

SOCIETY AND CLUB NEWS

The Japs

The members of the Japanese Club were entertained last Saturday by Miss May Johnson.

Sewing Circle

The Sewing Circle met at the home of Mrs. H. M. Whiteraft, on Front street, Wednesday afternoon. This is a pleasant, amiable bunch of ladies that meet once a week for a social, good time. A very toothsome collation was served.

Thirteen

Mrs. W. P. Heft entertained with a dinner party in honor of her daughter Helen's thirteenth birthday. The guests were Mrs. Lucy Crawford, Mrs. Lawrence Yerges, Mrs. Will Hickman of Newark, and Master Bryan Heft. Many pretty gifts were received.

Auxiliary

The Ladies Auxiliary met at their hall Tuesday evening for a happy, social time among themselves. The evening was spent in games and music. A new piano is installed in the hall and it affords much pleasure to those assembled. A light collation was served.

Whist Club

The Misses White gave a Whist party, Thursday evening, complimentary to their house guest, Mrs. Hawver, of Salt Lake City, Utah. Three tables of players were present and favors taken by Miss Emma Becker and Mr. Sam Brooke. Dainty refreshments were served.

Thimble and Art

On Wednesday afternoon the Thimble and Art club met at the home of Mrs. John F. White, and a most pleasing hostess she is. The afternoon was spent in social pleasantries, and a two course supper was served. The guests were Mrs. Anna Ackers Moore, of Cleveland, and Mrs. R. D. McManigal.

Saturday Club

Last Saturday this always formidable and interesting club met at the home of Miss Margaret Saumenig, on North Market street. The subjects of the afternoon were Richelieu and Robert Lewis Stevenson. Miss Minerva White had a very interesting paper on the first subject, and the latter was of general discussion. Mrs. Will Bort was elected a member of the club.

Bishop Vincent Reception

On Sunday Bishop Vincent and Arch Bishop Dodson, of the Episcopal church, were in Logan and held confirmation service. Mrs. Charles Reetenwald and Miss Fannie Keynes were confirmed. In the afternoon of Monday a reception in honor of the Arch Bishop and Bishop was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Reetenwald. Refreshments were served.

Jolly Dozen Pedro Club

The Jolly Dozen met with Miss Mame Pierce last Thursday night and had some interesting games of Pedro. There were three tables of players present at the club honors taken by Miss Alice Schwenke, a cut glass pitcher. Mrs. Dr. Campbell received consolation prize, a china pitcher.

Mrs. George Eberst and Miss Zink, of Lancaster, were guests. Miss Pierce served light refreshments.

Pedro Club

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Rochester very charmingly entertained the Jolly Dozen Pedro Club Tuesday night. The gentlemen were also invited which added much to the evening's enjoyment. The club favor was taken by Mrs. John Billson, silver spoon, Mrs. Dillon Sanderson secured visitors prize, a handsome hat pin, Mrs. Dr. Cherrington was consoled by a tiny doll in a go-cart. Mr. Sam Brooke was the successful gentleman and was presented with a necktie and scarf pin. Mr. Charles Breene secured booby prize, a clown. The hostess served lovely refreshments. The following were guests: Mr. and Mrs. Dillon Sanderson, Miss Alice Schwenke, Miss Racine Brown, Miss Edie Myers and the Misses Ella and Robbin Rochester, Messrs. Tim Whiteraft, Sam Brooke, Joe Stiers and Dr. J. S. Cherrington, of Porter, Ohio.

Young Girls Sewing Circle

Miss Florence Lutz was the charming little hostess for the Young Girls Sewing Circle, last Friday. It was a masquerade party and some very comical costumes were worn. Light refreshments were served.

Moki Club

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Whiteraft entertained the Moki Club, Friday evening at their pleasant home on Front street. The club honors of the evening were bestowed on Mrs. Thad Allen and Mr. Wm. Lehman.

Mrs. Whiteraft, assisted by Mrs. Jesse Williams, served a most pleasing collation. The next meeting of the Moki will be held at the home of Mrs. Ella Blosser, east Main street.

Barber's Union

The Barber's Union of Logan certainly did things up about right Monday evening at the St. John's Hall. The Local wanted to do the nice thing and invited to join them in a banquet, their employers, the "Boss Barbers." The evening was spent in music and cards, with a burst of enthusiasm from a happy soul now and then, that would "cut" on the fiddle or give the "buck and wing." A good, old fashioned baked bean, weenie-wurst supper, supplemented with the usual condiments was served. After supper they went down and made old Uncle George Warrick a donation.

