

The Democratic Advocate

WESTMINSTER, MD.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, OCT. 23, 1914

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For United States Senate. JOHN WALTER SMITH, of Worcester County.

For Congress. J. FRED C. TALBOTT, of Baltimore County.

DIPLOMACY'S PART IN WAR.

The diplomacy and statesmanship of Germany and Great Britain, their policies of preparedness, are under going the acid test.

Germany's devotion to military affairs resulted in the creation of a war system that has never been equaled in the history of the world.

Great Britain devoted her attention on the physical side mostly to her navy, which she made the largest and most powerful in the world.

In the field of diplomacy, which is just as important as the battlefield, Great Britain has outgeneraled Germany.

Great Britain found a way to bridge the ancient feud with France, says the Washington Post—a feud older than the Franco-German enmity—and by artful, patient diplomacy brought about an entente that is equivalent to the services of 2,000,000 men in behalf of Great Britain.

Great Britain then accomplished the astonishing diplomatic feat of arranging an entente with Russia at the same time that she contracted an alliance with Japan.

We now see the German military machine fighting madly against the enormous forces which Great Britain's diplomacy has managed to coordinate.

If Germany should defeat the British fleet, another will rise to fight her. If she exacts an indemnity from France, other stores of gold will be available for the allies in carrying on the war.

WASTE NOT ECONOMY.

In view of the reduction of revenues caused by the war in Europe, it is held by some members of Congress that the government should economize by withholding appropriations for river and harbor improvements.

Throughout the United States are projects under way, ranging from surveys to nearly completed works of great importance.

The abandonment of these half-built levees, dams, locks, revetments, dredgings, breakwaters, and other improvements would mean throwing away millions that have already been spent.

flood disasters, the shoaling of harbors and rivers, and the stoppage of navigation and commerce in many places.

Human life as well as property is involved in this bill. The work under way to control floods in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys is essentially life-saving work which should not be interrupted for any cause.

The chief of engineers of the United States Army has very properly directed attention to the urgent necessity of continuing appropriations for carrying forward the works now in hand.

Congress should economize where it can do so with safety and good results; but the abrupt breaking off of great works for the conservation of human life and property is not economy.

LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP.

We invite the attention of the Republican Congressmen who have been blocking the Administration's vigorous efforts to benefit commerce and industry in the European war crisis to the following paragraph in the Boston Advertiser, a Republican paper:

"We regret that we have heard hints from Washington, in the past few days, to the effect that some ambitious but not unusually gifted Republican Congressmen have made their plans to fight the administration bill, and to expose some of its glaring blunders."

TRUSTEES' SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

By virtue of a decree of the Circuit Court for Carroll County, passed in cause No. 4825 Equity of said Court, the undersigned trustees appointed by said decree will sell at public sale on the premises hereinafter described, on SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1914, at the hours named, all the following valuable real estate, to-wit:

First.—At 10 o'clock a. m., all that valuable little farm on which Robert L. Nelson now resides, containing 40 acres and 28 square perches of land, more or less, lying on the pike and a short distance from the beginning of the State road leading to Sykesville, about 3 miles from Westminster, which is in the first state of cultivation and is improved by a two-story frame house, 8 rooms, with a store room 14x24 feet attached and summer house 12x16 feet; bank barn 30x40 feet, hog house and all necessary outbuildings. This property adjoins the lands of Frederick Richter, Harry Blizard, Harry Buckingham and others, and is the same tract of land which was conveyed to Rachael A. Nelson by Charles T. Reifsnider, Atty. and Agent by deed dated March 31, 1891, and recorded in Liber B. F. C., No. 72, folio 390, is conveniently located along the Washington pike, and is well adapted for the location of persons desiring to purchase a small farm.

Second.—At eleven o'clock a. m., all that valuable little farm, containing 69 1/2 acres of land, more or less, on which Jasper Bloom now resides, lying along the State Road leading from Westminster to Sykesville, being the same land which was conveyed unto William B. Nelson by Thomas S. Jacobs, by deed dated April 13, 1868, and recorded among the Land Records of Carroll County Liber W. A. McK., No. 10, folio 466, the same being improved with a two-story frame house, 5 rooms and basement, barn 28x38, wagon shed 30x30, hog house and other necessary outbuildings, and adjoins the lands of Mrs. Roop, Andrew Spencer, John Spencer, Robert L. Nelson, John E. Nelson and others.

Third.—At two o'clock p. m., all that lot of land improved with a two-story log weatherboarded house, on the corner of Washington avenue and Green street, in the city of Westminster, where Mrs. Martha Simonson now resides, being the same lot of land conveyed unto William B. Nelson from Burgess Nelson by deed dated April 12, 1867, and recorded among the Land Records of Carroll County in Liber W. A. McK., No. 34, folio 223.

Terms of Sale.—One-third cash on the day of sale or upon the ratification thereof by the Court, the residue in two equal payments, to be secured by the notes of the purchaser or purchasers, with approved security bearing interest from the day of sale, or all cash at the option of the purchaser or purchasers.

ROBERT L. NELSON, THEO. F. BROWN, Trustees. Theo. F. Brown, Solicitor. Elias N. Davis, Auctioneer.

THERE'S AN ABUNDANCE OF GOOD—WHY NOT EXPECT IT AND PLAN FOR IT, INSTEAD OF EVIL. It's a fact that good is less likely to come to the person who is planning for something else. You can get some good coal and good service this month, by simply ordering it of Smith & Reifsnider.
