to state that Peruna, taken in the beginning, will cure the worst cold in 24 to 36 hours."

HON. WM. G. HUNTER.

Cough, Colds, Catarrh Relieved By Pe-ru-na.

Hon. Wm. G. Hunter, ex-member North Carolina Legislature, writes from the Census Office Building, Washington, D. C., concerning Peruna:

"The greatest family medicine ever discovered, in my opinion, which comes from experience as well as observation, is Peruna. The most common affliction to humankind is a bad cold. Peruna drives it out of doors, wards off catarrh, invigorates and gives fresh strength to mind and body. I give Peruna my unqualified endorsement."

Mr. G. W. Taylor, Clendenin, W. Va., writes:

"I think that Peruna is the greatest tonic that was ever put on the market. For several years my eyes bothered me so much. The pain was so severe sometimes I would think they would surely burst out of my head.

"I tried Peruna and Manal's and am today a well man. I am sure I should have died had it not been for Dr. Hartman's wonderful medicine, Peruna." Such testimony as the above has given Peruna a high standard in the estimation of the public.
