Time to make preparations for a safe and sane Fourth of July.

Mr. Fisher Jones, Green street, has taken the agency for the Sun Life Assurance Company, of Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Beach and family are occupying the residence of Mrs. Williamson on East Green street.

What fine weather we have had for Commencement week! A little cold perhaps, but could any other town do better?

A shaft to the engine of the automobile tar distributor broke on Tuesday morning delaying the work of tarring the streets.

The annual conference of the Church of the Brethren will be held in the State of Washington next year. This was decided at this year's conference at Winona Lake, Ind.

Bernard Fink, son of Mr. Charles E. Fink, East Main street, was elected vice president of the Rock Hill College Athletic Association.

Mr. Fink is a student of Rock Hill College.

In the account of the death and funeral of Mr. Israel C. Rinehart, of Union Bridge, published in last week's Advocate, a mistake was made in the name of the deceased which was printed as Isaac instead of Israel.

The funeral of Thomas Kelly, a well-known blacksmith of Baltimore county, and formerly of this county, was held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Services were conducted at Ward's Methodist Episcopal Church, at Holbrook, by Rev. Frank Stellman, the pastor.

Mr. James L. Slaughter, of Bishop street, met with a painful accident the other day when he fell from a ladder in a cherry tree, a distance from 12 to 15 feet.

The limb of the tree broke, and Mr. Slaughter fell with the ladder on top of him. He was unconscious for a few minutes, his left hip and chest were badly bruised.

At a meeting of the Lutheran Reunion Association of Maryland, Pennsylvania, the Virginias and District of Columbia, it was decided to hold the next annual reunion at Pen-Mar Park on Thursday, July 24.

Address will be made by Rev. G. W. Nisely, of Hanover, Pa., and Sister Sophia Jephson, of the Lutheran Deaconess Home, Baltimore.

The Chestertown Transcript of last week contains the following paragraph: "A scene never before witnessed in Christ Methodist Protestant Church was enacted on Sunday morning when over a hundred persons gathered about the altar and were received into full membership by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Walter R. Graham. An impressive communion service followed."

Mrs. Mollie Ricamp, of Belterstown, almost 70 years old, is improving at St. Joseph's Hospital, Baltimore, where she was taken Saturday on an unconscious condition from heart trouble after she had been arrested for begging on the street. It was Mrs. Ricamp who surprised the police last December when she was arrested in the Western district a bankbook of more than $700 was found in her possession.

Announcement was made June 5 of the appointment of W. H. Doll, at present general agent of the Chicago and Alton Railroad at Chicago, as general agent of the Western Maryland Railway Company, with headquarters in Baltimore. This is a new position which has just been created by the company. Mr. Doll will establish his headquarters in the office of General Passenger Agent.

Suffering with a fractured skull and his right arm broken, G. T. Bevard, aged about 35 years, of Emmitsburg, was taken to the Washington County Hospital, Hagerstown, in a critical condition. Bevard was found unconscious Sunday morning along the railroad track by the agent at Rocky Ridge. He went to Baltimore Saturday, and it is thought that upon returning at night he either jumped or fell from the train at Rocky Ridge.

The new Western Maryland Railroad Station in Hagerstown was formally opened to the traveling public at noon Sunday when the first passenger train entered on the new track along the new structure. The local officials, dispatchers and clerks have been occupying the building for some time, but the ticket office was not moved until Sunday when the little wooden structure, which has served as a depot since 1880, now stands abandoned.

As the result of a premature blast at the quarries near Sykesville, Md., James L. Justice, 62 years old and a laborer in the quarries, lies in a serious condition at the University Hospital, Baltimore. Justice was injured Saturday afternoon and was hurried to Baltimore, arriving at the hospital about 8 o'clock. Other workmen it is said, were less seriously injured in the same explosion. The blasting was being done for work on the Springfield Hospital for the Insane.

Shriver, at Union Mills. He has also been awarded the contract to install hot water heating plants in the residences of John H. Mitten and Frances L. Hunter.

Of course you will see "What happens to Brags," to be given June 18, 19 and 20 at the Opera House for the benefit of our Fire Department, by the local talent supported by four excellent artists of the American stage: Messrs. Arthur Leslie, Edward Reese, Robert Ebaugh, Phillip Myers, C. C. Beach, Geraldine Ashley, Vera Ashley, Katherine Lynch and Azalea Shipley.

The work of repairing Main street has been going on all the week. A big force is at work on the job. A sweeping machine throws the dust to the sides of the gutters, a heavy coating of tar is applied by a large auto truck, and a thin coating of stone is placed over this, followed by more asphalt. When finished it is said that the surface will resemble asphalt and will not need to be sprinkled.

At the commencement exercises of Johns Hopkins University held at the Academy of Music, Baltimore, last Tuesday, Mr. John Bowen Edwards, of this city, was awarded a University Fellowship in Greek. Mr. Edwards graduated from Western Maryland College in 1903, and afterward spent some time in Greece as a student at the University of Athens. A scholarship was awarded to Mr. Kent Roberts Greenfield of this city, who has just completed his second year at the University.

