Death of Joseph McCutcheon.

A venerable, patriotic and noble-hearted; energetic and public-spirited; a kind, firm friend to the poor and oppressed; an inveterate hater of wrong; a lover of his race, and a staunch advocate of the right; ever prompt to fulfill every obligation, and hoary with years of toil in various callings, was Joseph McCutcheon, who died very suddenly at the Warple House, last Saturday, at a little past ten o'clock, A. M.

Mr. McCutcheon was born in Harrison county, Kentucky, February 2d, 1778, and was, therefore, 71 years, one month and 11 days old.

He came to this country in 1827, having resided in the same 42 years, 24 of which he spent in Upper Sandusky, with the exception of a brief absence in California of about one year.

Founded Hancock county; was a member of the Ohio Legislature, a State Senator, and subsequently Auditor of this county, for the promotion of the interests of which he did more than any other man.

While holding the latter office he took great pride in embellishing the public grounds, which will long remain a beautiful monument to his memory.

He was one of the charter members of the Masonic Lodge of this county, and chosen its first Master. During the late war for the suppression of rebellion, he took up arms for the defense of the old flag, with the ardor of a veteran youth, raising a company, and entered the 61st Ohio Regiment.

On account of failing health, he afterwards resigned, but as soon as he recovered, recruited a company of cavalry.

His funeral took place on Monday afternoon, attended with Masonic honors and a large number of our citizens, including others from McCutcheonville, Carey, Nevada, and other places.

The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. F. B. Fry, and a eulogy pronounced by the venerable Col. M. H. Kirby. Two daughters—Mrs. Judge Beidler, and Mrs. Marlow, residing in Iowa—and a host of friends remain to mourn his demise.

The wife is over—the loved of years. To whom our yearning hearts had grown, Hath left us, with life's gathering years, To mingle dust and ashes with the dead.

At the meeting of the Masonic Lodge of this place on last Tuesday evening, the following preamble and resolutions were passed:

WHEREAS, The Supreme Architect of the Universe has summoned from among us, by the death of our beloved brother, Joseph McCutcheon.

Resolved, That, while we bow with reverence to the decree of the Supreme Grand Master, we keenly realize that we have sustained a loss, irreparable in its nature, to the Fraternity and this lodge.

Resolved, That in the person of our deceased brother, we have lost a faithful and good citizen, a kind and independent Father—a noted pioneer of civilization and Masonry in this country, and a long and useful life among us, he preceded us all to the Grand East, where, all our work will surely be tested by the perfect Square of the Grand Overseer.

Resolved, That we tender to the relatives of our deceased brother, our heartfelt sympathies in this, the day of their bereavement.

H. HOYT, P. M. A. W. M., COMM. M. G. CONNELL, Secy.

Swindlers.—An exchange pays the following tribute to that part of humanity known by the despised name of SWINDLERS.

"We are aware that it takes many different sorts of people to make a world, and therefore have a reasonable amount of respect for a certain class. We mean that class of community that are always running in debt, and as invariably leaving the debt run after it is contracted. But even with this class of faulty mankind one is compelled to make distinctions—to subdivide them into two classes. The one, respectable rogues; the other—infernal swindlers.

In the first sub-division—respectable rogues—we would place the spongers, the men and women who run in debt to the doctors, the tailors, the milliners, the saloon keepers, for livey hire, and for all the other luxuries of life.

For the respectable rogue, we say again, we have a very proper amount of respect. They mean well; but by some mishap in fortune were born poor instead of rich. They are to be deeply pitied, but never trusted. The significant "Pay to-day, and I'll trust to-morrow," to be seen badly spelled, and suspended in dirty, dingy gilt frames on many bar-room walls, is intended for their personal benefit.

The sub-division of infernal swindlers embraces those that swindle printers, landlords, grocers, butchers, and washerwomen. We have no language to express our abhorrence of the infernal swindlers. To the shame of humanity there are many infernal swindlers in the world."

RICH DOINGS.—Several weddings last week, with the concomitant circumstances, says the Canton Repository and Republican, constitute an event of such social importance as to assume the dimensions of a sensation.

The bridegrooms were Messrs. G. and M. D. Harter, proprietors of the banking house of George D. Harter & Bro., and sons of Isaac Harter, the well known Canton banker.

Mr. George D. Harter was married, on Wednesday, at Mansfield, to Miss Libbie A. Austin, daughter and only child of Mr. Cornelius Aultman, widely known as the successful manufacturer of Agricultural Implements.

The bride presents upon this occasion were of an extraordinary character, amounting in all to more than twenty-five thousand dollars. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Tonner, of Canton.

Mr. M. D. Harter was married in Massillon, on Thursday, to Miss Mary L. Brown, daughter of the late James M. Brown, formerly one of the most prominent citizens and successful business men of Massillon, the officiating clergyman, on this occasion, being Rev. R. L. Williams.

The happy quartette started immediately on a wedding tour to New Orleans, expecting to be absent about six weeks.

PETERS' MUSICAL MONTHLY.—The March number of the above work is at hand, and contains some twenty-four pages of choice new music, giving selections from the most popular writers, and variety enough to suit the most fastidious.

We notice, first, a beautiful little ballad, with chorus, by J. S. Cox, entitled "Left All Alone," the words of which run as follows:

"I'm all alone in my sorrow, No mother to soothe me to rest, Then follows a sacred song by George Leach, entitled "The Lord Will Provide."

"Though troubles assail, and dangers affright, Though foes may all fall, and foes all unite, Yet one thing secures us, whatever befall, The Scriptures assure us—The Lord will provide."

"Coraline," by the nation's song-writer, Will S. Hays, comes next, the chorus of which is—

"Oh! she was fair and gentle as a child had ever been, And the fairest of the Angels is our darling Coraline."

This is followed by a sprightly comic song by T. Brigham Bishop, entitled "The Young Widow," and among other things, she says:

"She doesn't want a man who stops out all night, Or one that drinks brandy, and comes home late at night."

Sample copies 30 cents. Published by J. L. PETERS, Music Publ'r., P. O. Box 5,429, New York.

It is seldom that we use the columns of this paper to puff or notice the thousand and one articles known as Patent Medicines. We, however, vary from our rule in the present case, that we may call attention to the article known as "S. T.—1860—X., Plantation Bitters."

We desire it understood that we do so without any solicitation or promise of benefit from the proprietor or other interested parties. We simply do it as an act of duty towards those who are laboring under physical disability, weakness, and the various complaints arising from impurities of the blood.

Having used the Bitters at the instigation of a friend, (and, we confess, with some misgivings at the outset), we found them a most valuable medical compound, and to our great satisfaction accomplished the object for which they were used.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

A GRAND DRAWING OF Pianos, by the patrons of the Dayton Weekly Index, will come off at 2 o'clock P. M., March 25 on the corner of Franklin and Ludlow streets, Dayton O., where certificates will be sold until 12 M. that day.

Immediately after the drawing, the balance of the instruments will be sold at auction. Let everybody attend, as they are the finest instruments ever brought to this city.

Terms—Half cash; the balance in six months, with interest and approved security.

PROPRIETORS INDEX. MUCOUS membrane is the membranes which line the internal passages and other cavities which open on the surface of the body, as well as various recesses, sinuses, gland-ducts, and receptacles of secretion, which open into such passages. And serous membranes are lining cavities which are not externally open.

DR. ROSENBERG. Wood.—We desire several loads of wood. Those who have agreed to pay their subscription with wood, will please bring it along.
