

Our Exceptional Clearance of Dependable Merchandise

Continues. Price Cutting With No Parallel

This great Clearance marks our supreme efforts to give you values absolute unequalled. Come tomorrow and see how well we have succeeded. Note the magnitude of our stock, the range of choice and the extraordinary value of articles thrown out. Don't lose sight of this great bargain event, it's your opportunity to secure merchandise for seasons ahead. Not one article reserved, all go at sweeping reductions.

High Grade Footwear at Bargains Worth the Coming

We direct particular attention to our show windows. Whatever you may require for months ahead, you'll find in the completeness of lines made up here. We invite your inspection and guarantee whatever you choose are the best procurable, offered at prices that are no common clearance to the shoppers.

Ladies and Misses Tailored Skirts at Cleaning Up Prices

A wonderful scope of new ideas, garments that will tide you over for a couple of seasons,—offered in many cases, at prices less than the cost of materials. See these garments and you'll recognize their true worth.

Carpets, Rugs and Druggets

Every piece of floor covering, every yard of carpet, every door mat, hearth rug, every room sized rug at bargains worthy the consideration of all who have a carpet want. We earnestly request an inspection of our special line, each and every article in this department is an apt illustration of the savings possible, if you take advantage of our low tide prices.

Wellman, Steinman & Yontz

St. Jackson Celebration.

The past week was Democratic week, Jackson Day being celebrated by banquets and speech-making at many points throughout the nation. Chief interest naturally centered in the gathering at Chicago, where opposing factions were brought together for the first time in years. The hatchet was buried the pipe of peace passed around and harmony and good-fellowship reigned where war and hatred long held sway. It is now thought that the party is united in Illinois and that the bitter quarrels which have demoralized it during the past ten years are at an end. Bryan was the chief orator and his address was a strong factor in the restoration of harmony. Old friends and former foes joined hands in paying tribute to the great Democratic leader, and the way was paved for the most vigorous campaign the state has seen in more than a decade. The peace gathering is nationwide in its influence, and it means a getting together of Democrats all over the broad land.

Ohio was not a whit behind her sister states in the observance of the day of the Democratic patron saint. Magnificent gatherings were held at a number of points in the state, notably at Lancaster, Norwalk, Wooster and Circleville, and at all the attendance and enthusiasm surpassed all previous records. The list of speakers included many of the state's most prominent and influential Democrats. At Lancaster M. E. Ingalls of Cincinnati, was down for the principal address; at Norwalk John J. Lenz of Columbus, and at Circleville Ex-Governor Campbell and Senate Clerk Sandles were the stellar attractions, while at Wooster John C. Welty of Canton, frequently mentioned as a candidate for governor, and Thomas E. Powell of Columbus, were the chief orators. The great number of addresses at the various banquets made it impossible for the newspapers to carry more than the briefest reference to each, a fact deplored in view of the excellence of most of them. The declaration of Mr. Ingalls in favor of the taxtion of franchisees, as well as his views upon other great economic subjects, has aroused the deepest interest, an interest no doubt emphasized by reason of the commanding position the distinguished Cincinnati Democrat occupies in the financial and industrial world.

In his Lancaster speech Mr. Ingalls advocated taxation of franchise, tariff reform by friends of reform and not by friends of special interests, control of corporation, reform of banking laws and a higher grade of citizenship. He declared the country was in the midst of a panic due to unwise Republican legislation. He said that the hysterical efforts that had been made by the Republicans to stop this state of things which they themselves created, and which they had attempted to cure without attacking the foundation of the evil, had so shaken public confidence in all corporate management that it had revealed the weakness of our banking system, and today there were as many financial nostrums proposed as the traveler could see of medicine advertisement on the fences of New England as he passed through.

"We have a bond secured currency and some want to increase that. Still another strong party would like to allow the banks to issue currency upon their assets, with practically no limitations.

"Leave our bond secured currency for the present alone and if there is need of more money currency on account of panic or for the movement of crops, let us provide that it can be issued by dividing the country into clearing-house districts and let any bank in any district apply to the clearing-house committee for more currency. If they can put up satisfactory collateral with such committee then let the committee recommend the application to the comptroller of the currency, and if he approves then issue the currency to such bank. The government should provide for this by engraving plenty of currency, so that it would all be uniform and would need only the signature of the bank of issue."