Domestic Club

Mrs. J. T. Sanderson very delightfully entertained the members of the Domestic Club, last Thursday afternoon from 2 to 6. An invitation to the hospitable Sanderson home is always hailed with great delight, as it carries with it an assurance of a good, social time.

The club program was very fine and included a paper by Mrs. Will Brandt on the history of the Domestic Club, and a magazine reading by Mrs. W. H. Cowell, both of which were much enjoyed by the club and guests. Responses to roll call were "Quotations from Washington." After the program was concluded, Mrs. Ed. Tritsch, Mrs. Will White and Miss Evelyn Sanderson rendered some beautiful piano solos and Mrs. O. W. H. Wright and Mrs. Bruce Dollison sang a duet. At five o'clock an elegant three course dinner was served. The tables were charmingly arranged, three in the rear parlor and one in the dining room, over-looking a conservatory of flowering plants. The dinner was served by Mrs. Sanderson's three daughters, Mrs. Ed. Tritsch, Mrs. Porter Waugh and Miss Evelyn Sanderson. Those who enjoyed the afternoon, other than the club were, Messdames John Strawn, Chas. Schwenke, Tillie Montgomery, E. A. Gutlioph, J. C. Brown, O. W. H. Wright, McCray, Lyons, Theo. Lytle, Bruce Dollison and Miss Dora Eichor.

Junia Club

Always bright, always new, always excellent in repartee, the Junias again had a session, full of optimism, sophism and literalism. The meeting was Monday evening at "The Ambrose," and they banqueted and toasted in the beautiful dining room of that popular hostelry. The decorations were in yellow and blue. Nineteen members of the club remembered the date and the hour, and seventeen guests also enjoyed the sallies and the sauce.

After the seven course supper (think of it, seven courses) was served, those programed were full of plenty of good things and wit, and the hearers had but to breathe heavy and listen.

Mrs. H. F. Ambrose presided as toast mistress, and as she ushered each literati, upon the stage of response with lightheartedness, she pleasingly applied the medicament, pietistically shoved them out on the sea of oratory in their little bark, to struggle alone.

The first subject roasted was, "man." Poor man. Mrs. John A. Smith responded. She hailed man as the lord of creation. The great living, moving, human being, that is the tall timber among the scrub oaks. To the like of him, all else are mere creatures. Some of her less fortunate hearers, growled out that she would not be so laudatory, was she not the happy possessor of one of those gracious beings. The speaker also dwelt feelingly on how handy a man is, and if you once get to him, you can hardly get along without him.

The toastmistress then proposed "Men" to be responded to by Miss Minette McCray. She absolutely, positively and unequivocally has no use for men. At the time of his creation there was little satisfaction, and then woman was created as the more perfect being. Man was a trial job, woman is the perfection. Man, born of woman is of a few years and full of pranks. Woman is of many years, untiring, eternal. Miss McCray was cheered to the echo in her witticisms.

The next toast responded to was "Amen," by Miss Rose White. Her response was in rhyme, and most propitious. She said, "Amen" to all good things that were said. Had heard that men are real nice, and women their worthy superiors.

Miss Mary Blasius responded to "Maids." She lauded the maids as being most gracious and never-men-dacious. Loving, loyal, lucent. She recited that ever sweet story that man could not do with her, and then how could he do without her.

"Old Maids" was responded to by Miss Sadie McCray. "What is man that we should be mindful of him." Oh, that single blessedness. No trials, no vituperations. No sulking tergiversations. Peace, and plenty of it. And then who would take care of married sister's children if the old maid should get married. Miss Sadie certainly did herself proud in response to the toast assigned her.

"Ready Mades," was responded to by Miss Bird White, and it is said that she certainly did take the bun. The sallies she handed out on "old maids" being "ready maids" and those "bachelor maids" and red headed maids being "reddy maids," were certainly received with cheers to the echo.

Miss Nell Scanlan, of Lancaster, arose as a visitor and told of her appreciation of the evenings program.

The guests were Miss Emma Becker, Robbin Rochester, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Miss Lucile Allen, Miss Ida Fickel, Mrs. H. R. Harrington, Miss Cornelia Vail, Mrs. Barsha Work, Mrs. John Wellman, Mrs. Fred Grove, Mrs. Bert Stedem and Miss Florence Bright. High team score—Brunswicks—877.

High man score—F. Shaw—230.

The Brunswicks and the All Stars played three close and interesting games last Thursday evening, the Brunswicks taking two and the All Stars one. The Brunswicks succeeded in getting a new record for the high team roll, owing to the splendid playing of "Pete" Shaw, who made a score of 230. Bell Miller, of the All Stars, nearly took the record from Shaw in the last game piling up pins to the amount of 224. The following are the scores of the several players:

ALL STARS.
