

The Westminster Gazette

$1 PER ANNUM.

WESTMINSTER, MD., SATURDAY, MARCH 8, 1902.

VOL. XXXVII.—NO. 20.

THE MODEL WEEKLY STORE NEWS.

Now Everything is SPRING.

$10,000 WORTH OF THE NEW THINGS NOW READY.

Our buyers have been in New York all this week completing our spring purchases. New Suits and Silk Waists, New Dress Goods and Silks, New Laces and Trimmings, New Wash Goods—all in superb variety at extremely low prices. Come and inspect the styles.

New Fancy Ribbons

25c Grade at 12c.

All Silk Taffeta and Louise, in stripes, figures and plain light shades, including pink, blue, yellow, Nile and white, 3 to 3 1/2 inches wide.

New Eolienne Veilings

$1.25 Quality 98c.

A very sheer, silk and wool fabric. Comes in all the new spring shades; is 45 inches wide, and extremely stylish.

New Bates Seersuckers

12c Kind 9c.

Just opened a new case of these goods, and there are many excellent patterns among them. Absolutely fast colors.

FIRST SHOWING OF NEW SUITS AND WAISTS.

Today we show the first things in new Tailored Suits, Separate Skirts and Silk Waists—the styles are perfect, and the workmanship and materials are the very best.

Usual $12.00 Tailored Suits $10.

Fine Cheviot Suits, in black and navy, with eton and fly front jackets, with flounce skirts; all taffeta trimmed. Good $12 values, only $10. Finer and more elaborate Suits from $12.50 up to $20.

$5.00 Silk Waists at $3.85.

Full line of handsome Taffeta Silk Waists, in all the new light shades, also black; beautifully made; an ordinary $5 grade for $3.85 each. Fine French de Soie and Taffeta Silk Waists at $5 and $6.

Separate Walking and Dress Skirts.

Full assortment of all the new shapes and materials. Special values at $5, $6 and $7.

New Figured Mohair

75c a Yard.

Just opened new figured Mohair, in navy blue with little white spots and figures. The latest for waists.

New Woolen Crash.

50c a Yard.

An Open Mesh, all wool fabric for dresses. Comes in navy blue and black. Entirely new, and very popular.

New Spring Percales

12c a Yard.

The best quality made for the price; styles are new, and there are many neat designs, suitable for Children's dresses.

DERR & LAMBERD, Westminster, Md.

Our Semi-Annual Clearance Sale.

All Winter Goods must be sold before stock-taking, and to clear them out quickly we offer the following Extra Bargain Prices:

- Men's $10 and $12 Suits, now $7.
- Men's $7 and $8 Suits, now $5.
- Men's $5 Suits, now $3.75.
- All medium weight Black Suits excepted.
- Youths $4.50 and $5 Suits, now $3.25.
- Boys $4.50 and $5 Suits, now $3.25.
- Boys $3.50 and $4 Suits, now $2.50.
- Men's $7.50 Storm Overcoats, now $5.50.
- Men's $9 Eng. Whipcord Overcoats, a beauty, now $6.98.
- Men's $7.50 Dark Blue Beaver Overcoats, now $5.98.

There are many other special prices that we cannot enumerate. We solicit a call. Very resp.,

Stouffer & Ensor,
Corner Store. [Jan 1] NEW WINDSOR, MD.

TREES, TREES, TREES, AT WHOLESALE PRICES.

Apples, 5c and up. Peaches, 5c and up. Pears, plums, cherries, berries, in fact a GENERAL LINE OF FIRST-CLASS NURSERY STOCK. CAN SAVE YOU MONEY ON SAME. THOUSANDS OF FINE TREES AT A VERY LOW PRICE.

Remember, the office and packing grounds are on the New Windsor road, opposite the residence of Mr. Wm. A. Cunningham.

Certificate of inspection and fumigation given with each order.
Western Maryland and C. & P. telephones.

GEORGE E. STONER,
Prop. of Stoner's Nurseries, Westminster, Md.

FOR THE BEST PHOTOGRAPHS,
GO TO MITCHELL'S ART GALLERY

It will pay you, as I am prepared to give you any size PICTURE FROM A LOCKET TO LIFE SIZE AT REASONABLE PRICES. Sittings made in cloudy or fair weather.

