LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Raymond Myers, West Main street, moved to his farm, near Sam's Creek, this week.

This city and county were visited by a thunder storm on Monday afternoon, accompanied with a heavy rain.

A man with a large family can live better on the farm, where money grows, than in the city, where money goes.

Ferdinand D. Schaeffer, of this city, has been appointed an agent of The Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Carroll county.

John Flater, Center street, left this week to join the Newark, (N. J.) Baseball club, with whom he is based to pitch ball for the coming season.

Mr. Ahles, who was here last summer for the government in repairing the streets, has resigned his position and gone into the contracting business in New York.

Rev. I. Emory Bennett, pastor of Centenary M. E. Church, is attending Conference held in Washington, D. C. this week. He is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Otterbach while there.

The menagerie at the railroad station will soon have another animal added to its show. It will be a bull dog, and is being selected by the expert animal trainer, Raymond Rood, Esq.

Mrs. Bond and son, Harry Bond, of Liberty street, have moved to near Woodensburg, Baltimore county, Md. Mr. Bond resigning his position at Union Bridge to become overseer on the farm of H. V. Uhler.

A Rhine Motter, who had been chief operator for the Northern Central Railway at Taneytown, has been transferred to an office on the Baltimore division. The office at Taneytown was closed about 10 days ago.

Invitations have been sent out for the 19th annual meeting of the State Firemen's Association to be held in Lonaconing on June 7, 8 and 9. We expect the company to accept the invitation at its next monthly meeting, April 5.

Capt. David W. Jenkins, of Company M, 5th Maryland Regiment, has been selected by the Adjutant General of the State to go to the Army Camp in Texas, with three other officers. The captain has many friends in this city, who wish him a safe return.

The Western Maryland Railway has a force of men employed in unloading 90-pound steel rails and cross-ties in the old yard in Cumberland to be laid on the new extension as soon as the roadbed is ready. Temporary tracks have been built in the yards.

Representatives of the Western Maryland Railway Company during the past week closed negotiations with Newton Tisone and others for the purchase of 100 acres of land between Confluence and Harnedsville, Pa. It is thought the property will be used for extensive yards.

The last spike in the extension of the Chambersburg, Greencastle and Waynesboro Railroad, from Pen-Mar to Highfield was driven Friday. The road will be aligned and ballasted and then thrown open to the public. The grade is only one per cent, and the scenery through which it passes is very beautiful.

While driving his automobile up Fair Ground Hill about 4:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Morton P. Tetter, of Glyndon, struck a small wagon loaded with provisions, being delivered by George Jones for Wm. D. Reese, merchant, East Main street. The boy was also knocked down, but was only slightly bruised. Mr. Tetter paid the damages and continued on his way.

Mr. Hoyt, U. S. Road Engineer, in charge of the street improvement last summer, Mr. Sargent, assistant Director of the Department of Roads, Mr. Draper, the chemist of the Road Office and Mr. Walter W. Crosby, road engineer of Maryland, inspected the new street on Tuesday. They were pleased with the way it has withstood the winter, and suggested that the dirt which had accumulated on the surface, be removed.

The oldest man in the service of the Western Maryland Railway, Jesse H. Sheets, Sunday celebrated his fifty-first anniversary as an employee of the company. He is station agent at Walbrook. Mr. Sheets, is well liked by the employees of the railway and they extended him their best wishes and congratulations. He is 72 years of age and is hale and hearty. Captain Sheets was a conductor on the road until about 16 years ago. Mr. Sheets is a native of this city, and a son of the late George Sheets. His wife was a daughter of the late Jesse Yingling, of Pennsylvania avenue, this city.

The late will of Ephraim B. Repp, of New Windsor, has been admitted to probate. The bulk of his estate is left to two sisters and to their children and the children of his two brothers. Three items of the will are of public interest. In these he bequeaths to the Washington Humane Society, of Washington, $400; to the National Association of Audubon Societies for the Protection of Wild Birds and Animals, $300; to the New Windsor Presbyterian Church, of Carroll county, $350. Mr. Repp was a great lover of birds and used his money freely in efforts to arouse public interest in their protection.

Joseph H. Hahn, this city, was a witness in the trial of the Police Board before Governor Crothers in the Superior Court room, Baltimore, this week. He told of buying drinks at a saloon at Hillen and Colvin streets on Sundays and that he recently went to a saloon with two men who were working to get evidence against the Police Board. He declared that he had played craps in a saloon on East street, below Gay, about three years ago and that part of the money he lost in the game was turned over to the proprietor. He told of a number of trips he made to the "Red Light" district to get evidence of liquor selling, and on one occasion, he said, two policemen came in and told the proprietress to stop selling drinks.

Honored by Women

When a woman speaks of her silent secret suffering she trusts you. Millions have bestowed this mark of confidence on Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. Every where there are women who bear witness to the wonder-working, curing-power of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription...

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG IT MAKES SICK WOMEN WELL.

No woman's appeal was ever misdirected or her confidence misplaced when she wrote for advice, to the WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets induce mild natural bowel movement once a day.

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband and father, George W. Mumford, who died March 28, 1910, 1 year ago today. Gone but not forgotten.

I once had a cheerful happy home. And a devoted husband who stood by me: But now, since he is dead and gone, My home is not what it used to be.

You are not dead, dear papa, But as a star unseen, We feel that you are ever near us. Though death intrude between.

BY HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN.

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear sister, Mildred G. Hill, who entered into rest, one year ago, April 14, 1910.

Dear sister how I miss you, Since from earth you passed away: And my heart is aching sorely, As I think of you each day.

BY HER SISTER, FANNIE.

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear daughter, Mary R. L. Mancha, who departed this life March 13, 1911.

A precious one from us has gone, A voice we loved is still, A place is vacant in our home, Which never can be filled.

This lovely bud so young and fair, Called hence by early doom: Just came to show how sweet a flower In paradise would bloom.

Lonely is the house and sad are the hours, Since our dear Mary is gone, But oh, a fairer home than ours, In heaven is now her's.

BY HER PARENTS.

Farwell dear Mary, a sad farewell, The loss to us no tongue can tell; Your stay on earth was short and sweet, I hope in heaven we shall meet.

Her dear hands are folded, Her toil on earth is done, Her troubles are all ended, Her heavenly crown is won.

BY HER SISTER AND BROTHER.

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband, John Frick, who passed away one year ago, April 4, 1910. Gone but not forgotten.

Once my home was bright and happy, O how sad and lonely today; For my dear husband, my lord so well, Has forever passed away.

In the graveyard my dear husband is sleeping, Where the flowers gently wave; He is the one I loved so dearly, In his lonely, silent grave.

I miss his coming footsteps, I miss him everywhere; Home is not what it used to be, Since my dear husband is not here.

Thou shalt always be remembered, In this weary world of strife; Thou shalt never be forgotten, As long as God gives me life.

One year ago Jesus laid him to rest, And folded his cold hands upon his breast; I have spent one sad and lonely year, But I hope to meet him around God's throne.

Oh, it was so hard to see him go, You day after day must pass without one sight; Of him who was so dear, so dear to me, To long for one handclasp, one sound, Of that dear voice to me so sweet.

One glance of the dear eyes I loved so well.

By His Wife.
