

Republican State Ticket.

For Governor, E. E. HAYES, of Sandusky. Lieutenant Governor, THOS. L. YOUNG, of Hamilton. Supreme Judge, GEORGE W. McILVAINE. Auditor, JAMES WILLIAMS, of Franklin. Attorney-General, JOHN LITTLE, of Greene. Treasurer, J. MINOR MILLIKEN, of Butler. Member of Board of Public Works, PETER THATCHER, of Cuyahoga.

The Convention.

We have attended all the Conventions, in Gallia county, for the past thirty-seven years, and we must award to the Republican Convention, of last Saturday, the palm of being the largest, and in the main, the most quiet and orderly body of the kind ever convened in the county in that thirty-seven years experience. The crowd was simply enormous, the large court room being wholly inadequate to accommodate it. The feeling was likewise good. The main interest in its deliberations, both among delegates and spectators, was that of Republican success at the October election. Of course there were disappointed in the selection of candidates. Where there are so many candidates this could not be avoided. It very seldom happens that the action of such bodies suit every one. We are certain, however, the Convention acted from good and pure motives, and in its selection of candidates allowed no feeling of hostility on the one part, or of favoritism on the other, towards those seeking nominations, to influence its action, but being compelled to make the selection in the spirit of union and success. Under such circumstances, these disappointments, if any do exist, should not be allowed to work harm to the ticket, and thus render success doubtful. Do as you would desire to have been done by in case the selections had been more to your liking.

The Secretaries of the Convention furnish full particulars of its proceedings, elsewhere published. For Representative, Hon. E. A. STONE was nominated on the first ballot. This was a worthy recognition of the faithful services he had rendered his constituents in the last two sessions of the General Assembly. He was honest in a body where votes were bought and sold at from $50 to $100 each. Capt. J. H. EVANS carried off the honors on Auditor. His efficient management of the difficult duties of the office were so well understood and appreciated that a change at this time was considered inadvisable.

Mr. CHARLES STUART, of Harrison township, is the nominee for Sheriff. A large number of names were presented for this office, all good and worthy men, and the Convention had a difficult work to do to make a choice. However, it was made, and no one can deny to Mr. STUART the ability and the integrity to make a good and acceptable officer.

For Treasurer there were only good names presented. After several ballots the choice finally fell upon Mr. W. W. MARTINDALE, of Springfield township. He is every way worthy of the support of the Republicans of Gallia county, having all the qualifications necessary to make a good and faithful officer. Judge KENT was nominated for re-election as Probate Judge. His honesty and faithfulness secured him another term.

Mr. BOORON will continue to do the Recording. An honest, efficient public servant is sure of his reward. L. PERRY, Esq., was nominated for Prosecuting Attorney. This is a sure promise of an honest and wise administration of this department of our county affairs.

Mr. HUGH C. NIDAY was re-nominated for Commissioner. He has made a good member of the Board, and his faithful services deserved this recognition.

For Infirmary Director the Convention selected Mr. S. G. KELLER, a gentleman well known to the people of the county as one of its most active and useful citizens. He will make a number one officer.

Dr. S. R. MCCORMICK, of Greene, a young physician of promise and character, was selected for Coroner. This is the ticket. In ability and character it cannot be beat. In this regard it is worthy of universal acceptance. We hope to see it, as it deserves to be, and as we believe it will, be triumphantly elected. The public affairs of Gallia county will be safe in the keeping of such men.

The Cincinnati Commercial concludes it would not be surprising if the October election should show a very decided reaction against Democracy. We do not say that this will be the result, but there are several reasons why it would not be irrational to entertain such an expectation.

The democratic party is squarely divided upon the financial policy of the government. The one faction, and the strongest, maintains that there shall be but one legal tender, and that shall be coin, and no currency that is not convertible into coin upon demand. The other and the weaker faction maintains that there shall be no money save that issued by the government—National banks and their notes to be wiped out—and that that money shall be shippers not convertible into anything, and permanently irredeemable. Thus stands the democratic party—hopelessly divided upon this important question. Now, both sides are wrong, and the country, were it to adopt either, would soon find itself on the road to bankruptcy and ruin. What the country wants in this regard is stability—no violent and radical changes—such a policy, indeed, as that enunciated in the Republican platform, which, "without unnecessary shock to business or trade, will ultimately equalize the purchasing capacity of the coin and paper dollar."

This is the financial situation, as related to political parties. The democratic party is divided—as wide apart as the poles—and no hope of relief can be expected from it. The policy of either faction would ruin the country. Whereas, the Republicans stand in a measure united, and in favor of soundness and stability. Can the voter hesitate about his duty under such circumstances?

