The Convention finally got down to work Monday noon, after a long and bitter contest over preliminaries. An excited crowd held the sidewalk in front of the bulletin board on Court street up to 10 o'clock P. M., Monday night, when the Convention adjourned until Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. The work had been continued Monday night, with wonderful vigor, all holding their respective choices with monotonous regularity. Through 37 ballots Windsor had held his 10 votes and Washburn's support hadn't varied much from 31 votes. McCrary, Garfield, Davis, Hayes, Phil Sheridan, Harrison and Hartranft had received complimentary votes. Edmunds' support was about equal to Washburn's. Sherman had carried his 53 votes with commendable regularity. The headlines, Grant and Blaine, had not varied from 304 and 280 respectively.

At eleven o'clock Tuesday, the war waxed warm again, every nerve was on the qui vive and every muscle tensioned. The first break occurred on the 29th ballot when Sherman received an accession of 24 votes from the Edmunds men, principally. The 34th ballot was a tie for Garfield—he received 17 votes. On the next ballot he lost all but 5. The 36th ballot was called—State after State was enrolled and the Dark Horse from Ohio, with the clean limbs, deep chest and broad withers, was loaded with link after link, in the weary mile. With dilated nostrils and mane in the wind he jumped in the middle of the Ohio Delegation, a victor as thus: Grant 311; Blaine 42; Garfield 327. The Convention was wild with excitement, the band struck up, but couldn't be heard for the applause. All the States grasped their banners and gathered about the Ohio Delegation, in the midst of which sat Garfield. Cannons were fired and the vast sea of humanity simultaneously joined in the singing "Union Forever."

Coupling, Logan and Hale congratulated the Republican Party on its choice, and the nomination of Garfield was made unanimous. In our list of "Presidential Preferences" published January 15th, of this year, the following had chosen Garfield as the first man—Jno. T. Halliday, Simpson D. Cowden, Dr. C. D. Wall, Jos. Stafford, Wm. Shober, Jos. Hunt. Jas. A. Garfield is Senator-elect from Ohio. He began life a poor boy and arose by his own native energy. He served with distinction during the war and came out a general. He was Chief of Rosecrans' Staff. He was once an editor.

For Vice President—Arthur, N. Y.; Hawley, Connecticut; Freya, Maine; Washburn, Illinois; Jewell, Conn.; Little, Florida; Maynard, Tennessee; Ohio, New Jersey and Illinois second nomination of Arthur. Arthur nominated on first ballot. General Arthur is collector of the Port of New York. CHICAGO, June 8th, 1880. To JOURNAL.—The nominations meet with universal favor. Everybody happy. W. N. ASH.

In Memoriam. In sorrow and grief our Brotherhood again assembled at the call of the All-wise God, who, in the mysterious workings of His supreme will, has taken from our number HENRY M. GORHAM.

A true Knight of Pythias, a useful, respected and honest citizen, a sincere and faithful Christian, a devoted husband and father, the merits of his life will be cherished in the memory of all who enjoyed his acquaintance. We do truly sympathize with the widow, children and relatives from whose loved presence he has been so suddenly taken away. And we believe, that a copy of these proceedings be given to his family, and also to the papers of our party for publication. J. E. HEBARD, L. Z. CADOT, E. F. BALS, Committee.

Locals. The Fourth of July of this year comes on Sunday. Mr. Henderson Dunn is in town. Mr. S. B. Walker has returned to his boat at Pittsburgh. Mr. N. S. Wilson, of Addison township, left last week for Kansas, to spend the summer. The Zollian Club have received a large and beautiful lithograph of Julia A. Hunt.

Mr. E. B. Payne returned home from Marietta College, last week. He is suffering from a tumor in the side. Mr. Frank J. Donnelly was home last week, visiting his family. The family of Engineer Patterson have arrived from Columbus and are residing in the new house on Second street, belonging to Mr. M. W. Williams.

Mr. Henry Morton, late Guard in the Ohio Penitentiary, has returned home to his family. Mr. R. P. Beale has just finished some magnificent work for Mr. Laing Halliday. It consists in the decoration of the parlors. The paint that has been placed on the walls and ceiling is simply immense. The ceiling is a tint of carmine and the walls are a French gray. Smooth, hard, free from streaks, it makes a handsome finish and one that can be washed as ordinary work work. When our neighboring towns want an expert in this business, they can send for our man, for we have a good one.

