

A notice of Court proceedings is excluded for want of room.

Our citizens are promised an intellectual treat in the programme of exercises, by the Ministerial Association, shortly to meet in this place.

In closing up the Telegraph for this week, we had many items of interest, with numerous notices of local matters, and sundry communications, excluded for want of room.

An annual press of other business, and Court intervening, has prevented our giving the usual attention to the Telegraph the last week or two.

Thanks to our friends for increasing numbers to our subscription list, and substantial remembrances in the liquidation of arrearsages.

Among the killed at the battle of Cross Keys, we notice the names of John Lane and John McGraw, of the Fifth Va. Reg't.

Excursion Trip. The steamer Transfer will leave Pomeroiy Landing at 8 o'clock A. M., on Sunday, 23rd June, for Kanawha River, as an excursion trip, and will return in the evening before dark.

FARE—30 cts per round trip, for single passenger; 75 cents per couple; children under 12 years, 25 cents.

We refer the farmers of this, and adjoining counties, to the advertisement of the "Excelsior Premium Grain Drill," by J. R. Ellis, Esq., of Racine, O.

Now that so many of the workers of the County are serving their country in the camp and on the battle-fields, those who aid in supplying their places in the harvest fields, by the introduction of labor-saving machines, are likewise doing a patriotic service to their country.

From all sections of the State there is an earnest call for laborers. Never was labor more in demand than at present.

It will be extremely difficult to save the golden grain, now ripening into the harvest. And in this scarcity of laborers, an unusual demand has sprung up for agricultural implements.

We can assure all who have occasion to purchase, that they will find Mr. Ellis a reliable man, and his machines just what he represents them to be.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer, the Democratic organ of Northern Ohio, thus responds to the Vallandigham Address:

LATEST NEWS.

We expected to record the capture of Richmond in this week's Telegraph, but must postpone the announcement until the capture occurs.

That may be, we cannot predict. It is said that the rebels there are being strongly re-inforced from Beauregard's army which evacuated Corinth.

Vicksburg, it seems, is not yet taken by the Union forces. It is reported that a large section of Beauregard's Corinth army have reached that place, and will, probably, make a stand there.

There are reports of pretty severe fighting near Charleston, S. C.—The capture of Fort Morgan, by our forces, is denied. It is said that a section of Beauregard's army retired to Charleston and will make a defense of that city.

Telegrams from Memphis state that sixty five thousand rebels—the larger section of Beauregard's army—are at Grenada, Miss., at a point where railroads connect with Memphis and Vicksburg.

From the increasing violence with which the President, and especially Secretary Stanton, are abused, we have strong hopes that the rebels are about to feel the power of the Government.

The simple truth is, that so many traitors at heart, who dared not openly join the traitors in arms, found their way into high positions in our army and navy, that they have been able to paralyze almost every effort of the Government.

As they cannot use Secretary Stanton for their purposes, they and their sympathizers are making a persistent effort to destroy his influence and break him down.

A rich scene occurred in the office of the Secretary of War, on Monday. A brute of a scoundrel, named Hays, who had wound himself into position, probably through the influence of the K. G. C.'s, left three hundred wounded Union soldiers in the cars all night without the slightest attention, while he slept calmly at Willard's Hotel.

Stanton called him to account, and on hearing his excuse, publicly denounced him—ordered him out of the office and a narrow escape with his life from the indignation of the crowd.

A few more such rascals similarly treated will do good. A ship load of "contrabands"—negroes—sailed for Haiti a few days ago. Another colony is to start from Washington in a short time.

It is most remarkable, that the Democratic papers which are keeping up such a din about the negro, should so bitterly oppose every movement having a tendency to settle them in a country by themselves.

Haiti and Liberia, two countries governed and inhabited wholly by blacks, invite the emigration of those of their race from this country.

With proper inducements these governments could be so strengthened as to make it the interest of colored men to emigrate. But such is the fanaticism of the Vallandigham clique that they would sacrifice the interests of their own country for the sake of giving a stab at these, to prevent the free negroes among us from bettering their condition by emigrating thither.

Considerable stir was excited in Washington, on Monday, in consequence of an important order issued by the President and Secretary of War. There is a place in Virginia called the "White House," owned by one of the leading rebels in the Confederate army.

A portion of our forces are encamped there. Our commander has kept a guard over the rebel's plantation, that nothing might be touched. The only pure water in the neighborhood, is a large spring on this plantation.

A strong guard has also been kept over this spring, and the soldiers compelled to drink the stagnant waters that they could get elsewhere, lest they should mar the beauty of the secess grounds. The following is the conclusion of the telegraphic dispatches of the Cin. Gazette of Tuesday, on the subject:

To-day the Secretary of War and the President ordered the White House to be opened in consequence of the representations by Dr. Green of New York and others of the importance for our wounded soldiers, for whom the only pure water in the vicinity is the spring on these premises.

The President says the guard was placed there in consequence of a promise by McClellan to Col. Lee, that he would protect his property in case of war. The President said he was not bound by any such promise.

Gen. Doubleday, on the 4th inst., attacked and completely routed a large force of rebels and Indians under Col. Coffee, in Western Kansas. All the munitions, camp equipage, &c., were captured, together with more than a thousand head of fine beef cattle, and eight hundred horses and mules, and other spoils.

Rewards of ten thousand dollars and upwards are offered in the Southern papers to any one who will assassinate Gen. Butler at New Orleans. The most fanatical appeals are made to the rabble of the South to instigate them to an indiscriminate murder of all Union men.

