

The News-Herald

GRANVILLE BARRERE, Editor and Manager.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE $1.00 IF NOT PAID IN ADVANCE, $1.25.

Entered at Postoffice Hillsboro, Ohio as second class matter.

ADVERTISING RATES

Will be Made Known on Application

Republican Ticket.

President, WILLIAM H. TAFT.

Vice-President, JAMES S. SHERMAN.

Governor, ANDREW L. HARRIS.

Lieutenant Governor, FRANCIS M. TREADWAY.

Secretary of State, CARMICHAEL THOMPSON.

Auditor of State, EDWARD M. FULLINGTON.

State Treasurer, C. C. GREEN.

Attorney General, U. G. DENMAN.

Board of Public Works, WILLIAM KIRTLEY, JR.

B. M. BALDWIN.

Dairy and Food Commissioner, R. W. DUNLAP.

State Commissioner of Schools, JOHN W. ZELLER.

Judges Supreme Court, J. A. SEAUCK.

J. L. PRICE.

Clerk of Supreme Court, J. F. MCNUTT.

Congressman, JESSE TAYLOR.

William H. Taft for President was the decision of the National Republican Convention. This is an especially wise and fitting selection. No man in recent years is better entitled to the title of the man who does things than Sec. Taft. Many different tasks requiring great ability and tact have been imposed upon him and each has been performed without the blowing of trumpets, but competently. As a judge on the United States Circuit and District bench he showed himself to be a man of unusual legal ability. As Governor of the Philippines he disclosed a remarkable executive ability and the wisdom and tact to deal with new and difficult problems and did more towards bringing peace in our island possessions than any other man. As Secretary of War he has been called upon to solve many knotty problems and his handling of them all has, in each instance, added to his great reputation. That he is in complete accord with the progressive ideas and will carry out the great work on behalf of the common people, that has been inaugurated by President Roosevelt, is certain. His natural ability and training especially qualify him for the high office to which he aspires. What better assurance can there be that a man will perform a duty well than that every duty he has ever been given to do, has been well done. This is Secretary Taft's record and knowing this record the people of the country demanded his nomination and the action of the convention last week was simply a carrying out of that demand. Each duty that has devolved upon Secretary Taft to perform has been so ably and well done that after each one has come the call to come up higher and now the great Republican party has conferred upon him its highest honor and placed him before the people as the one in their judgment best fitted to fill the highest position in the world, the Presidency of the United States. We believe that the people recognizing his pre-eminent ability, fitness and qualification for this high office and as reward for his faithful and able services in their behalf will triumphantly elect him next November. We believe that the people will say:

Foraker For Taft.

"Until the convention made a nomination every Republican had a right to have his choice. But now it is no longer a question of men, but a question of party. This way Secretary Taft becomes my candidate for the presidency, and while I can probably do but little, yet I shall do all I can to help elect him. Republicans will now quit contending and turn all their guns on the common enemy." JOSEPH B. FORAKER.

they want. They rise to their high positions because when they fail to secure exactly what they want they go forth and honestly and fearlessly fight the "common enemy." Their minds are too large to hold personal spite when the principles they believe in are at issue.

"Until the convention made a nomination every Republican had a right to his choice." We believe not only that this is true, but that it is also his duty. This is an inalienable right of every citizen and no man is much of a man who has not a preference and is not afraid to express it.

"But now it is no longer a question of men, but a question of party." Here Sen. Foraker shows that with him principle rises above personal preference and that because he can not name who shall lead, he will not be a traitor to his principles and desert to the enemy.

"I shall do all that I can to elect him (Taft)." This is a flat-footed statement of his intention so plain, that "he who runs may read." No one has questioned the sincerity or honesty of this statement, save those who have always been the enemies of Sen. Foraker—the Democrats. To believe that he is not for Sec. Taft you must think him a liar. As his friend you must know him to be for Taft.

Fullington for Auditor.

The only alleged "argument" advanced against the nomination and election of Edward M. Fullington, Republican candidate for state auditor, is put forth by the very small number of Republicans who were dissatisfied with the late Republican state convention because they could not run to suit themselves; but the argument is in fact in favor of Mr. Fullington's candidacy. The only objection urged against him is that he is a deputy under the present auditor, and soon over-sensitive people profess to fear that his election as auditor would involve a kind of political hierarchy in that office.

The objection is no well founded, for the very good reason that Mr. Fullington's familiarity with the duties of the auditor's office and the ability with which he has discharged the duties of deputy auditor clothe him with the very best qualifications for the auditorship. These qualifications are the very opposite of those possessed by his Democratic opponent, if the latter has any, for he certainly has no experience comparable with Mr. Fullington's for the office to which both aspire.

