A final meeting of the club will be held Tuesday night next at the Photograph Gallery of James D. Mitchell, at 8 o'clock, to complete all final arrangements for the encampment. There is some talk of having an entertainment or show one evening including fire works, etc.

Tom Brown, the Reisterstown lad, carved his name in the Hall of Fame at Wilmington, Del., Friday when he pitched and won a double-header for the Chicks against the Allentown Hooses. Brown not only held his opponents to six hits in the double bill, but shut them out without a run during the 16 innings, the second game only going seven innings. To add more glory to his crown he won the first game with a long triple, and had a double in two times up in the second encounter.

The Lutheran Sunday school at Silver Run will hold its annual picnic in the Boose grove, near Silver Run, on Saturday, July 26th. The Lutheran Sunday school at Silver Run is one of the large and well organized schools of the county. The school is preparing a special program for the occasion. There will be drills by the primary and by the junior pupils. Several able speakers will be present. A feature of the program will be a chorus of 100 adults, men and women, representing the two Adult Organized Classes of the school. The Littlestown Band will furnish music.

It is not improbable that 20,000 people will assemble at Pen-Mar for the annual reunion of the I. O. O. F. of Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia on August 7. Each year the reunion has grown in interest and numbers and the good program announced for this year has increased the enthusiasm of the Odd Fellows of the various jurisdictions. Chief feature of the exercises will be the address by Third Assistant Postmaster General Alexander M. Dockery, of Missouri. He is one of the country's best-known men, an orator of ability and an Odd Fellow of High rank.

Pen-Mar is in full swing—every cottage is occupied.

The crop of timothy hay is said to be good in parts of this county.

The June brides were quite numerous. Later the lawyers will get into the game.

A case of much interest was tried before Justice Brown on Friday last, which attracted a large number of persons owning traction engines. The case was Raymond Edmondson vs. Clarence A. Tenney, for running a traction engine on the state road with cleats on the wheels, which is prohibited. The evidence was not sufficient and Mr. Edmondson was cleared.

Mr. Ernest Stoner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Stoner, of Thurmont, has purchased the store business conducted by Mr. L. W. Armacost, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Armacost, Park avenue and Chase street, this city. Both Mr. Stoner and Mr. Armacost were residents of this county, the former living in this city and the latter at Spring Mills. Mr. Stoner has already taken possession.

The Western Maryland Railroad Company has closed a contract with one of the largest correspondence schools in the country for the instruction of trainmen in the use and construction of air brakes used on trains. The instruction will not be compulsory, it is urged that all take advantage of this training. The old passenger station at Hagerstown will be temporary headquarters for the school.

Potomac Lodge of Hagerstown, will lay the cornerstone of its new $50,000 Odd Fellows' Temple in that city on Sunday, July 20, at 2 p. m. Odd Fellows from many towns in Maryland, Pennsylvania and Virginia and the District of Columbia will be present. The program will include a parade. Grand Master of the State Frank S. Dorsey, of Mount Airy, will speak. Ex-City Councilman George B. McC. Wolf has the contract to erect the temple.

The Opera has been the scene of two big shows this week which have drawn big houses. Tonight another one will come off. The sketch "It's Geat to be Crazy," was played on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings and was very much enjoyed. It is the purpose of Mr. Beach, the proprietor, to put on a popular sketch twice or more a week if the citizens will patronize. Every one should help make it a success. The show is worth the money every time.

It discusses its recent handling of the Gettysburg reunion crowd, the management of the Western Maryland gives itself a deserved pat on the back as follows: Handling more than 60,000 veterans, without an accident or serious delay was the record established by the Western Maryland Railway Company during the encampment which recently came to a close at Gettysburg. Between July 1 and 5 that number of arriving soldiers were brought from all States in the Union and taken to their homes in comfort and safety.

The summer resorts are all filled to their utmost capacity.

The Western Maryland Railway Company is getting highly satisfactory results from the new telephone system of dispatching trains, which was recently installed on the company's lines between Hagerstown and Cumberland. The substitution of the telephone for the Morse system in train operations on the portion of the line referred to was decided upon some months ago by President Fitzgerald, and steps were at once taken to make the new service a reality.

