GOVERNOR JOHNSON

Secured For Chautauqua—Other Prominent Speakers.

Governor Johnson, of Minnesota, who through his two great campaigns for Governor of that state and his prominent mention for the Democratic Presidential nomination has gained a national reputation, has been secured for an address during the Chautauqua, next August. That he possesses unusual qualities is conclusively shown by the fact that he was elected Governor of Minnesota on the Democratic ticket the same year that Roosevelt carried the state by 110,000. This stamps Gov. Johnson as an unusual man, and the people of this community are to be congratulated upon having the opportunity to hear him.

Gov. Buchtel, of Colorado, and Dr. H. C. Jameson, of Cincinnati, have also been secured for the program. Gov. Buchtel has made quite a reputation as Governor of his state and is the only preacher that has ever been honored in this way. Dr. Jameson is a speaker of great force and ability and all who heard him during the Home Coming last fall will hail with delight his return. He is one of the best pulpit orators in the country and a treat is in store for all who accept the opportunity to hear him.

Fine Cattle.

John S. Jolly and Joseph Swishelm shipped to Cincinnati last week one of the finest lot of cattle ever shipped to the market from here. Seven head of the cattle were purchased from William E. Duckwall, who resides just north of town. Five head of these weighed 1,600 pounds each and two 1,450 each. Four head were secured from Albert Morris, east of town, one of these weighed 1,800 pounds and the other three averaged 1,400 pounds. Jolly and Swishelm paid the top market price of $6 a hundred for all of these cattle, and they were sold to an exporter in Cincinnati at the top market price on last Friday of $6.75. They were an unusually high grade of cattle and proved it by selling at the top export price.

A Disgusting Sight.

That people should be so lacking in good manners that they will so conduct themselves at public gatherings as to interfere with the entertainment and prevent those who have gone to see and hear from enjoying the entertainment is certainly disgusting to everyone. Still there is scarcely ever a public gathering that an example of this is not given. At the Memorial Services in the Opera House this year a great many people who had gone to hear and enjoy the very excellent program prepared were prevented from so doing by a bunch of almost grown young people who seemed to think that this was the proper time for them to talk over all of their school boy and school girl gossip, that it was the thing to do to tramp in and out of the building all of the time the services were going on and to try and see how much noise they could make each trip. Surely if they knew the opinion that every one present formed of them they would have been more careful, for nothing so lowers young people in the estimation of everyone as misbehaving at public meetings. People who only want to gossip certainly can find better places than public entertainments where they are disturbing everyone around them who has any desire to see or hear what is going on. They must certainly know that such conduct attracts attention to them and places them in the worst light possible. If they do these things through ignorance they are to be pitied, if through thoughtlessness of the rights of others, they should be publicly reprimanded. We believe that under either condition if the program would be stopped and they be required to leave the house that it would be a lesson to them which would never be forgotten by them and would prevent its recurrence. How often have you gone to some entertainment when you felt like you would like to take some full grown young man or woman by the collar and shake them until they would never want to talk again? They prevent others from hearing, hear nothing themselves, place themselves in the estimation of sensible people as persons of low breeding and ignorance and reflect discredit not only on themselves but their parents. If you don't care what people think of you for the sake of those who have gone to see and hear and out of respect for your parents behave yourself in public.

COMMENCEMENT

Program for Class and Commencement Exercises very Entertaining.

Class Play Well Produced and Acting Good—Hon. O. T. Corson Delivered Helpful Address—Excellent Music.

The Class Exercises of the graduating class of the high school were held at the opera house Thursday evening. The program consisted of the Class History by Miss Jane Vance and the Class Prophecy by Misses Myra Johnson, Lizzie Brouse, Leo Parker and Marjorie Ayres and piano solos by Herschell Walker and Miss Roxie Gruber and the Class Play "The Professor."

"The Professor" was a three act comedy all of the characters being taken by members of the graduating class. The play is laid at commencement time and shows the troubles that fall on the head of the professor, all details and arrangements for the services, all the troubles of everyone connected with the program are brought to him for settlement and his is certainly a strenuous life during commencement week.

