Mr. Cover had many friends; he was a good neighbor and a genial and hospitable gentleman in his home. He was 74th year. Funeral services were held at his late home on Tuesday afternoon, conducted by the Rev. Robert Fleming, of Baltimore, who had been his pastor, and the one who received him into the Presbyterian Church, and being his friend for years. Mr. James P. She was engaged at the time of her death in writing a history of the different religions of the world. SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

OF THE CHURCH OF GOD HELD AT CARROLLTON.

The annual convention of the Sunday schools of Westminster, New Windsor and Woolery's districts, was held in the Church of God at Carrollton, Sunday, September 20th. There were two sessions, one in the afternoon and the other at night. Mr. Lester Patterson, president of the three districts, presided.

The afternoon session opened with a devotional service conducted by Rev. Kirkley, pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church at Patapsco. The scripture reading was from John 10:1-18. Mr. Jesse Garner, of Linwood, gave a helpful address on "The Teachers' Triple Alliance." In the course of his remarks he said that the Sunday school teacher has three allies: (1) Knowledge of the Word of God. The successful teacher must not only be familiar with the Bible, but he must know it so well that he can cause others to know it. (2) Knowledge of how to do. (3) Love. Of the three allies, this is the most important. If the teacher is to speak to men for God, he must have not only a deep love for God, but love for his scholars, and a willingness to give himself for them, for God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son that whosoever believeth in him shall not perish, but have everlasting life. "Means and Methods of the Sunday School," in which a number participated.

The first half hour of the night session was given to song service. Rev. John H. Gosno, the pastor, offered prayer. An election of officers was then held with the following results: President, Lester Patterson, Carrollton; First Vice-President, Charles Otto, New Windsor; Second Vice-President, James E. Smith, Westminster; Secretary-Treasurer, A. Harland Greene, Westminster; Superintendent of Teacher Training, Emory C. Ebaugh, Patapsco; Superintendent of Cradle Roll, Mrs. John Belt, Westminster; Superintendent of Organized Bible Class, George R. Gehr, Westminster. Mr. George W. Yeiser, of Union Mills, the County President, delivered a stirring temperance address, in which he appealed to every man and every woman to make his vote to make "Carroll county dry" this fall. The convention then adjourned.

The music for the convention was in charge of Mr. Emory C. Ebaugh. A. HARLAND GREENE, Sec.-Treas.

THREE BRITISH CRUISERS SUNK

TWO GERMAN SUBMARINES AND TWO TORPEDO BOATS AND SUBMARINES OF THE AUSTRIAN FLEET GO DOWN—ARMIES STILL FIGHTING HARD.

London, September 22.—The daring raid on German submarines across the North Sea, which resulted this morning in the sinking of the British cruisers Aboukir, Hogue and Cressy, has momentarily diverted attention from the battlefields to the Continent.

This was one of the things the British Navy has been led to expect, for the Germans have quite frankly avowed that their plan was to reduce British naval superiority by submarine raids and sowing of mines, and they have been training their young officers for sallies of this kind.

Two of the five German submarines were destroyed by the British, according to English survivors.

The ships sunk, while obsolete, still were very useful vessels, and it is a satisfaction to England to know that her cruiser fleet is still double in number that of the Germans.

The loss of life among the crews of the three vessels is heavy, although a considerable number of men were picked up by the cruiser Lowestoft, a division of torpedo-boat destroyers, and some trawlers. There were 2,265 men on the three cruisers and it is reported about 700 were saved.

The German war loan subscriptions total $1,997,250.00.

There is heavy fighting at several points to the south of Antwerp between the Belgians and Germans.

Two Austrian torpedo boats and one torpedo-boat destroyer were sunk by floating mines off the coast of Dalmatia.

Lieutenant General von Busse, of the German Army, was killed in action.

The losses to both sides in the fighting of the past two weeks have been frightful. Trains from the battlefield for Paris and the South of France move hourly and each is filled to the doors with French, British and German wounded.

It is reported in Paris that the son of Count von Moltke the German chief of staff, was killed in the battle at Esternay.

"A Celebration—A Festival—A Vacation—A Recreation.

This generation demands more freedom, more joy and more life than our ancestors dared even to think of. The Great Hagerstown Inter-State Fair Supplies this demand. Our Universities have their fraternities, their entertainments and their athletic games. Our common school have their playgrounds. Our churches have their social functions and the Great Hagerstown Inter-State Fair has its amusements.

At the Great Hagerstown Inter-State Fair next October probably 200,000 persons will gather to seek information, to rub elbows with their fellows and to enjoy the varied amusements offered.

There will be music everywhere on the grounds. Kearsley's Myriophony, an instrument containing more than 2,000 strings, producing the sweetest and most melodious music, which it is said can be heard for a distance of two miles, will be operated from a stand in front of the grandstand. On the grandstand the people will be delighted to hear their old favorite, Wallace's Orchestra, from Cleveland, while over the grounds and in the City bands from the nearby Counties and Towns will discourse the latest music.

Music, there will be in abundance both day and night. The most lavish Fire Works have been provided and will be given each night by the International Fireworks Company of America.

There will be championship horse racing with purses aggregating nearly $50,000. Contests so many, humorous and thrilling fire acts in front of the grandstand day and night.

All prize winning stock will be shown each day in front of the grandstand. There will be the largest chicken show in the United States; a gorgeous display of cattle in the new cow barn; machinery by the acre and amusements and attractions everywhere. There will be in short exciting entertainments for every hour of every day from Tuesday morning until Friday night, October 13th to 16th.

Do the people want this sort of thing? Here is the answer. Last year during the four days and nights 175,000 people passed through the gates, while as many as 10,000 persons were on and in front of the Grandstand at one time. Will the people want this sort of thing? Try it in 1914.

All He Left.

A man from Kansas City recently wrote to a lawyer in another town of the state asking for information touching the standing of a person there, who had owed the Kansas City individual a considerable sum of money for a long time.

"What property has he that I can attach?" was one of the questions asked.

The lawyer's reply was one to the point. "The person to whom you refer," he wrote, "died a year ago. He has left nothing subject to attachment except a widow."

MRS. WHITING DEAD

COMMITTS SUICIDE BY USING GAS—FORMERLY OF THIS CITY.

Her teeth clenching the end of a long tube, suspended from a gas jet, the body of Mrs. Ida Whiting, 50 years old, was found Monday afternoon in a room on the second floor of the house at 1924 West Lantave street, Baltimore, the home of Mrs. Margaret Whittington, whom she had been visiting. Life had been extinct for probably several hours.

Discovery of the corpse was made by Mrs. Hershall Shipley, a niece of the dead woman, who had left her some time before to go shopping with Mrs. Whittington. On returning to the room on the second floor. She struck down the door and entered. Believing that Mrs. Whiting had carried out a threat of suicide, which she is said to have made some time ago, Mrs. Shipley called for help. George S. Lawson, 218 North Gilmore street, rushed into the house and broke down the door. The corpse was lying on a couch. Policemen removed it later and physicians at the Hahnemann General Hospital, where the body was rushed, pronounced death due to asphyxiation.

Mrs. Whiting leaves three children, Mrs. Gladys Mitten, of Philadelphia; Miss Clara Whiting, Philadelphia; and Mrs. Florence Wagner, of Lansdowne, Md.

Until five weeks ago Mrs. Whiting had lived at Lansdowne. She had been visiting Mrs. Whittington for that length of time. Separation from her husband is ascribed as the motive for her death.

Mrs. Whiting lived on East Main street for some time, moving from this city only a short while ago.
