Engagement Announced.

Mr. John L. Edmondson announces the engagement of his daughter, Katherine, and Mr. William Beuhler Seabrook, the marriage to take place in November.

No approaching wedding of the early fall will be of more genuine interest, both Miss Edmondson and Mr. Seabrook having a large acquaintance throughout the South.

While the latter has made his home here for only a year, his splendid work as a member of the Journal staff and his own popularity have won him a host of friends. Mr. Seabrook comes originally from Westminster, Md., and before coming to Atlanta was the city editor of the Augusta Chronicle. Leaving the Chronicle he went for a year's tramping trip abroad, during which he contributed interesting articles to magazines and newspapers, coming to the Journal directly on his return from Europe.

Miss Edmondson has also spent much time travelling and studying in Europe. Personally she is both attractive and accomplished, with a charm and vivacity of manner that have made her universally popular.

She is the only daughter of Mr. John L. Edmondson, one of the leading members of the Atlanta bar.—Atlanta (Ga.) Journal.

BABY LIVES LONG IN GRAVE.

Buried for Forty Hours, It Cries When Dirt Is Removed.

Greely, Col., Sept. 15.—A baby, buried alive and found to be living after having been under ground for 40 hours, has created a sensation here.

The mother is Mary Georgina, of Pierce.

The child was born Monday afternoon and the mother, understanding it was dead, asked that it be buried near her home. This was done.

Coroner Macey was later notified of the burial without a permit, an ordinary peach box being used for a coffin.

He ordered it exhumed. Before the last shovelful of earth had been taken up a faint cry was heard from the little box and the infant was found to be living. Physicians were unable, however, to save its life.

Seemingly New York is not such a night-hawking city as has been intimated. The day and night bank started there under ground ago, has decided to discontinue business after midnight, as it does not pay to keep open after that time.

Rockway Beach is about 20 miles from Manhattan.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

DRILLED IN THE TEACHING OF ARITHMETIC AND ENGLISH GRAMMAR.

Dr. Lewis Congratulates Teachers on the Great Advance in Public Education.

The Teachers' Institute of Carroll county, which closed today, was of a very high grade, and the work all of the pupils was of a practical helpfulness to teachers. In the opinion of very many this was the best institute they ever attended. The program which follows was made out specially to get practical results in the school room.

The teachers were specially drilled in the teaching of arithmetic and English grammar in successive lessons on these important branches.

Emphasis was also placed upon the importance of creating in the minds of the pupils a love for rural life, or farm life, on account of its healthfulness, moral purity and independence. The platform lectures were thoroughly inspiring as they held up with marked ability the highest ideals of Christian character and moral conduct.

In addition to those on the program Dr. Lewis, President of Western Maryland College, was present, and made an address which was most helpful and was very much appreciated. Dr. Lewis congratulated the teachers on the great advance in public education in the county. A feature of the institute was the splendid instruction in music, which it is hoped will bear fruit all over the county.

Cupid Spoke by Wireless.

When Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Schmidt, of Baltimore, were apprised September 9 of the wedding of their daughter, Miss Augusta, to Mr. D. Earl Bortner, of Arcadia, Md., by an aerogram, they evinced no surprise, but sent in return a message of congratulation.

Late Friday afternoon Mr. Bortner appeared at the Schmidt home and asked Miss Augusta to go with him on a trip down the Bay. She consented, and as they left the house Mrs. Schmidt jokingly remarked to them not to get married while they were out. "We don't think we will, but it is possible that we may change our minds," stated Mr. Bortner. Late in the evening Mrs. Schmidt received the aerogram, which read: "Married. On the way to Virginia. Augusta."

The message of congratulation was immediately sent to the newly wedded couple, who are at the present time spending their honeymoon at Virginia Beach, Va.

THE GRAND OLD PARTY IN MAINE WALLOPED.

The Democrats Elect Governor, Two Congressmen, and Have a Majority in the Senate and House.

THE FIRST DEMOCRATIC GOVERNOR ELECTED FOR 30 YEARS.

DEMOCRATS ALSO WIN IN ARKANSAS AND ARIZONA.

The Democratic ticket in the State of Maine made a telling blow on the G. O. P. which will long be remembered. It is one of the greatest political revelations Maine has ever known. In the election Democrats elected the Governor, two Congressmen and control both Senate and Legislature.

All the Republicans have saved is Archer C. Hinds, who has been elected to Congress in the First district by about 500 plurality, and Congressman Giersner, in the Fourth, who is re-elected by a small margin.

The Democrats will control 21 out of 31 State Senators and 85 out of 151 Representatives to the State Legislature. The Legislature will elect a Senator to succeed Eugene Hale, who will probably be Charles F. Johnson, of Waterville.

The Legislature, which convenes in January, will have the redistricting of the Congressional, legislative and councilor districts, to stand for a decade.

