Academy of Music.

One thing certain, no industry in the world has been productive of so many important financial results as steel. Sidney R. Ellis' offering of a new and original song play entitled "The Iron King" is said to have for its theme a romance of steel.
Take Pittsburg for instance. Where could one go for better material than this, the mart of the world for the manufacture of steel. It is understood that one of the important scenes of this song play shows the manufacturing district of this wonderful city. Frank Adair, premier Irish baritone of international reputation, plays the hero. We are informed that a number of musical gems in the way of songs will be rendered, among them being, "Heart Strings," "Cupid's Wireless," "Puff, Puff," "Freedom's Sword," "Song of the Heart," "The Girl We Leave at Home," "When She Waltzed With Me," and "The Star Spangled Erin Go Braver."
A clever company, we are assured, presents this novel, at the Academy of Music, Baltimore, the week of October 17, with the usual matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

September Warm and Dry.

The monthly Meteorological summary issued by the weather bureau shows the month of September to have been the warmest with but one exception in ten years. The mean temperature was 68 degrees, while in 1905 it registered two degrees more. The mean temperature for last month was a fraction less than two degrees higher than the normal, so that so far as temperature was concerned the month was not unusual.
The total rainfall for the month was a fraction more than two and seven-tenths inches or one-tenth of an inch more than that of 1905. The total precipitation was the highest in five years except in 1905, when 8.27 inches were registered. There were eleven clear days, eleven cloudy and eight partly cloudy.

ALL ENDS WELL.

The Adoption of a Child Makes Trouble in Family.

An odd case on the equity side of the Circuit Court was tried before Chief Judge William H. Thomas Monday, but no decision reached.
The case came up upon an application of Geo. W. Barnes, of Sykesville, to adopt a boy, John Mitchell Gibson, who has been in the care and custody of himself and wife since the child was 4 weeks old. They received him from the Henry Watson Children's Aid Society and were paid for two or three years $10 a month for his support, which was paid them by the society, which received it from the mother of the child. When the payments ceased the Barnes had become so strongly attached to the child that they were willing to keep him without charge and have done so up to this time. Recently Mr. Barnes made application to the court to adopt the boy and the application is being resisted by the Children's Aid Society upon the ground that the conditions of the Barnes home are not such as to assure his proper training. This opinion, according to the testimony, is based upon a difficulty between Barnes and his wife, which occurred about a year ago, and resulted in Mrs. Barnes leaving her home and proposing to the Children's Aid Society to return the child to its custody.
The testimony showed that Barnes was aggrieved at his wife for her tendency to seek diversion away from home in the evenings, and this dissatisfaction was intensified by gossip. She testified that he upbraided her very violently, but used no physical violence toward her. She, however, feared him and left her home, taking the child with her.
Mr. Barnes testified that he thought of seeking a divorce if the gossip he had heard could have been verified, and employed every possible effort to ascertain its truth or falsity. He finally became convinced that it was without foundation. He then wrote to his wife and requested her to return home, acknowledged his error and paid her board for the month she was absent. They have since then lived harmoniously and happily together, the boy remaining with them.
E. M. Mellor, a merchant of Sykesville; Asa Heppner, the postmaster; Rev. Mr. Marshall, rector of the Episcopal church, and others testified concerning the care and kindness with which the boy has been treated by both Mr. and Mrs. Barnes. All the witnesses testified in the strongest manner to the integrity of Mr. Barnes and his ability to properly care for the child. He is an industrious and successful carpenter. The Children's Aid Society has not sought to deprive the Barnes of the custody of the child, but objects to his adoption under the circumstances recited. Miss Spaulding and Mr. Jones, officers of the society, and others testified for the objectors.

Deer Park Rally.

For the Advocate.
The rally held at Deer Park church, Smallwood, on Sunday night, was a success. The appreciation of the program was shown by the large attendance and good order. The program was as follows:
Prayer, by President; congregational hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers"; scripture lesson, by officers of the society; What is Maryland Day, by President; messages from the State President, Miss Ida Copersmith; Maryland Song, File into Rank for Christ today; sentence prayers, by the members; letter from State President, by Miss Rosa Spencer; solo, by Harry Ogg; Gladys Ogg, organist; Forward Steps in our Society, by the officers and chairman; God's Call to the Young people to Go Forward, by the pastor, which was enjoyed by all present. Benediction, "The Lord Bless Thee." Collection, $126.

