Hiram N. Ruby, of Baltimore, a brakeman on the Baltimore and Ohio train near Henrytown, Md., early Sunday morning, and died two hours later at Mount Airy, where he was rushed for medical attention. Ruby was stationed at Henrytown Saturday night to act as flagman, and was patrolling the tracks. Expecting a train from the West, he was walking to meet it. With his attention centered upon seeing the east-bound train, he failed to hear the other train coming up behind him until it was within a few feet of him. The engineer attempted to stop his train, but in the short distance he was unable to do this. The locomotive struck the man while he was in the act of jumping and knocked him several feet into the air. The train was brought to a stop immediately and the injured man picked up.

Joshua Murdoch, one of the best known farmers of the neighborhood and a prominent Republican politician, a surprise party at his home, on Pleasant Hill farm, in honor of the fifty-second anniversary of his birth. Not for many years has an affair of this kind been held in the neighborhood and it is safe to say that it surpassed any of its kind held in Carroll county for years.

A Kentucky war whoop dance led by Virgil D. Sharp, a former resident of Kentucky, and participated in by Messrs. John Mayze, Wm. Bowman, "Ike" Long and Miles Long, was easily the feature of the evening. The number in which the participants performed brought forth a suggestion that a good addition to a general present that the quartet make a good addition to a
