The 43rd commencement of Western Maryland College was ushered in last Friday evening, June 6, in Alumni Hall with the freshmen and sophomore contest in elocution for the Normant prizes. These prizes consist of four gold medals, two for freshmen and two for sophomores, a male and a female student in each of these classes. The contestants this year were:

Unveiling of Stained Window. The next event of interest in connection with the commencement was the unveiling and dedication by the senior class of a stained window in the stage of Alumni Hall on Saturday afternoon. The window represents Euterpe one of the nine mythological muses, and the design is in harmony with the character, being a beautiful figure, having her right hand raised, Euterpe, in mythology, is the muse presiding over lyric poetry and to whom the invention of the flute is ascribed.

President's Reception. From 7 till 8 o'clock on Saturday evening President Lewis gave his annual reception to the faculty and students of the college and at 8 o'clock the class receptions were held in the class halls followed by the crenation of "Cicero" by the freshmen and a beautiful display of fireworks on the campus in front of the main building.

Baccalaureate Sermon. Sunday was an ideal day, not oppressively warm, as is usually the case on "Commencement Sunday," and between 1,200 and 1,500 people attended the baccalaureate service in Alumni Hall at 10:30 o'clock. As is customary "A Mighty Fortress is Our God," Luther's battle hymn was sung as the processional. All the undergraduate classes marched silently to the platform and stood with open ranks as the members of the graduating classes passed between their seats. The procession began as the head of the class appeared and, reinforced by the music of a fine orchestra, was sung with great effect.

As usual, the Lutheran, Reformed, Methodist Episcopal and Methodist Protestant churches of the city were closed, and their pastors took part in the service, except Dr. Slagle, of the Reformed church, who was unavoidably absent. Rev. William H. Hetrick, of the Lutheran church, delivered the invocation and led the Lord's prayer; Rev. L. E. Bennett, of Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, led the Psalter; Rev. Dr. George R. Brown, of the Methodist Protestant church, read the Scripture lesson, and Rev. Dr. D. L. Greenfield, also of the Methodist Protestant church, made the closing prayer. Vice President A. Norman Ward read the Commandments, to which the students made antiphonal response.

Before the first hymn was announced President Lewis made a short address, reciting his opposition to the entire secularizing of education, which is being practiced by so many colleges, and explained that the hymn,

The evening program was followed by the award of the certificates of graduation.

On Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the society reunion was held in the society halls and proved, as usual to be one of the most informal and enjoyable features of the week. Meeting of Board of Trustees and of Alumni Association. On Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock the annual meeting of the board of trustees took place at the library and on Tuesday afternoon the business meeting and collation of the alumni association was held in the banquet room of Alumni Hall.

The vacancies in the board of trustees were filled by the election of Rev. Luther F. Warner, of Salisbury, Md., and Mr. L. Irving Politt, of Baltimore, Md. It was decided to erect a handsome new building, to form the center of the present main building, at a cost of $75,000 as soon as the money can be raised. At the alumni meeting the officers were re-elected for another year, and John M. Henry, of Pittsburgh, Pa., was added to its list of vice presidents.

Literary Society Contests. A great deal of friendly rivalry exists between the literary societies of the college which hold weekly meetings every Friday afternoon in their respective halls and this rivalry makes the contest held Tuesday evening of commencement week unusually interesting to the students and alumni of the college. The contests are between the Browning and Philomathean female societies and Irving and Webster male societies, the young ladies reading, and the young men delivering orations. The societies were represented by the following students:

Commencement Day. Wednesday, Commencement Day, was a beautiful June day and Alumni Hall was filled with friends of the college. After the processional "A Mighty Fortress" was sung, during which time the students marched in the trustees, the faculty and graduating class taking their places on the stage, the commencement exercises were opened with an invocation by Rev. Dr. J. B. Brown, president of the Maryland Annual Conference, after which followed essays and orations by the six members of the graduating class, chosen by reason of excellence in composition and delivery during the Senior and Junior years, as follows: "The Quest of the Holy Grail Today," Pearl Williams Fishel; "The Era of the Child," Martha Elizabeth Thomas; "Woman Beyond Her Gates," Jessie Lambert Shaw; "The New Spirit in Scholarship," Harry Spurgeon Beall; "Should Women Vote?" CEMENT CASE.

THE QUESTION OF REMOVAL WILL BE TAKEN TO COURT OF APPEALS.

The grand jury at the present term of the Circuit Court for Carroll county indicted the Tidewater Portland Cement Company of Union Bridge on the charge of maintaining a nuisance. That corporation operating one of the largest plants of its character, engaged in the making of cement and hydrated lime, is alleged by its failure to provide some method of arresting the dust to be causing great discomfort and injury to the people of Union Bridge, and damaging their residences and other buildings and injuring vegetation. Governor Tenor of Pennsylvania is the president of the company and William J. O'Brien, Esq., of Baltimore, its secretary and general counsel.

The true bill was found on May 16th. On June 4th, the company filed, by Messrs. O'Brien and J. Milton Reffsnider, its suggestion and affidavit for removal, alleging that it could not have a fair trial in Carroll county. The motion for removal was heard yesterday by Associate Judge Brashear. Affidavits of James Pearce Wantz, Rev. Calvin S. Slagle, Jacob Brehm, James T. Trayer, Edward O. Biffenbender, Horace L. Shipley, Vachel B. Griffin, John T. Brown, P. A. Rineman, George E. Benson, Charles E. Smelser, Burrier Cookson, Dr. Luther Kemp, J. H. Duffield, Edward E. Reindollar, Dr. Clotworthy Birnie, George A. Arnold, Norman B. Hagan, Dr. Franklin H. Seiss, and others created residents of Uniontown, New Windsor and Taneytown districts, with a few from other districts in the county, all of whom testified to the fact that they had heard the case much discussed and that the bias of public opinion was against the corporation in the matter of the charges made, and that in their opinion it could not secure an impartial trial here. A number of others on the stand testified to the same effect. States Attorney Wentt contented himself with opposing the removal, but put on a witness on the stand.

Judge Brashear in the exercise of his discretion refused the prayer for removal, basing his determination largely on the action of the Court in Baltimore denying the removal of the Downs case. Downs was indicted for a felony charged with a crime which affected the residents of Baltimore city. In the present case only the residents of Union Bridge are directly affected. In the opinion of the Court a jury from other sections of the county can be secured to give the accused corporation a fair trial.

At the hearing of the suggestion extracts from editorials and correspondence in newspapers of the county, in which the history of the conduct of the plant, protests of citizens, alleged injuries to the community and public indignation meetings, by which knowledge of the alleged injustice was passed to the Court. Notice was given of appeal from the decision of Judge Brashear and the question will be taken to the Court of Appeals on writ of error.