Western Maryland Work to Connellsville Pushes On.

Construction work is being rushed on the extension of the Western Maryland Railroad from Cumberland to Connellsville, with the view of getting as far ahead as possible before bad weather sets in. During the last 16 days Nay & McDonald, bridge builders, have put down 2,000 cubic yards of concrete near Confluence, where they are constructing a big viaduct. Louis J. D'Isa has completed one portion of his contract, the cut and fill at Harrodsville, and has moved his steam shovel across the Gasselman river, where it is biting its way through. A big force is working between Rockwood and Garrett. Work has already been started on the long bridge at Salisbury Junction. Between Confluence and Connellsville all the contractors are forging ahead at record-breaking speed.

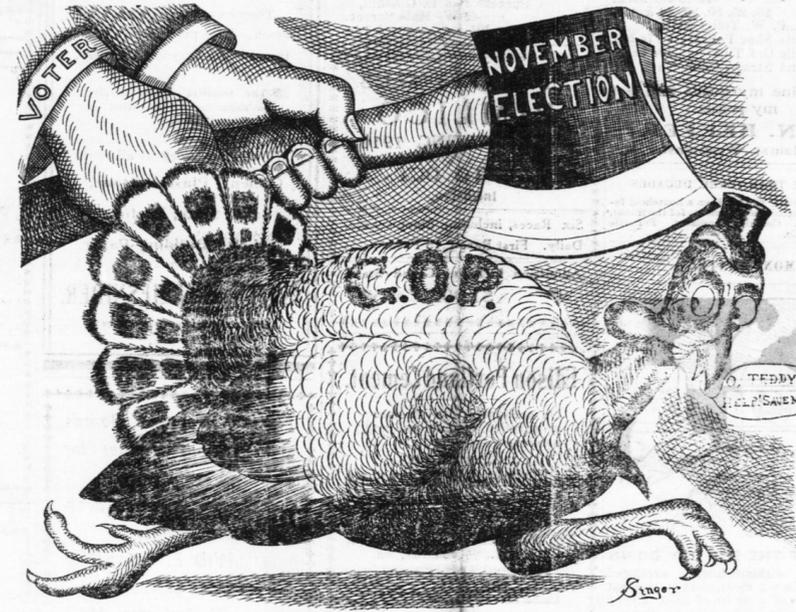

Maryland Jockey Club's Races.

This (Saturday) afternoon marks the opening at Pimlico of what promises to be the greatest meeting held under the auspices of the Maryland Jockey Club.
Upwards of 600 high class thoroughbreds are at the track ready to race, and with good weather the crowds will be enormous.
The program for the first day is an unusually attractive one, comprising the valuable Matron Stakes for two-year-olds, the Baltimore Club Cup for gentlemen riders, the Hotel Komar purse, the Inaugural Steeplechase, and two other races, and some of the finest horses in the country will go to the post.

Real Estate Sales.

Mrs. Zepp has bought the John T. Louey farm, of 40 acres, situated at Reese, this county, for $3300. Mrs. Nettie M. Jones has bought the John H. Hoffman farm, of 132 acres, situated near Manchester, Md., the consideration being $3600. All the above sales were effected by Edward W. Case, agent.

HIS DAYS ARE NUMBERED.

WEDDING BELLS.

Fogle—Woodward.

