NO. 3973 EQUITY.

In the Circuit Court for Carroll County, in Equity.

Ex parte. In the matter of the Trust Estate of Jesse B. Fowler and Clara P. Fowler, his wife, Charles E. Fink and Francis Neal Parke, Trustees. Upon the foregoing petition it is this 24th day of May, 1902, by the Circuit Court for Carroll County, sitting as a Court of Equity, ordered and decreed that jurisdiction be assumed of the trust created by the aforementioned trust deed of Jesse B. Fowler and wife, to Charles E. Fink and Francis Neal Parke, trustees, and that said trustees proceed to sell said real and personal property at public sale upon giving ten days notice to the personal property, and at least twenty days notice as to the real estate, of the time, place, manner and terms of sale; and that the terms of sale of said personal property shall be for all sums of $10.00 and less, and on all sums over $10.00 a credit of three months will be given upon the purchaser giving his note with approved security, bearing interest from the day of sale; and that the terms of sale of the real estate shall be one-third cash on the day of sale or on the ratification thereof by the Court, and the residue in two equal payments of six and twelve months each, or all cash at the option of the purchaser, the credit payments to bear interest from the day of sale and to be secured by the notes of the purchasers with approved security. Without, however, adequate motive, the said Jesse B. Fowler, in violation of the terms of the said trust deed, and in violation of the order of the Court, did sell and convey to the said Charles E. Fink and Francis Neal Parke, trustees, a large tract of land at Big Point, Washington county, and will at once build a factory and begin the manufacture of spokes and handles. He employed about 25 men at the start. On the 16th instant, Wolf Lichtenstein, 28 years of age, the proprietor of a cloak, cap and skirt manufactory of 730 East Baltimore street, Baltimore, was murdered in a horrible manner by an employee named Hyman Seitzer. Without adequate motive, the said Seitzer shot and killed the said Lichtenstein. Extensive improvements are made at Pen-Mar Park. Work was started last week by Contractor George, with a force of 100 men, on the addition of the four sidings at the park. Each addition will be 500 feet long. They will extend southward from the park toward the Blue Mountain House. These additions to the sidings will give room for many more cars and will avoid the necessity of sending trains to Highfield, Edgemoor and Hagerstown on big days. Henry Walters, of Baltimore, has bought the great Marcella art collection in Rome, paying therefor the sum of $1,000,000. This collection embraces over 900 paintings, and a special steamer has been engaged to bring them to this country. They will be added to Mr. Walters' art collection, where they will be permanently kept. The collection was purchased from the Rev. Marcello Massarelli, of Rome, who has devoted many years to the accumulation of rare pictures. Prof. R. W. Silver, president of Maryland Agricultural College, has issued invitations to the farmers organizations of the State for a general meeting at the college on May 28 and 29. Committees of the several societies and clubs are expected to assemble there on the 28th and 29th inst. for the purpose of the property and buildings and experiment station grounds, and report on the 29th to the general assemblage. The committees will be provided for and lodged at night on the 28th at the college and on the 29th dinner will be served. An official compilation of the 12,000-ton cargo of the Hamburg-America Line steamer Bulgarian, which left Baltimore last week drawing 30 feet 10 inches of water, showed that it was valued at $674,036. This cargo, which would fill 400 railroad cars, consisted of 176,000 bushels of wheat, 250,000 bushels of corn, 100,000 bushels of oats, 100,000 bushels of rye, 7,500 feet of poplar logs, 54,873 logs, 1,471 cases and 1,857 bars of copper, 800 packages of agricultural machinery, 400 sacks of oats, 900 sacks of feed, 1,200 sacks of rye, 600 barrels of rosin, 9,650 feet of walnut squares, 25,500 feet of lumber, 900 barrels of cottonseed oil, 5,083 cubic feet of logs, 1,215 cases of oats, 1,008 feet of hubs and blocks, 12,061 sacks of malt sprouts, 200 boxes of lard, 24,422 sacks of flour, 300 sacks of bran, 320 sacks of oatmeal, 458 bales of cotton waste, 1,825 tierces of lard, 425 boxes of bacon and 1,200 tubs of lard.

Hoge, who was a member of the Second Judicial district of Maryland. He graduated from the Delaware College at Newark in 1839, studied medicine under Dr. James Bordley in Centerville, and graduated at the University of Maryland in 1844. For many years he practiced in Queen Anne's county, and removed to Talbot county with the intention of retiring from active practice, but found it impossible to do so on account of demands on his professional skill.

George Brown, one of the largest landowners in the Green Spring Valley, died on the 17th instant, at his beautiful country home, about a mile from Brooklandville, Baltimore county.

Mount Iona Steaming Up. After a silence of 20 years Mount Iona, the only volcano in the United States, is sending out smoke and steam, and some of the people in the surrounding country say rumblings can be heard. These reports are brought from Cedar county, Neb., where the little mountain is situated, by travelers, who say that the settlers in the neighborhood are panic stricken and are preparing to leave the hill of fire.

Geologists have said that the smoke is caused by water seeping through the limestone formation of the mountain, but the people are fearful of an eruption and are preparing to move.