W. M. Telephone. 60 East Main street, next to Firemen's Building, Westminster, Md.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

This is to give notice that the subscribers have obtained from the Orphans' Court of Carroll County, in Maryland, letters testamentary on the Personal Estate of JACOB HORCH. All persons having claims against the deceased are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereon legally authenticated, to the subscriber, on or before the 16th day of September, 1902; they may otherwise be excluded from all benefit of said estate.

Given under our hands this 10th day of February, 1902.

JACOB C. HORCH, JOHN P. HORCH, Executors.

APPLICATION FOR DUPLICATE CERTIFICATE.

Notice is hereby given that on and after the 1st day of April, 1902, application will be made to the Westminster Water Company for the issue of a new certificate of stock in lieu of a certificate for two shares of stock in the company, now standing in the name of Henry S. Roberts, bearing Certificate No. 28, bearing date of August 12, 1886, which certificate has been lost or mislaid.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION.

No. 3945 EQUITY. In the Circuit Court for Carroll County, sitting as a Court of Equity.

Uriah Flegle, Plaintiff, vs. Barbara F. Fesser and Birnie J. Fesser, her husband, Mary A. Roach and Daniel Roach, her husband, Agnes S. Hull and Levi D. Hull, her husband, Rachel E. Wantz and Charles D. Wantz, her husband, Martha J. Shriner and Theodore C. Shriner, her husband, Alberta E. Kooz and Franklin Kooz, her husband, Ida L. Spangler and John C. Spangler, her husband, Cordelia Kooz and Archer Kooz, her husband, Anna C. Harver and Eric F. Harver, her husband, and Isabella A. Pike and Charles H. Pike, her husband, and Mary A. Flegle, widow, Defendants.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain real estate in Carroll County, in this State, belonging to Jesse Flegle, deceased, in his last will, and the distribution of the proceeds of the sale among the parties interested and entitled thereto.

The Bill states that Jesse Flegle, late of Carroll County, Maryland, in his last will, devised and bequeathed certain Real Estate situated in said county, containing in all about one hundred and thirty-five and a quarter acres, more or less.

That said real estate is not susceptible of partition without loss and injury to the orator and the other parties interested therein, and that it would be to the advantage of all parties interested, and it will be necessary, in order to make division of the said interests therein, that said real estate be sold, and the proceeds thereof be divided among said parties according to their several and respective interests therein.

It is thereupon this 4th day of February, 1902, ordered by the Circuit Court for Carroll County, sitting as a Court of Equity, that the plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Carroll County, once in each of three successive weeks before the 24th day of March, 1902, that the absent defendants of the object and substance of this Bill, warning them to appear in this Court in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 29th day of March, next, to show cause, if they have any, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

JAS. H. BILLINGSLEA, Clerk. True copy.—Test: feb 23 '02. JAS. H. BILLINGSLEA, Clerk.

NO. 3840 EQUITY.

In the Circuit Court for Carroll County, sitting as a Court of Equity.

Charles E. Pink, Assignee of Mortgage, Plaintiff, vs. Robert W. Warner and Rebecca Warner, Mortgagees, Defendants.

Ordered this 25th day of February, in the year 1902, that the following real estate, to-wit: the premises situated in Carroll County, Maryland, containing 25 acres, more or less, and the other 4 acres, 1 rood and 20 perches, also a Wood lot containing 2 acres, 3 rods and 20 perches, on the Manchester tract, near Birch Hill.

Terms will be made known on the day of sale, on or before the 27th day of March, next.

JAS. H. BILLINGSLEA, Clerk. True copy.—Test: feb 23 '02. JAS. H. BILLINGSLEA, Clerk.

WANTED.

A Good Farm Hand, with a small family; one that understands working horses and driving a team; house in lieu; constant employment. Apply to

WM. DAVIS, Marriottville, Howard county, Md., Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. mar 31

PUBLIC SALE.

The undersigned, intending to quit farming, will sell on the farm of Uriah Bixler, near Roundabout Station, two miles west of Westminster, on WEDNESDAY, MARCH 19th, 1902, at 9 a. m. sharp, the following property:

