The Highland News. HILLSBORO, OHIO: Wednesday, March 19, '84. Cincinnati is preparing for another grand Dramatic Festival next month. The trial of Berner, one of the murderers of Kirk, the horse dealer is progressing in Cincinnati. The Legislature has not yet adjourned and will probably remain in session till about the first of April. There was another rise in the Ohio last week, the river reaching a height of nearly fifty feet at Cincinnati, but is again falling. The Evangelical Ministerial Association of Cincinnati, have decided to invite the great revivalist, Mr. Moody, to that city and to hold a series of meetings in Music Hall, during next Fall or Winter. The French troops captured Bacinah last Wednesday evening, the Chinese garrison making but slight resistance, and abandoning the place as the French marched in. The French loss was slight, only 70 wounded. Arthur has been loyal to his party. He has healed serious breaches that existed when he took charge of the Government. He is thoroughly in accord with his party in Congress, and has given us an exceptionally good administration. Let justice be done him by Republicans at least.—Ohio State Jan 4. General Graham gained another victory over the Egyptian rebels under Osman Digna last Thursday, near Suakim. The battle was very severe, the Arabs fighting desperately at close quarters and at one time breaking one of the British squares and forcing them to retreat. The British loss was 70 killed and 100 wounded. The rebel loss is estimated at 4,000 killed and 6,000 wounded. The bill restoring Fitz John Porter to the army has passed both houses of Congress and now only awaits the President's signature to become a law. General Grant sent General Porter a dispatch congratulating him upon the passage of the bill, and some members of his old army corps, (the fifth) at Utica N. Y. fired a national salute in honor of the event. On the other hand the members of G. A. R. Post at Topeka, Kans., numbering 500, sent a unanimous dispatch to President Arthur requesting him to veto the bill, and Secretary of War Lincoln says he will resign his position before he will issue the order restoring Porter to the army. The action of Congress in the matter may be just and warranted by the new evidence, which it is claimed has been discovered in Porter's favor, but it is certain that the great majority of the Union-soldier think otherwise and it will take a long time to remove that impression.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce that James G. Lyle is a candidate for the office of Marshal of the village of Hillsboro, subject to the Republican Corporation Convention to be held on Monday, March 24th, 1884.

Death of Hon. A. D. Coombs.

A brief item in our Lynchburg letter informs us of the death of this gentleman, which occurred in that place last Saturday morning. Mr. Coombs came to this county some time before the war and settled on a farm in Dodson township near Lynchburg, where he resided until about two years ago, since which time he has made his home in Lynchburg. He was an active and zealous supporter of the Union cause during the war, and in October, 1866, was elected State Senator from the Ross and Highland district, having a majority of 358 in this county over his Democratic opponent, Hon. H. L. Dickey. He served one year in the Senate with marked ability, filling out the unexpired term of Hon. Silas Irion, who had resigned the year previous. Mr. Coombs was not a candidate for re-election and at the close of his Senatorial term he retired from public life. He was a native of Cincinnati and was a gentleman of liberal education, refined and courteous bearing and genial disposition, which made him a general favorite among his large circle of friends and acquaintances. He was a firm believer in the religious doctrines of Swedenborg and was a generous contributor to the support of that church. He was about 77 years of age, and during the last few years of his life his mind was partially deranged but he was always harmless and gentle. "Life's fitful fever over, he sleeps well."

The Legislature and the Liquor Question.

The graded liquor tax bill was adopted by the Democratic legislative caucus last Wednesday night, by a vote of 45 to 8, and the bill is now pending in the Senate. It may pass that body, but there are ten Democratic members of the House who have publicly pledged themselves to oppose it, and if they stand firm, the bill cannot pass the House. The most strenuous efforts to secure its passage, are being made by the brewers and wholesale liquor dealers, but many of the more respectable saloon keepers are protesting against its becoming a law, fearing a reaction in public sentiment that would ruin their business entirely. They say they are satisfied with the Scott Law and are sending in petitions against its repeal. Allen O. Myers stands out in his opposition to the graded tax, in spite of the Cincinnati Enquirer's double-headed editorial of last Saturday demanding the passage of the law. The Democrats who favor the graded tax bill do so on the ground that it will help them to carry the Spring elections in Cincinnati, Cleveland and other large cities. Many of them admit that the law will be declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court, but think they can prevent any decision being made until after the presidential election, and then they don't care how the question is decided. The majority of the Democratic country papers are denouncing the graded tax bill and opposing the repeal of the Scott Law. On the whole the prospect now seems favorable that the Scott Law will not be repealed at this session.

"It Might Have Been."

All of Judge Foraker's friends are glad that he made $11,000 clear cash in the National bank tax cases in Cincinnati. But he came near not making it. Had the Board of Control been wiser than it thought Foraker would have gotten $10,000 less. He offered to prosecute the cases for $1,000. "No," said the Board of Control, "we will give you a contingent fee. Take twenty-five per cent of all you collect. If you collect nothing you will get nothing." Judge went in and made his $11,000. The Board is a little dazed over it.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Newspaper Changes.

