There will be half fare on the cars next Wednesday, and the trains will lie over until the close of the meeting.

SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

The Republican Senatorial Convention for the Seventh Senatorial District, will be held at the Court House in the city of Portsmouth, on Wednesday, August 11, 1875, at 11 o'clock, A. M.

The counties comprising said District will be represented in said convention by delegates as follows: Scioto 12, Jackson 10, Adams 6, being one delegate for every 200 and fractional remainder over 100 votes cast for Noyes in 1873.

The Republican Central Committees for each county respectively, are requested to take the necessary steps to procure the proper appointment of said delegates.

A. McFarland, Scioto Co. C. C. James, Jackson Co. R. Daubert, Pike Co. S. W. Burwell, Adams Co. Committee.

Mite Society Wednesday night of this week at rooms of Mrs. Mackley, under the Standard Office. All are invited.

There were tremendous rains last Thursday, and Salt Creek was high. It rained more or less every few days.

Coe Bennett, of this place, was at the examination (?) at Gallipolis, but he could not compete successfully with all the Alchires, and their cousin, Col. Vance.

We need money on subscription. Look at the label on your paper, and if in arrears, send us some money. We are now sending you a paper with a large amount of reading matter, and we intend to give you a live paper. Send us some money.

It will be seen that Mark Sternberg's big advertisement is out of the Standard. He does not wish by this to be understood as not being in the goods business. He will be on hand again in a few weeks, and let the people know something about the fall trade.

Rev. J. K. Gibson, of the Presbyterian Church, has been absent a few weeks, resting. He was for a time in Kentucky, and then visiting his father, in Brown county. He will probably return this week.

We omitted to mention last week that Aaron McLaughlin sent us a mess of very fine potatoes. He sent us word that he wanted us to see what fine potatoes a Democrat could raise in Madison township. We do not see why a Democrat should not raise as good potatoes as any other man, because it is one of the mysteries of providence that the rain falls upon the unjust the same as on the just.

John Stewart of Berlin was in town last Saturday evening looking after a lost draft. He sent a draft of $105 to pay his taxes, but it never reached here. Mr. Stewart is too impatient. His draft is perhaps traveling up and down in Kentucky or West Virginia. It will probably be back here in a month or two. That is the way the agents manage the mail on the railroad between Hamden and Portsmouth.

Now that the old sheds and traps along Main Street in Jackson have nearly all been removed, the business houses show to much better advantage. The new buildings on the old Franklin House Corner, opposite the county jail, present a very fine appearance. Prominent among these fine rooms is that occupied by Aten and Marshman as a furniture room. This is a large, finely arranged room, and is all the time kept full of the best and finest furniture. Messrs. Aten & Marshman give special attention to the business of undertakers, and can furnish coffins, burial cases, shrouds, &c., on very short notice, and they also furnish a hearse when desired.

On last Monday evening the mail coming down from Hamden brought us the Portsmouth Globe of Saturday, and the Gallipolis Ledger of Friday. These papers must have been taken past this place either on Saturday or Monday. We can see no reason for this practice, which has become so annoying for a person of ordinary patience. We made inquiry, and we were informed that a young man named Robinson was mail agent on Monday. Will Mr. Robinson condescend to inform us why he takes the mail past? Mr. Robinson's father has been agent, but we learn that he has resigned, in order to be a candidate for State Senator, and has had his son appointed on the road. It might be of advantage to Capt. Robinson, as a candidate for Senator, to explain to the people along the railroad, how far he has been responsible for the late miserable management of the mail route.

THE TYRANTS FCLED;

The Martyr's Escape.

BY M'COLLISTER BURNHREYS.

