PERFECT APPLES EXHIBITED.

The Results From Spraying With Lime Sulphur and Arsenate of Lead.

J. M. Myers, of Bachman's Valley, recently brought to the Advocate office one twig, seven inches long, containing nine perfect apples ranging from five and one half inches to seven inches in circumference; they are the "Green Mountain" variety; he also brought a twig, fourteen inches long, containing seventeen apples of the "Early Harvest" variety, and still another twig of four. It is a curiosity to see how these last apples, of a late unknown variety, are clustered in a heap measuring eight inches in circumference.

These apples received one spraying of lime and sulphur and arsenate of lead for codling moth; the results thus far are very favorable. For experimental purposes some trees were not sprayed and the dropping is 40 per cent. more than those sprayed. These twigs of apples can be seen at the office of the Farmer's Fertilizer Co., of whom Mr. Myers bought the spraying goods.

Mr. Myers and H. A. Bixler have started a sixteen acre apple and peach orchard.

Pen Mar is this season the most beautiful and pleasing resort of its kind in this section of the county, with lovely surroundings and all things perfect order and decorum. Among its many attractions are the great Libby features, direct from the Coney Island, consisting of the Maze of Crystal, the Fun Factory, the Hall of Laughter, The Cave of the Winds, The Mirth Arcade, The Great World's Fair, The Japanese Bazaar, together with numerous others. IMPORTANT TO TAXPAYERS.

It seems that only two counties in the State of Maryland, Westminister and Carroll, have returned to the County Commissioners for assessment, monies in bank on book account and certificates where interest is paid at the rate of 3 and 3/4 per cent. and subject to check. The bankers of Carroll county met in Westminister on Monday, employed a notary public, and under the courts of the State, if necessary carrying it before the Court of Appeals. It would be very unfair for citizens of Carroll and Washington counties to have to pay on such deposits subject to check, whether in book or certificate form, and other counties having been instructed not to return that sort of indebtedness, go free.

DESTRUCTIVE STORM.

PAUL LEASE STRUCK BY LIGHTNING AND SEVERELY INJURED.

Barn and Contents of J. M. Koons Burned by Lightning—Mr. Milton Chew's Barn Struck and Damaged—Corn Fields Badly Washed—Telephone and Telegraph Lines Blown Down.

During the heavy thunderstorm which passed over part of this county on Friday afternoon an immense amount of damage was done. A barn was burned, several barns were struck by lightning, several persons were stunned by lightning, crops were damaged and destroyed, and telephone and telegraph wires were put out of service for several days.

At Carrollton the barn of Milton Chew was struck and damaged, and three men and four horses who were hauling wheat, were stunned. The last load of wheat was hauled into the barn and unloaded as the storm came up, and the men were sitting down waiting for the storm to pass, when the lightning struck the barn. It came flashing down a post, near which Paul Lease was sitting, and striking his watch, which was in his pocket, passed down his body to his legs, paralyzing him from the waist down, and disabling Mr. Ward also. William Curry was also knocked down but he quickly revived, jumped up and ran for the house, going into the cellar. All four horses were knocked down, the saddle horse was down for half an hour. Mr. Lease who was most injured, was carried to the house, and a doctor was summoned, and medical aid administered. He was brought to his home Saturday morning and is slowly recovering.

The lightning struck a locust tree near the residence of John Swigart, about two miles from this city, stunning Mrs. Swigart.

The residence of Mrs. Emily Orendorf, near Stonersville was struck by lightning and caught on fire. The fire was extinguished, but the roof and chimneys were damaged at each end where the lightning struck.

The stream that passes through New Windsor became a raging torrent. It overflowed its banks and submerged the Western Maryland Railroad tracks by a foot or more. Fields were washed and corn and other growing crops were damaged or destroyed. The 3:45 p. m. train delayed above New Windsor 1 hour and 45 minutes on account of the water being so high on the track. The fast mail was also late.

The barn of John M. Koons, at Englemans Mill about 2 1/2 miles from New Windsor, was struck by lightning and burned. It contained this year's crops. Mr. Koons has his crop of wheat all thrashed and in sacks ready to haul to market when it was destroyed. Barn and crops are insured.

By an examination of the advertisement it will be seen that this College is preparing young men for their life's work in Agriculture, Horticulture, Chemistry, Biology, Mechanical Engineering, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, and also offers a general cultural course.

There is also a two years course in Agriculture and Horticulture which has been of great advantage to those not in a position to take a four years course.

