$400,000 worth of property was destroyed by fire in Cincinnati Sunday afternoon.

Among the many things to be thankful for is the mild weather and the small coal bill.

Kuroke's death seems to have been only another Russian rumor that can not be confirmed.

The New York Sun describes the result of the election as "the solid North and the melted South."

Providence, R. I., boasts of a widow worth $20,000,000 and with no children. How happy she could make some man!

The Toledo Blade very sensibly says there is no necessity for settling who will be the Republican candidate for Governor next May or June is the only proper authority to declare whether or not Mr. Herrick shall be re-nominated.

Many newspapers are still giving reasons for the great Roosevelt landslide. While the reasons given are numerous, the fact that the Republican Presidential candidate was an honest man and that the majority of the American people like honesty is the one that is omitted.

Whether the placing of the trucks on the B. & O. S-W. track Saturday morning was the work of a person with a malicious turn of mind or the unthinking act of some boy, the act was directly responsible for the maiming of Oscar Hodson for life. The guilty parties should be ferreted out and punished to the full extent of the law.

It is the duty of the leaders of the Republican party to at once consider a fair and reasonable revision of the tariff. It was one of the promises of the party in its platform. The present Dingley tariff was necessary seven years ago. Now, however, its rates are in many instances too high. This is especially true of trust controlled articles on which the American people pay from 25 to 50 per cent. higher in many cases than the same goods sold for in other countries though manufactured here.

Why Scroggy's Loss in Greene?

The Lebanon Star and Wilmington Republican are insinuating that Hon. C. Q. Hildebrandt opposed the election of Thos. E. Scroggy. They mention the fact that Scroggy ran behind his ticket in Warren, Clinton, Clermont Brown and Highland counties and dwell especially on the loss in Clinton county. Both papers are silent about how he ran behind in his home, Greene county.

Roosevelt carried the Sixth district by about 8,000 votes, while Scroggy's plurality was about 2,400. This is a loss of about 5,600 votes. In every county in the district Scroggy ran behind the ticket. The manner in which his name was placed on the ticket would be expected to cause a loss in Clinton county in spite of everything that Mr. Hildebrandt could do to the contrary. The loss there was about 1,600 votes, and it is on this which they are harping. That Mr. Hildebrandt was responsible for it we do not believe. It was Scroggy himself.

How did he run in Greene county, his own home, and where Mr. Hildebrandt could not be the cause of his being behind his ticket. There his majority was exactly 889 votes less than that given Roosevelt. Of the thirty precincts in Greene county Scroggy ran behind in twenty-nine and just held his own in one precinct. In his home town of Xenia he was 295 votes behind his ticket. Ask anyone who knows Scroggy why this happened and they will not give the same reason that the Star and Republican are trying to palm off.

Scroggy's greatest loss was in Warren county, where he was over 2,100 votes behind his ticket. This is the home of Judge Runyan, Democratic opponent, but it was also for many years the home of Judge Scroggy. The voters in that county knew both candidates. It is unnecessary to say more. Considering the man and the circumstances it looks like the less said the better, especially by Republicans. His fool friends had best not exploit the true reason for the 5,600 loss of votes.

A Startling Test.

To save a life, Dr. T. G. Merritt, of No. Mehoopany, Pa., made a startling test resulting in a wonderful cure. He writes, "a patient was attacked with violent hemorrhages, caused by ulceration of the stomach. I had often found Electric Bitters excellent for acute stomach and liver troubles so I prescribed them. The patient gained from the first, and has not had an attack in 14 months." Electric Bitters are positively guaranteed for Dyspepsia, indigestion, Constipation and Kidney troubles. Try them. Only 50c at The W. R. Smith & Co's. drug store.

Just Honesty. The American people are awake to the necessity of honest officials. The change for grafters and corruptionists creeping into power are lessening rapidly if the recent election is a sign. Under the above heading the Springfield Sun says: "Never in the history of the American people have the indications been fairer. From east to west and from north to south has gone up the cry for honesty in office. In the face of great disadvantages it appears that Delaware has elected a legislature that will defeat the ambitions of Adick for the senate. In Wisconsin, LaFollette was successful. Colorado ridged herself of Peabody, and with him goes the tyrant Bell. Joe Folk in Missouri, when Roosevelt carried the state, was elected. Just honesty—that was all that Douglas of Massachusetts fought for and won." The Chicago Tribune, partisan to the core, takes up Joe Folk's victory and his plea for honesty and says: "Just honesty. That's all. A perfectly simple proposition. A child could see it. But it took a big man to work it." "Just honesty. Thou shalt not steal. When Moses said it, it was already old. When Folk said it, it was still new. It runs through autocracy, aristocracy, democracy and all other forms of government, and if it doesn't vivify them they are dead. The election in Missouri went to the roots of life.