Miss Irene Elizabeth Woodward, daughter of Mrs. Martha Jane and the late Dr. Lewis Woodward, of West Main street, and Mr. Clinton Ray Appold Fogle, of Annapolis, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Fogle, of Arlington, were married at 6.30 p. m. Wednesday at St. Paul's Reformed Church by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Calvin S. Slagle. Few nuptial events in this city have been of greater interest, the bride being a member of one of the oldest and most substantial families in this county.
The only attendants were the ushers, Messrs. C. P. Hulett, of Hazelton, Pa., the bride's brother-in-law, Thomas Miller, of Annapolis; Frank R. Cassell, teller of the First National Bank of Westminster, and Dr. Lewis K. Woodward, the bride's brother. The bridal party stood beneath a white floral bell, suspended from an arch trimmed with asparagus fern, during the performance of the marriage ceremony. The wedding marches were played by Miss Devans, of Pocomoke City. The bride was exquisitely gowned in a lace robe, over white mesaline; wore a tulle veil and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white roses.
After the ceremony a reception was held at the beautiful home of the bride's mother. The color scheme of the dining room was green and white, and the parlor was decorated with golden rod and potted plants. Preceding the ceremony a wedding breakfast was given at the Main-Court Inn to the bridal party, the families of the bride and groom, and a few near friends by the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore F. Englar, who at the same time incidentally celebrated their own wedding anniversary, which occurred Wednesday. Among the guests present from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hulett, of Hazelton, Pa.; Mrs. Mary Woodward, Mrs. Hannah Woodward, of Wilmington, Del.; Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Fogle, of Arlington; Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Weybright, of Detour; Mrs. Willis Howey, of Morristown, N. J.; Mrs. Thomas Long, of Dicksyville, and Mr. Frank Bennett, of Annapolis. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Fogle left for Baltimore in a touring car, and thence on a Northern trip. After their return they will reside at the Maryland Hotel, Annapolis.
Tuesday evening prior to the wedding the groom entertained the ushers and the charter members of the Country Club at a banquet at the Hotel Westminster. This is a custom among the charter members, and was the fourth one enjoyed by them. S. G. Ramer, the manager, upheld the high reputation of the Westminster, and the following menu was served in excellent style:

Blue Points on Half Shell
Tomato Bisque	Fried Chicken, Maryland style
	Cold Ham
	French Peas
Veal Croquettes	Lemon Sherbert
Creamed Potatoes	Hot Biscuits
Waldorf Salad	Assorted Cakes
Vanilla Ice Cream	Salted Nuts
	Mints
Cheese Wafers	Olives
	Coffee

Mr. Fogle had as guests Messrs. C. P. Hulett, of Hazelton, Pa.; Thos. Cover, D. Snyder, Babylon, T. Wm. Woodward, Frank R. Cassell, Herbert Miller, of Annapolis; Dr. Lewis K. Mather, Jr., Jas. E. Shreeve, George H. Armacost, Carroll Shunk, Walter H. Davis, Frank W. Mather and Guy L. Fowler.

Mellor—Mellor.

One of the prettiest weddings ever solemnized in St. Paul's M. E. Church, Sykesville, took place at 4 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, October 12th, when Miss Margaret Elizabeth Mellor, daughter of the late Thomas H. and Emma V. Mellor, of Harford county, became the bride of Edwin Marion Mellor, third son of Mr. Edwin M. Mellor, of this place. The church was beautifully decorated with palms, potted plants, ferns and woodbine. The many friends of the contracting parties filled the church far beyond seating capacity and enjoyed the musical program, rendered by Miss Grace McKenny, of Philadelphia, who played the wedding march from Lohengrin as the bridal party entered the church, and "O Promise Me" during the ceremony, and as the procession left the church. Rev. L. St. Clair Allen, minister in charge, performed the ceremony, using the full ring service. The bridal party consisted of the four ushers, Messrs. Franklin Stull, of Philadelphia; Robert Graham, of Relay; Harry M. Mellor, of Baltimore, and Frank L. Mellor, of Sykesville, brothers of the groom. The bridesmaids were Misses Ada Street, of Darlington; Lula Gosnell, of Relay; Dorothy Mellor, Elva Selby and Angela West, of Sykesville, all gowned daintily in white chiffon and carrying yellow chrysanthemums. The matron of honor was Mrs. Franklin Stull, of Philadelphia, sister of the bride, wearing yellow chiffon over yellow satin and carrying yellow chrysanthemums tied with long streamers of yellow chiffon. The maid of honor, Miss Hattie Mellor, also sister of the bride, gowned in lavender chiffon over lavender satin, and carried chrysanthemums tied with lavender. Eloise Mellor, the pretty little niece of the groom, was flower girl, and wore white chiffon with yellow ribbons and carried a basket of yellow roses. As the procession slowly entered the church the golden tone of the flowers like flecks of moving sunshine, gave the impression of a picture unrolling to view, which had its climax, as the wedding march pealed to its loudest strains, the bride and groom, and an opening flourish, entered on the arm of her uncle and guardian, Mr. Joshua T. Mellor, of Albion, who gave her away. An ideal bride, in white meteor satin trimmed with Duchess lace and pearls, enveloped in a tulle veil, and carrying a white Bible and shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