The annual catalogue shows that the College had, during the past year, 339 students registered. The young men who have graduated from the College during the past few years, almost without exception, are now enjoying lucrative positions in their chosen line of work.

The special feature of the Agricultural College is that a young man is ready to enter upon his life's work at once. There is no period of waiting—no loss of time—he is prepared upon graduation for a good position and a comfortable salary.

THEIR VACATION.

Mamie Howard and Alfred Cook, Colored, Arrested for Disorderly Conduct on W. M. R. Excursion.

Mamie Howard and Alfred Cook, colored, were given a hearing before Police Justice Shriver on Tuesday morning, for being drunk and disorderly and for resisting Officers Cummings Meade and Edward Cummings of the Western Maryland Railway, detective force, which officers arrested them while they were at Union Bridge, on a colored excursion bound for Frederick.

The colored woman was the cause of the man's arrest as she beat him over the head with a beer bottle, inflicting him so badly that Dr. Brown, the railroad's physician, was called to dress his wounds. The woman stated that she had lived with the man eight years but was never married to him. Detective Meade stated that the woman was called down several times for boisterous conduct on the train. Her name is very conspicuous in the records of the Baltimore police courts.

Justice Shriver, after finding them both guilty, and before imposing his sentence, gave them to understand that he would not put up with any such outrageous behavior, but that he would make an example of them as a warning to other similar offenders, who pass through this county on trains and disturb the peace. He gave Cook 30 days in jail, or the alternative of paying a fine of $25; and the colored woman, months in the House of Correction, until institution she will not be a stranger, having been there before.

When the Justice said 6 months the negroes gave a yell that disturbed the neighborhood.

Sheriff Kemper took the prisoners away the same afternoon.

The Western Maryland Railway Company places officers on all excursions to protect its patrons from abuses and to see that all regard the rules of the company. The colored excursions which are more or less boisterous are always supplied with two or more detectives on each train. Detectives Meade and Cummings are two of the company's best men, and the courteous way in which they always handle patrons, has won them many friends; the bunch they had on Monday showed the stuff they were made of, for when they fearlessly walked in upon the noisy crowd, the disturbance quieted at once.

W. B. Cross, this city, is the chief detective of the company and has many friends here.

MELROSE.

On Saturday evening, notwithstanding the fact that there were several festivals and gatherings near Melrose, people came by hundreds to hear the debate on the subject "Be solved that railroads have been of more benefit to the world than roads." The Meadow View Park Bank furnished the music. Although the band has less than a dozen members, it competes favorably with bands heard twice that number. After an hour and a quarter of arguing the judges, Messrs. Banker, Shaffer and Sterner, decided in favor of the affirmative.

On Saturday evening Thomas Noonney, a member of Meadow View Park Bank gave an exhibition of the way in which he can use the small stick on the same drum. He transferred the sticks from one hand to the other without missing a note of the music.

We wish to congratulate Edward Dherit and Miss Mary C. Miller, who were united in marriage last week and wish them much happiness and prosperity. Some young people tried to serenade them, but unless they are better equipped with musical instruments they had better not attempt such an important part at a wedding.

On Sunday afternoon there was a good time at Wentz' Union Sunday school. The house was crowded. Enthusiasm was put into the singing. Mr. Baumgardner, superintendent of the school, and Mrs. Ruth Smith, an impressive address. D. M. Wilson, one of the superintendents of Wentz's Sunday school, delivered an excellent address, Sunday school next Sunday afternoon.

H. C. Miller our enterprising merchant contrived something last week without the consent or knowledge of his wife, and on Monday evening a hundred or more people rushed in, surprising Mrs. Miller and bringing many presents and good wishes on her 37th birthday. The evening passed only too rapidly with games and music. Another surprise awaited all present when they were invited to the large heavily laden tables. At a late hour they all left for their homes after wishing Mrs. Miller many more happy birthdays. Among the numerous presents were albums, glassware, queensware and sixteen large cakes. Among those present were Messrs. and Mesdames H. Snyder, Miller, Henry Richard, C. J. Sauble, Philip Wentz, Clayton Gelsey, Beniah Bankert, Elmer Shaffer, Amos Sauble, Sylvester Houch, John T. Louey, Wesley Smith, Edw. Fuhrman, Harry Snyder, Tobias Leese, George Richards, Cyrus Leese, Misses Effie Richards, Gertrude Fuhrman, Viva V. Wentz, Etta M.