Governor-elect Plafied will have the appointment of two associate judges of the Supreme Court, a Superior Court Judge, State Highway Commissioner and other important officials.

With only 21 of the 521 cities and towns and plantations missing, the vote for Governor is: Plafied (Dem.), 73,245; Fernald (Rep.), 64,736. The missing places four years ago gave Cobb (Rep.), 315 and Davis (Dem.), 157.

McGillivuddy, elected over Swanson in the Second district, will have a plurality of more than 2,500, and Gould, elected to succeed Congressman Burleigh in the Third district, will have more than 2,200.

One of the first things which the Legislature will do will be to repeal the obnoxious Sturgis Enforcement law, which is declared to be undemocratic and un-American.

The prohibitory amendment, which forbids the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, will be resubmitted to a vote of the people.

Such prominent Republicans as former Gov. William T. Cobb, of Rockland, and many others who were not identified with the Ricker-Fernald machine, take the overthrow of the party very philosophically, and remark that "the people had evidently decided upon a change and they made it."

On Monday the second game was played at Frederick, and was close and exciting. The score being 5 to 4 for Frederick.

Wm. LIPPY STABBED TO DEATH.

THADDEUS TAYLOR COMMITTED THE DEED.

Lippy is a Native of This City.

William J. Lippy, son of Sarah C. and the late William D. Lippy, 206 Ash avenue, Baltimore, was stabbed to death on Monday afternoon, aged 22 years.

Mr. Lippy was a driver for the Consolidated Gas Company, and was stabbed to death with a penknife by Thaddeus Taylor, a loose man, friend, over a game of cards which they were playing. The deed was committed shortly after 1 o'clock in the saloon of Mrs. Catherine Suresch, 1578 Clifton avenue. Taylor escaped after he stabbed Mr. Lippy, but surrendered to the police about midnight to the Northern Police Station.

Mr. Lippy has many relatives and friends in this county, having been born here. His mother was on a visit to Union Mills, among friends when the tragedy occurred.

Funeral services took place at his late residence, Baltimore, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The body was brought to this city yesterday morning on the 10 o'clock train and taken to Kriders' cemetery where it was interred.

Rev. Calvin S. Slagle, pastor of St. Paul's Reformed Church, this city, conducted the services at the grave. The pallbearers were Ernest Baily, Clyde Bovell, Elijah Hawk, George Otten and Jesse Lewis, friends of the deceased. James M. Storer, funeral director.

Hagerstown Fair Association Meeting.

The stockholders and advisory boards of the Hagerstown Fair Association met last Saturday and had a most enjoyable banquet; there were present about three hundred and eighty-seven persons who did full justice to the tempting food before them. Addresses were made by many, the tenor of which was in support of the fair and advising placing it upon a higher plane. Messrs. Charles V. Gorman, Geo. W. Albaugh and Raymond D. Brooks were present from Carroll, and upon call responded with appropriate remarks. Mr. Wantz and Mr. Albaugh both promised that Carroll county should be well represented at the fair by exhibits as well as people, and stated that it was the earnest wish of the people of our county, and that they would do all they could to make it successful. Mr. Brooks was impressed by the fact that in this fair the North and South were joined, and that their united effort had made it successful.

Mr. Gorman was expressed by those present at the illness of Mr. Benjamin F. Crouse, the President of the Carroll County Advisory Board, which prevented him from being present.

The fact that he had returned home from the hospital and was on the road to recovery gave them much satisfaction, and Dr. Scott, the Board's President, sent him the following telegram: Hagerstown, Md., Sept. 10, 1910. To B. F. Crouse.

As an illustration that organization on the part of the farmers is necessary, he referred to its effect in Wisconsin county, where the farmers sell their products directly to the purchasers for cash, and are not subject to losses by condemnation of any part of their sales.

The Governor strongly urged this subject of organization upon the attention of the people. As yet, he said, the farmers have only studied its edge. Referring to the tendency of farmers' sons to seek other occupations, he said: "When you have instilled into your boy that there is something more than mere muscle needed in farming, and that it opens vast opportunities for the employment of his intellectual faculties, you will have less difficulty in keeping him on the farm. Give your sons at least a year's training at the Maryland Agricultural College." He also recommended the instruction of pupils of high and common schools in the elementary principles of agriculture.

"The first thing," he said, "necessary to progress in the line of agriculture is improvement in the public highways. The money that is paid for this purpose is a good investment, first in the comfort and convenience it affords, and then in the enhanced value of property which is sure to follow. Good roads make rural communities delightful places of residence, but you cannot have them without the expenditure of money."

Congressman Talbot commented on the social features of farmers' picnics which, he said, are delightful. He joined the Governor on his bachelorhood, and advised him to come to Carroll county and take one of his fair daughters as a helpmate, provided she will have him.