Census enumerators are required to be courteous. The penalty for refusing this information, or for giving false information, is a fine not exceeding $100 in each case. Mr. Owen Stuphin, one of our big land holders, started the front end of this week on a visit to his old home in West Virginia—Little River County (Ark.) Herald.

Another letter from Hon. E. A. Stone will be found on the outside. These letters are attracting general attention over the county. The Census Enumerators request that the lady of the house should post herself in regard to the following so as to assist the enumerators: age of all the family and their birth-places, including the birth-places of the parents of the heads of the family. The same facts in regard to the servants should be well learned. The Gallia County Teachers' Association will hold a meeting Saturday, June 12th, in Union School Hall. Papers will be read by A. A. Moulton, W. H. Mitchell, J. T. Scott of Middleport, O., and Hon. J. J. Burns, State School Commissioner. Let all the teachers in the county attend.

We call attention to the law card of Jones & Jones in this week's issue of our paper. The firm is composed of Homer C. Jones and D. W. Jones. Of the former we need say nothing, as he is too well known throughout the county to require it. D. W. Jones is a young man, a brother of Homer C. Jones, who comes as well recommended as could be wished. We have no doubt they will make a strong law firm, and wish them success in their new field.

The Ladies of the M. E. Church of Cheshire, O., will give a Festival on Wednesday eve, June 9th, 1880, for the benefit of the church. Admission free. Church, Pomeroy, Sunday. Raspberries in the Market, Monday morning. Mr. W. C. Miller has repainted his large store front. Jolly & Moats did the business.

Quarterly meeting of M. E. Church will be held at Rodney, Saturday, the 19th inst. Mrs. Leopold Frank is repairing her large brick house on Third street, preparatory to removing there. She will sell groceries. Mrs. Rufus Robbins of Cairo, Ill., is visiting Mr. Jno. T. Halliday. Mr. R. is of the firm of Halliday Bros. of that city. Many parties have informed us that the flooring of both of the lower bridges is in bad condition. A little repairing now might save the county a bill of costs. Mr. Beall Hebard of Mexico, arrived here Saturday night. It has been eight years since he was last in our city. Maj. Hotchkiss was in town last week. Master Lewis, a son of Capt. Gus Donnelly is in our city for a few days visit in the family of Capt. Frank Donnelly.

The fire was kindled in Eagle Furnace on Thursday last. Dora Agnew, the eight year old daughter of Jno. L. Agnew, the Superintendent, applied the torch. Mr. Wm. Sutton, son-in-law of Mr. Harry Frank, is visiting here. Mr. Henry Grothaus breathed his last on Wednesday night, last, the burial of his remains occurring Saturday. He was a prominent German citizen and was much respected. Rev. W. H. P. Schmidt conducted the funeral services at the German Lutheran Church. He was 51 years of age. The festival given by the Baptist Church was quite a success. The ladies of the Church feel more than repaid for their trouble, and return thanks to all who patronized them. More especially do they thank Messrs. Bovie, Pitrat & Co. for loan of dishes; to Mr. Jenny and Mrs. Skes for loan of freezers; and to a host of others who aided them with both their contributions and their hands.

We were agreeably surprised Monday evening, in having Mr. Louis Baer's fine carriage and handsome span of dark bays placed at our disposal. Many thanks. The Y. M. B. Club gave a grand ball and supper, Monday evening, in honor of various ladies visiting here.

Railroad News. Work was commenced on the Ohio River Railway between fronton and Portsmouth, on Tuesday, the 1st inst. The grade on the Pomeroy Division has reached Addison.

There are 19 stations on the O. & W. Va., R. R. including Logan and Pomeroy. If nothing occurs the men will resume track laying to-morrow and continue to lay until they meet the force at the other end of the line. Logan, O., had a grand time on Wednesday and Thursday last week. It was a reception to the citizens of McArthur and adjoining towns, to celebrate the connection of the two places by the O. & W. Va. R. R. The soldier's graves were decorated and the Little Monument dedicated.

The Southern terminus of the railroad is to be at Pomeroy. Two depots will probably be built here, one at the upper end of the city for passengers and one at the lower end of the city for freight. By Saturday night the force at the other end of the line had arrived within one mile of Eagle Furnace.

The shipping of iron ore was commenced here on Wednesday night, May 26, the shipping having to be done at night so as not to interfere with the running of the construction and two gravel trains. The depot buildings for all stopping places between Logan and Karnes City will be 22 feet 4 inches by 12 feet 4 inches, and the platforms in front of the depots will be 38 feet long.—McArthur Enquirer.