All of the bickerings and petty troubles of the high school during this important time were portrayed and the parts were all well reproduced and the members of the class are to be congratulated upon the swing and vim that they put into the play and for their excellent acting and reproduction of the characters. No person who has gone through school would fail to recognize the conditions reproduced and in every school representative of the characters given in the play can be found.

The entire program was very interesting and a great advancement over the old style commencement where each graduate recited an essay of their own production.

The music for the exercises was furnished by the High School Orchestra and added much to the pleasure of the evening.

On Friday evening the Commencement exercises were held.

Hon. O. T. Corson, of Columbus, delivered the class address which was full of much good advice to the class and many good things for the large audience who had gathered to hear it. He congratulated the class upon having had the determination and grit to finish their high school course; of the fact that this really required grit and determination and pointed out the great number who never graduated from any place never finished what they started in to do. He urged upon the parents that they try to keep their children in school just as long as possible and spoke of how many people in middle life regretted the neglecting of their opportunities for a schooling; that you could find any number who regretted having stopped school when they did, but that you could not find anyone who regretted having gone to school as long as he had who felt as though he had had too much schooling. He spoke of our great free school system and of the great work it was doing and called to the attention of the parents and citizens present a neglect on their part in the public school work, of their lack of interest in the conduct of the schools. How a parent seemed to think that when he had sent his child to school that he had done his entire duty and that then it was up to the teacher. This clear up showed to be a false position and of how much benefit it would be to the school if the parents would take more interest in the work and of the great assistance they could be to the teachers. He made a plea to the class that they not get away from old traditions and old teachings and spoke of the necessity of hard labor in order to secure success in any line of work, that success was generally composed of about five per cent of ability and ninety-five per cent of hard work and how by reason of hard work the slow plodding boy who had much trouble in learning frequently outstripped the quick brilliant boy who never learned the lesson of hard work.

On behalf of the Board of Education Prof. F. H. Warren presented to the class their diplomas showing their successful completion of their different courses. He stated that seven members of the class graduated with "cum laude" and that two received the honor of "magna cum laude." That the Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware had offered free tuition to the two graduating with the highest honors and that Misses Elizabeth Roads and Myra Johnson had this honor and he understood would both attend that college this fall. He spoke in high terms of the good work done by the entire class.

Mr. Warren in a preliminary talk before the presentation of the diplomas spoke feelingly of the fact that this would be his last year as superintendent of the local schools and of his regret in leaving Hillsboro. How his lines had fallen in pleasant places here and of the kindnesses of the people to him and his family and of the warm spot that would always remain in his heart for Hillsboro and its people.

The music for the evening was furnished by Howe's Orchestra of Columbus and was of an unusually high order being a treat to all lovers of good music.

Nursery Inspection.

Under the Ohio Nursery and Orchard Inspection Law, every nurseryman, or any other person in the state, engaged in growing trees, shrubs, plants or vines for sale, must, before July 1st, file application for the inspection of such stock with the Ohio Department of Agriculture. The disposal of uninspected stock, either by sale or gift, renders the owner liable to a severe fine. These inspections are made by the Division of Nursery and Orchard Inspection, and free of charge when applications are filed before 1st.

For application blanks and further information, address N. E. Shaw, Ohio Department of Agriculture, Columbus, Ohio.

Automobile License.

Clerk of Courts, F. R. Ambrose, has received from the Secretary of State a copy of the automobile law enacted by the last General Assembly. It takes effect June 10th, but owners of motor vehicles have 30 days to comply with its requirements. Applications for licenses must be made direct to the office of Secretary of State, automobile department.

The application must contain a brief description of the vehicle to be registered, including the name of the manufacturer, the manufacturers' number of the motor vehicle, if number there be, the character of the motor power and the amount of such motor power stated in figures of horse power, the name and address of the owner of such motor vehicle, and the name of the county of the state in which owner resides.

Teachers Employed.

