The June bride and the sweet girl graduate are contesting the one with the other for the center of the stage.

A marriage license was issued in Towson on Saturday to Walter Buchman and Mamie L. Richards, both of Hampstead.

More than $400 was cleared at the firemen's festival held three evenings last week in the Firemen's Building. It was well patronized.

Mr. William Arthur, of Fritzelburg, and Mr. Milton Bachman, this city, have purchased Ford Roadsters from Herr & Babylon, agents.

Demetre Pogach, convicted of murder in the second degree for killing Avanas Luchi, a fellow-countryman, at Highfield, was Friday sentenced to 18 years in the Penitentiary.

Mr. Horace G. Bush, of Baltimore, formerly of this city, who has been critically ill is now convalescent.

During his illness many of his friends from Carroll county visited him.

As the Home-Coming of the Firemen's Convention will be held in this city next week we urgently request all correspondents and others having news for this paper to get it in as early as possible, as the employees of The Advocate would like to have a little vacation during the parades.

The festival committee of the Westminster Fire Department wishes to extend to the ladies who so kindly gave their assistance in making the festival and bazaar such a success, their most sincere thanks. It also desires to thank the citizens of Westminster for their generous contributions and their liberal patronage.

Westminster High School was defeated by Strayers' Business College, of Baltimore on Saturday afternoon on Athletic Field by a score of 19 to 6. Both sides banged the ball, but the locals' fingers were all thumbs and they made many errors. Lamotte Smith pitched for Strayers' and did his usual good pitching. Billingslea also pitched a good game but his support was miserable.

Salem Lodge, No. 60, I. O. O. F., is doing splendid work since it has organized a degree staff and purchased a new outfit. A large number of good men have been added to its roster this month, ten applicants were admitted and there is an abundant prospect for greater work. Brother James Mitchell is the district deputy grand master and is constantly at work encouraging the members to renewed activity.

Endeavoring to get the unemployed to work on farms, the firm of J. Bolgiano & Son, Baltimore, has inaugurated "a back-to-the-farm movement," a free employment department in connection with their seed business. It is the intention of the members of the firm to help the farmers fill the demand for workmen on their places. The past record of each applicant is carefully searched, and only men who are found to be honest, reliable, sober, capable, and of good character are recommended to the farmers.

Charles H. Krise, of near Rocky Ridge, one of the most progressive farmers of Frederick county, has introduced the use of a gasoline engine and a gang plow for plowing his farm. Last week was the first he used the machine, and he succeeded in plowing about 30 acres of ground with it. With his experience now he considers that he will plow from six to eight acres a day. The gasoline engine is in no way a part of the plowing outfit and may be used for other work. It is what is known as a 15-30 gasoline engine having a tractor power of 15 horse-power and a wheel power of 30.

Mrs. Silas L. Arnold, of 2537 Francis street, Baltimore, whose husband disappeared from home May 20, received a postal card Saturday stating that a man answering his description had been seen at Hampstead. Mr. Arnold is 57 years old, weighs 165 pounds and is 5 feet 7 inches tall. When he left home he wore a soft green hat, black coat, striped trousers and tan button shoes. Mrs. Arnold is said to have seen the man at Hampstead at once. Arnold is in bad health and is believed to be wandering somewhere in Baltimore or Carroll county. Anyone who sees him should notify Postmaster Murray, of Hampstead.

Miss Margaret Preston, of Baltimore, spent Sunday with Mrs. William H. Thomas, Court Place.

Rev. and Mrs. Hilton Orrick went to Hagerstown on Tuesday where Mr. Orrick will be rector of St. John's Protestant Episcopal Church. During the two years of his pastorate of Ascension Church, this city, Mr. Orrick has been very popular with not only his congregation but with all who know him. It is with great regret that his friends see him leave. His successor, Rev. Carl Barnwell, of Elliott City, will take charge of the services at Ascension Church Sunday.

Dr. Charles J. Wells, of Baltimore, formerly of Hampstead, and well known in this city, and W. Z. Conran narrowly escaped serious injury when a street car crashed into the automobile in which the two were riding and wrecked it. Dr. Wells bruised his arm when thrown against the side of the machine and Mr. Conran had his knee hurt. The accident happened at about 6:30 o'clock Friday night when Dr. Wells was driving his machine. According to Dr. Wells his machine was almost at a complete stop at the crossing when an Electric Park car bore down upon him, running at moderate speed. In order to avoid the street car, he ran north on Belvidere avenue on the car tracks until his machine was plied between the car and a telegraph pole.

All aboard for Home Coming Week! Carroll county Paradise of beauty in the summer time.

Health and a good chance for wealth abound in the hills of Carroll.

Dr. O. E. Tiffany, entertained the historical section of the graduating class of Western Maryland College on Monday evening at his residence on College Hill. The evening was a delightfully informal one and before leaving the students presented their professor with a handsome engraving.

We hope that our Mayor and Council will see to it that Ordinance No. 41, which prohibits the use of explosives within the city limits is enforced for the Fourth of July. We understand that they have already decided to do this, so everyone should contribute to the town display of fireworks.