The speaker took an advanced position in favor of home rule of cities, declaring in favor of legislation placing control of municipal franchisees in the hands of the people, the granting of franchisees to be by direct vote only, and holding that the possession of the power of public ownership, even though not exercised, would have a most wholesome influence over the franchise owners, holding them in check, preventing the corruption of city councils and officials and leading to better and cheaper service. Mr. Ingalls throughout his speech hits the nail on the head in true Democratic style and it is to be regretted that his address cannot be here reproduced in full.

Subscriptions.

- The following have our thanks for subscription to the DEMOCRAT SENTINEL, paid during the week of January 6-13, 1908:
- E. E. Chilcote, South Bloomingville
  - F. M. Rose, " "
  - C. H. Unger, " "
  - James Johnson, " "
  - Harry Ambrose, New Straitsville
  - John Heimberger, Rockbridge
  - George Friend, " "
  - S. W. Arter, " "
  - Jacob Woltz, " "
  - George Bailey, " "
  - J. E. Barron, " "
  - W. H. Moore, " "
  - Sylvester Hockman, Bremen
  - G. W. Benadum, Lancaster
  - Wm. Paxton, Laurelville
  - J. G. Kaney, Toledo
  - John Eberts, Monday
  - W. F. Rizer, Haydenville
  - Frank Wilson, Laurelville
  - Arthur Amerine, Creola
  - Elias Tatman, Haynes
  - H. Ruble, Haydenville
  - Perry Francisco, Logan
  - Emil Elchel, " "
  - John Blum, " "
  - Ed. Beck, " "
  - G. H. Shaw, " "
  - J. A. Oliver, " "
  - Wm. Wauer, " "
  - James Dicken, " "
  - J. J. Shaw, " "
  - W. F. Eisele, " "
  - Samuel Blum, " "
  - J. A. Watts, " "

"The Heart of Maryland."

The greatest of all war dramas, David Belasco's "The Heart of Maryland" will have its initial presentation in this city on Friday, Jan. 24. No production upon the stage in the past score of years has attained so magnificent and enduring a popular success as has this drama, in which constancy, heroism and unflinching courage dominate the theme of the story and hold until the end the heart interest of the audience.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. Jas. Perone spent Sunday in Columbus.

Mrs. Smith, mother of Mrs. Lyons is here on an extended visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Woltz, of West Hooking, were in Logan, Friday.

Mr. W. H. Moore, of Goodhope township, was a visitor to Logan, Saturday.

Miss Bess Dickle of Parkersburg, W. Va. is the house guest of Mrs. Ed Beck.

Miss Clara Shannon, of Columbus, spent Sunday with relatives in this city.

Mr. H. Ruble, of Haydenville, was a business visitor to Logan last Saturday.

Mr. S. J. Wolfe and son, of near Laurelville, were in Logan, Monday on business.

The Snider Mfg. Co., started up their factory Tuesday, after a six weeks shut down.

Mr. H. D. Devore, of Vinton, is again in Logan, in the employ of Mr. Lefe Krieg.

Miss Mae Wagner, of Columbus, was the guest of relatives in Logan, last Sunday.

Miss Bertha Potter, of Murray, is spending several days in this city, the guest of friends.

Attorney Whitercraft and F. A. Koppe were in New Philadelphia, Monday on legal business.

Mr. W. A. Donaldson, of Sand Run, was in Logan, Thursday, and a pleasant caller at our office.

Mrs. D. M. Kanode is very sick at her home on the Avenue. She is threatened with pneumonia.

The Misses Hall of Columbus, were the over Sunday guests of Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Cherrington.

Mrs. John Bowen of Sugar Grove, and Mrs. Charles Conrad of Columbus, were in Logan Saturday.

Mr. Silas Ogle, of Gibsonville, was in Logan, Monday, and says he is going west to look around a little.

Ev. Lutheran Trinity Church, H. W. Walker, pastor, Sunday School 9:30 a. m. Public Preaching 7 p. m.

The Red Men and Pocohontas Lodges will give a big chicken dinner at their hall, January 23. Everybody invited.