5 horses, all good leaders, and 4 will work anywhere; 12 cows, some fresh by day of sale; 1 bull, 4 shot; 2 pool 4 horse broodmare farm wags; nearly new 2 wagon body, 2 hay carriages, binder, mow, hay fork, rope and pulley, iron and steel, roller, 5 furrow plows, large new Osborne harrow, Champion corn planter, improved Standard Ohio feed cutter, 16 inches, with carrier; spring wagon, carriage, stick wagon, complete horse power, 6 sets of harness, set of breechings, harness, 2 halters, some new; check lines, wagon saddle, hounds, and new double set of carriage harness, buggy, log row, halter, and standard chains, 25-horse spreaders, single, double and triple trees, wind mill, forks, rakes, hoe, scoop shovels, clothes wringer, 10 new wheelbarrows, 25 milk cans, 6 coolers, buckets, crocks, pans, 100 barrels of corn, 60 bushels of potatoes, &c.; set of blacksmith's hammers, some new; iron blower, vise, drill press, hammers, tongs, &c. Also Household Goods, consisting of clock, carpet, bed, table, chairs, washstands, bureau, chairs, tables, stand, carpet, blinds, large coal stove, sewing machine, clock, and other articles, and many more, in fact everything in the house. One dozen home made brooms.

Terms.—All sums of and under $5, cash; on sums over $5 and under $100, to be given on note with approved security, bearing interest from day of sale; over $100, to be paid in cash.

N. O. H. GRAYBILL, mar 13

EXCHANGERS' SALE OF A VALUABLE FARM.

At Denning's, Carroll County, Maryland.

By virtue of the power of sale contained in the last will and testament of Nelly Kelly, late of Carroll County, Maryland, deceased, and in pursuance of an order of the Orphans' Court of Carroll County, the undersigned, executor of said will, will sell at public sale, on the premises, on WEDNESDAY, MARCH 19th, 1902, at 1 o'clock, p. m., all that tract of land situated in Carroll County, Maryland, at Denning's, on the Old Liberty Road, containing 50 ACRES OF LAND, MORE OR LESS, and improved by a large two-story building, the farm on which I reside, and other necessary outbuildings. This farm is all under cultivation and is of excellent meadow and tract is well watered, with a well at the door of the house. This property adjoins the lands of Joseph H. Haines, late of Carroll County, and is convenient to churches, schools and stores, with mail delivered at the door by the Rural Delivery. A survey of this property will be made before the day of sale, and the accurate quantity of land and state of each shall be the basis of the sale.

Terms of Sale.—One-third cash on the day of sale or on the ratification thereof by the Orphans' Court of Carroll County, and the remaining two-thirds in two equal payments of six and twelve months each; or all cash at the option of the purchaser. The credit of interest will be secured by the notes of the purchasers with approved security.

HENRY DEMMITT, ELHANAN A. HAINES, Executors of Nelly Kelly, deceased, feb 23

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

Near Denning's, Carroll County, State of Maryland.

By virtue of a decree of the Circuit Court for Carroll County, in Equity, passed in case No. 3851 Equity, in said Court, wherein Elhanan A. Haines and others are complainants, and Thomas G. Haines and others are defendants, the undersigned, trustee appointed in and under said decree, will sell at public sale, on the premises, on WEDNESDAY, 19th day of MARCH, 1902, at 2 o'clock, p. m., all that real estate situated near Denning's, Franklin district, Carroll County, Maryland, wherein the late Thomas G. Haines, deceased, and died seized and possessed, consisting of 40 ACRES OF LAND, MORE OR LESS, adjoining lands of Elhanan A. Haines, Bradford Greenwood and others, and containing 25 acres, more or less, of the purchase money to be paid cash on the day of sale, or on the ratification of the sale by the Orphans' Court of Carroll County, in two equal payments of six and twelve months, secured to the satisfaction of the trustee, and bearing interest from the day of sale at the rate of 6 per cent per annum.

By myself, I will never sacrifice my right to soil unretained through the boundless sky, in order to bring comparative freedom to so caged canary. No aviary and no scolding mate of mine. No thank you. A wild songster I am, and a wild songster I will remain. Yes; the canaries—artful dickies—shall preen and plume themselves, and set their little yellow caps at me in vain. To be sure, I will bill and flirt with them, and make playful love to the pretties through the bars; but enter the cage? Not I.

At this minute, there are, to be precise, no less than five canaries bent upon encaging me. There is Ethel Phispon, Ethel Cartwright, There is Janet Fairbanks, There is Nellie Dampler, There is Jessie Raymond. All are pretty and charming. If I lived in the dominions of the Grand Turk, I might possibly be able to get them all caged, and the wild songster, though mated 10 times over, continues to enjoy unfettered freedom. But since I live in England, this land of monogamic fetters, wholesome matrimony is impossible, and retail union is not good enough.