Mr. Fullington has been associated all his life with affairs that were well calculated to qualify him for the auditorship. He was born on a farm in Union county, obtained his education in the common schools and at Kenyon college, entered the banking business and was elected auditor of his native county in 1895, and re-elected in 1903, without opposition and with the indorsement of both the Republican and Democratic county conventions. At the close of his second term as county auditor Mr. Fullington was in 1902 appointed chief deputy of the bureau of inspection and supervision of public offices, and it was generally conceded at that time that he was the best fitted man in the state for that position. He continued in it until January, 1904, when he was appointed chief clerk of the auditor of state. In April of that year the legislature provided for a deputy auditor of state, to which position Mr. Fullington was promoted on account of fitness, and which he has since filled.

For years the people of this state clamored for a system of uniform accounting in the various counties, and when legislation was finally obtained inaugurating such a system, it was Edward M. Fullington who put it into practical effect by laboring untiringly to make it meet the desirable ends for which it was intended.

He did this to the satisfaction of everybody in the state, except a few county office holders who became offended because they were caught in practices contrary to the statutes. Mr. Fullington performed an eminent public service in inaugurating the present system of uniform accounting, and it should be recognized by his election to the auditorship, a position which no man in Ohio is better qualified to occupy at this time. It is apparent that the only objection urged against Mr. Fullington in this campaign is in fact the highest possible indorsement of his candidacy.—Toledo Times.

Probate Judge T. M. Watts is well acquainted with Mr. Fullington and endorses all that is said about him in the above editorial. He says that in his judgment Mr. Fullington is one of the brightest and most able young men in the state and a man of the highest integrity and honesty. He says that he knows of no man in years who is so well qualified in every way and with such a thorough training for the office to which he aspires as Mr. Fullington and that in his judgment if he is elected State Auditor that its management will be of an exceptionally competent character.

"Swinging Around the Circle."

As a last effort to redeem himself in the eyes of the people in the campaign of 1860, President Johnson took to the stump. The disastrous result is told in the Reminiscences of Carl Schurz in the July McClure's. Mr. Schurz, says:

"His (Johnson's) journey, the famous 'swinging around the circle,'—a favorite phrase of his to describe his fight against the Southern enemies of the Union, the Secessionists, at one time, and against the Northern disunionist, the radical Republicans, at another—was a series of the most disastrous exhibitions. At Philadelphia he was received with studied coldness. At New York he had an official reception, and he used the occasion to rehearse his often-told story of his wonderful advancement from the position of alderman in his native town to the presidency of the United States, with some insignificant remarks about his policy attached. At Cleveland he appeared before a large audience, according to abundant testimony, in a drunken condition. Indeed, the character of his speech cannot be explained in any other way. He descended to the lowest tone of partisan stump speaking. He bandied epithets with some of his hearers who interrupted him. The whole speech was a mixture of inane drivel and reckless aspersion. His visit at Chicago passed without any particular scandal. But the speech he made at St. Louis fairly capped the climax. He accused the Republicans in Congress of substantially having planned the New Orleans massacre. He indulged himself in a muddled tirade about Judas, Christ and Moses. He declared that all his opponents were after to hold on to the offices; but that he would kick them out; that they wanted to get rid of him, but that he defied them. And so on. At Indianapolis a disorderly crowd hooted him down and would not let him speak at all.

"He returned to Washington an utterly discomfited and disgraced man, having gone out to win popular support, and having earned only popular disgust. The humorists, pictorial as well as literary, pounced upon the 'swinging around the circle' as a fruitful subject for caricature or satire, turning serious wrath into a bitter laugh. Andrew Johnson became the victim not only of detestation but of ridicule."

Real Estate Transfers.

