Recital in Alumni Hall.

The recital of music and elocution which was given in Alumni Hall last Friday night by the instructors of those branches at Western Maryland College, was a detained success from an artistic and popular point of view in every other way. The audience, although an appreciative one, was not as large as the excellence of the recital merited.

Miss Alma L. Green, who comes this year to take the place of Miss Johnson, made a very pleasing impression interpreting the piano selections with much expression and skill. She appeared twice on the program rendering Beethoven's "Sonata in C-sharp minor," and Liszt's "Etude in D-flat." Miss Alberta H. Amstein played several well-known selections by MacDowell, and the "Polonaise in E-major" by Liszt, very artistically.

Miss Matilda B. Rimbach appeared three times on the program and as usual charmed the audience with her sweet, clear soprano. The selections she gave were "Snow Flakes," by Cowen; "Halden-Roslein," by Schubert; "Meline Hebe ist Gruen," by Brahms; "Recitative and Aria from 'The Creation,'" by Haydn; Selection from "La Boheme," by Puccini; "Far awa," by Beach; and "A Birthday," by Woodman.

Miss Lease, the reader of the evening, only appeared once on the program, rendering "An Unexpected Guest," by Emery Pottle, in her usual clear, expressive voice and pleasing manner.

Altogether it was one of the very best recitals of the kind, ever held in Alumni Hall, and we are fortunate in having these artists in our town.

SENATOR GORMAN'S GREAT SPEECH AT UPPER MARLBORO.

"Fellow Democrats," said Senator Gorman, "in Baltimore city the grand jury has daily brought in evidences of fraud in the electorate of that city. While I did not need the very unwelcome assistance of the cheater or the fraudulent counter, and while it has been established beyond question that I was honestly nominated without the aid of these or of alleged repeaters, my candidacy has been attacked because my name was upon the city ticket as it was upon the ticket in every county.

"The people of Baltimore city are indignant at conditions, and justly so, and taking advantage of its size and position, the Republicans have attempted to besmear my candidacy with the mud of doubt, at the same time trying to conceal the fact that 66 Republican judges and clerks are now under presentment on charges of fraud.

"I deeply realize what the situation in Baltimore means to the Democratic ticket. It has come to have a significance to you people of the county as well as to Baltimore city because the good Democrats of Baltimore city are asked to force upon you people of the counties, who have done so wrong, not to enter any fraud, a Republican government which you have not deserved nor do you desire.

Time For Standing Together.

"The voters of Baltimore, I feel sure, will be fair to their brothers and their neighbors of the country because in this State-wide election Baltimore city and the 23 counties of the State have but one individual interest. The county members of the Legislature have stood by Baltimore city in many a fight for Baltimore's progress and the city has stood by the counties.

"I do not think that the parting of the ways has come. Baltimore stands today with a cancer of unclean politics, small in comparison to its size and the whole 1,926 election officials who officiate at elections in Baltimore, but nevertheless a cancer which must be removed and not pardoned.

"Our Republican friends, forgetting their complicity, the traitorous conduct of their own men, roll back upon us the whole country, and while they dance the war dance about the prostrate body of Baltimore, singing the alluring songs of their campaign arguments, they hope that Baltimore's cancer will fester still more, that they may dance the more, hiding all the while by their cloak of hypocrisy the red and black spots upon their own body politic.

Not Shirking Responsibility.

"We do not shirk the responsibility of the present. The Democratic party has been solving the commercial, educational and political problems of Maryland for generations, except in one notable instance, which sheds no lustre of glory upon the Republicans, and in this case, we hope to solve the problem.

"I am loath to believe that the public mind in Baltimore is in a state of excitement which some portions of the press say it is and by glaring headlines attempt to further inflame that opinion. I cannot conceive that the people of Baltimore are sitting in the arena of public opinion watching the grand jury drag out, like the gladiators of Rome, fresh victims for a public's hatred.

"It is my judgment that the thinking people of Baltimore—and these are vastly in the majority—have by this time wearied of the constant repetition of the same story and firmly convinced that something is wrong, turned not to the idle repetition of conformation but to the problem of how can we prevent this from happening again?"

For Reform From Within.

"Putting the Democratic party out of business, as Senator Lee has pointed out, will not house-clean the party and does not house-clean the party to which the people are asked to turn. Maryland's prosperity depends upon Democratic government, and the party itself must provide against a repetition of what happened in Baltimore city.

"In my judgment, the system of appointing the judges and clerks should be so changed by the alteration of present custom and legislative amendments to the present election law that the very best men in our city can be selected, regardless of what locality they reside, to protect the ballots of every voter who goes to the polls to participate in the government of his city and State and mark his choice upon the ticket."

