Republican Convention.

The Republicans of Highland county will meet in convention at the Court House in Hillsboro, Saturday, June 21st, at 3 o'clock p. m., to elect seven delegates and seven alternate delegates to the Judicial Convention to be held in Chillicothe, June 26th.

H. L. GARRETT, Sec'y Rep. Ex. Com. W. C. COWMAN, Chairman.

Democratic Audacity.

The Democratic press throughout the country, with scarce an exception, is lamenting, protesting against and reasoning out the stringency of money in the country's matters, and are able in their way to see the cause in the McKinley tariff bill. Now to be able to do this successfully requires considerable ingenuity. For instance in the East it will not do to denounce the "robber manufacturer," who pockets all the profits. But in that section the wise Demagogue that if the manufacturer could get "cheap raw material" it would be an everlasting blessing to both producer and consumer. This is the logic in the manufacturing districts, while in rural, agricultural sections the manufacturer is openly attacked. Such is the logic in this section and also in the West and South. To show that the charge against the manufacturers being "rich barons" is false, we clip the following from a speech made by Mr. Walker, Representative in Congress from Massachusetts, in the House a short time since:

In 1860 the number of individuals engaged in the eleven leading manufacturing industries of Worcester was 107, of whom 101 were journeymen and only six were the sons of manufacturers. Of the 107, forty-three failed and sixty died or retired with property, and only eight of the sons of the 107 now have any property or died leaving any. The number of individuals engaged in the ten leading manufacturing interests in that city in 1878 was 176, of whom 162 began as journeymen, and fifteen only were the sons of manufacturers. The number of persons engaged in the ten leading industries in 1880 was seventy-five, sixty-eight of whom began as journeymen, and only six were the sons of manufacturers. Of the seventy-five, forty-one failed, thirty died or retire with property, and only six sons of the seventy-five have any property or died leaving any.

There are no generalities in the above, but locality is given with the former position of the men engaged in manufacturing. It will also be seen that those so engaged in manufacturing, over one half of the men failed. This condition of things should have its weight, and no doubt will with the farmers. It is evident that all is not smooth sailing in other vocations of life no more than it is in tilling the soil, and that there does occur depressions in the business and financial world which cannot be solved neither by tariff or free trade. If our Democratic logicians would specify and not generalize they might be answered, but it is like shooting into the air to try to answer an argument when the general industries of the whole country are passed in review, and that is just what the plan of attack of the Democracy is. Now will some intelligent farmer of this county ask a free trade Democrat the effect the McKinley tariff bill has on the price of butter, which is an article that the Highland county farmer is much interested in? Farmers call for a reason in regard to some commodity which you can easily understand and don't be misled by some statement in regard to manufacturers in Connecticut or Pennsylvania. The protective policy of the government has been indorsed by the people, but the Democratic party has long had a penchant for analyzing dead bodies. This tariff discussion in the Democratic press is a corpse that needs to be buried again. It was buried two years ago, but these ghouls had to have an issue, and as usual went to the graveyard to get one. The McKinley bill may not be perfect, but it is as near right as the varied interests of the country will permit of.

I. A. FEIBEL, HILLSBORO, O.

R. T. Hough For Congress.

A dispatch from Hillsboro to the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette of Saturday last contains the following:

The situation is getting decidedly interesting in the Eleventh Congressional District. It has all along been supposed that Highland would not put up a candidate, but within a week a strong pressure has been brought to bear on Hon. R. T. Hough, of this city, to permit the presentation of his name. Although he seems not to be inclined that way, it is clear that he will be forced into it by the Democrats not only of his own county, but by others in the district. Mr. Hough is the law partner of Judge S. F. Steele, and part owner of the Hillsboro Gazette. The work he has performed for his party personally and through his newspaper, entitles him to the honor of a nomination, and besides that he has the ability. Mr. Hough says that he will not allow his name to be presented to the Convention if John W. Washburn, of Pike, is a candidate. It is altogether probable that Mr. Washburn would not be a candidate if Mr. Hough will consent to be, so that a very nice little arrangement between the two gentlemen is not improbable. Judge Steele has been mentioned as a candidate, but he says he would not accept if nominated, so that his name may be rubbed off the slate.

The Democracy of the eleventh district could not do themselves a greater honor than to nominate Mr. Hough for Congress. He is, without a doubt, the most popular man in the district, and his popularity is not confined to his own party. Hundreds of Republicans, well knowing Mr. Hough's ability, integrity, superior business capacity, and his devotion to the people's interests, have also joined in urging his nomination, and will give him a generous support. We have it from good authority that Mr. Washburn will not be in the race, and if such be the case, Mr. Hough will undoubtedly be the unanimous choice of the convention, and his majority will be up in the thousands. Mr. Hough has done yeoman service for his party, not only by his personal efforts, but through his paper, which is the leading Democratic journal of the district. He is a man of the people in the strictest sense of the word, and enjoys the unshaken confidence of all.—State Register.

Ah! and this is our Town. Well, at first thought we are not so much enthused over the prospect of a Democrat representing this district in Congress, which by every fair means belongs to the Republicans, and only for the Democratic gerrymander was surely Republican, but the ways and waves of political supremacy are never a certain quantity. On second thought if the Democratic Legislature of Ohio had the right to redistrict the State, and this is a Democratic district, we are emphatically in favor of Highland county securing the place. Aye, more; we are in favor of Hillsboro furnishing the man, and why not Mr. R. T. Hough? But this is most to early to start a Democratic boom. Some of our popular Republicans may yet lift the big man out of the pale of possibilities.

W. D. Howell's new story the "Shadow of a Dream" has just been published by Messrs. Harper & Brothers. Some critics consider it such a tale as Poe or Hawthorne might have conceived, and detect in it a return to Mr. Howell's early romantic vein as exemplified in his "Undiscovered Country," though they admit, as the Boston Traveller says, that "it is held with a firmer hand, and determined with a finer artistic treatment."

Mrs. Elizabeth W. Champney, who is now in London, and recently had the pleasure of attending a reception at the Court of St. James, will contribute to the next number of Harper's Bazar a sketch entitled "Caught in the Whirlpool: An Experience during the London Season." An article by Helen Jay, entitled "The Middle-aged Woman," will appear in the same number.

Yet They Advocate State Rights.

A bill known as the Wilson bill passed the U. S. Senate last Thursday, by a vote of 34 to 10. The bill confers on each State the right to prevent the sale of intoxicants in original packages or otherwise within its borders. This national law is needed, from the fact that the recent decision of the Supreme Court holding that the manufacturers of any article of merchandise can be sent into any State or territory under the inter-state commerce law. This decision has been construed by the liquor interest to mean that original packages may not only be shipped, but sold in any State regardless of local law. The Wilson bill maintains the right of the State to prohibit, by statute, the sale of intoxicants within its borders. But such old Staterighters as Voorhees, of Indiana, and Vest, of Missouri, see in this Republican measure an attempt to supercede the Supreme Court. They stigmatize the measure as "an act to overrule the decision of the Supreme Court." Daniel W. Voorhees' State rights ideas need some more reconstruction.