As with such I like to love them all a little. But to devote myself entirely to one of them as a wife is hardly my ticket. "One man, one vote," is a preposterous theory enough, in all conscience, but "one man, one love," is altogether too ridiculous. In the investment of a fellow's affections, as of his money, this maxim holds good: "never put all your eggs in one basket."

I wrote the above in my commonplace book one day last year. It contained the ideas for a novel which I meant to write, when I had then—a masculine matrimonial novel, which should contract the false impressions created by those feminine matrimonial novels to which I have alluded.

It was to be a scorching, too—a regular "Sixth Sense of Juvenal"—a regular "Dix, qui Telephonum, quibus exasperat coloribus? Ferre potes domum, saltem tot redibus, saltem."

Intending to quit farming, I will sell on the farm of Uriah Bixler, near Roundabout Station, two miles west of Westminster, on WEDNESDAY, MARCH 19th, at 9 a. m. sharp, 6 horses, good drivers and leaders, one in foal by Herschel; 2 3-year-old cows, some fresh by day of sale; 5 heifers and 2 bulls, brood sow and pigs; 5 shot; a complete variety of farm implements; fall set of household tools, &c.

See bills for particulars and terms.

Joseph W. Berret, Auctioneer, feb 15 '02. Harry R. Davies, Clerk.

FOR SALE.

Desirable Dairy Farm, 160 Acres, located on Baltimore & Annapolis Road, near Reisterstown Park, at Finksburg, 20 miles from Baltimore. Half-mile from W. Md. R. R. Station; strong, level land; crops well; well watered and good springs. Large house and good buildings. Terms easy.

W. T. WILSON, Auct., J. Wesley Biggs and Jas. M. Stoner, clerks. mar 31

Select Story.

POLLY DODD.

From London Truth.

I am a bachelor—of deliberate choice and set purpose, a bachelor. Others may remain single for various causes. Item, because they cannot afford to marry. Item, because they never happen to have met with a girl who suits their fancy. Item, because they are constitutionally averse to the tender passion. Item, because they have no cause in particular, but have simply drifted into bachelorhood by accident or the force of their surroundings.

Men who remain single from any of the above causes do not, to my mind, represent the genuine form of bachelor. They are simply what they are from circumstances. But the true bachelor is a bachelor from reason. I am a bachelor from reason.

Yes. It is not because I cannot afford to marry, for I have £4,000 a year. It is not because I have never met a girl who suits my fancy. I have met scores. It is not because I am constitutionally averse from the tender passion, for I am rather amorous than otherwise. It is not because I have no cause in particular, for I have the most definite and intelligent causes.

It is simply this, that I have carefully considered the question of marriage in the light of what philosophers call "pure reason"—that faculty which bears the same relation to common intuitive perception as X-rays bear to the common light of day.

And by turning these cold, calm, searching rays upon matrimony, as it obtains in Christian countries, what do I see? I see an institution which, under the guise of being "for the mutual society, help, and comfort" of the man and the woman, really has nothing mutual about it. For what does the term "mutual" imply, except a system of reciprocity—of give and take? But in matrimony the "give" is all on one side, the man's; and the "take" is all on the other side, the woman's. For instance, the man gives a name; the woman takes it. The man gives a home; the woman takes it. The man gives an income; the woman takes it. The man gives independence; the woman takes it. And yet, that is true and undeniable. The restricted girl blossoms into the free and independent wife. The free and independent bachelor fades into the restricted husband. 'Tis a hopelessly one-sided affair, in which every thing is done for the woman's sake, and nothing for the man's.

But—leaving their other misrepresentations out of the case—these unfair champions of the fair all make the ridiculous false assumption that woman and man start, so to speak, equal when they marry. No more absurdly untrue premise ever passed the way to a fallacious conclusion.

Woman, when she marries, is as a tame canary let loose from a tiny cage into the comparative freedom of a spacious aviary. Man, on the contrary, is as a wild songster made captive, to whom the said aviary is not a place of liberty, but a prison. Yet, instead of being pleased with his increased freedom thus brought to him, instead of feeling grateful to him who has sacrificed himself on purpose to bring it to them, these thankless canaries must needs scold and chatter because the aviary is not larger, and hold themselves cruelly aggrieved if those wild songsters, their mates, fly off now and then by themselves to stretch their wings awhile in their native and congenial blue.

For myself, I will never sacrifice my right to soil unretained through the boundless sky, in order to bring comparative freedom to so caged canary. No aviary and no scolding mate of mine. No thank you. A wild songster I am, and a wild songster I will remain. Yes; the canaries—artful dickies—shall preen and plume themselves, and set their little yellow caps at me in vain. To be sure, I will bill and flirt with them, and make playful love to the pretties through the bars; but enter the cage? Not I.