Hon. E. D. Mansfield, the famous writer on the Cincinnati Gazette, in his letter from Pomeroy, thus speaks of our railroad: But now there will be a railroad from Pomeroy and it is the beginning of a series which will in making a grand arterial railroad on the banks of the Ohio River. The Ohio & West Virginia Railway is now in progress of construction, and will be completed in the Hocking Valley road at Logan. The link from Pomeroy will be made on the river bank to Gallipolis, about twenty miles, thence to Logan. This road will be completed in the fall, and thus Pomeroy will be connected by rail with the great interior. The road from Portsmouth to fronton will be made immediately, and thus we have the beginnings of the great Ohio Valley road.

On Wednesday of last week Mr. P. T. Wall was appointed enumerator of the First Ward, vice Maxon resigned for want of time to attend to it. The Supervisor, Judge Towne, writes us, urging upon enumerators the necessity of doing their work thoroughly and correctly. Our Springfield township correspondent writes us that Thos. S. Grove has resigned owing to ill health and that Jno. K. Powell has been appointed enumerator in his place.

Judge Bradbury sent the following offer for a free excursion, Saturday. Stand up Mr. Dennis Flanagan, convicted of manslaughter in the killing of Lincoln Shirts at Vinton. Flanagan trembled like an aspen leaf and plead for mercy. The Judge administered a lecture on the bad policy of perjury in his case and gave him 5 years and costs of prosecution. Mr. Wm. Jinks—"You are young, but you are guilty of the diabolical act of pulling a deadly weapon upon a comrade and attempting to end the existence of your fellow-man." Jinks showed signs of repentance, and weeping, plead for mercy. The Judge considered 1 year and costs of prosecution a sufficient dose.

Ansel Sigler. "Mr. Sigler, you entered the house of another in the night time and burglariously took certain property, thereby disturbing the rest and security of good citizens." Sigler is undoubtedly of weak mind. 1 year and costs of prosecution. Isaiah Wood—case continued and bond given in the sum of $300. Jacob Pounds—Assault, fine $5 00 and costs.

Board of Health. In accordance with a resolution passed by the Board of Health, authorizing me to notify the citizens of the City of the great importance of observing strict sanitary measures during the hot months, this announcement is now made. Premortuary indications already exist of threatened epidemics of a very serious character, and now is the time to prepare to make the conditions most favorable to modify, at least, if not entirely to suppress it. It is very unusual to have intestinal diseases prevailing to the extent they are at present, so early in the season of the summer months. That Diarrhoea, Flux or Dysentery, Cholera Infantum, Cholera Morbus, and even Asiatic Cholera may become developed to an extent, foreign to our usual healthy locality, will meet with an affirmative from all our resident physicians. Many cases, of an obdurate nature, have already occurred, some proving fatal, and others resisting remedial agents beyond ordinary cases. Epidemics of this kind, as they are the particular organs of the body, pathologically implicated, becoming more or less deranged, functionally, sometime prior to their full development. This warning already exists and the sooner we prepare the conditions least adapted to the generation of disease the more liable are we to escape the virulent epidemics generally.

What is necessary to be done might readily occur to the observant mind of any person having ordinary care of his own health, and his family. On the premises of many and especially tenements, accumulates during the winter months piles of ashes and rubbish upon which is thrown the dish-water and slops from the kitchen and other refuse matter about the house. Here is a mass of filth, as soon as hot weather begins, ready to undergo fermentation and decomposition, and poisonous gases are generated, which impregnate the atmosphere and thus become a source of some infectious disease. Cellars where there are stored potatoes, turnips and other vegetables may render impure the air in a large building. Collars which have been stored may become a source of disease. HARMISON'S STORE

Constantly Crowded with Customers.

Since thoroughly established in the elegant New Store Room on Second Street, the business of this establishment has steadily increased until now it is simply immense! The enormous Stock and unequalled low prices have forced the attention of the most incredulous. Selling choice brands of Calicoes at 6 1/2 cts that are held at 8 1-3 by all others, and other Staple Goods as much below the market in proportion is an argument that cannot be resisted.

Our low prices on SHOES and STRAW GOODS have created a continual rush in these departments. We have not room in this space to enumerate prices, but call especial attention to our large invoice of LADIES LINEN DUSTERS AND SUITS, exceedingly cheap. MEN'S SUMMER CLOTHING AT A SACRIFICE.
