THE WORLD.

AN INDEPENDENT DEMOCRATIC
DAILY, WEEKLY, AND SEMI-WEEKLY NEWSPAPER.

After four years of civil war, forced upon the people of the United States by the violence of sectional parties, we now enter upon a new era of unity and progress. North and South, a cordial cooperation of all honest men is needed to repair the waste of war, to establish our Peace through the triumph of sound constitutional principles in the Administration of the government, and our Unity by securing all that makes Union desirable.
The great Democratic Party, whose history in the past is the history of private prosperity, of territorial extension, and of public order in America, stands now, as it has ever stood, the Party of the Nation, superior to all sectional passions, and loyal to the rights of equal States and to the liberties of the individual citizens. Once more its voice will be raised to its time-honored standards in every city and town of the Northern and Southern States.
To the principles of this great Democratic Party of the Nation, The World has borne firm witness throughout the ordeal of civil war. It will now be devoted to the not less arduous task of applying those principles to the solution of the many and weighty questions—political, social, political—which come upon us with the return of peace. Faithful to the real interests of all sections, it will be enlisted by the progressions and blinded by the prepossessions of none.
That the principles of American Democracy should be a bitter-sweet, with no weak or uncertain voice, here in the great metropolitan centre of American enterprise and commerce, is a matter of such importance to every citizen as most recommend the World to the co-operation and support of good men in all sections of the Union.
Whatever skill can devise or enterprise accomplish will contribute to make the World what it is our resolve that it shall continue to be—the Best Newspaper of the Day.
Competent correspondents at every commercial and political centre of both hemispheres, who are always instructed to make the freest and promptest use of the telegraph, will keep our readers fully informed of the doings and the progress of mankind in all parts of the globe.

The Weekly World, a large quarto sheet same size as Daily, has now the largest circulation of any weekly journal published save the London Standard, and since its union with the New York Argus has justified the most liberal expenditures, which will make it unrivalled in interest and value to farmers. 2. The Reading for the Family Circle embraces the freshest and best Stories, Poetry, Religious Reading, etc.