- Olive Miller to Charles E. Conwell, Hillsboro lot, $1,350. John Scanlon to Hannah Scanlon, Hillsboro lot, $1,400. Charles Fustenberg to Charles Pluess, Clay tp., 20a, $500. Mary Shoup, et al., to William Mahanna, Hillsboro lot, $1. Alva N. Wilkin to Grant Layman, Hamer tp., 17 2a, $375. John L. Miller to Sophilla Johnson, Hillsboro lot, $1. E. M. Igo to John V. Sanders, Concord tp., 4a, $100. Frank Spargur to Earl P. Carter, Paint tp., 91a, $1. John Shipton to Elizabeth Peabody, Rainsboro lot, $100. Myrtilla E. Catlin to Homer Catlin, New Market tp., 110a, $1. Jane Graves to Samuel S. Graves, Hillsboro lot, $1. George Cox to Sallie Cox, New Lexington lot, $1. William Davidson to W. M. Kelly, Jackson tp., 105a, $1,250. John R. Horst to Sadie F. Feibel, Hillsboro lot, $1. Mary S. Weyer, trustee, to Isalah Smith, Leesburg lot, $25. Isalah Smith to Village of Leesburg, Leesburg lot, $1. Elsie M. Ladd to Glenn Ladd, Fairfield tp., 50a, $1. Francis E. Brown to Will Strain, Hillsboro lot, $1. Rebecca Yarger to Chas. L. Hamm, Brushcreek tp., 14a, $85. Alice Beets to Link Taylor, New Petersburg, lot, $200. Jessie I. Palmer to Alfred Maranda et al, Concord tp., 6a, $400. W. O. Overman to Trustees Fall Creek Church, Paint tp., 1a 40p, $1. Martha K. Miller to Amos Igo, Concord tp., 20a, $450. E. E. West to L. A. Wright, Washington tp., 34p, $225. Mary J. Lindsey to Charles L. Nye, Hillsboro lot, $1. E. H. Miller trustee to Coral E. Binns, Greenfield, lot, $1. Jacob Hafer to A. E. McClain, Greenfield, lot, $1. Andrew Roberts to Bert Inlow, Belfast, lot, $210. A. F. Williams to Iza R. Williams, Brushcreek tp., q c, 150a, $1. Mary A. Easter to John A. Easter, Jackson tp., 2a, $200. Mary E. Roads et al to Walter W. Mock, et al, 22a, $675.

Needle Department Premiums.

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Items include best spec. French, best spec. shadow, best spec. hedabo, etc.

ENGLISHMAN COULD BE POLITE.

Proof of Fact Seemed to Surprise Prince Gortschakoff. Anecdotes of great statesmen and orators are apt to prove interesting to the general reading public because it is expected that they will reveal something of the working of a great mind. In the "Life and Letters of Sir Richard C. Jebb" is told a story of Mr. Disraeli which is worthy to be called historical.

BROTHER BUNKUM MAKES PLEA.

Matter of "Heenyusness" Put in Some-what New Light. "Yassah, I knowedges dat I steals, yo' honah—now and ag'in," confessed Brother Bunkum, who had been dragged up before the bar of justice on the charge of embezzling sundry fowls. "I steals, sah, but yo' deess part o' de time—not all de time. De rest o' de time I sawtuh projects around amongst de diffunt 'ligious 'nomerations, eatin' dinner wid 'em and uh-makin' out like I was mighty nigh on de keen edge o' 'Jain' deir church; and I 'umblesomely axes yo', sah, to lemme down easy, if yo' please, uh-kase I does muh heenyusness deess some o' de time, as I says befo' and not all de time, like deess yo' trust gen'emmen dat we-all yehs tell so much about now-uh-days. And, 'sides, all dat, yo' honah, what'd dese yuh good folks, dat's allus tryin' to 'suede me over to deir way o' thinkin', do widout me? If I was to go to jail dey wouldn't have nobody to practice on; and yo' organizes yo'self, sah, dat dey kaint keep well less'n dey has some ripperbate to be everlastin'ly up-pickin' at."—Smart Set.

Struggle with a Tiger.

Two brothers, Khuda Bakhs and Shaikh Abdul Ghanl of Moradabad were dispatched recently to Rampur on an errand, and while entering a grove at Ghadpura a tiger sprang upon Khuda Bakhs, who, being an athlete, warded off the blow aimed at him with his right hand and caught one of the paws with the other and maintained his hold, though the tiger was mauling the other hand.

By His "Piers."

Much feeling has been introduced into a by-election for a councillor at a Lancashire seaside resort, says London Tit-Bits. The gentleman who engenders much of this controversy was formerly on the council, and was mainly instrumental in inducing his colleagues to spend huge sums of money in the erection of two large but badly constructed piers. At a meeting the other night one of his opponents had permission to propose an amendment, and after virulently abusing the candidate exclaimed: "I have tried him in the balance, and I have found him wanting." Whereupon a member of the audience shouted out: "Try him again, then. Try him by his piers."

"Howlers" Better Than "Healers."

Rokitsansky, the father of the well-known operatic singer, was professor of pathology at the Vienna university. Besides the two singers he had another couple of sons, who had acquired a certain celebrity as medical men. One day, when the old professor was asked how his sons were getting on, he replied, shaking his head: "You see, friends, two of them heal and the other two howl, and the howlers earn four times as much as the healers."