July the 4 1875 on the fourth I got no drunk and loose the first that I rode was in the calaboose:

Wm. ones captured me he doct on the street he put me in the calaboose and nothing for to eat

Next I went before the Mairie they thought they would get the money they found it wasn't there they took me to the Jail they led me through the hall I went through one iron door I wear that wasn't all

thomas Easterling come in a Sunday Bathed he told me that his orders was to go to work at noon

I seen him coming with a chain I saw that was not all he had a steeple on the end condatin a little Ball

he pined it out on the street he laid it down so neat as if he thought we got you best to pay for what you eat

John. m. Ewing is a clever and hard man he finishes just as good a good as any other can oh I am a sinner I went to get a drink I picked up a spike and twisted of a link

I tucked down my tail and I was equal till I was out of the calaboose of the Jackson Jail

I took down street across east creek I hunted a Rifle and jumped it mighty slick

I took a crost Jo humphreys field I saw the seckson hands and told them not to squeet

I cross'd the railrode and I kept mighty still till I reached to the top of the grave yard hill

I took down across the tilton barn as I thought the old woman could not do me any harm not concluded yet after this is printed please send me a paper to hamden. o

I will Rite more for your paper yet

I want your paper for the campaign

Next Saturday the Democrats will hold their nominating convention in this place. There will be a contest between I. T. Monahan and Irvine Dungan, as to which shall be recommended for State Senator. I. T. says he will win. We shall see. It certainly looks queer to see a man who was, during the war, and still is, a genuine State's Rights rebel, superseded by a man who was one of Lincoln's hirelings, and in advance of the Republican party since the war, in favor of negro suffrage. But then see how the party took up Horace (Grasley, Sam. Gray, and many others, who told the truth about "the organized vice and ignorance of the country," and "the party" covered all over with crime and infamy.

The case of the State of Ohio vs. Thomas, Robert and Levi Plummer, had just been concluded when we went to press last week, and we had no time to report the case. The evidence showed that the parties live in Washington township, Levi is an unmarried man, and lives with his mother, on the old road leading from Young America Furnace to Hamden, and Robert and Thomas are married, and live some four miles farther north, and within half a mile of each other. The parties came to the grocery of John Crossin, near the Hoop mill, about 4 or 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and remained until sunset, when they started towards home. The tracks of their horses were seen where they turned from the Berlin road, and went down the lane towards Star Furnace. Gifford Webb and two Germans named Bessman saw them pass along the street between Star Furnace and the Jamestown Foundry, between sunset and dark. They recognized two of them as Plummers. They went past the Foundry towards the bridge, between the Foundry and the Depot. A man who resides between Mr. Pickler's and Mrs. Bunn's saw three men pass his house on horseback about dark, answering the same description. Peter Bunn, Mrs. Nash and George W. Barlow, all saw men pass their houses after dark. They all reside on the Gallipolis road. William Spruier and another man met them on "Dunker Hill" east of Peter Bunn's. D. Lamley Jenkins resides at Rocky Hill, and was going home that night. A short distance below Armstrong's Scourlock, he turned his horse out of the road to get a drink, when he saw three men in the brush, on horseback. He was somewhat alarmed, and did not let his pony drink. He looked back to see if they were following him, but he saw no more of them.

Armstrong Scourlock was in Jackson the same evening, and got home about 11 o'clock at night, and found the door of his smoke-house open, and nine sides or middlings of bacon gone. He traced the thieves by grease on the clothesline and on the gate, and their tracks where they had crossed a branch. When they had got to the road, near the place where Jenkins had seen the three men, the tracks of three horses were found, and traced through Berlin, up near to Wellston, and then down to Plummer's, where horses were found with shoes corresponding with the tracks. One of the horses had his withers and shoulders very greasy. A greasy saddle and a greasy sack were found on the premises. Guards were put out, and one of them, Stephen Markham, saw Robert Plummer cross the field and go up into a piece of woods, into a hollow. Some time afterwards Plummer came up the road in another direction, with one of his brothers. Markham then went up the hollow where he had seen Plummer go, and found a greasy pocket-knife lying on the ground, and pretty soon found three sides of bacon, which had recently been split through the middle to the rind, and doubled back, and concealed under some brush. The bacon was identified as Scourlock's. There were various other circumstances tending to show the guilt of the parties.