At this minute, there are, to be precise, no less than five canaries bent upon encaging me. There is Ethel Phispon, Ethel Cartwright, There is Janet Fairbanks, There is Nellie Dampler, There is Jessie Raymond. All are pretty and charming. If I lived in the dominions of the Grand Turk, I might possibly be able to get them all caged, and the wild songster, though mated 10 times over, continues to enjoy unfettered freedom. But since I live in England, this land of monogamic fetters, wholesome matrimony is impossible, and retail union is not good enough.

As with such I like to love them all a little. But to devote myself entirely to one of them as a wife is hardly my ticket. "One man, one vote," is a preposterous theory enough, in all conscience, but "one man, one love," is altogether too ridiculous. In the investment of a fellow's affections, as of his money, this maxim holds good: "never put all your eggs in one basket."

I wrote the above in my commonplace book one day last year. It contained the ideas for a novel which I meant to write, when I had then—a masculine matrimonial novel, which should contract the false impressions created by those feminine matrimonial novels to which I have alluded.

It was to be a scorching, too—a regular "Sixth Sense of Juvenal"—a regular "Dix, qui Telephonum, quibus exasperat coloribus? Ferre potes domum, saltem tot redibus, saltem."

Intending to quit farming, I will sell on the farm of Uriah Bixler, near Roundabout Station, two miles west of Westminster, on WEDNESDAY, MARCH 19th, at 9 a. m. sharp, 6 horses, good drivers and leaders, one in foal by Herschel; 2 3-year-old cows, some fresh by day of sale; 5 heifers and 2 bulls, brood sow and pigs; 5 shot; a complete variety of farm implements; fall set of household tools, &c.

See bills for particulars and terms.

Joseph W. Berret, Auctioneer, feb 15 '02. Harry R. Davies, Clerk.

FOR SALE.

Desirable Dairy Farm, 160 Acres, located on Baltimore & Annapolis Road, near Reisterstown Park, at Finksburg, 20 miles from Baltimore. Half-mile from W. Md. R. R. Station; strong, level land; crops well; well watered and good springs. Large house and good buildings. Terms easy.

W. T. WILSON, Auct., J. Wesley Biggs and Jas. M. Stoner, clerks. mar 31

Select Story.

POLLY DODD.

From London Truth.

I am a bachelor—of deliberate choice and set purpose, a bachelor. Others may remain single for various causes. Item, because they cannot afford to marry. Item, because they never happen to have met with a girl who suits their fancy. Item, because they are constitutionally averse to the tender passion. Item, because they have no cause in particular, but have simply drifted into bachelorhood by accident or the force of their surroundings.

Men who remain single from any of the above causes do not, to my mind, represent the genuine form of bachelor. They are simply what they are from circumstances. But the true bachelor is a bachelor from reason. I am a bachelor from reason.

Yes. It is not because I cannot afford to marry, for I have £4,000 a year. It is not because I have never met a girl who suits my fancy. I have met scores. It is not because I am constitutionally averse from the tender passion, for I am rather amorous than otherwise. It is not because I have no cause in particular, for I have the most definite and intelligent causes.

It is simply this, that I have carefully considered the question of marriage in the light of what philosophers call "pure reason"—that faculty which bears the same relation to common intuitive perception as X-rays bear to the common light of day.

And by turning these cold, calm, searching rays upon matrimony, as it obtains in Christian countries, what do I see? I see an institution which, under the guise of being "for the mutual society, help, and comfort" of the man and the woman, really has nothing mutual about it. For what does the term "mutual" imply, except a system of reciprocity—of give and take? But in matrimony the "give" is all on one side, the man's; and the "take" is all on the other side, the woman's. For instance, the man gives a name; the woman takes it. The man gives a home; the woman takes it. The man gives an income; the woman takes it. The man gives independence; the woman takes it. And yet, that is true and undeniable. The restricted girl blossoms into the free and independent wife. The free and independent bachelor fades into the restricted husband. 'Tis a hopelessly one-sided affair, in which every thing is done for the woman's sake, and nothing for the man's.

But—leaving their other misrepresentations out of the case—these unfair champions of the fair all make the ridiculous false assumption that woman and man start, so to speak, equal when they marry. No more absurdly untrue premise ever passed the way to a fallacious conclusion.