The democrats of Ohio have aroused a hornet's nest by their repudiation platform. A portion of the democrat and all of the independent, liberal press, have opened their batteries upon them, and such broad sides of indignation and disgust are being let off as will swamp the rotten old bulk before it gets well under way. Here is a specimen of the way the Liberal press talks, copied from the Springfield (Mass.) Republican: It is putting it very mildly to say the Democratic ticket in Ohio ought to be beaten this year. It ought to be buried out of sight. The adverse majority can not be too large for the credit of the States; for that matter it can not be too large for the lasting good of the Democratic party itself, if that party is to remain as an organization in American politics.

The democrats are equally emphatic in their denunciations of Ohio Democracy. Here is a specimen from the N. Y. World: Two financial abortions have now been brought forth in Ohio. One we ourselves put in alcohol last year. The other is only waiting to be potted. Both were left on the door-steps of very respectable Democrats and almost ruined their character. A pretty kettle of fish, surely.

The defection from the democratic party, since the announcement of the repudiation platform, is unhesitant or in the history of political parties. Among the important and influential defections may be named the Ohio Liberal, published at Mansfield, hitherto an earnest supporter of the democratic party. In its issue of last week it "repudiates with scorn and contempt the action of the State Convention," and calls for the defeat of the ticket in these energetic words: Men and brethren, voters of Ohio, citizens of our peaceful and prosperous and happy commonwealth, there is but one way to meet the danger which impends over us as deadly as any and as threatening as the rebellion impended over us in 1861, and that is to stamp it out. Stamp it out as you would an incipient conflagration. Stamp it out with votes at the October election. Stamp it out with a resolute majority. Stamp it out, or the Centennial anniversary of republican liberty and order and law, which is to be celebrated in 1876, will also be the inauguration of a new beginning of the end which is sure to follow a national triumph of the Ohio Commonwealth.

The Cincinnati Commercial, it is well known, has an independent way of treating political parties and political questions, condemning or approving as its convictions of duty lead, without regard to who is pleased or hurt. Here is one of its late independent utterances, whom every body can and will endorse, to-wit: There never was a nastier Legislature than that at Columbus last winter, and Allen, instead of detaining it and demanding the expulsion of the corrupt legislators, urged the managers to run away from the dirt they had made. In the city of Cincinnati we do not find that public party comes in with democratic rule. The city is in the hands of Democratic politicians, and the city government was never more disreputable than at this hour. There is nothing in this to cause us to believe in the Democratic party as the party of the reformation.

The Democratic ring leaders, in this city, say they will defeat our candidates for Sheriff and Treasurer. What say the Republicans? These gentlemen may not have been the first choice of all, but they are true and capable men, and richly deserve the influence and vote of every friend of economy and good government. Let this boast of the Ring arouse Republicans to action, not only for these candidates, but for the whole ticket, from Gen. HAYES down. It is pure and unspotted all the way through.

WASHINGTON county suggests Pomerooy, and July 27th, as the place and time of holding the Judicial Convention. We suppose the other counties will agree to this proposition.

The Maine Democracy resolve in favor of coin or its equivalent. Ohio wants only greenbacks. In both instances it is done in the name of democracy. What an institution this thing called democracy is!

THERE was a battle of fluids in Cincinnati on Friday afternoon—lightning against whiskey. The power of the heavens proved victorious over that of the infernal regions. Loss about 800 barrels of whiskey and the bonded warehouse of R. W. Caldwell—total $23,000. Angels smile and the democratic toppers lament the sad havoc made of this human destroyer.

The N. Y. Economist, a non-partisan journal, in speaking of the Ohio Democratic platform, says "there is scarcely a single proposition in this programme that is not of the most mischievous character," and that its results, if made the policy of the country, would be "bankruptcy and ruin." We are certainly approaching troublesome times, financially, unless the people bury both the party and the mad scheme of the Ohio Democracy.

The Waechter America, the leading German daily of Northern Ohio, and hitherto a Democratic Liberal organ, has jumped the track, and comes out strong for the Republican State ticket. The repudiation platform did the work. The America says, "no success can be wished for the Democracy of Ohio in the coming State election." The Sandusky Democrat, another German paper, follows suit. The Germans are too honest to support repudiation.

We were at Rio Grande last week and saw the new college. It is a fine building. The brick work is completed. In putting it up one hundred and seventy-five barrels of lime, and 280,000 brick were used. Mr. LAWSON is supervising the work, and intends getting the same done by January 1. His workmen are mainly from Gallipolis, and are a jolly crew. The people round about there speak of the success of the college, when completed, as a certainty.

A DEMOCRATIC paper calls those politicians who manipulated the late Ohio democratic convention, "blind guides." Those "noisy fellows" from Southern Ohio will never be heard of after the fall election. Their history can then be written and sealed up.

THE Washington Sentinel, the National organ of the brewers, says it is a "national necessity that Sam. F. Cary should be beaten at the next election," as he is an enemy of "personal liberty."