James Blakely, an Athens county tramp, had an examination before Mayor Laird on Monday, on a charge of assault with intent to commit rape upon Sabina Heath. She is a girl fourteen years of age, a daughter of Edward Heath, who resides a few miles east of town. She testified that on Saturday morning last defendant came along the road in front of her father's house and inquired if her mother was at home. He then inquired if her father was at home. Learning that neither was at home, he told the girl he wanted her to come and tie a string for him. She started towards him, and getting within some 6 to 8 feet of him, she discovered an indecent exposure of the person, when she turned and ran from him. He grabbed her, but he did not attempt to follow her, or to cross a low fence which was between them.

The Mayor said that a case was not made out upon the affidavit, and the defendant was discharged. He was immediately arrested for indecent exposure of his person, and had an examination. The testimony showed that just before he came to Mr. Heath's, he passed the houses of Mrs. Hutchinson and Mrs. Kelly, and was guilty of indecent and lascivious conduct in the presence of these women. There was a good deal of testimony unfit for publication. After the case was argued by J. L. Jones for the State, and A. J. Dever and John C. Stevenson for the defense, the Mayor held defendant to answer before the Probate Court in the sum of $100. Defendant then withdrew his plea of not guilty, and entered a plea of guilty, and was sentenced to be confined in the dungeon of the county jail for five days, to be fed on bread and water only, and to pay a fine of five dollars and costs, and to stand committed until the fine and costs be fully paid.

We never take much stock in sensational stories. We have heard two or three such within the past few days. One is, that some man saw a snake on the lawn of A. Scott, Esq., east of town. It was about the size of a lamp post, held its head four feet high, and made a track like a log had been dragged through the grass and mud.

Then it is said that a strange thing was plowed up in the field of Mr. Schellenger, in Franklin township, and the same kind of an insect on the farm of Mr. McClung, two miles southwest of town. It had a head, and a large round body, and a tail. It moved very slowly. On examination it was found to be composed of innumerable small snakes, or worms, each with a separate existence. When taken apart, they exhibited considerable activity, and at once came together again, in the same shape.

Let us hear from Mr. Schellenger and Mr. McClung. They are both men of undoubted veracity.

Subscribers living outside of Jackson county frequently let their subscriptions expire, and then in two or three weeks renew, and ask for the back numbers. We rarely have back numbers. The safe way is to keep your eye upon the label on your paper, and renew before the time expires.

We still have a few copies of last week's paper, to supply to campaign subscribers. All of the issue of the 10th are gone. Twenty-five cents will pay for the paper until after the October election, commencing with the issue of July 22d.

Read the thrilling poem of our departed friend, Mr. Humphreys. We paid him a dollar for it. Cheap at half. Now all we fear is that Mr. being at Hamden, will be engaged by Bowen as poet laureate for the Hamden Leader. Don't do it, Mr. Don't.

James, Thomas, Robert and Levi Plummer, had an examination before Mayor Laird on Tuesday, on a charge of stealing a set of harness from Peter Bunn. We will give the particulars next week.

Mrs. W. S. Martin lost a bunch of keys, on a ring, and there was a silver ring attached, with the initials "W. S. M." on it. The finder will please leave them at the residence of Dr. I. T. Monahan.

Marietta College gives thorough instruction in College and Academy. Apparatus and Cabinets large and good. Libraries contain 26,000 volumes. All instruction in College by permanent Professors. Expenses very moderate. Aid to worthy students needing it. The next term commences Thursday, Sept. 21. I. W. ANDREWS, President. MARIETTA, O., July, 1875.

White & Vandervoort brought in a new advertisement, but it was too late for this week. They say they are closing out $2000 worth of Drugs, and will give extra good bargains.

$75 REWARD.—Some person or persons broke into my Drug Store at Berlin on the night of the 10th inst., and stole some $30 to $40 in money. I will pay the above reward for the apprehension and conviction of the burglars.

