DESTINED TO DIE BY BULLET.

Mother's Belief in Boy's Fate Seemed Justified by Events.

"People may jeer at fatalism and poke fun at all ideas which are embodied in predestination," said Senator Culberson of Texas at a small gathering of friends the other day in Washington, "but sometimes a man rubs elbows with events which make him less skeptical about such things. A fine young boy near Dallas was shot while out hunting, and the bullet lodged near his heart that there was not one chance in a thousand that he could survive an operation. But he did survive, and the operation was one of the things of which the surgeons in the local hospital were very proud. But the boy's recovery was tedious and as soon as the fever left him he was allowed to see his friends and to play cards and generally to amuse himself. The bullet had been given to the boy and occupied a conspicuous place on the table. Every caller saw and handled the bullet and talked over his almost miraculous escape from death. One day the boy's mother was with him and several relatives when a boy who had formerly gone to school with the patient paid him a visit and of course he wanted to hear all about the operation and to see the bullet. The boy told it all with great vim and then, taking up the bullet, he said: 'Here's the bullet that caused all the trouble, and now I shall bite it to pieces to pay it back,' and he laughingly put it in his mouth. Just then he was seized with a coughing fit, the bullet slipped down his throat, lodged in his windpipe, and in a few minutes he had strangled to death. The poor mother was nearly crazed with grief, but she afterward told the pastor of her church that she felt her son was destined to die of that bullet and that she had little confidence of his recovery, even when the operation was pronounced successful. She had dabbled somewhat in the occult sciences and she declared that the boy had been predestined from all time to die from that particular bullet and that nothing could save him from that fate."

Death Reward of Dog's Devotion.

Pete was the name of a smart dog in the Loudner family back of Millirift, Pa. The Loudners are Germans, and the youngest is three years old and a boy. Because the dog was too clever it was killed.

But it was a mistake. The child and the dog wandered some distance from the house in the afternoon, romping with a rubber ball fastened to the end of a stick. Suddenly the dog appeared at the house and ran about the rooms, and barking and yelping, pulled at the women's dresses and otherwise acted in such a strange manner as to cause them to scream "Mad dog!" and seek safety on chairs.

George Loudner, attracted by the noise, came into the house and shot the dog. Then the child was missed and search was instituted. They found the youngster in high glee at the antics of a big rattlesnake which was playing with the rubber ball.

The boy would reach out the whip with the ball attached and hit the snake on the head. The reptile would resent the attack, plainly trying to sink its fangs into the rubber globe, all the while rattling and coiling and uncoiling as the ball circled about it.

Mr. Loudner killed the snake. The dog was not mad, but had tried in vain to get some one to aid the child, and met its death by being too faithful.

Dangerous Bathing Companions.

That bathing in Manila bay might be considered a doubtful joy by most people is proved by the following from the Manila Times: "Manila bathers have generally scoffed at repeated warnings against sharks in Manila bay. Not long ago Capt. R. M. Lasala, whose residence is on Malate beach, reported a large shark seen close to the beach from his house. The launch Nina of the Manila Navigation and Transportation Company has just brought to the company's offices a sawfish found stranded at Salinas, Cavite. The sawfish measures from the end of the saw to the tip of its tail just 12 1/2 feet, and from tip to tip of its fins measures 4 1/2 feet. It would seem to behoove bathers, more especially those who are in the habit of swimming from ships in the bay, to exercise care."

He Was Resigned to It.

"I see," said the old lady, "that's a lot of talk 'bout 'woman's rights' in the papers now. What does it all mean?" "Hit means, Maria," said the old man, "that women air 'a-takin' the places what men occupied. You'll find the plow right whar I left it, an' when you sharpen the ax you kin sail into a dozen cords o' wood; an' I'll have supper a-bilin' when you git home!"—Atlanta Constitution.

For Appearances' Sake.

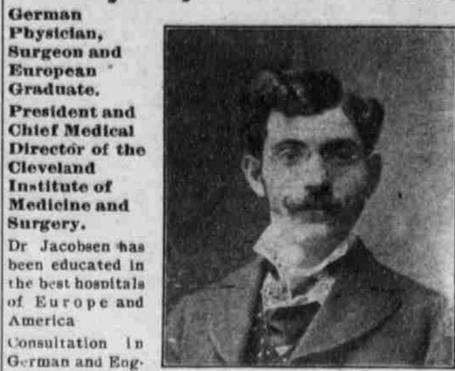

"What would you say if your party leaders were to come to you and say your country called you?" "If I were sure they spoke with sincerity," replied Senator Sorghum, "I should exhibit great reluctance." "Even though they besought you?" "Certainly. It's only when they are beseeching you that it is safe to show reluctance."—Washington Star.