After the ceremony a wedding lunch was served at "Rugby," the handsome home of Mr. E. M. Mellor, the ushers were Dr. and Mrs. C. P. Hulett, present the relatives and a few intimate friends, those being Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Mellor, parents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Mellor, of Baltimore; Frank McKenny, Miss Dorothy Mellor, Rev. T. M. West, Mrs. T. F. Berrett, Reginald Doggett, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Stull, Miss Hattie Mellor, of Philadelphia; Miss Ada Street, Darlington; Mrs. Clarence Archibald, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. John Rockwood; Misses Helen Archibald, of Chevy Chase, D. C.; Mrs. Florence Mellor, of Towson; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Roe, Misses Mary and Hazel Roe, of Forest Hill; Miss Carrie Horner, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Marsden and Miss Mamie Marsden, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Mellor, Misses Jessie and Julia Marsden, of Catonsville; Mrs. Hattie Meryman, Misses Sue and Mattie Waters and Joshua T. Mellor, of Albion; Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Wiley and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wiley, of Shawsville; Roy Enfield, of Forest Hill; Mr. and Mrs. James S. Grimes, Rev. St. Clair Allen, Rev. T. M. West, and Mrs. West, Mr. and Mrs. Edward German, Miss Angela West, Miss Elva Selby and Miss Lillian Hewitt, of Philadelphia. "Rugby" was decorated within and without with all the glory of great branches of autumn leaves, and was never more attractive and festive.

The bridal presents were numerous and handsome, including silver, cut glass, china, porcelain, old mahogany, etc.
Immediately after the lunch the bride and groom left for a fortnight's trip to Niagara Falls, Buffalo and the Thousand Islands. The luggage was appropriately decorated with hearts by the friends, as a pleasant (?) surprise to the bride and groom when they reached their destination. After their return they will reside in Sykesville, where they have a large circle of friends. Mr. Edwin Mellor, Jr., being a promising young merchant, and all his life one of the most popular of Sykesville's "boys."

Murray—Wilson.

Miss Florence Estelle Wilson was married to Mr. Thomas A. Murray, Jr., in the Lafayette Avenue Methodist Protestant Church, Lafayette avenue and Gilmer street, Baltimore, at 7.30 o'clock Friday night.
Miss Elsie Rosalind Miller played a musical program. While the people were being seated Mr. Thomas M. Brown sang, "Unless" and "Oh, Perfect Love."
The bride entered the church with her father, Mr. James D. Wilson, by whom she was given in marriage. She was handsomely gowned in white satin and wore a tulle veil held by lilies of the valley. The flowers she carried were Bride roses. The bridal party was met at the chancel by the groom and his best man, Mr. George Robert Howell. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Frank T. Benson, pastor of Rhode Island Avenue Methodist Protestant Church, Washington, D. C., an uncle of the groom. He was assisted by Rev. E. C. Makosky, pastor of Lafayette Avenue Church. Miss Mamie Wiltson, an aunt of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Mary Elsie Wilson, sister of the bride, and Miss Margaret H. Murray, sister of the groom, were flower girls. They wore white over pink and carried pink carnations. The ushers were Mr. Charles H. Murray, brother of the groom, Mr. J. Clarke Coulbourn, Mr. Morris Shackley and Mr. Raymond C. Reik.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Wilson.
Mr. Murray is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Murray, Sr., and a grandson of Dr. Joshua W. Hering, of the Public Service Commission and former Comptroller of the State.
From 8 to 10 o'clock a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.
Mr. and Mrs. Murray left for Washington and a Southern tour.
Among the out-of-city guests at the wedding were Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Hering, Mr. and Mrs. F. Z. Miller and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hering, this city; Rev. and Mrs. F. T. Benson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sonne, Mr. Robert B. Wilson, Washington; Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Schureman, Newark, N. J.; the Misses Murray, Union Bridge; Mr. and Mrs. E. Bayley Bates and Mr. and Mrs. William Norris, Baltimore county.