Revival services began at the U. B. church, last Sunday night, and will be continued for an indefinite period, service each night.

Mr. Pierce Blackburn, of West Hooking, was in Logan one day this week, spending a few hours among his many friends here.

Messrs. Jacob Woltz and Geo. Bailey, of Goodhope township, were visitors to Logan last week and pleasant callers at our office.

St. Mary's Auxiliary will give a card party at their hall in the Frasch building on Tuesday evening, January 21. Everybody invited.

Miss Emma Lecrone returned to her home at Dayton, Monday, after a four weeks visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mathias Lecrone.

Mrs. Sarah Long, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Long for the last several weeks, returned to her home in Butler, Ohio, Tuesday.

Now is the time to take care of your stock. It pays to use Bort's Stock Food. A feed saver, a blood cleanser, a fine tonic—best there is. Bort & Co.

Tuscaloosa Tribe and the Daughters of Pocohontas will give an old fashioned dance at Red Men's Hall, Thursday evening, Jan. 23, 1908. Everybody invited.

TYPEWRITING—All kinds of typewriting, both copy and dictation, done at reasonable prices. Office with F. A. Nail in James Building. Citizen phone No. 439. A. O. WRIGHT.

Hon. John C. Pettit, our representative in the legislature, was home over Saturday and Sunday, and upon his return sent us copies of some bills he has introduced in that body. We will endeavor to publish a synopsis of the proposed bills next week.

The Big Picture Sale. Only a few more left and only a few more days to buy at this great reduction. 1 to 1/2 off on all pictures, if you buy in the next five days at Bort & Co.

St. Paul Episcopal Church, Divine Service, Sunday evening, 7:15 p. m. Friday evening 7:15 p. m. Bishop Vincent, will visit the parish on the first of March. A. W. BUCKLAND, Rector.

The many friends of Mrs. J. N. Slatzer will be pleased to learn, although still in a very distressing condition, is slowly but steadily improving and hopes are entertained for her complete recovery.

Mrs. J. W. Strentz and also her daughter, Estella, were down sick the past week, with threatened pneumonia. We are glad to say that they are much improved now, and Miss Estella is again teaching at the public schools.

Mrs. F. B. Weaver will leave for Chicago, Saturday. Mr. Weaver will follow about the first of the month, we are sorry to lose these excellent people from our midst. Their going away robs us of some of our best musical talents.

Mr. H. J. Doebele the Shoe Merchant has received notice to vacate the room he now occupies and will close out his stock of Mens', Women's and Children's Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds and sizes, at almost any price. Call and look over the bargains.

Mrs. J. W. Willis left Logan on the morning train, Tuesday, for Jackson Ohio, where she will spend a week or so with her two daughters. The stork having paid a visit, Monday, at the home of one of her daughters and left a baby girl at Mrs. Wm. Martins.

Our old friend and newspaper man, Thad Allen returned last week from a sojourn of a few months in the gold mining country of Utah. Thad came home sick, but is now able to be out again, and will resume his position on the Journal-Gazette as associate editor.

We are proud to relate that Miss Lucy Westenhaver, one of Logan's most accomplished young ladies, has secured a position in the legislature of Ohio. Her brother-in-law, Mr. W. W. Keynes is responsible, in his visit to that body of solons, for Miss Westenhaver's success.

Ben Prose, the only and bossiest boss of Swan township, Vinton county, passed through Logan, Tuesday, with sixteen carload of fat cattle on his way to Columbus, to lobby for county local option bill. He will be the guest of Representative Pettit while in the capital city.

The National Biscuit Co. will have a representative at the People's store in Logan, all day on Saturday next to demonstrate the goods of that great food company. He will serve free lunch to all visitors, and the public are cordially invited. Remember the date is next Saturday, Jan. 18.

Mrs. Ella Armstrong returned from Columbus, Tuesday evening, where she has been visiting her son, George. Mrs. Armstrong reports her daughter-in-law in a very serious condition from Tuberculosis. She brought home her granddaughter, little Miss Frances, who will remain with her until her mother recovers.

Rev. Willis, pastor of the U. B. Church, at Logan, went to Hollister, Athens county, last Saturday and held a quarterly meeting over Sunday, for presiding Elder Geiger. Elder Geiger filled the pulpit here so he might be close to his son, Rev. J. O. Geiger who lies very low with typhoid fever at Enterprise.

