Ex-Governor Tod.
Some ten thousand people met at Orwell, Ashland county, recently, to hear speeches from Gen. J. A.
Garfield and Ex-Gov. Tod. Garfield's speech was one of those able and elaborate speeches which that gentleman has fallen into the habit of making of late.

Gov. Tod spoke briefly in his conversational, easy, off-hand style. He said he had driven forty miles to be present at the meeting, and to make known the deep interest he felt in the great struggle going on.
Speaking of Seymour, he said:

I know him well. He was Governor at the same time I was Governor. Mr. Lincoln called for volunteers. I sent him only thirty thousand, while Seymour sent fifteen thousand. The President went round complimenting Seymour, and saying nothing about what I had done. I took Mr. Lincoln to task for this.— I said, how is it you are complimenting Seymour for his fifteen thousand men, and neglect to compliment Morton and me? His answer was perfectly satisfactory. He said, "Why, Tod, I never thanked Mrs.
Lincoln for a cup of tea in my life." [Laughter and applause.] The truth was, Morton and I had done nothing more than was expected of us, while Seymour had. He had never done the like before, and never did afterwards. It was not necessary to keep Mr. Lincoln in Illinois, Illinois, and Ohio, to correspond with the President, as it was in New York.— In those States, the Governors acted as the President's correspondents and agents. You will remember that remarkable dispatch of Gen.
Dix to Seymour, saying: "I beg to let you know I have troops enough to take care, not only of the rioters, but of you."

Gen. Grant, Ohio's noble warrior Gov. Tod said: I still find myself with you. The Chicago platform is entirely satisfactory, and you have placed at the head of the Union party that great and good man who led our soldiers to victory. He did not seek the nomination. There is not a man in the country I prefer to Gen. Grant.
[Applause.] I have known his family well. My mother had the training and teaching of old Jesse Grant.
He came to live with my mother at the age of twelve or fourteen years.
When she thought he was old enough, she advised him to go and learn a trade. He took her advice.
She wanted me also, to learn a trade, but, unfortunately, I turned my attention to the law, and, although I have made a tolerably fair lawyer, I have no doubt I would have made a better blacksmith. That is the trade my mother wanted me to learn.

I am well acquainted with Gen.
Grant. He possesses every element of character which should attach you to him. I do not speak of his claims as a military man, but we may all be certain of one thing, that an ordinary man would never have achieved what he did. Nervous men like Governor Seymour and myself, would have abandoned Vicksburg, and, in fact, several other places that Grant took by not getting tired. And of all men in this nation, I repeat it, there is none I would prefer to Gen. Ulysses S.
Grant. [Applause.]

New York.
What are the political prospects in New York? This is a question frequently asked. We therefore print the following letter from a friend who has spent some time in that State, and who has an excellent opportunity to observe the current of public sentiment. We will remark, further, that the letter was not written for publication:

My dear friend, I have just returned from New York, and I have to report to you that the prospects are not bright. The Democratic party is losing ground, and the Republican party is gaining. The people are becoming more and more patriotic, and they are demanding more and more of their representatives in Congress. They are demanding more of their representatives in Congress,

We find the following in the New York Tribune:
To the editor of the Tribune:
The Welsh people of the United States are but few in number when compared with some other nations. But, although small "among the thousands of Judah," the unanimity with which they vote the Republican ticket entitles them to much credit and I trust that an occasional brief article touching the political convictions among these enthusiastic Republicans will not be unacceptable either to the editors or readers of the Tribune.

The "Drych" (Mirror), published at Utica, N. Y., is one of the best conducted weeklies in the United States. In no respect is it inferior to our well conducted Republican newspapers. Its editors are gentlemen of education, refinement, and taste, and perfectly at home in both languages. Its political tone is neither doubtful or equivocal. It is an outspoken advocate of the principles of the Republican party. The "Drych" is in its 18th year, and never looked so well, and never did so well.