Returning to the tendency of the boys to leave the farm, he said every farmer should give his boy the best education possible. He advised the boys not to leave the farm, alleging that in other occupations and professions very few get to the top while every boy has a chance to get to the top in farming. He also urged the construction of good roads as an absolute necessity for the comfort of the farmer and his family.

Dr. Stabler spoke on the prevention of disease and gave a detailed description of the cause of typhoid fever, illustrating the subject by describing serious epidemics of the disease resulting from apparently trivial causes.

J. Wesley Biggs was chairman and Michael E. Walsh secretary of the committee of arrangements.

From reliable sources the prospects for a county fair are bright.

The Rev. Agnus Bethune, vicar of Seaham, England, who has died at the age of 97 discharged his clerical duties to the last. He was 67 years a clergyman in the diocese of Durham.

GRANGE PICNIC A SUCCESS.

THE GOVERNOR SPOKE ON THE HONORABLE CHARACTER OF THE FARMERS' WORK.

Inspected Exterior of New Library Building of W. M. College, also New State Road—1500 People Present.

The attendance at the Westminster Grange picnic in Theo F. Englar's grove on Saturday afternoon was estimated at 1500, which was considered excellent for the number of picnics and festivals which were held on the same day. Governor Crothers came on the Elkins Express which arrives here at 10 a. m., where he was met by a general committee of citizens and escorted by the Pleasant Valley Band, 10 mounted horsemen headed by A. C. Bell and citizens in carriages to the Western Maryland College where he inspected the exterior of the new library building, for the erection of which the money was appropriated by the Legislature.

He also inspected the mile of new State road constructed by Walsh Brothers between this city and Cranberry Station. He expressed decided approval of both the library building and the road referred to. This road has cost only a trifle over $7000.

About 1 p. m., a good audience assembled in front of the stand erected where the addresses were to be made. The principal features of the picnic were the address of welcome by Dr. J. W. Herring, and addresses by Governor Crothers, Hon. J. Fred C. Talbot and Dr. Augustus Stabler, of Montgomery county. Dr. Herring said the grange was highly honored by having the Governor here. He spoke of the honorable character of the farmers' work, which, he said, is successful, must be done faithfully and intelligently. All work, he said, is honorable, because it is ordained by divine decree that man shall earn his bread in the sweat of his face.

Governor Crothers spoke at length and made valuable suggestions to the farmers. Referring to his reception during the morning, he said he had not spent an equal time as pleasantly in a year. Continuing, he declared he felt it to be a part of his duty as Governor, when he has noticed so many, to attend such gatherings that he may mingle with the people, who are his bosses. "The reason why our government is the greatest in the world and the best is because it has the thought and observation of the people," declared the Governor, who also said that there is now an earnest progressive movement for the elevation of the farmers, among whom there is need of the cultivation of scientific investigation. "The farmer," he said, "must realize the need of transportation, and by organization and thought the markets will be more open to his interests. There is something radically wrong when he gets such meager compensation for some of his products and pays such high prices for his beef."

As a result, it is said, if the increased spirit duties under the British budget the police have noticed in remote districts of Ireland indications of a revival of illicit distillation of liquor. There has also been a considerable increase, it is reported, in the consumption of spirits of ether as a beverage since the price of whisky was raised.

The one caught in the garret said his name is Clifford A. Tremblay, and that he was from Philadelphia. He refused to give the name of his companion. Tremblay was lodged in jail and will be given a hearing next Saturday.

The political struggle now on in Wisconsin presents so many bewildering angles is so full of bitterness and ferocity, so replete with charges and counter-charges, combinations and cross-fire that the whole State is torn with dissension and the Republican party is split glaringly apart. La Follette is in a fight to be renominated as United States Senator.

Miss Etta L. Magaha, daughter of Burr F. Magaha, a farmer near Pottersville, Md., was given a verdict of $6,000 by a jury in court Monday afternoon against Charles N. Trundle, Jr., in a breach of promise suit for $10,000 at Frederick. The plaintiff, an attractive young woman about 23 years old, alleged that the defendant had had her attention for five or six years and in the fall of 1907 proposed marriage and she accepted. The following Christmas he gave her an engagement bracelet. Later her condition became delicate, and after proffering her hand to the defendant, the defendant, she alleged, informed her that he had lost his love for her.

Isaac G. Kitzmiller, aged about 52 years, a farmer living about two miles from Crellin, Md., attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a pocket knife, this week, and, notwithstanding he severed the jugular vein and almost beheaded himself, he will likely recover.

During one of the most terrific electrical storms in years the Reformed Church at Millerstown, near Martinsburg, W. Va., was struck by lightning, totally destroyed by fire. The bolt hit the steeple and so intense was the heat that the big bell, one of the loudest and finest toned in Morrison's Cove, was melted.
