Human Life For April.

Human Life has a birthday in April, which it proposes to celebrate in royal style by an all-star cast.

The cleverest fool in Christendom—so clever that a big New York manager has corralled him for life—is the subject of an enormously interesting story by Rufus H. Gillmore. His adventures line up with those of Sindbad the Sailor, with the added merit of being all true.

In "The Mystery of Dreyfus" Charles Edward Russell, looking back through a perspective of more than a decade, throws new light on one of the most amazing and momentous happenings in modern history.

Alfred Henry Lewis with this issue closes his series, "Traveling with Taft," with some surprising sidelights on the Utah end of the trip, and the mighty and little understood power of the Mormon in politics.

Leigh Hunt, the man who inoculated Roosevelt with the African hunting bacilli, has had about the most fascinating career a man could have. Read it in this issue.

A wonderful and most indispensable cog in the machinery of modern business life is J. K. Turner and LaVerne A. Barber tells all about him and his work in this issue.

The April issue carries twice the usual number of illustrations, picturing stirring scenes in the great drama of modern life the world over. There are a dozen other departments, all full of unique and varied interest. Human Life Publishing Co., Boston.

Best Heavy Fence for the Least Money

YOU who want heavy fence, here is good news. The Mason Fence Company right here at home in Leesburg is making a fence of No. 9 wire throughout. This means that you can now secure a heavy, strong, durable fence at practically the price you would have to pay elsewhere for a medium fence of half the weight. Why? Because buying direct from a home factory saves you all the freight charges of sending the fence along the line from the manufacturer, to the wholesaler, to the jobber, to the dealer, to you.

MASON'S All Nine Fence

gives you at least 25% better value for your money than any medium weight fence. It is made of No. 9 steel wire throughout, including the stay wires. Weighs 15 pounds to the rod instead of the medium fence's 7. All wire is thoroughly galvanized and then put through a chemical test. Any section with defective galvanizing is immediately detected. Only that which is galvanized perfectly is used. The result of the extra weight is remarkable strength. You can depend on Mason's All Nine Fence standing any kind of a shock. The result of the superior galvanizing is remarkable durability. No matter what the weather you can expect years of service from Mason's All Nine Fence. But you need not keep the fence if you are dissatisfied at any time during the first 30 days. We'll refund your money if you want it. But you won't. You'll surely think Mason's All Nine Fence the best bargain you ever struck. And remember, if anything goes wrong we are here to make it right. Let us send our descriptive matter. We'll also quote you a special price on the fence erected complete if you'll tell us how much you need. Get this information before you buy a fence. Write today to The Mason Fence Co., Leesburg, O.