Mr. F. P. Boring received a telegram Saturday, announcing the serious illness of his father, Wm. Boring, of Reedsville, Ohio. The venerable father has sustained the third stroke of paralysis and considering his extreme old age, 84, and that he received four wounds while in the service, his chances for recovery are very meagre.

We are pleased to chronicle that Messrs. Ora Price and Dwight Mathias, two very critical cases of typhoid fever, on Gleaview Heights, in Logan, have passed the worst and are convalescing. They are now at the hungry stage of the disease, and all persons that have gone through typhoid fever can sympathize with them, yet rejoice that they bid fair to recovery.

SOCIETY AND CLUB NEWS

Jolly Dozen Pedro Club
The Jolly Dozen meets with Mrs. Ed Campbell, tonight.

Domestic Club
The Domestic Club will meet this afternoon, with Mrs. Henry Schaffer.

Thimble and Art
The Thimble and Art will meet with Mrs. O. W. H. Wright, next Wednesday.

Jolly Dozen Pedro Club
Mrs. Charles Breene received the members of the Jolly Dozen Pedro Club last Thursday evening and a very pleasant time was spent. Mrs. J. E. Johnson captured the club honors, a china creamer and sugar. Mrs. Dr. Eastman and Miss Josephine Henderson were guests. Mrs. Breene served light refreshments.

Nondescript
Mrs. I. C. Morgan was hostess for the Nondescript Club last Thursday afternoon and the members all enjoyed their annual "grab-bag," which contained many pretty and useful presents. Mrs. Ira Lindley read a very interesting paper on "Commercial Travelers" and Mrs. McCormick a reading from James Whitcomb Riley. Responses to roll call were: "How did you spend your Xmas?"

Mrs. Morgan served an elegant two course chicken supper, assisted by her sister, Miss Allie Smith. Club meets in two weeks with Mrs. Lindley.

7th Wedding Anniversary
Mr. and Mrs. Bert Loudenslager celebrated their seventh wedding anniversary Sunday, January 5, by giving a dinner to a number of their friends, at their home, 53 South Harris avenue. The house was decorated in old rose, yellow and blue, together with large bells. Those participating were: Mrs. Loudenslager's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Savey of Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Savey, niece, Mary Catherine Savey of Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Savey and Miss Handle of Newark, Mr. and Mrs. James Schirm of Pickerington, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Flum, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Bauer, Mr. C. M. Kidd, Mr. George Ent, Mr. Harry Wagner, Miss M. C. Wagner.

Mr. and Mrs. Loudenslager were the recipients of many beautiful presents.—Columbus Dispatch.

Twice Five Club
On Monday evening the Twice Five Club and their ladies met at the home of Judge and Mrs. F. P. Martin.

The subject of the evening was that now famous and familiar proposed policy politic, "The Initiative and Referendum." Postmaster McKay, dyed in the wool republican, took the usual Democratic side, favoring the policy. Senator Lowry, the always and invincible and unterrified Democrat, took the side of criticism to this new popular policy. Mr. McKay loved the good old tradition of Vox Populi, Vox Dei, and floated aloft the flag of freedom and the people's right to rule. That when the people could not be trusted then the fabric of our independence is read assunder and we live no more in the power and peace of a free people, governed in ourselves, for ourselves, and by ourselves.

Senator Lowry had fortified himself with one of the most masterful papers ever read to that presence. He had an exhaustive review of the powers and meaning of the constitution of the United States, and in his profound analysis of the wisdom of the representative form of government, the Senator did himself proud in his support of his view of the subject. He learnedly spoke in opposition to the prevailing policies of party platforms and of Democratic leaders such as Johnson, Ingalls, Harmon and the distinguished son of Nebraska, the Hon. William Jennings Bryan.

The other members of the club, threshed out the thoughts and opinions pointedly, and told their positions most positively.

The guests of the club were Mr. A. S. Martin, of Salt Lake City, Mr. O. A. Wright, of Gold Springs, Utah, S. T. Like, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hansel, Miss Agatha Fox, Mrs. Jane Adcock, and Mrs. Maud Danilson. A most enjoyable collation was served.