DRUGS USED FOR HEADACHE. Injurious Habit Unconsciously Acquired by Many Sufferers from the Affection. In a previous article a warning was uttered against the danger of a resort to "headache powders" and other powerful drugs for the relief of headache. It was shown, says Youth's Companion, that the remedy eventually would prove worse than the disease, and that the wisest course for a sufferer from periodical attacks of pain in the head was to search for the cause of the trouble and remove it, or, if that was not possible, to use such palliative measures as would soften the pain and perhaps shorten the attack, even if they could not cure. There is another unfortunately large class of sufferers for whom this warning comes too late. The headaches have existed for so many years that they have become inveterate and recur again and again, until seemingly the only possible mitigation of the suffering is in drugs. The headache "habit" is fully established, and the drug habit has followed as an almost necessary consequence. The problem is now the cure of the drug habit, which must be attacked by the removal of the cause—the headache habit. Severe periodical headaches, of the kind which almost force the sufferer to drugs, are almost always either ocular or gouty. They can be prevented only by the accurate fitting of glasses or the remedying of other defects, or by overcoming the gouty condition. Neither of these tasks is easy, even to the most skillful of physicians, after the headaches have persisted so long that a "habit" of the system has been formed, yet persistence in treatment will always bring an amelioration, and sometimes a cure. The sufferer from gouty or uric-acid headache has usually for the time being the choice of three evils—to endure the pain, to take some more or less poisonous drug, with its evil consequences on the heart and in the establishment of a habit, or to take acids with the design of transferring the pain from the head to the joints. Permanent relief can be got only, in general, from dieting—either alone or combined with appropriate treatment at some mineral spring. Such a grave condition should of course be treated by the trained physician, and it is possible here to indicate only the general outline of dieting called for. It is the rigid exclusion for a time, at least, of all meat, fish, poultry, eggs, tea and coffee, as well as peas and beans. One need not fear starvation even under this radical regimen, for there remains a choice of milk, cheese, bread and butter, fruits, nuts, potatoes and nearly all the vegetables.

BELTS THAT ARE MODISH. Popular Adjunct to the Up-to-Date Costume for the Winter Season. A great deal may be said about the new belts, for they form so essential a part of the costume that they must not be left out. In the beginning of the chapter upon belts it must be stated, says the Brooklyn Eagle, that they are divided into several classes. No longer is a belt a belt. It is sometimes a girle. Again it is a stomacher. Again a belt is so fashioned that it forms a wide back, making a postilion effect; and it is so cut that it is deep enough to dispense with the shirt waist. With a deep postilion belt, and a handsome deep stock, one can put on one's winter Eton coat and be very presentable. There is one pretty belt more in the form of a girle, and made of Liberty satin. It is smooth and wide and is laid in folds. It is very deep, coming almost up under the arms. It is snug and it is put together without visible fastening. There is neither hook nor eye and there is no buckle nor button of any kind. Such a girle is best made over a crinoline foundation. But you can do very nicely by taking three yards of Liberty satin ribbon four inches wide. To make your girle, pin one end of the ribbon in the front, fastening it securely. Now begin and wind the ribbon tightly around your waist, gradually increasing the width of the girle. Finally pin the loose end tightly and invisibly with tiny pins. Making of the Pup. Two Yorkshiremen, father and son, went out to ferret rabbits, taking with them a puppy they hoped to train into a good sporting dog. After a while the puppy, getting excited, worked his way a long distance down a burrow, and the two sportsmen, men, anxious to recover him, put their heads down a hole on each side of the fence to discover his whereabouts. Presently, a voice in tones of anguish was heard calling for help. "Here, Joe, quick! He has got hold of me by the nose, and I can't get him off!" "Bear it, laddie, bear it!" was the sympathetic reply; "it'll be the making of the pup!"—Smith's Weekly.

Camphor in the Piano. Moths get into pianos, as they do into closets and elsewhere, and here they feed on the felt coverings of the hammers, eating away their surfaces, and so impairing their effect. What you want is a couple of camphor balls, each in a little bag of cheese cloth, hung inside the piano, one at either side.—N. Y. Sun. Well Trained. He—Nice dog, very! Have you taught it any new tricks since I was here last? She (sweetly)—Yes; it will fetch your hat if you whistle.—Smith's Weekly. The Best Liniment. "Chamberlain's Pain Balm is considered the best liniment on the market," write Post & Bliss, of Georgia, Va. No other liniment will heal a cut or bruise so promptly. No other affords such quick relief from rheumatic pains. No other is so valuable for deep seated pains like lame back and pains in the chest. Give this liniment a trial and you will never wish to be without it. Sold by W. R. Smith & Co., Druggists.