The following pupils of St. John's parochial school passed their final examination in stenography, and received Certificates of Merit, at the L. C. Smith & Bros., Typewriting Office, Baltimore, last week: Messrs. Guy Fowler, James Boylan and Lloyd Myers; Misses Goldie Myers, Bernadette Hann, Helen Hunter, Margaret Mallon and Agnes Boylan.

Governor Goldsborough has appointed the members of the commission which will conduct the educational survey of the State as follows: B. Howell Griswold, Jr., of Baltimore; Judge James A. Pearce, of Chestertown; Dr. J. McPherson Scott, of Hagerstown. The commission will probably have either the Rockefeller Foundation or the Carnegie Foundation to undertake the actual work of investigating the State's educational system.

Mr. Walter C. Wickert, a native of this city, and son of the late Ex-Sheriff S. Carr Wickert has been elected editor and manager of the Hurlock Advance, a weekly newspaper published at Hurlock, Dorchester county. The Advance, which is now in its 19th year, was recently taken over by an incorporated company under the title of the Hurlock Publishing Company. The stockholders are stated to be forty of the most prominent business men of Hurlock and vicinity.

Officials of the Bureau of Weights and Measures are determined to make all milk dealers of Philadelphia comply with the order that milk shall be served in bottles of regulation size. Monday another raid was made and many dealers were surprised to see quantities of undersized bottles carried from their establishments. It is said that the milk dealers of that city own about 100,000,000 bottles, many of which are from three-eighths to one-half an ounce short of the correct measure. We hope this is not the case with our milk dealers.

A fire which threatened to reach large proportions owing to its proximity to other buildings, broke out at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the blacksmith shop of Charles Kelley, at Glyndon. The flames were checked by members of the Glyndon Volunteer Fire Company, with a loss estimated at $50. The fire was caused by a defective fuse, and the roof of the shop had caught when discovered. Ten feet from the shop was the town hall, and a stable, belonging to H. E. Rutter, was about the same distance from it, with a store and other properties close by.

At a meeting of the student body called by President Lewis Monday night it was officially announced that the Athletic Association of Western Maryland College had engaged the services of Mr. John L. Felton, a graduate of Dickinson College, to coach the athletic teams of this school for the season 1914-15. Mr. Felton has quite a wide reputation in the athletic world. He was captain of the varsity football team at Dickinson in 1910 and was named by the press for all-American honors. For four years he was a regular on the team for Dickinson and since his graduation has been coaching football basketball and baseball at the Virginia Wesleyan University, Buchanan, W. Va. The prospects for Western Maryland's football team are very bright. Only two regulars will graduate and one member from the junior class will not return. A training camp has been arranged to open September 1 and Western Maryland's men will be in good condition early in the season.

Persons who are in the habit of pasturing their cattle on the public highways, such as the Baltimore and Reisterstown turnpike, are perhaps not aware that an accident involving life or limb might result therefrom and they would certainly be held responsible for costs that might run up into the thousands.

The York, Hanover and Frederick Railroad Company, a branch of the Northern Central, submitted to the Public Service Commission for its approval yesterday a plan to take over the Central Railroad of Maryland. The Commission reserved its declaration, but it is probable that the deal will be approved. The Central Railroad runs from Keaymar to Union Bridge, a distance of five miles. It practically parallels the Western Maryland and is used largely for hauling lime and cement.

What might have been a destructive fire was discovered about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning by John Leffert, in his cigar store at the railroad. Mr. Leffert awoke his room and was awakened by the smell of smoke in his room. He hastily aroused his family and went into the cigar store where he found the room dense with smoke and the floor on fire. He extinguished the blaze before any material damage was done. The night watchman who makes his rounds every hour to Mr. Leffert's store, found everything in order on his last trip.

The long-desired and long-expected statement of operations of the Western Maryland Railway for February, March and April was issued Wednesday, and some surprising figures are shown. Since the statement showing the earnings for January last was issued no figures have been given out from the railroad since that time. The operating revenue of $300,163 for the month of February, a net revenue of $38,226.27 in April is shown. This was brought about mainly by decreasing the maintenance expenses nearly $200,000 and increasing the gross revenue more than $100,000.

McGill Belt, residing near Dickerson, and a member of the last Legislature, on Monday swore out a warrant and placed it in the hands of Sheriff George W. Woodbine for the arrest of Charles Shipley, of Woodbine, whom he charges with having stolen a horse from him. The horse was taken from a field on the Belt farm, on Sunday night or Monday morning, and as the horses had been turned out to pasture, the animal was not missed until Tuesday morning. Mr. Belt learned that Shipley, who had worked upon the Belt farm about a week ago, had been seen on Monday morning at the home of his uncle with the horse, which is a bay with blazed face and is four years old. Mr. Belt stated the animal was worth at least $100. Deputy Justice Monday night arrested Shipley, and Sheriff Conard and Deputies Jones and Prizell secured him at his home near Woodbine. He had the horse hid in the mountains and was engaged in stealing a sack of clover to feed the animal when arrested.

The farmers will soon make hay. The air was decidedly cool last night.