Mr. J. K. Newcomer has sold the Clinton County Democrat to our young friend, Mr. J. S. Hummel, who was formerly connected with this office, and has for some time past been managing the Democrat during the absence of Mr. Newcomer at Columbus. Mr. Hummel has made the Democrat an excellent local paper, and with his ability, enterprise and industry will no doubt achieve the success his efforts deserve. He has the best wishes of his numerous friends in this vicinity. Mr. Newcomer has bought the Delaware Herald and will soon take charge of that paper. We wish him success in his new station.

THE ANTI-SALOON ORDINANCE.

Laid on the Table until After the Spring Election.

Council at its special session Monday night March 19, by a vote of four to two, laid the anti-saloon ordinance on the table until their first regular meeting in April, which will be after the Municipal election. The ordinance will then come up again as the special order. We understand the members who voted to lay it on the table, did so because they desired to have an expression of the people through the ballot box, before taking decisive action. The friends of the ordinance are of course disappointed by its failure to pass before the election, but the delay may not prove any obstacle to its final passage. There are three new Councilmen to be elected and if the temperance people desire to have the ordinance pass, all they have to do is to elect men who will vote for it. Should the present Council fail to pass it at their next meeting.

Ohio State Journal.

In another column we publish the prospectus of this able and influential paper, the recognized organ of the Republican party at the State capital. The daily Journal has recently been enlarged and improved, and being the only morning paper published in Columbus has obtained a wide circulation throughout the State. The Weekly Journal is also a large and handsome sheet and is published at the very low rate of one dollar a year. It is in all respects a first-class Republican newspaper, filled with correspondence from all parts of the State, as well as general news, politics and miscellaneous reading, and we are not surprised to learn that its circulation is steadily increasing. Read the prospectus and try the Journal for a year, and you will not regret the outlay.

The New York World (Democratic), last week published about four columns of extracts from Ex-Secretary Blaine's forthcoming new book, which is nearly ready for publication. The book is mainly made up of personal recollections of public events during the last twenty years, in which the distinguished author bore so conspicuous and honorable a part, but the World regards its appearance just at this time as a shrewd piece of strategy in aid of Mr. Blaine's presidential chances.

Whether the United States are to regain their former pre-eminent rank as a commercial and naval power on the seas, is a question that no American can contemplate with indifference. The subject is discussed with marked ability in the North American Review for April, by the Hon. Nelson Dingley, M. C., who opposes the project of admitting foreign-built ships to American register, and by Capt. John Codman, who is well known as a zealous advocate of that measure. Judge J. A. Jameson, in the same number of the Review, discusses the question, "Shall Our Civilization be Preserved," pointing out the means that are at hand for withstanding the various agencies, physical, moral and intellectual, which threaten to overturn our existing civil and social institutions. The Rev. Dr. Philip Schaff gives a sketch of the "Development of Religious Freedom," Dr. Felix L. Oswald writes of "Changes in the Climate of North America," with special reference to the increasing frequency of disastrous floods. Prof. C. A. Egert offers "A Plea for Modern Languages" in the higher education; and Julian Hawthorne discusses of "Literature for Children." Finally, there is a discussion of "Recent Criticism of the Bible," by the Rev. Dr. E. Heber Newton and the Rev. A. C. Mortimer.

The "Old Ticker," The Catholic organ in Cleveland, the Universal, has a grim article on the old ticker, and suggests Tilden and Payne as the truly oldest ticker, with this remark: "That would be an old ticker. And how the opposition would caricature it! We might expect to meet such crystallizations as these: 'WARD COMPENSATION TICKET, 1884. 'For President, N. J. TILDEN, aged 70. (Mentally strong, physically weak). 'For Vice President, H. B. PAYNE, aged 76. (Physically strong, mentally weak). 'Costs, 146; average, 73. 'Or: '1884 NOMINATION DRAMA. 'For President, OLD COTTERHAM, 'For Vice President, STANDARD OIL, 'Platform: 'There's millions in it.' 'Stage Manager—The Machine. 'P. S. No substitutes behind the scenes except monopolists. 'This in plain prose is already the Republican talk. Add Tilden's unsavory record and the Payne Senatorial scandal, and the Democratic ticket would be lampooned out of practical existence within forty-eight hours of its birth.

Peterson's Magazine for April is of sterling merit, even more so than usual. It opens with a charming steel-engraving, "The Little Gleaner." Then comes a double-sized, colored, steel fashion-plate; four patterns for D'Oyleys, embroidered, printed in colors; and quite half a hundred wood engravings of fashions, designs for work-table, etc., etc. The stories, as usual, are the best of their kind. They lead off with "The Utterly Utter Boston Browns," illustrated, that is full of racy wit. Peterson in short, gets better and better. The price is still only two dollars a year. To clubs it is astonishing low, or four copies for six dollars and a half, with an extra copy to the person getting up the club. Or five copies for eight dollars, with both an extra copy and "Tired Out," a splendid steel engraving, or "The Golden Gift," illustrated, for getting up the club. Specimens are sent, gratis, to persons wishing to get up clubs. It is not too late to subscribe for 1884. Address Chas. J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.