Saturday Afternoon Whist Club

At the home of Miss Elizabeth Rempel, the Saturday Afternoon Whist Club met last week on the day the name suggests. The games were spirited and most joyous, Miss Minerva White capturing the prize, a handsome hand made handkerchief. A good five o'clock supper was served. The guests present were Mrs. H. Q. Wasson, of Columbus, and Mrs. Will Frasch.

Tourist Club

Mrs. Charles Wright Sr., was hostess for the Tourist Club last Thursday afternoon at her beautiful home on Second street, and an unusually fine program given. Responses to the roll call were "The New Year." Mrs. C. R. Wilson presented a very able paper on "Noted Ohio Journalists," and Mrs. A. C. Tipton read another fine paper on "Ohio Inventors," both papers were highly enjoyed by the club and their guests. Mrs. Wright served an elaborate three course supper. Mrs. John F. White, Mrs. Bell Hyson, Mrs. John Daugherty, Mrs. Will Gaffney, Mrs. Dr. Rannels, Mrs. A. H. Brooke, Mrs. Garrett, Mrs. Buckland and Miss Saumening were interested visitors.

The Editor Surprised

It was the lot of the editor of this magazine to reach the 39th mile stone of his turbulent existence on Saturday of last week, and his good wife decoyed him to the inviting realm of his printshop sanctum to await her arrival at 6 p. m., ostensibly to make an evening call. At that hour he received a gentle summons to his home on the Heights, that "we all" would start "cealing" from there. At the home, the tired servant of the people, was embraced by about sixteen guests and was subjected to a neat feather ruffling. His 39 years were smashed into the high-larity of a 19 year old, and all was as merry as the marriage bell. There were present Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Keynes, Judge and Mrs. O. W. H. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Pettit, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Eisele, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Yerges and Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Cherrington.

A good chicken supper was served and Judge Wright, on behalf of those present, presented "us" with a handsome silver carving set, and a stein, hoping that the set would carve chicken and turkey bountifully throughout the rest of our life and that the stein would never be empty.

Social Circle

One of the most enjoyable events of the winter was the meeting of the Social Circle with Mrs. E. O. Pettit on Wednesday afternoon. Most of the members were present and spent the hours in sewing and visiting with their guests.

Little Kathleen came in for her share of attention too, as Wednesday was the fifth anniversary of her birth and she and her little friends had a table to themselves with a big cake in the center, adorned with five pink candles. Mrs. Pettit served an elegant two course supper, assisted by her daughter, Miss Mary, Ruth Wright and Mattie Slatzer. The following club guests were present: Mrs. George Gladman, Mrs. A. M. Sparks, Mrs. E. B. Comly, Mrs. R. D. McManigal, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mrs. H. R. Harrington, Mrs. O. W. H. Wright, Mrs. D. V. Thurness, Mrs. Warren Lanning, Mrs. Dr. Lyons, Mrs. Will Kessler, Mrs. McCray, Mrs. Dr. Raney, Mrs. Dr. Finney, Mrs. Phil Rochester, Mrs. J. C. Morgan, Mrs. I. J. Lindley, Mrs. F. S. Case, Mrs. Sarah Stallsmith, Mrs. W. H. Cowell, Mrs. Theo. Tritsch, Mrs. J. F. Harden, Mrs. J. T. Sanderson, Mrs. Chas. Ross, Mrs. M. A. Parsons, Mrs. Chas. Schwenke, Mrs. Lawrence Yerges, Miss Maria Parsons, and Miss Bess Dickel, of Parkersburg, W. Va. The club meets in two weeks with Mrs. Frank Johnson.

F. P. Boring, the tea man, moved from the Snider room on the avenue, Wednesday, to the rooms formerly occupied by Leroy Kemper, the butcher. He has ordered an immense stock and will be open for business instanter.

We are sorry to hear of the burning of the Nelsonville Register, Friday of last week. Mrs. Tullis not only lost the printing office, but her building and millinery store. No insurance. The Journal-Gazette of Logan is getting out the Register this week.

20 per cent off Sale

at the Novelty Store

Still Continues

ED. L. KLEINSCHMIDT
Opera House Block