The Gentry.

"She's engaged, ain't she?" inquired the haughty blonde at the ribbon counter. "Yes," replied the lady who sold laces, "she's engaged to that new saleslady's brother." "Where's he employed at?" "He's a night-watch-gentleman over to Bargen & Co's."—Philadelphia Press.

Shattered Hopes.

Me (anxiously)—I understand your father speaks very highly of me? She—Yes, but he doesn't mean a word of it. He—Are you sure of that? She—Certainly. He does it just to torment mother.

There are 6,000,000 women in the United States who toil for a living.

Needle Department Premiums.

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Items include best spec. French, best spec. shadow, best spec. hedabo, etc.

ENGLISHMAN COULD BE POLITE.

Proof of Fact Seemed to Surprise Prince Gortschakoff. Anecdotes of great statesmen and orators are apt to prove interesting to the general reading public because it is expected that they will reveal something of the working of a great mind. In the "Life and Letters of Sir Richard C. Jebb" is told a story of Mr. Disraeli which is worthy to be called historical.

BROTHER BUNKUM MAKES PLEA.

Matter of "Heenyusness" Put in Some-what New Light. "Yassah, I knowedges dat I steals, yo' honah—now and ag'in," confessed Brother Bunkum, who had been dragged up before the bar of justice on the charge of embezzling sundry fowls. "I steals, sah, but yo' deess part o' de time—not all de time. De rest o' de time I sawtuh projects around amongst de diffunt 'ligious 'nomerations, eatin' dinner wid 'em and uh-makin' out like I was mighty nigh on de keen edge o' 'Jain' deir church; and I 'umblesomely axes yo', sah, to lemme down easy, if yo' please, uh-kase I does muh heenyusness deess some o' de time, as I says befo' and not all de time, like deess yo' trust gen'emmen dat we-all yehs tell so much about now-uh-days. And, 'sides, all dat, yo' honah, what'd dese yuh good folks, dat's allus tryin' to 'suede me over to deir way o' thinkin', do widout me? If I was to go to jail dey wouldn't have nobody to practice on; and yo' organizes yo'self, sah, dat dey kaint keep well less'n dey has some ripperbate to be everlastin'ly up-pickin' at."—Smart Set.

Struggle with a Tiger.

Two brothers, Khuda Bakhs and Shaikh Abdul Ghanl of Moradabad were dispatched recently to Rampur on an errand, and while entering a grove at Ghadpura a tiger sprang upon Khuda Bakhs, who, being an athlete, warded off the blow aimed at him with his right hand and caught one of the paws with the other and maintained his hold, though the tiger was mauling the other hand.

By His "Piers."

Much feeling has been introduced into a by-election for a councillor at a Lancashire seaside resort, says London Tit-Bits. The gentleman who engenders much of this controversy was formerly on the council, and was mainly instrumental in inducing his colleagues to spend huge sums of money in the erection of two large but badly constructed piers. At a meeting the other night one of his opponents had permission to propose an amendment, and after virulently abusing the candidate exclaimed: "I have tried him in the balance, and I have found him wanting." Whereupon a member of the audience shouted out: "Try him again, then. Try him by his piers."

"Howlers" Better Than "Healers."

Rokitsansky, the father of the well-known operatic singer, was professor of pathology at the Vienna university. Besides the two singers he had another couple of sons, who had acquired a certain celebrity as medical men. One day, when the old professor was asked how his sons were getting on, he replied, shaking his head: "You see, friends, two of them heal and the other two howl, and the howlers earn four times as much as the healers."

The Gentry.

"She's engaged, ain't she?" inquired the haughty blonde at the ribbon counter. "Yes," replied the lady who sold laces, "she's engaged to that new saleslady's brother." "Where's he employed at?" "He's a night-watch-gentleman over to Bargen & Co's."—Philadelphia Press.

Shattered Hopes.

Me (anxiously)—I understand your father speaks very highly of me? She—Yes, but he doesn't mean a word of it. He—Are you sure of that? She—Certainly. He does it just to torment mother.

There are 6,000,000 women in the United States who toil for a living.

Needle Department Premiums.

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Items include best spec. French, best spec. shadow, best spec. hedabo, etc.

ENGLISHMAN COULD BE POLITE.

Proof of Fact Seemed to Surprise Prince Gortschakoff. Anecdotes of great statesmen and orators are apt to prove interesting to the general reading public because it is expected that they will reveal something of the working of a great mind. In the "Life and Letters of Sir Richard C. Jebb" is told a story of Mr. Disraeli which is worthy to be called historical.