Guerrilla bands are organizing all through rebellion, for the purpose of plunder and general devastation. The horrible barbarities of our early Indian warfare were nothing in comparison with the brutal ferocity of these desperate ruffians. As soon as the Administration can relieve itself from the sympathizers who have wormed themselves into positions of trust in our army and navy, we trust the hand of power will be unglued and the desperadoes receive their just deserts.

The Government and loyal citizens are compelled, for humanity's sake, to feed the thousands of starving wretches in the South who have been ruined by the rebels. Wherever the rebel armies have been, they have destroyed whatever property they did not consume, and then left the starving population to die of hunger, or be supported by the benevolence of the Government and people they were attempting to destroy.

At New Orleans the rebel authorities deliberately burned and destroyed more than ten millions of dollars worth of property, and then left their dupes to starve, or be fed by the United States. And so it is everywhere.

From the Classification Mercury. Jeff. Davis and His Folly. Our contemporary, the Courier, yesterday, in a long editorial eulogizing President Davis, whom it calls "our Moses," makes the following assertion: "Yet we have been reliably informed that men of high official position among us—men of good intentions, but of mistaken and misguided patriotism—are sowing the seeds of discord broadcast in our midst by preaching a crusade against President Davis, and calling for a general convention of the Confederate States to depose him and create a military dictator in his place!"

It is not for us to say that there are men of high official position amongst us who are preaching a "crusade against President Davis, and calling for a general convention of the Confederate States to depose him and create a military dictator in his place!"

The Courier is our author for the grand revolution. We know of no other. That President Davis is an incubus on our cause we do not doubt. Although carefully covered over with the mantle of secrecy by Congress, enough has been disclosed by stern realities to show his total incompetency to govern the affairs of the Confederacy.

He has lost the confidence of both the army and the people, and, if an election to-morrow was to come off for the Presidency, we do not believe that he would get the vote of a single State in the Confederacy. Yet we have seen nowhere any opposition to him advocated or proposed, other than as such as the Constitution clearly authorizes. If the provisional Congress had done its duty—if the present Congress would do its duty—President Davis would be readily driven into a corner of inefficiency. This is all that we have seen advocated.

But if President Davis is to be treated as "our Moses," we really do not see the use of Congress. The military dictator the Courier seems so much to abhor, is practically upon us. The sooner Congress is abolished the better.

From the Boston Traveller, May 31st. Eastern Manufacturers in Favor of Bureau of Cotton. In conversation with some of our large New England manufacturers, we learn that Indian cotton is getting much in favor with them, and some of them have sent large orders out for this cotton, preferring it at the present prices to American. They regard it more favorably than the English spinners, since they have had experience in working it.

As to the burning of the cotton at the South, our manufacturers consider it will operate beneficially to them if one-half of the crop is burned. The stocks of goods on hand are so large that there is no doubt of an ample supply of cotton to meet the consumption for many months to come, and the manufacturers will be benefited rather than injured by having the staple come forward for the remainder of the year slowly and at high prices. Some of our shrewdest and largest manufacturers are well convinced of this, and as far as their interest is concerned, would not be sorry to see two million bales destroyed in the planting region during the coming summer.

Settled, for Cash, about $47,000. Oron Branch, Agt.

On the morning of the 11th inst., at the residence of Edward D. Mansfield, near Morrow, in the 26th year of her age, Elizabeth Warren, widow of Daniel E. Smith, and daughter of Charles R. Pomeroiy, Esq., of Pomeroiy, O., died.

The death of Mrs. Smith cast a deep gloom over our entire community, and she was so well known, and so much beloved—where "none knew her but to love her—none named her but to praise." She endeavored herself to many by her unselfish devotion to the "dear ones at home." Since her mother's death, she has been daughter, mother, sister, in her love, her care, her counsel to the younger members of the family; and her memory will remain a guiding spirit to them, until they meet her where there is no parting.

The poor received her special sympathy and attention. Faithfully did she obey the injunction—"Visit the fatherless and widows in their afflictions;" and many a desolate home has been cheered by her presence.

May the Lord comfort the husband, for whose loss all words of sympathy are vain—May He sustain the family in their great bereavement, and guard and guide the infant child for whose life she gave up her own, and impart to it its mother's christian grace, her charity, her love. And may we all be the better prepared to acquiesce in this seemingly hard Providence, by the reflection that "Death is but a kind and welcome servant, who unlocks with noiseless hand life's flower-encircled door to show us those we love." WM. J. PRALL, DEALER IN STOVES, AT PRALL'S OLD STAND Court street Pomeroiy, O.

Would respectfully call the attention of this community to one of the greatest improvements ever invented in COOKING STOVES.

The Burning of the gas and smoke arising from the coal, by which 50 per cent of fuel is saved, and a more intense heat thrown to the bottom of the Oven. In introducing this greatly-improved "Gas-Burning Stove, we wish it distinctly understood that it is not our design to use

"GAS" In disposing of them, but will WARRANT every Stove we sell to be what it is represented. This is not the only pattern we propose selling. We have the most improved patterns of WOOD COOKING STOVES.

Without dwelling upon the merits of the different patterns, we will not exclude our notice by announcing that our PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES Can't be beat, either in quality, or in cheapness, and we defy competition.

METALLIC HYDRANTS Kept constantly on hand, and we respectfully invite the public to examine our stock.

In addition