The School Board on Monday evening re-employed all of the present corps of teachers for the ensuing school year. The salaries of Prof. N. B. LaMonda and Miss Hodson were raised $5.00 on the month. Miss Lucy West did not apply for reappointment and no selection was made to fill this vacancy. There are now two vacancies to be filled in the school, that of principal of the High school caused by the promotion of Prof. Arter to the position of superintendent and by Miss West's resignation. The position of principal is a very important one, second only to the superintendent, and as the success and standing of the school is largely dependent on his ability, care should be exercised by the board in filling this position. A number of applications have been filed for this office with the board and the selections will probably be made at the July meeting.

At 10:30 a. m. Rev. John A. Wright, of Columbus, Ohio, representative of the Anti-Saloon League will speak. Evening sermon by the pastor at 7:30 "The Silent Years of Jesus."

CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS

Interestingly Related by O. N. Sams at Methodist Church.

On last Sunday morning Hon. O. N. Sams, who attended the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Baltimore as a lay delegate, delivered an address at the Methodist Church on the work of the conference.

Mr. Sams confined himself mainly to describing the actions of the conference that were not reported in the press at the time. He corrected the impression that had become very general that that portion of the discipline relating to worldly amusements had been amended, and stated that while the great majority of the preachers were in favor of the amendment, and the bishops had unanimously recommended its amendment, that it remained as it had been for the past thirty-six years. He spoke of many interesting events of the session and the large congregation were much pleased and instructed by the address.

BAD BOOZE

Costs Bob Peale $100 and Costs.

On last Sunday night Bob Peale sold what he claimed was whiskey to Frank Lewis and Joe Kilgour. It tasted so much like poison to them that they tried to return the goods and get their money refunded, this Peale refused to do.

On Monday morning they reported to Marshall Satterfield the sale and Peale was arrested. He was brought before Mayor Elton and entered a plea of guilty, whereupon the Mayor handed him the nice little package of $100 and costs and sentenced him to work out the fine and costs at the Cincinnati work house if he did not come across. Peale said he thought he could raise the money and was given until Thursday morning to raise it. At this time he has been unable to raise the money and will probably have the pleasure of a ride to the city this (Thursday) morning.

From what has been said about the stuff sold if Peale had not plead guilty it would have been very hard to make a case against him for selling whiskey although very easy for selling poison.

Committees Report.

A meeting of the executive committee for the Street Exposition, at which the chairman of most of the committees that have been appointed were present, was held Tuesday evening.

Reports were made by the different chairmen and with but one exception they were of a very flattering character. Thos. Mitchell, chairman of the fruit committee, gave it as his opinion that there would be but very few apples this year, and as that fruit is about the only one seasonable at the time the exposition will be held that it would be useless to attempt to do anything in that department. The reports of the chairmen were informal and were only outlines of what and how they expected their respective departments to be conducted.

The executive committee requested all of the different chairmen to make a definite outline and a full description of what each department would expect to do within the coming week and to submit same to the executive committee as soon as possible. This request is made as the committee desires to have the programs printed at an early date as possible.

Chas. M. Kerns, who had previously been appointed as chairman of the baby show, accepted and will have charge of this interesting department of the exposition. This has always been in shows of this kind given at other places one of the best and most interesting departments.

The committees are working hard and earnestly and would be glad to receive any help or assistance that you can give them. The co-operation of every one is needed to make the exposition the success it should be. Do your part.

Dr. W. E. Hewitt, Surgeon; Major Walter Macaarm, Military Instructor; T. R. Ferguson, Supt. Tinning and Bryan Monahan, Supt. Iron Dept.; officials of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans Home, of Xenia, were here last Saturday. Accompanied by Col. D. Q. Morrow, who is one of the trustees of that institution, they took a trip to Serpent Mound, Ft. Hill, Butler Spring and Sinking Spring. They took photographs of many of the beautiful and historic views to be found in that section of the county.

How would you like to have your newspaper printed on black paper in white ink? There is some prospect that you may in a few years be doing this, as it is becoming so expensive to make the present white paper and wood pulp is becoming so scarce that it may soon reach such a price as to make it prohibitive for use as newspaper. It is claimed that the black paper can be made much cheaper than the white, and that white ink will be used instead of black. Can you imagine what the paper would look like? If we should then want to run a column with mourning border would it also change conditions and have a deep border of white?