Edward Meade Fuss, aged 50 years, a farmer, of Emmitsburg, Md., died Saturday morning at the home of Dr. E. D. Stone from the effects of an accident which occurred on Wednesday. He was driving five horses. On reaching the railroad station one of the horses was frightened at the engine, causing them all to become unmanageable. He was thrown to the ground and his head, which was trampled on by his horse, which was badly lacerated. An operation was performed in hopes of saving his life. He leaves a wife and seven children.

A work train engine, westbound, collided with a draft of cars on the main track of the Western Maryland Railway at Pineburg, at 5:45 o'clock Tuesday evening, injuring three men and badly damaging the engine and several cars. Engineer Orden sustained a broken leg. The fireman and brakeman of the work train were slightly cut and bruised by jumping. The work train was bound for Charleston Station, with 30 workmen, who were returning home, occupying a coach behind the engine. None of the workmen was injured. The cars had been left standing on the track while a yard engine was shifting cars on the siding.

Mayor David E. Walsh and City Clerk S. P. Weaver have this week issued a paper of the receipts and disbursements of the city of Westminster for the fiscal year ending May 19, 1913. The taxes collected in 1912 amounted to $15,796.29; receipts from licenses, road tax and other sources, $5,024.44; receipts from monies borrowed on notes and in deposits, $10,000, which figures added to the cash balance of $1,499.28 on hand in May 1912, make $32,598.01 for receipts. Money paid out for street improvements $1,200.63; general expenses including lighting, water, etc., $18,646.75; salaries paid to city officials, $1,772.89; miscellaneous expenses, etc., bring the total disbursements up to $31,437.22, leaving a balance on hand of $1,160.79.

At a conference of the Frederick county policy holders in The Grangers' Mutual Fire and Storm Insurance Co., of Carroll county, and the officials of the company held at the Y. M. C. A., Frederick, an effort was made to reach a settlement in the controversy between the 260 policy holders living in Frederick county, and the company. The company does not do a fire insurance business, although the name of the company implies this. It insures for damage from hail and wind. Some of the farmers insured in the company claim that when they agreed to take the policies and made their applications for the same, it was represented to them that they were insured against fire, while others stated they understood that their buildings and crops were insured against wind and hail. The company now contends that it insures crops against hail, and buildings against wind storms, but that wind and storm damage to crops is at the loss of the owner, so far as the company is concerned.

The 5:32 train on Tuesday evening was delayed for some time in this city by several cars on local freight train jumping the track at New Windsor.

Carroll county on Tuesday experienced the coldest June morning on record. The thermometer registered 37 degrees. A heavy frost was noticed in low places.

George F. Wagner, Hampstead district, states that kankit and sulphur in proportion of 1 to 3 will make a most rest kankit sprinkled under fruit trees as far as the limbs extend, in the fall of the year, will prevent scale from forming the next year. This has been tried by Mr. Wagner for a number of years and has proved efficient.

For the benefit of those persons who intend to visit Gettysburg by auto or in team during the fiftieth anniversary celebration of the battle next month, the roads leading out of Gettysburg, will be oiled for distances of 5 to 25 miles. This work will be done under the supervision of Edward S. Frey, state highway engineer for that district.

By announcement in another column it will be seen that a department of engineering will be opened in the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, October 7th, next, at which time in the School of Technology, provided for by an appropriation made by the last Legislature, the first award of scholarships will be made, one of which will be assigned to Carroll county.

Fire on June 3 destroyed the frame house upon the farm of John Stoner, located about a mile south of Rocky Ridge and upon the banks of Oakes Creek. The house was destroyed together with all of its contents. The farm was tenanted by Marshall W. Beall, who did not occupy the dwelling, but resided in a dwelling a considerable distance away. The loss will be from $1,500 to $1,800, partially covered by insurance.

In order to take care of the very large number of telephone calls between Buckeystown and New Market, the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company is building three trunk lines between these points. There is a flat rate service between these places and Mt. Airy there is a great amount of business between the points, often keeping the trunk lines to Frederick busy and delaying calls to the latter place. An additional line is also being constructed between New Market and Mt. Airy, which will still further facilitate the traffic at these places.

The following paragraph was found this week in an exchange: "The editor has been a victim for some weeks of the will-o'-the-wisp—a feverish desire to own a automobile. He has had under consideration several well-known makes, the possible selection narrowing down to two, namely, a 'Ford' and a 'Cant Afford.' He has finally decided that the latter is the one he will purchase. Agents, therefore, will take due notice and govern themselves accordingly." Why should our friend worry? He has selected the best make. He will have no punctures, blow-outs nor tire-tracks.

Rev. Dr. George W. Dame, until recently rector of the Church of the Holy Innocents, Baltimore, has accepted the call extended by the vestry of All Saints' Episcopal Church, Reisterstown, and will move to the rectory shortly. All Saints' Church is located midway between Reisterstown and Glyndon. It was built by Rev. Keyser, the father of H. Irvine and Dr. Brent Keyser, as a memorial to his father and mother. The property consists of the church, which is beautiful; the rectory; and an artistic water tower. It is a work of art. Rev. Dr. William M.
