UNCLE VENUS.
Communicated.
Well sir, if a fellow ain't suited with this kind of weather, I think he must be hard to please; but some folks you know are suited with nothing. But I should think they might be suited with the weather when they get all sorts, right along in a row,—just as we generally get it in March. No wonder they call it March, for the weather marches right straight along and says "nothing to nobody." Don't even ask counsel of anybody; although, some folks seem to think they would like to be consulted on the subject.
Why don't I talk about something of some consequence?
Well, now what would you have me talk about? Religion! Well, that would suit me to a T. For, when I get to reading the Bible—about how the Gospel is good news and tidings of GREAT JOY, that is to come to every body all at once—I tell you it makes me feel all over so good and happy, that I could sing and shout and pray, and hop and jump; for I feel as if I was chucked full of that great joy which is coming to everybody some of these days. But the Bible says that we've all got desperately wicked and strayed away out of that straight and narrow path that the Lord wanted us to travel in; so there is none that does any good. So that he that says he is without sin, is awfully deceived, for the Truth ain't in him.—And the Bible says, the sinner shall be unpunished. And so I s'pose we all have to be punished for all our sins. And then the priest tells us that the Great Jehovah, God, has made a great big fire,—which they call Hell,—where he will throw all of us wicked sinners; and that He has got an awful-looking great fellow, whom they call the Devil, to stir us all up with a pitchfork. I s'pose to melt us all over, and burn all the flesh and drop out of us; so we will all come out like pure gold, clear from all sin and corruption.
So then we shall have a true knowledge of the power and goodness of the great God: for the Bible says we shall all know Him, from the least unto the greatest. So then we can walk in that great fire, like Shadrach, Meshib and Belshazzar did, in the fiery furnace, and we won't mind it any more than a flea-bite. So then the great Lord won't have any more use for that awful-looking fellow the Devil. So, the Bible says as how he will be destroyed, and that big Hell, which must be full of all the filth and corruption which came out of us wicked sinners, will be cast into

BOIL IT DOWN.
Whatever you have to say, my friend, Whether witty, or grave, or gay, Condense as much as ever you can,
And say it in the readiest way.
And whether you write of rural affairs,
Or particular things in town, Just take a word of friendly advice—
Boil it down.
For if you go spluttering over a page When a couple of lines would do, Your letter is spread so ever you can,
That the bread speaks plainly through.
So when you have a story to tell,
And would like a little renown,
To make sure of your wish, my friend,
Boil it down.
When writing an article for the press, Whether prose or verse, just try To utter your thoughts in the fewest words, And let them be crisp and dry.
And when it is finished, and you suppose It is done exactly brown, Just look it over again, and then
Boil it down.
For editors do not like to print Articles lengthily.
And the general reader does not care For a couple of yards of song.
So gather your wits in the smallest space And if you'd win the author's crown, And every time you write, my friend,
Boil it down.
[Commenced.]
A Few Thoughts on Temperance.
KIRBY, O., April 1869.
Thinks I to myself the people have been organizing Temperance Societies and spending much time and money to stop the progress of intemperance and drunkenness ever since the Washingtonians first organized a temperance society—more than 45 years ago; and what have they accomplished? How much less drunkenness is there now than there was fifty years ago? Some good has probably been done; but if the temperance organizations wish to destroy the tree, why not strike at the root, or a little nearer to it than they have yet done? This cutting off a branch or two only causes more sprouts to grow.
As long as doctors prescribe it, and sick people take it, (that is, alcohol,) so long drunkenness will walk abroad in our streets. For nearly every body is sick. But now it is well known that some of the best physicians in the United States abolished the use of alcohol in their practice more than twenty years ago, and that they have had better success in their practice since they quit using it, than they did before; then why don't every honest physician abolish the use of it? And why does not every temperance organization have their pledge to abstain from the use of it either as a beverage or medicine?
I am well satisfied from forty-five years experience and observation, that it is entirely useless as a medicine and that there is a much better way.

costs but $5, $50 will be added to
