

FARM BOYS' CAMP

Free Trip to the Ohio State Fair First Week in September at Columbus

On Saturday, August 16, at the Court House, 10 o'clock a. m., two boys will be chosen from each county to attend the Ohio State Fair. The State Fair will pay all expenses of the trip. A motel Farm Boys Camp will be established on the State Fair Grounds, under the control of the Adjutant General of the State.

This is the third year for this feature. Other states are doing likewise. It is encouragement for the boys. In counties where one or more free trips to Washington are offered to boys who enter into the acre of corn contest, only those boys entered, are eligible to compete for the State Fair Free Trip.

The boys must bring note books and visit each department of the State Fair and write a story of his trip. The boys who win this trip must also appear on the program of any public meeting held in his county, if he is invited to do so, and tell the story of what he saw and learned.

On Sunday before the Fair the boys will be the guests of Warden Thomas at the State Penitentiary church services, after which they will be shown all parts of the big prison.

At six o'clock, Sunday evening, in the shadow of the old cabin in which U. S. Grant was born, the boys will be addressed by the Governor of Ohio, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and the Mayor of Columbus. This sunset meeting will be one of the high spots of the trip.

The entire week's program will be made highly instructive, and will be a red letter event in the life of the boy who is so fortunate to win it.

The following persons will have a vote in selecting the two boys: County Commissioners, County School Examiners, President and Secretary of County and Independent Fairs, President and Secretary of County Teachers' Institute, Masters of Granges, President and Secretary of County Sunday School Convention, President and Secretary of each regular and independent Farmer Institute, President and Secretary of Farmer Picnics that have been organized for two years or more, each newspaper, and President and Secretaries of Pomona Granges, Pioneer Associations and Farmers' Mutual Insurance Companies; Presidents, Secretaries and Township Vice Presidents of County Crop Improvement Associations. Persons or firms offering a free Washington trip to have one vote for each trip offered. In case the money for the free trip was raised by subscription the officer or person in charge of the subscription to have the vote.

The delegates will meet at the County Court House, August 16, 1913, at 10 a. m.

Said delegates shall select a President and Secretary and proceed to elect two boys to receive the Free Trip to the Ohio State Fair. Each delegate present to have one vote. No proxies.

In Memoriam.

Thurza Miller is dead. Though expected no sadder words could pass among us. Were it not for the belief of a future existence, death would be the most painful thing to contemplate. But the assured promise of future happiness largely mitigate the sting of separation. The life lived in accordance with divine law, is therefore, only transposed into an eternal existence, growing in development and grandeur "unto the perfect day."

Calmly, peacefully, quietly sustained and soothed by an unflinching trust, Thurza Miller passed to her eternal rest July 20, 1913, "like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams."

Having been born November 22, 1823, a life of nearly ninety years was given her to shed as an influence which was for the uplift and moral good of those with whom she mingled.

In all these years no higher compliment could be paid her than the fact that her character, honesty and religious devotion had never been questioned.

Being kind in her deportment, generous in her dealings, loving and sympathetic under trying conditions, she always remained considerate and charitable for the faults of others.

Her life was purely domestic and centered in the rearing of her children to be good citizens which she most successfully accomplished. She belonged to the old-fashioned, home-loving age and next to the church her hearth stone was the shrine of her devotion.

Mrs. Miller's maiden name was Springer and she was born at White Oak, Brown County, Ohio, and at the age of twenty three she was married to Henry Miller with whom she lived happily until his death Dec. 5, 1894.

Their family consisted of seven children: Mahala E. Henderson, Rebecca J. Link and Mary Marie Wallace now living and Sarah, John T., Oscar A. and Sylvester W., who have preceded their mother to another world.

Thirteen grandchildren and as many great-grandchildren survive to experience the loss of this good grandparent.

Through the help and influence of Mrs. Miller and her husband, the M. P. Church called Union Chapel, this county, was organized and erected and was their place of worship for many years. And as if providential Mr. Miller was stricken with apoplexy while worshipping in the church he helped to build and he died within a few days. The death of Mrs. Miller was due to the same cause as a result of the infirmities of old age.

Aunt Thurza and Uncle Henry, as they were familiarly known, will long be remembered by the people of Sugar tree Ridge in which community they lived for so many years. Their quiet, unassuming and upright lives will be an inspiration to all who knew them.

The writer of this sketch has often been made to appreciate their hospitality and to realize the honest convictions and religious devotion that characterized their whole lives. And because of these sterling qualities and their worth as citizens, their vast acquaintanceship must deplore this death as an irreparable loss.