Woman, when she marries, is as a tame canary let loose from a tiny cage into the comparative freedom of a spacious aviary. Man, on the contrary, is as a wild songster made captive, to whom the said aviary is not a place of liberty, but a prison. Yet, instead of being pleased with his increased freedom thus brought to him, instead of feeling grateful to him who has sacrificed himself on purpose to bring it to them, these thankless canaries must needs scold and chatter because the aviary is not larger, and hold themselves cruelly aggrieved if those wild songsters, their mates, fly off now and then by themselves to stretch their wings awhile in their native and congenial blue.

For myself, I will never sacrifice my right to soil unretained through the boundless sky, in order to bring comparative freedom to so caged canary. No aviary and no scolding mate of mine. No thank you. A wild songster I am, and a wild songster I will remain. Yes; the canaries—artful dickies—shall preen and plume themselves, and set their little yellow caps at me in vain. To be sure, I will bill and flirt with them, and make playful love to the pretties through the bars; but enter the cage? Not I.

At this minute, there are, to be precise, no less than five canaries bent upon encaging me. There is Ethel Phispon, Ethel Cartwright, There is Janet Fairbanks, There is Nellie Dampler, There is Jessie Raymond. All are pretty and charming. If I lived in the dominions of the Grand Turk, I might possibly be able to get them all caged, and the wild songster, though mated 10 times over, continues to enjoy unfettered freedom. But since I live in England, this land of monogamic fetters, wholesome matrimony is impossible, and retail union is not good enough.

As with such I like to love them all a little. But to devote myself entirely to one of them as a wife is hardly my ticket. "One man, one vote," is a preposterous theory enough, in all conscience, but "one man, one love," is altogether too ridiculous. In the investment of a fellow's affections, as of his money, this maxim holds good: "never put all your eggs in one basket."

I wrote the above in my commonplace book one day last year. It contained the ideas for a novel which I meant to write, when I had then—a masculine matrimonial novel, which should contract the false impressions created by those feminine matrimonial novels to which I have alluded.

It was to be a scorching, too—a regular "Sixth Sense of Juvenal"—a regular "Dix, qui Telephonum, quibus exasperat coloribus? Ferre potes domum, saltem tot redibus, saltem."

Intending to quit farming, I will sell on the farm of Uriah Bixler, near Roundabout Station, two miles west of Westminster, on WEDNESDAY, MARCH 19th, at 9 a. m. sharp, 6 horses, good drivers and leaders, one in foal by Herschel; 2 3-year-old cows, some fresh by day of sale; 5 heifers and 2 bulls, brood sow and pigs; 5 shot; a complete variety of farm implements; fall set of household tools, &c.

See bills for particulars and terms.

Joseph W. Berret, Auctioneer, feb 15 '02. Harry R. Davies, Clerk.

FOR SALE.

Desirable Dairy Farm, 160 Acres, located on Baltimore & Annapolis Road, near Reisterstown Park, at Finksburg, 20 miles from Baltimore. Half-mile from W. Md. R. R. Station; strong, level land; crops well; well watered and good springs. Large house and good buildings. Terms easy.

W. T. WILSON, Auct., J. Wesley Biggs and Jas. M. Stoner, clerks. mar 31

Select Story.

POLLY DODD.

From London Truth.

I am a bachelor—of deliberate choice and set purpose, a bachelor. Others may remain single for various causes. Item, because they cannot afford to marry. Item, because they never happen to have met with a girl who suits their fancy. Item, because they are constitutionally averse to the tender passion. Item, because they have no cause in particular, but have simply drifted into bachelorhood by accident or the force of their surroundings.

Men who remain single from any of the above causes do not, to my mind, represent the genuine form of bachelor. They are simply what they are from circumstances. But the true bachelor is a bachelor from reason. I am a bachelor from reason.

Yes. It is not because I cannot afford to marry, for I have £4,000 a year. It is not because I have never met a girl who suits my fancy. I have met scores. It is not because I am constitutionally averse from the tender passion, for I am rather amorous than otherwise. It is not because I have no cause in particular, for I have the most definite and intelligent causes.

It is simply this, that I have carefully considered the question of marriage in the light of what philosophers call "pure reason"—that faculty which bears the same relation to common intuitive perception as X-rays bear to the common light of day.

And by turning these cold, calm, searching rays upon matrimony, as it obtains in Christian countries, what do I see? I see an institution which, under the guise of being "for the mutual society, help, and