WILSON, MARSHALL AND TALBOTT CLUB.

This Club is now in full organization, and is actively engaged in promoting the purposes for which it was formed.

The Club had a rousing meeting on Tuesday evening last, at the Opera House.

As has been wisely stated by Senator Lee, in a circular letter, "Governor Wilson is the people's candidate and the people should pay the expenses of his campaign."

Never before in the history of American politics has an appeal for campaign funds been made exclusively to the people.

Under enlightened public sentiment, political methods are brought more and more under the eye of the public, and the people are getting to know more about the conduct of the government.

Woodrow Wilson, our candidate for the Presidency, is a true disciple of Thomas Jefferson, and as such is urging the people everywhere to rise up and assert themselves in the management of the affairs of the government.

They should look upon the Elective Franchise as a valuable privilege and an important trust, and should see to it, that it is never debauched.

We believe our country is starting upon a new era of clean politics, and we want to see our young men identify themselves with this movement.

AN APPEAL THAT SHOULD MEET WITH A HEARTY RESPONSE.

The campaign for the election of Wilson, Marshall and Talbott is now on and far advanced. The legitimate expenses of the movement, such as printing, postage, halls, speakers, music, registration, etc., must be met and provided for.

As has been well said, "Governor Wilson is the people's candidate," and his election holds out to them the only immediate hope for relief from governmental and industrial conditions that have become well nigh intolerable.

Trusts and combines the outgrowth of partisan Republican policies, dominate the business of the country—they increase the cost to the farmer of his agricultural machinery, and everything else that he must buy, without requiring him in any way, as the price of that which he has for sale is fixed by the inexorable law of supply and demand.

necessary for railroad construction and equipment, all of which is taken into the estimate in fixing the freight charges of the carrier, they make more costly the transportation of his products to market.

By monopolies they have destroyed competition so as to control prices, until in a land of plenty, destitution is knocking at the door of every poor man's hamlet in the land.

The avenues of political preferment are so controlled and guarded by them, that intellectual endowments are ignored, while servility to their wishes is made the paramount qualification.

They have caused national legislation to be bought and sold commodity like, and money that was made by legislation has been used to control legislation.

They have so debauched the electorate in every state in the Union that the highest law making body in the country is reproachfully styled "the millionaire's club."

In this exigency we appeal to the people, who under our form of government are supreme, and the source of all power, and ask them to aid, by contributions of money, either in large or small amounts, in the election of Wilson and Marshall and a Democratic Congress, who will rescue them from the evils that beset them, and also threaten the life of the Republic.