BROTHER BUNKUM MAKES PLEA.

Matter of "Heenyusness" Put in Some-what New Light. "Yassah, I knowedges dat I steals, yo' honah—now and ag'in," confessed Brother Bunkum, who had been dragged up before the bar of justice on the charge of embezzling sundry fowls. "I steals, sah, but yo' deess part o' de time—not all de time. De rest o' de time I sawtuh projects around amongst de diffunt 'ligious 'nomerations, eatin' dinner wid 'em and uh-makin' out like I was mighty nigh on de keen edge o' 'Jain' deir church; and I 'umblesomely axes yo', sah, to lemme down easy, if yo' please, uh-kase I does muh heenyusness deess some o' de time, as I says befo' and not all de time, like deess yo' trust gen'emmen dat we-all yehs tell so much about now-uh-days. And, 'sides, all dat, yo' honah, what'd dese yuh good folks, dat's allus tryin' to 'suede me over to deir way o' thinkin', do widout me? If I was to go to jail dey wouldn't have nobody to practice on; and yo' organizes yo'self, sah, dat dey kaint keep well less'n dey has some ripperbate to be everlastin'ly up-pickin' at."—Smart Set.

Struggle with a Tiger.

Two brothers, Khuda Bakhs and Shaikh Abdul Ghanl of Moradabad were dispatched recently to Rampur on an errand, and while entering a grove at Ghadpura a tiger sprang upon Khuda Bakhs, who, being an athlete, warded off the blow aimed at him with his right hand and caught one of the paws with the other and maintained his hold, though the tiger was mauling the other hand.

By His "Piers."

Much feeling has been introduced into a by-election for a councillor at a Lancashire seaside resort, says London Tit-Bits. The gentleman who engenders much of this controversy was formerly on the council, and was mainly instrumental in inducing his colleagues to spend huge sums of money in the erection of two large but badly constructed piers. At a meeting the other night one of his opponents had permission to propose an amendment, and after virulently abusing the candidate exclaimed: "I have tried him in the balance, and I have found him wanting." Whereupon a member of the audience shouted out: "Try him again, then. Try him by his piers."

"Howlers" Better Than "Healers."

Rokitsansky, the father of the well-known operatic singer, was professor of pathology at the Vienna university. Besides the two singers he had another couple of sons, who had acquired a certain celebrity as medical men. One day, when the old professor was asked how his sons were getting on, he replied, shaking his head: "You see, friends, two of them heal and the other two howl, and the howlers earn four times as much as the healers."

The Gentry.

"She's engaged, ain't she?" inquired the haughty blonde at the ribbon counter. "Yes," replied the lady who sold laces, "she's engaged to that new saleslady's brother." "Where's he employed at?" "He's a night-watch-gentleman over to Bargen & Co's."—Philadelphia Press.

Shattered Hopes.

Me (anxiously)—I understand your father speaks very highly of me? She—Yes, but he doesn't mean a word of it. He—Are you sure of that? She—Certainly. He does it just to torment mother.

There are 6,000,000 women in the United States who toil for a living.

SPECIALS

FOR SATURDAY, June 27

Handsomely decorated Cake Plaques

10 Cents Each.

This is a rare bargain.

THE BEE HIVE DEPARTMENT STORE.

SPECIAL

SATURDAY, JUNE 27.

6-Quart Granite Kettles,

15 CENTS

Staple and Novelty Store.

Opera Building.

FOR SALE AT A BARGAIN.

One thousand large Carnation Plants in bloom. Your choice of color while they last at 10c Each or $1.00 Per Dozen.

delivered anywhere on receipt of price.

Simon Hider, THE FLORIST.

The Post Card Shop

Since its opening June 13, it has been visited by thousands of people, and everybody has expressed their admiration at the beautiful and varied display of Post Cards. Hillsboro may well be proud of its having a post card shop that compares so favorably with the shops of its kind in the large cities. It is located between the Bee Hive and Bowles store. It will pay you to visit it if you have not done so yet.

JULIUS C. KOCH,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALER IN

And Manufacturer of

MINERAL WATER

ALL ORDERS PROMPTLY FILLED. Office—Rear of Traction Depot.

If something is wrong with your EYES

You ought to find out about it right away. Taken in time the ordinary errors of vision are easy to correct, neglected they steadily grow worse.

EXAMINATION FREE.

Dr. C. F. Faris, The Eyesight Specialist.

OFFICE—First door east of Economy Store. Main street, Hillsboro O

SIMON HIDER, THE FLORIST.

For Your Flowers.