Carlisle—Caylor.

A very pretty wedding of interest took place in the Methodist Protestant Church, Uniontown, on Wednesday last, at 3 o'clock, when Miss Anna Belle Caylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Caylor, Linwood, and Mr. Guy Carlisle, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carlisle, of near New Windsor, were married. The bride, who is unusually pretty, looked very handsome in an imported suit of gray English cloth, with large black picture hat, covered with willow plumes, and carried pink roses. The ushers were E. Rae Englar, Chas. U. Messler, Linwood; Paul Smelser, New Windsor, and D. Myers Englar, Uniontown.
After the ceremony the couple left for a trip to Philadelphia and Atlantic City. On their return a reception will be held in their home at the home of the bride. The presents received were numerous and beautiful, including cut glass, silver, china and linen.
Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle will reside near New Windsor.

Seigman—Repp.

Miss Lillian Virgie Repp, daughter of Mr. John Repp, a merchant and banker of Union Bridge, and Mr. Edwin L. Seigman, of Hagerstown, a passenger conductor on the Western Maryland Railroad, were married Wednesday in Baltimore, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Charles Reese. Rev. James M. Mullan performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Seigman left for Cincinnati and a tour of the South. They will live in Hagerstown.

OLD FARMER HOPKINS

ONE OF THE BEST RURAL PLAYS GIVEN BEFORE THE FOOT LIGHTS

Our Talent From This City Master Their Parts Well

"Old Farmer Hopkins," a five act rural comedy drama was the attraction at Odd Fellows' Hall last night, and the house was packed by an appreciative audience. Every one in this city who has heard of the comedy "Old Farmer Hopkins," knew it would be beautifully staged and well acted with the best talent of this city, which was the main cause of drawing so large an audience.
The show started at 8.15 with the following cast of characters:
Frank S. Davidson, as Old Farmer Hopkins, who has not lost any of his cunningness since his last appearance here, and pleased the audience as usual.
Azalea Shipley, as Daisy Lindon, and heifess, and Jimmy Tuff, on the Bowers, drew forth a number of encores by the exceptionally fine way in which she mastered her parts.
Eva Herr, a deserted wife, which is not a very desirable cast, showed that she could master a husband.
Grace Steele, as Hanna Jane, who was bound to wed Farmer Hopkins, succeeded in her attempt.
Miss Yvonne V. Lewis, as Dick Swift, a detective, showed his ability as a stage detective.
George B. Jackson, as Martin Haley, a gambler, and Dr. Jas. E. Shreeve, a thing mastered their parts well, which were very difficult.
Robert D. Mitchell, as McGinty, a policeman of the force, who never fails to please, did not disappoint the audience in the least.
George Armacost, as Hiram Doolittle, made good.
Miss Elizabeth Slagle, pianist, Thomas Anders and Guy Williams on the piano, furnished the music.
The show was a success from every point.
Mr. Davidson announced that the show would be repeated tonight. He also complimented his assistants in the play by saying that they were the best he has ever played with from only four weeks practice since he has been on the road.

Sandyville are Champions of Carroll County.
Sandyville Base Ball Club won the championship of Carroll county on Saturday last by defeating Union Bridge by the score of 14 to 8. Brown, who was in the box for Sandyville, pitched the best game of the season, holding the heavy batters down to 7 hits. The feature of the game was the batting of Ray Spencer, who made 2 triples and a home run with the bases full. Sandyville has played 18 games and lost two, which is a record hard to beat. Elmer Wampler will give an oyster roast and a supper to the players in the near future, who wants all to be present. Thos. Barnhart managed the team and Wm. Zeypp captain. Any one disputing our claim for the championship we will play for the title. The following are the players: John Flater, Ray Spencer, Thomas Barnhart, Leslie Oursler, Carroll Taylor, Raymond Buchman, Wilson Zepp, Benin Cagle, Gilbert Brown, Ernest Stockdale, Walter Shipley, Ben Spencer and Will Gamber. Goodbye till next season, when we will be on the diamond again.