COL. VANCK in his Columbus speech, said—"the party in power is rotten to the core." Webster defines this word to mean, "the heart or inner part of a thing." The "heart or inner part" of a party are the voters who sustain that party. Hence the voters of the Republican party are "rotten to the core." That is the credit, the estimate of character, which the Colonel has formed of not only those Republicans who voted for him but of all others: i. e., when talking to a State Convention of democrats.

We have an unexceptionable State ticket; we have a good County ticket; both worthy of the support of the undivided strength of the Republican party of Gallia county. Now, let us go to work and let both large a majority we can give to help. Let us aim to make it one thousand or more. It can be done if every Republican will do his duty. We shall do our full part in the battle, and we hope to be encouraged and strengthened by like efforts on the part of every Republican in the county. Our interests are mutual—the right and judicious administration of public affairs, economy being the foundation stone.

Catholic Assent to Democratic Heresy. The Catholic Telegraph is perfectly and significantly silent on the Democratic platform. One of the articles of that platform declares for "purely secular education at the expense of the tax-payer, without a direct or indirect control by any portion of the school fund." Now this is in direct opposition to the rules of the Church. The Telegraph says, without referring to the action of the Democracy: Catholics who think that they can approve of the secular system of public education which has been adopted in this country, would do well to acquaint themselves with the dogmatic decisions of the Holy See contained in the 47th and 48th propositions of the syllabus. "Aut mundus errat aut Christus." "Either the world or Christ errs." In the syllabus the Church has explicitly and categorically condemned education from which religious instruction has been eliminated. If any Catholic approves of this relic of paganism, he must, as a consequence, hold that the Church has erred, and he has, therefore, given his assent to heresy. There is no way in which he can evade this conclusion. No sophistry is strong enough to enable him to pass this deepest of spiritual pitfalls. On this point, as in all other matters of doctrine, he must be either with Christ or against Him. He can not make a neutral position upon which the condemnation of the Holy See does not fall.

This is plain enough, and shows the Democratic position to be thoroughly heretical. Why, then, does not the Telegraph recall its undivided vote of last April, that the undivided vote of the Catholics of Ohio will be given for the Democratic ticket next fall? Either it proposes to let its constituency support those who are the declared opponents of the rules of the Church, or else the opposition is apparent and not real. The most reasonable explanation that suggests itself is the latter, and it finds confirmation in Gen. Allen's visit to this city on the Saturday previous to the convention of the 17th. The Democratic plank is well understood at clerical headquarters to be mere buncombe to deceive the weak-kneed and over-scrupulous members of the party. Otherwise such rank opposition to the wishes of the ecclesiastical wing of the new alliance would not be tolerated for a single day.—Cin. Gazette.

Republican County Convention. Pursuant to the call of the Republican County Central Committee the Republican Convention met on Saturday morning, at the Court House, and organized by electing Dr. N. S. Sisson, Chairman, and W. R. Evans and S. P. VAUGHN, Secretaries. Committee on Rules, Regulations, Resolutions and Order of Business, C. W. Bird, S. G. Keller, Joseph Stafford. Committee on Permanent Organization, Richard Blazer, Stephen Wilcox, P. Cherington, Committee on Credentials, A. Pierce, W. R. Atkinson, J. J. Pool. The Committee on Rules, etc., reported as follows: Resolved, That the Republicans of Gallia county accept and heartily endorse the platform and principles adopted by the Republican State Convention.

Resolved, That the Republicans of Gallia county are proud of their State ticket, and will give it their full strength and support. Resolved, That this Convention nominate and ballot for candidates in the order in which they are named in the call of the County Central Committee, commencing with Rep. representative.

Resolved, That the rules governing this Convention be the usual rules governing such bodies. Resolved, That a majority of all the votes cast be necessary to nominate. Resolved, That the candidates, before being balloted for, shall pledge themselves to support the nominees of this Convention and the entire Republican State ticket.

P. Cherington moved an amendment that after the third ballot the lowest candidate be dropped. Lost. The Committee on Permanent Organization reported in favor of continuing the temporary organization. The Committee on credentials reported full delegations present, with their names. These reports were all received and adopted.

P. Cherington moved that the delegates present be required to pledge themselves to support the ticket. Lost. Nominations for Representative being in order the names of E. A. Stone, E. T. Donaldson's Balloon in Lake Ontario. Pictou, Ont., June 24.—Prof. Donaldson, and three members of the press made a balloon ascension from Toronto, yesterday, and, to-day, were picked up by a vessel, five miles off Point Peter, on Lake Ontario. They report having suffered great hardships, being in the water four hours, clinging to the basket of the balloon, which was dragged through the water at a fearful speed.

There are a good many Hamilton county Democrats who do not get enthusiastic over the ticket or the platform. The able editorials of the Enquirer sound to them like minute-guns fired over the grave of honesty and sound policy.—Cin. Gazette.

The New York Nation concludes that the work of the Ohio Democratic Convention "is about as rascally a piece of 'politics' as we have seen in a good long time."