It is read by the Welsh people throughout the Union, and has been greatly instrumental in shaping their political convictions.

I find that Welsh Grant and Colfax Clubs are being organized throughout the Welsh settlements—In the city of Utica, a short time ago, a very flourishing club was established and put in working order.
A resolution was passed respectfully asking the Welsh clergymen of the city to write a short address to the Welsh voters of Onondaga County touching the issues of the campaign.

In the last "Drych" these gentlemen have cheerfully responded, and I send you a translation of the same.
I am myself in the English mission of the M. E. Church, but I am deeply interested in the welfare of my own nation.

Grant and Colfax.
To the Welsh of Onondaga County.
Dear Fellow Citizens: At the request of the Welsh Grant and Colfax Club of the City of Utica through its committee, we desire respectfully and seriously to call your attention to the importance of each one voting honestly, intelligently, and with pure motives in the approaching election.

We will not dwell on the personal character of the different candidates for President and Vice President of the United States, but we are well convinced that the political principles professed by Grant and Colfax, are more in harmony with the genius of our Government, more in harmony with liberty, truth and righteousness, and better calculated to restore the whole country to the full enjoyment of peace, comfort, success and honor, than those professed by their antagonists.

To us it is manifest that the principles as well as the profession of the Democratic party naturally lead to the re-establishment of Slavery at the South, thus rendering comparatively worthless the immense sacrifice in life and property on the part of the lovers of liberty and opening the way to a more sanguinary struggle in the future.

We are well aware that in the Democratic party are found the chief defenders of the rum traffic, which is the fruitful cause of such fearful destruction of life and wealth, as well as a hindrance to all natural and religious improvements.— In its ranks are found those men that would rob us of the Sabbath, and turn it into a day of commerce and play; and in it is registered the name of every unrepentant Rebel who lifted his hands to destroy the Government, and caused that war in which fell hundreds of our brave Welsh.

They promise that when the Democrats shall come to power the taxes will be diminished. But the history of that party when in power, does not justify the promise of economy, and the system they advocate gives no hope of financial improvement.— They speak of paying the National debt in "Greenbacks" instead of gold. By this the value of the currency would be greatly reduced, the wheels of commerce would be blocked, the country would fall into national poverty, and its prosperity and development would be greatly retarded.

This in short is our unanimous, conscientious opinion; and while we concede to others the same liberty of opinion which we claim for ourselves, we advise you one and all, as fellow countrymen, to vote for Grant and Colfax. And we heartily desire that each Welsh voter in the United States should do the same.

Rhys Gwesyn Jones, Pastor of First Congregational Church.
James Griffiths, Pastor of Second Congregational Church.
E. T. Jones, Pastor of Calvinistic Methodist Church.
Isaac Thomas, Pastor of M. E.
Church.

That is no doubt all true. The Welsh people of Gallia county are always true to their country, and can be relied upon in any emergency.

A man named Joel Dawson, at Negley's run, near Pittsburg, committed suicide, on Tuesday afternoon, by shooting himself with a rifle. He was laboring under an attack of delirium tremens, and had threatened to shoot himself. His employer desired his arrest as a precaution, but when the officer came with the warrant Dawson was dead.
His little girl was near him when he shot himself.

A Worthy Pair.
It will be remembered that during the war, while Vallandigham was sojourning inside the rebel lines by order of the government, he wrote a letter to Col. D. D. Inshall, of the Eighth Alabama rebel volunteers, in answer to an invitation to visit that gentleman and his regiment. This letter was found among the private papers of Col. Inshall, his baggage having afterward fallen into the hands of the Union forces. It is a precious document, and reads as follows:

VALLANDIGHAM'S LETTER.
DEAR COL: Your kind note and invitation of yesterday was this morning handed me by your brother-in-law, who will hand you this in return. It would give me much pleasure to visit you and your command before leaving the confederation, but it is now impossible to do so, as I have made arrangements to start this A. M.