Hog cholera again prevails in Frederick county. At least three farmers residing to the north of Frederick, are known to have the disease upon their premises and indications are that within a short time the disease will be prevalent in a large territory. The disease seems to have started from a carload of hogs which were sold about two weeks ago from Frederick. There were about 280 hogs in the car, and it is stated the bunch was pretty generally scattered throughout the county.

Harry T. Levely, of Annapolis, who was elected president of the Maryland State Volunteer Firemen's Association at the recent annual convention, announced Saturday the appointment of members of committees as follows in this county: Topics and Statistics, Charles H. Chief Judge Hammond Urner on Monday heard the case of Cameron vs. P. Olier, of Emmitsburg, to have stricken from the records a judgment for $100 and interest, obtained against him and Edward H. Rowe and wife by the Citizen's Savings Bank, of Thurmont. The judgment was given upon a copy of a note loaned by Cameron claims a mistake has been made, in that Edward Rowe was the maker of the note and he was the surety. After hearing some testimony in the case Judge Urner decided that the case was one for trial, and ordered the case placed upon the docket for trial upon its merits at the September term of court.

Important changes in officials were announced by the Western Maryland Railway Company Tuesday: H. E. Williams, now connected with the New York Central lines in New York, has been appointed general agent, effective August 1. C. H. Porter, the incumbent, has been assigned to duty in the president's office. The divisions are known as the Maryland Division, the Cumberland Division and the West Virginia Division. The Maryland Division includes all lines east of P. V. Junction at Williamsport, Md., and has been placed in charge of J. W. Kline, division engineer, with headquarters at Cumberland. The West Virginia Division includes all lines between Knobmount Yard and Bellington, and will be placed in charge of P. Cain, division engineer, with headquarters at Elkins.

J. Milton Reifelder, Esq., representing a large number of milk shippers who rely along the Western Maryland railroad, on Tuesday last filed with the Public Service Commission a complaint against the change of the schedule of the early morning milk train on the railroad. He explains that for a number of years the company had been carrying its milk traffic on passenger trains, but last February it put on a special milk train leaving Union Bridge at 6.40 and arriving in Baltimore at 9.37 a. m. The understanding with the shippers, it is said, was that this schedule was to be maintained for a year at least. On June 15 last, the complainants state, the company without previous notice to the shippers, changed the schedule of the milk train so that it leaves an hour earlier and arrives in Baltimore at 8.45. This schedule Mr. Reifelder alleges, is much too early to permit the milk producers to ship milk by it with an degree of reasonableness and convenience, as many of them live several miles from the stations and in order to ship their milk in a condition to meet the standard required at Baltimore they are obliged to begin their work at about 6 o'clock in the morning and many of them are obliged to send it by express by a later train at a much increased cost. The milk shippers ask for a train to arrive in Baltimore not later than 9 o'clock.

Late Wednesday afternoon the gas stove in the residence of Mr. E. P. Brundige exploded with a loud report, causing considerable excitement in the neighborhood. It is supposed that the gas had been leaking and the oven door was shut when the gas was lighted resulting in the explosion. The stove was completely shattered.

A good deal of excitement was caused in town Tuesday evening over the report of an automobile accident at Silver Run. It transpired that Dr. M. Crichton, of Washington, D. C., in an auto runabout, and accompanied by a young lady, had run into Mr. George Bankert's buggy at Silver Run, smashing one of the wheels. Dr. Crichton stopped and offered $5 for damages which was immediately refused. He then put on an extra amount of speed crying "Catch me if you can." Someone telephoned the auto number to Westminster and the machine was held up by Officer Stem and Dr. Crichton was arrested. State's Attorney Went made an investigation, but as no charge was preferred against him he was released. Many false reports concerning the extent of the accident have been assigned to town. About 1-1/4 miles this side of Skyeville Dr. Crichton's auto turned turtle, the occupants were thrown out and the car was smashed to pieces. They walked into Skyeville at midnight and next morning they left by train for Washington.