Maryland Conference of Charities and Correction.

The Seventh Maryland Conference of Charities and Correction will be held in Baltimore, November 15th, 28th, and 29th. General Lawson Riggs, of Baltimore, presiding. This year the program of the conference is divided between three committees: "Health and Sanitation," "State, County, and Municipal Philanthropy," and "Children, Families, and Neighborhoods."

The Committee on Health and Sanitation has gone into the matter of Maryland's annual typhoid epidemic and promises some startling revelations both for Baltimore city and for some of the counties.

The Committee on State, County, and Municipal Philanthropy will discuss the policy of Maryland in granting subsidies from the state treasury to private institutions, and the Committee on Children, Families, and Neighborhoods will discuss a number of topics related to the welfare of the poor in their various family and neighborhood relations. The associated board of trade of Maryland will be asked to co-operate with the committee of the conference in securing a large attendance of county people and a wide publicity for the discussions of the delegates.

Rev. Dieffenbach Leaves Reformed Church.

Rev. A. C. Dieffenbach, graduate of the Johns Hopkins University, formerly pastor of the Reformed Church of Lancaster, Pa., and at present pastor of the Ascension, Pittsburgh, Pa., electrified his congregation after the morning service Sunday by announcing that he desired to resign his Reformed Church charge to become a member of the clergy of the Unitarian Church.

He asked that his resignation take effect December 1 or earlier. He has already qualified before an examination board in the church whose creed he has adopted, and has been admitted into the fellowship of that denomination.

The announcement of the minister's change in faith caused a complete surprise to his congregation and friends. The matter will be brought before the Consistory of the Church, and it is thought that the resignation will be accepted. Questioned as to the reason for his leaving the church in which he was educating his children, he has stated that he had preached for many years, Mr. Dieffenbach was noncommittal.

Mr. Dieffenbach is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Dieffenbach, this city, and Mr. Dieffenbach devoted his time entirely to newspaper corresponding work after graduating. He later entered the Theological Seminary of the Reformed Church of Lancaster, Pa., from which he was graduated in 1901.

Mr. Dieffenbach has many admiring friends in this city, who take much interest in his welfare.

DIED AT DEPOT.

Taken Off Train Ill—Lived But Five Minutes.

Was on a Visit to Emmitsburg.

Taken suddenly ill while en route from Emmitsburg to his home in Baltimore, Pennycuik Quirk, 1430 North Eden street, died in the Western Maryland station in this city Tuesday afternoon. He was 22 years old. Mr. Quirk went to Emmitsburg last Saturday to visit Miss Anna Cory. He found the altitude too high, however, and boarded a train for home Tuesday, accompanied by Miss Cory.

Just before the train reached this city the young man complained of feeling ill. When the train pulled into this city he was carried into the station upon a cot, and Dr. H. M. Fitzhugh, summoned. The physician's efforts were unavailing, however. Mr. Quirk died a few minutes after reaching the station.

Rev. Joseph C. Mallon, of St. John's Catholic Church, was called before Mr. Quirk died and administered the last rites of the church.

Rev. Mr. Foley, of St. Paul's Catholic Church, Baltimore, was notified, and he broke the news to the family of the young man.

Mr. Quirk was employed in the freight department of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. He was born in Baltimore, and had lived there all his life. He is survived by a father and three brothers.

His body was taken to the undertaking establishment of James M. Storer, Pennsylvania avenue, and prepared for burial, and Wednesday shipped to Baltimore accompanied by Miss Julia Quirk, an aunt, who came to this city on Tuesday evening when notified of Mr. Quirk's death.

Mrs. Bowman Surprised.

For the Advocate.

Scarcely had the echoes of the party tendered "Cool" Joshua Murdock, several weeks ago lost its reverberant sounds throughout the hills and valleys of Tannery, when about fifty residents of this village wended their way to Goose Hill farm, the residence of "Colonel" E. S. Bowman, Mrs. Wm. Bowman, on last Friday night, October 6, to tender her a surprise party.

The affair was undoubtedly an overwhelming surprise to Mrs. Bowman, who was about to retire, when the party of friends suddenly arrived. Bewildered and scarcely able to utter a word, Mrs. Bowman came to the door and after regaining her composure, she bade the party a merry welcome. Much credit for the success of the affair must be given to William Bowman, through whose efforts the party was so well arranged.

The party of guests met promptly at 7:30 o'clock at the Tannery store, of which Mr. Bowman is proprietor. Notable in the gathering was Walter Rudolph, a prominent German, of Baltimore whose wit and humor caused many a smile to spread over the countenances of those presents.
