A Merry Ice-Cream Party.

On June 25, Mrs. John Conaway, of Eastview, received notice to have her ice-cream cans ready, as there would be cream brought to have a general good meal. She went to borrowing and had freezers there to make 6 gallon. At the time expected the guests arrived, and such busy folks would scarcely be found in a days journey.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Conaway and daughter Elsie, Mr. and Mrs. George Wick and sons Charles and George, and granddaughter Dorothea, Elias Arnold and wife, Edward Arnold, wife and son Walter, Robert Arnold, wife, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Saddle and daughter Virgie, Christ Schnabel and daughter Margie, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Glover and daughter Ethel, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wagner, son Walter and daughter, Lillie, Eveline and Agnes Jones, Albert Arnold, Harvey Richter, James Nightengale, Samuel Arnold and many others.

PRIZE INCREASED TO $250.

For Essay Showing What High License Costs Baltimore. The offer last week by the Anti-Saloon League of Maryland of prizes of $100 and $50 for the best and second best essays on the question: "What it costs the people of Baltimore morally, physically, financially and industrially to secure the million dollars which it now receives from the liquor traffic under the High License Law," has already stirred up so much interest, that a prominent temperance man has made a special subscription to the prize fund, which increases the first prize to $250.

The League expects to be able to secure additional contributions sufficient to increase the first prize to at least $500 and hopes to be able by fall to offer $1,000, an amount which the League believes will make the contest noteworthy throughout the country and sufficient to attract contestants of such prominence and ability that the winning essay will be accepted as conclusive.

Christian Endeavor Institute.

The Christian Endeavor Institute and Recreation Assembly which is to be held at Pen-Mar July 18 to 23 will bring to this State the many special and delightful features of the larger summer conferences in the North. The great missionary gatherings at Silver Bay, Lake George, N. Y., will be somewhat reproduced in the daily mission study classes at Pen-Mar. The Christian Endeavor Summer School at Sagamore Beach, Mass., will be represented in the School of Methods, the Northfield Summer Conference will be remembered in the stirring inspirational addresses which will be given each evening in the great auditorium. The geographical location of Pen-Mar is as good as any of these Northern Summer Conference places and a great crowd is expected there this summer.

In addition to the many delegates from the Maryland Societies a goodly number will attend from the District of Columbia and the nearby Pennsylvania Counties. Special rates are made from all points on the Western Maryland Railroad and a flat rate of $2.50 for the round trip is charged from Baltimore. Board may be had at a low rate making the cost of the entire trip within $12.00.

Much American Money Invested in Canada.

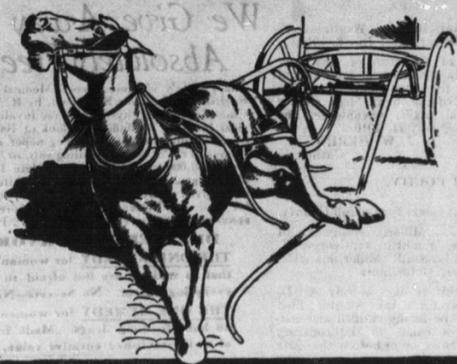

Detroit, Mich.—The investment of United States capital in the Canadian provinces last year exceeded by $60,000,000 the bonded business between Canada and Great Britain," said Jas. Simpson, president of the Board of Education of Toronto, who has been a member of the Dominion Government Commission which will tour the world for a year seeking information to better Canada industrially.

Mr. Simpson is representing the Toronto Star, with a delegation of 15 city officials, investigating Detroit paving and the Detroit boulevard construction.

"The investment of American capital in Canada last year was $226,000,000," he said. "It is just one indication of what Canada is doing to place herself alongside the leading nations of the world industrially. Our trip around the world is to the same end. We will investigate educational matters primarily, but with a view of bettering the vocational features of our educational system with special regard to the industries of specific provinces.

"In Canada now the government has no direct control over the school system and the provincial schools are away behind other countries in the practical training which they give. It is by special request of the provincial school authorities that this commission has been appointed. There are eight men on the commission and we are given a little more than a year for investigation before making our report.