J. W. HENRY.

James M. French & Co. have now got their goods fully arranged in their new room, corner of Broadway & Pearl, on the place where the American House formerly stood. They have a most commodious room, and keep a very fine stock of goods, including family groceries. Any and every article needed for family use can be found there. We notice that persons who trade there are not given to complaining about unfair treatment, but they generally go back there when they want goods.

The Colossal Bronze Statue of Victory which stands in the Park, at Lowell, before the tomb of the first soldiers that fell in the revolution, is a lasting and beautiful tribute of art. It is one of the first objects sought by strangers visiting our sister city, which indeed many visit purposely to see this elegant object of high art. It was obtained from the King of Bavaria by Dr. J. C. Ayer, to whom his majesty was especially gracious in acknowledging what his remedies are reputed to have done for the suffering sick. It was donated by the Doctor to the City of Lowell as a permanent and speaking emblem of the victories both of Science and Arms.—Hesperian (Md.) Press.

Dyspepsia. Is the most complicated of all diseases, and the most variable in its symptoms. Pain in the stomach, heartburn, indigestion, flatulency, constipation of the bowels, loss of spirits, capricious appetite, are all in turn the offspring of this disease. With it is often associated feeble action of the liver, and it frequently leads to serious attacks of fever with fatal results. The unfailing remedy for this disease in all its stages is DOUGLASS' RADICAL CURE. It regulates the liver, expels all morbid humors from the system, and acts as a gentle tonic. Trial size 25 cents. A full trial will relieve and a little perseverance cure the worst cases. Sold by W. P. Hale, Druggist. Watch directions on each bottle. June 19, 75—1f

Read This! First class stoves sold by D. L. Pickler, Agent for Ohio Stove Co's stoves, of Portsmouth. This Co. has a reputation for making the best cooking stoves, and the celebrated "Gig Home," Coal and Wood Cook Stove, made by them, is growing to be the most popular stove in the West. It is a full iron, and has the best satisfaction. Buy a stove made at or near home and you will have less trouble getting repairs. He has also a full line of heaters for stores, school houses, churches &c., among which will be found the celebrated Dubuque Soft Coal Base Burner—most powerful heater in the world—be sure and see it before buying any other.

Builders and Mechanics can positively save money by getting their hardware and building material from D. L. Pickler. He keeps a stock of doors, sash and glass on hands. Odd sizes furnished on short notice at reasonable rates.

The Public Confidence Well Placed. Although the world has been seeking specific remedies for many centuries, few indeed have been found. Prominent among these few is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which years ago received the endorsement of the medical profession, and was hailed by press and public as the great renovator and preventive of the age. And with good reason, since to the weakened stomach it gives strength, to the torpid liver activity, to the disordered bowels regularity, and to the shaken nervous system firmness and tone. Under its benign influence healthful vigor returns to the emaciated and wasted frame, the flaccid muscles become compact, the wan aspect of ill health is replaced by a look of cheerfulness, the mind opens to disposal, and fish is developed upon the attenuated frame. There is no exaggeration in this statement. It is as true as that the system is subject to disease. Were proofs required to substantiate the reality of the comprehensive effects of the Bitters, there is probably not in existence a medicine in favor of which such a mass of corroborative testimony, from the most respectable sources, could be adduced. But the efficacy of the nation's alterative and invigorant has been a matter of universal knowledge too long to need any such corroboration. The fact that it has its largest sales in those portions of the North and South American Continents, Mexico, and the West Indies, in which atmospheric and malarial influences tend to health, proves what confidence is felt in its remedial and protective virtues. In localities where fevers and intermittents type prevail, especially, it has come to be regarded as an indispensable necessity. 371-1m Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, and Consumption.

Among the great advances of modern science, few have so many of the elements of success, as the discovery of the actual remedy for all forms of Croup, Whooping Cough, and Lung Disease, and a vast trial of its virtues, have shown that it does more than any other remedy, and cures the most dangerous affections of the Pulmonary Organs, and is the only safe and reliable remedy for Croup, Whooping Cough, and Consumption, which are so remarkable as hardly to be believed, were it not for the fact that they are cured by this preparation, are publicly known.
