Thanks for Postal Shower.

Mrs. Belle Roush, wife of G. W. Roush, who lives near Hoagland's Crossing, has been sorely afflicted for many years, confined to her home, unable to go among her friends and enjoy the social intercourse that makes life pleasant and hopeful. She has been shut in with suffering and loneliness. On May 3 she received word from the outside world. This was her birthday and she was cheered by receiving from 114 of her friends beautiful postal cards, bearing names of friends and loved ones, bringing words of love and friendship. Just postal cards, but to that lonely sick one they were leaves from the tree of life, which grows in the garden of God, fluttering down, bringing happiness and hope. So overcome was Mrs. Roush by these tokens of affection that she could not speak, only cry, but tears bring relief to hardened souls. She sent to the writer, by the hands of her husband, a note requesting him to say to each and every one of the donors "that no language can express the depth of love and friendship I cherish in my soul for them, and what a comfort their words of hope and good cheer have been to me." God bless all with rich blessing of health and happiness, now and evermore. J. W. K.
